ONE-HUNDRED TWENTY-SIXTH COUNCIL

JACK WAGNER President
MICHAEL PERRY City Clerk
LINDA M. JOHNSON-WASLER .. Asst. City Clerk

Pittsburgh, PA
Tuesday, January 2, 1990

Mr. Perry, Chairman Pro tem:

This being the day and hour fixed by the Act of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the Pittsburgh Home Rule Charter for the organization of the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, the One Hundred Twenty-Sixth Council will be in order.

Will Michelle Madoff and Mr. Wagner please escort Mayor Masloff into the Chambers?

We will now rise for the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

Mr. Perry, Chairman Pro tem:

We are honored this morning to have with us Father Leo V. Vanyo, Pastor of Saint Paul's Cathedral, who will deliver the Invocation.

Father Vanyo:

Almighty and Eternal Father, if it be true that all authority comes from God then those who are to govern in our City hold their authority from you. For this reason, we ask your special blessing upon these women and men who today will take upon themselves this awesome responsibility of government.

Lord, send upon them your spirit of knowledge and understanding that they may clearly comprehend the problems and the needs of our City and in wisdom seek their solution.

Lord, send upon them your spirit of commitment and courage that they might steadfastly, even in the face of opposition, diligently seek and work for that which is best for our City and its citizens.

Lord, send upon them your spirit of reverence and awe for your law and your values, that in good conscience and deep attachment to your guiding principles they may carry out the duties of their office.

Finally, Lord, send upon them your spirit of reconciliation, that they may work together in harmony and thus bring to our beloved

City order, tranquility and peace.

All this, oh Lord, we ask in your name.
Amen.

Yesterday, the Oath of Office was administered to Bernard J. Regan, by The Honorable Thomas P. O'Malley, Sr., Mayor of Castle Shannon.

Next, we have The Honorable Catherine Baker Knoll, Pennsylvania State Treasurer, who will administer the Oath of Office to Gene Ricciardi.

Ms. Knoll:

Good morning, honored guests, Councilman-elect Ricciardi, his proud family, and to the many friends here of Gene Ricciardi. What an exciting day this is for all of us.

About ten years ago at Duquesne University I met a very intelligent, sincere and inquisitive young man. We later served together on many important political campaigns in AllegHENY County, including my own. I came to respect the quiet and dedicated manner by which this young man conducted himself. He always listened to people's problems and concerns. He made a promise to me that some day he would be in the position to help them. That young man was Gene Ricciardi.

In 1984, during my campaign for the office of State Treasurer, Gene had a very important part of the inner circle. He traveled across the Commonwealth many times for me and with me. He learned a great deal more about the concerns and the problems of the people. I recognized then that Gene was a person who some day would hold an elected office by which he would be able to help people from his position of authority and responsibility.

Eugene had additional assets that I will never forget and many of you are not aware of. He had the love and guidance of a wonderful mother and father, Nick and Adelaide Murry Ricciardi. He always made certain that he did all that was humanly possible to do to help his late sick father and his late ill mother.

I imagine this is what is happening in Heaven today. Nick and Adelaide are telling the other angels that their son, Gene, is going to be one of the best Councilmen in the City of Pittsburgh. I can visualize both of them saying, "Eugene, don't ever forget where you come from, and don't ever stop helping people."

And knowing how much Gene loved and respected his parents, I know that he will never forget where he came from and that he will be an untiring public official trying to help the constituents of Pittsburgh. Gene will be one public official that you will be hearing many things about in the future.

Mark Twain once said, "The miracle or the power that elevates the few, is to be found in their industry, their application, and their perseverance under the prompting of a brave, determined spirit." In my opinion, that quote was meant for Gene Ricciardi.

And now it is my honor and pleasure to swear Gene Ricciardi into office and to ask his sister, Connie, to come up and hold the Bible while I give the Oath.

Mr. Ricciardi:

I, Gene Ricciardi, do solemnly affirm that I will support the Constitution of the United States and of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and the Charter of this City, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of my office as Councilperson to the best of my ability.

Mr. Perry, Chairman Pro tem:

Next, we have The Honorable W. Terrence O'Brien, Judge, Court of Common Pleas, who will administer the Oath of Office to Jack Wagner.

Mr. Wagner:

I, Jack Wagner, do solemnly swear that I will support the Constitution of the United States and of this State, and of this Commonwealth, and the Charter of this City, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of my office as Councilperson to the best of my ability.

Mr. Perry, Chairman Pro tem:

Judge O'Brien will administer the Oath of Office to Mr. Wagner.

Mr. Wagner:

I, Jack Wagner, do solemnly swear that I will support the Constitution of the United States, of this Commonwealth, and the Charter of this City, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the Office of President of City Council to the best of my ability.

Mr. Perry, Chairman Pro tem:

Members of Council, ladies and gentlemen, may I present to you the President of the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, Jack Wagner.

The Chair:

Thank you, Mr. Perry. Thank you, Judge O'Brien, Reverend Clergy, Honorable Mayor Sophie Masoff, The Honorable Members of the Judiciary that are with us today, honored guests, family and the many friends that are with us today, and my colleagues, Councilman Cohen, Councilman Coyne, Councilman Darkins, Councilman Ferlo, Councilwoman Madoff, Councilman Milliones, Councilman Regan and Councilman Ricciardi. I want to thank you for showing the support you have shown in me by making me the President of this esteemed body.

I know in the last several weeks there has been a whole lot of lobbying going on, and the one thing I can say to all of you and to all of you here today, without a doubt I have seen in the five new members of this Council an overwhelming support for this Council to move forward, and I believe also that same feeling is present with the four members that are coming back to this Council.

We are going to have a great Council and this Council is going to truly reflect the professionalism and the dignity of the City of Pittsburgh.

Thank you.

Prior to acceptance speeches of each of the nine individual Councilmembers, I would like to introduce The Honorable Mayor of our great City, the first woman to be elected Mayor in the history of the City of Pittsburgh, and a person to be sworn in in precisely one hour and twenty-nine minutes. The Honorable Mayor Sophie Masloff.

Mayor Masloff:

Newly elected Councilmembers, Reverend Clergy, ladies and gentlemen, all, I spent many years in this room and I know what an awesome job is before all of these people in front of me. But I know they're capable and I know they'll do the job, and I'm so pleased to be here. This is an exciting new chapter in the history of Pittsburgh city government.

You know, there are a lot of gloomy predictions out there. Some have predicted gloom and doom and others talk about fragmentation or the Council being too parochial. They say that no one will have perspective for the good of the whole City. Well, I don't share that view. Not at all. And I know every person here and I don't think that they share it either.

Let's look at today as a new beginning, a new beginning for the great City of Pittsburgh, full of opportunity and ready to make a real difference in our lives.

I congratulate all of you and I'm looking forward to working with all of you for the good of the Pittsburgh family.

Thank you.

The Chair:

Thank you, Mayor.

Now is the time to call on each newly elected Councilmember to make their acceptance speech.

It is a great honor to introduce from Council District 8, Councilman Dan Cohen.

Mr. Cohen:

Good morning. Father Vanyo, Reverend Clay, Mayor Masloff, Judge Kaplan, other members of the judiciary, my new colleagues, family and friends. I would like to begin by congratulating Councilman Wagner on his election to Council President. I would also like to congratulate Mayor Masloff on her election as Mayor of Pittsburgh and on her inauguration this afternoon. I look forward to working closely with both of you.

I am truly honored to be able to take this Oath of Office and to stand before you today. I would like to thank the hundreds of people who contributed their time, effort and resources to my campaign. They are far too numerous to mention, but too special to ever forget. My three most loyal supporters, my mother, my father and my grandmother, are here today.

Most important, I would like to thank the voters of Bloomfield, Friendship, Oakland, Point Breeze, Shadyside and Squirrel Hill for the privilege to serve on this body. You have put your trust in me and it is a trust which I hold sacred.

Today marks a new beginning for the City of Pittsburgh, a new decade, a newly elected Administration, and a new City Council elected under the district system. With this new beginning comes new opportunities and new challenges.

We are all proud of our City, and with good reason. We have vibrant neighborhoods, a thriving cultural environment and a great quality of life. Moreover, we have the greatest asset of all -- the people of Pittsburgh. People who believe in our City and work hard to ensure its future. People who know that our City has made remarkable strides during the past decade and miraculous ones since the 1950's.

There is no city in America that has remade itself as Pittsburgh has. People in other cities may dream of urban rebirth. But Pittsburghers have more than dreams. We have the reality of Renaissance I and Renaissance II. The smoky Steel City of forty years ago is today a shining city on the rivers. We know that there is no limit to what the people of this City can accomplish if we pull together to achieve a common goal. We know it because we did it once. And we can do it again.

But we can only do it by working together. By confronting the problems facing Pittsburgh, not each other. And that is why I believe that a new era of cooperation, not confrontation must begin right here on City Council. And begin today.

There are great challenges ahead. First, we must bring new jobs and business to our City. Pittsburgh has a great package of assets to sell. We must expand our promotional and marketing activities, and aggressively bring new business here. Moreover, we must do more to assist Pittsburghers who have the guts to start their own businesses.

The economic revivals of Pittsburgh's past were achieved through a partnership between business and government. David Lawrence and Richard King Mellon forged this partnership in the 1950's and it was renewed by Mayor Caliguiri in the late 1970's and 1980's. We must create a new partnership for the 1990's, a partnership leading to a new prosperity.

But Pittsburgh's next economic revival must not leave anyone behind. Because if it does not improve the plight of those struggling to make ends meet, then it is no Renaissance at all.

Second, we must stop the exodus of Pittsburghers from our City and begin to bring them back. Pittsburghers are victims of a fundamentally unfair tax system in which City residents still pay much more in taxes than non-residents who work in the City and use City services.

We must aggressively lobby Harrisburg for revenue sharing and for the right to shift more of the tax burden to non-City residents. If we accomplish this, then we can lower the wage tax even further and begin to reduce the amusement, mercantile and business privilege taxes.

Third, we must work to lower the City's increasing crime rate. We need a better allocation of police resources, active neighborhood watch programs, and more police back on the beat, walking the streets in high crime areas. Every Pittsburgh resident has a right to a safe home and a safe neighborhood.

Fourth, we must work to preserve and restore Pittsburgh's neighborhoods, because they are the source of Pittsburgh's strength. We must protect our neighborhoods against overdevelopment, absentee landlords and uses which violate the zoning laws and common sense. Moreover, we must not hesitate to direct resources to those neighborhoods with special needs.

Fifth, we must not lose the opportunity created by our greatest natural asset -- the three rivers. Our rivers were the reason our forebears settled in Pittsburgh and they must be a major stimulus to Pittsburgh's revitalization. We have the chance to build on a magnificent natural showcase by creating a series of parks, marinas, and shopping areas, all with convenient public access. But we must develop a coordinated plan to reach this goal.

Finally, and most important of all, we must take action to restore confidence in City government. In the wake of the recent bribery scandal, we have an obligation to send a message to the people of Pittsburgh that we regard ethical violations by public officials as intolerable. As Grover Cleveland once said, "A public office is a public trust". I look forward to working with the Administration and Council to craft new ethics legislation that is both forceful and fair.

This new Council -- the first in 80 years elected by districts and not by the City as a whole -- carries with it both a promise and a threat. The threat is clear -- that each Councilmember will be concerned only with his or her own neighborhoods and not with the needs of all of Pittsburgh. The result would be more divisiveness and more discord.

But it doesn't have to be that way. The promise is that we can energetically promote the interests of our districts without losing sight of the interests of Pittsburgh as a whole. Each of our districts, and the 88 neighborhoods they encompass, are inextricably linked to each other and to the fate of the entire City.

Because the fact is that the future of Bloomfield is tied to the future of Brookline. The future of Shadyside is tied to the future of Morningside. And the future of Squirrel Hill is tied to the future of the Hill District.

I stand here today filled with hope that we can fulfill the promise. That we can combine the wisdom and experience of the veteran Councilmembers with the energy and fresh ideas of those of us who are newly elected. That we can work together to create a City Council that is as good as the people it represents -- the people of Pittsburgh. With courage, compassion, and the spirit of cooperation that has made Pittsburgh great, I am confident that we can make our City even greater.

Thank you.

The Chair:

Thank you, Councilman Cohen

It is now a great honor to introduce from Council District 5, Councilman Michael Coyne.

Mr. Coyne:

Good morning everyone. I'd like to thank you for taking the time to attend these very sincere ceremonies this morning. I'd also like to thank my family and friends who are here, supporters who supported my campaign in many different ways as we door-knocked through District 5. I also would like to thank the people of the entire City of Pittsburgh. Without you, two years ago I wouldn't have been elected. You gave me your trust then and you've given it to me again for the voters in District 5, and to that I am eternally grateful.

During my first term on Council, I had the opportunity to learn a great deal about the operation of City government and the important we can and must play in that operation. For this government to operate efficiently and effectively, it is imperative that Council understand the importance of governmental cooperation because cooperative efforts with the Mayor's Administration can lead to meaningful programs and initiatives.

Council and the Mayor cannot be rivals for power, but must be partners for progress. If we do not work at strengthening this partnership, it is only the public that suffers. However, that spirit of cooperation cannot be permitted to infringe upon the independence of this body. The City Charter assigns both joint and separate rules to the Council and the Mayor's Office. Both must hold each other in mutual respect but neither can permit or attempt any trespass

In addition, if we are to be successful, we need a government that is honest, a government that is efficient, a government that is dedicated, and a government that is committed solely to the public interest. But regardless of how diligently we work towards achieving these goals, our efforts are in vain if, in the eyes of our constituents, there exists any perception of impropriety. No responsibility of government is more fundamental than the responsibility of maintaining the highest standards of ethical behavior by those who are elected to public office. There can be no descent from that principle, that all officials must act with unwavering integrity, with absolute impartiality, and complete devotion to the public interest.

Today, I pledge to you that I will continue to work for legislation that would prohibit discrimination of any type in the City of Pittsburgh. I will also continue to fight for a comprehensive code of ethics. I will work to see that this issue is given top priority. The Mayor has appointed a committee to study this matter and I commend her for this effort. But we, as elected officials, are forced to deal with the perception of unethical behavior on the part of this body.

Fellow members, I believe that we cannot wait for the Ethics Committee's recommendations. We must act as soon as possible to pass an ethics bill.

In closing, let me reiterate that I will continue to work for a rational and an independent Council. I will work with each member of this body to accomplish this, and I look forward to the coming term.

Thank you very much.

The Chair:

Thank you, Councilman Coyne.

It is a great honor to introduce from Council District 9, Duane A. Darkins.

Mr. Darkins:

Mr. President, I had so much to say yesterday, so I really don't have much to say today. But I would just like to leave this with you -- I have an exceptional life. A passage of the Scripture says, "Many are called and few are chosen." So, I was called of the Lord and the people chose me to serve on City Council. Let's get started with our work.

The Chair:

Thank you, Councilman Darkins. Not nearly as brief as yesterday.

It is a great honor to introduce from Council District 7, Councilman Jim Ferlo.

Mr. Ferlo:

Thank you, Jack. I wish I could be as brief as my colleague, Reverend Darkins, but I'll take a couple extra minutes.

I want to first congratulate Jack Wagner to his rise as President of City Council; I think he'll do a great job. And I certainly want to thank those of you on Council for nominating me and supporting me, but I stand ready, willing and able to work with Councilman Wagner and all of the colleagues here today. I think we all have a responsibility to rise to the occasion, work together, and let's really work hard for the improvement of this City.

I'm very honored to be here this morning and I wish everyone good morning and Happy New Year. And to all of the distinguished clergy and elected officials, to my many friends and supporters, and certainly to the public who is out there both in this room and watching the City cable, I just want to say thank you very much.

To the many people who supported changing the manner in which we elect City Council from the at-large to the by-district process, congratulations, because today is also your day. To the many citizens and political leaders who oppose Council by district, I implore you to give the new system and opportunity to work and to find new ways to become an effective part of this new process.

On this day, I am reminded of the contributions of Art Holloway and Bob Kennedy, Gabe Kish and other friends and others who helped to frame our Home Rule Charter and who wanted this institutional reform to arrive much sooner. In fact, I believe Bob Kennedy is out in the audience and I'd like him to stand and receive some recognition. Bob Kennedy, one of the original authors of the Home Rule Charter and one of the two, along with Mr. Holloway, who refused to sign off on the original Charter because of, fundamentally, the district Council issue. Bob Kennedy, a long time friend and community activist and just recently is honored with his 88th birthday. He said that he's ready to go into the next century full steam ahead.

We now have a legislative branch, I believe very strongly, that has the potential to be the most productive and accountable in the history of our City. We must strive to make this so because the needs and aspirations of our people are so great. Our citizens deserve and expect nothing less. I am proud and feel it a great privilege to be able to make a contribution towards this objective.

Along with my family and many supporters, I want to thank the voters of Council District 7, the residents of Polish Hill and Lawrenceville, Morningside and Stanton Heights, Garfield and Highland Park, my own community, Bloomfield and East Liberty, who gave me their vote of confidence and extended me the honor of being the first elected district representative.

Rest assured, my level of activism on the critical issues confronting these communities and our City will not be abated in my second term of office. My cooperative relationship with the Mayor and her new administrators, with various business and community leaders, and the relationships that are now present with the new leaders who now grace the Council table, will enable me and my staff to be even more productive this year.

This year I will continue my work on a broad range of issues and problems confronting the residents of the neighborhoods I have been elected to represent. I feel the best way for me to respond to the parochial needs of the communities that make up my district is to work hard and creatively with my Council colleagues to improve the quality of life for our residents City-wide. I will work to make sure and to strive that no dichotomy exists between the parochial needs of any one of our districts and the needs to advance a progressive agenda for our City.

This past year my staff and I have worked diligently to respond and resolve hundreds of citizens' complaints and inquiries into my office. We have been a vital part of every major issue and project being advanced by citizens and groups working to improve the neighborhoods that comprise District 7. We have attended hundreds of planning meetings and have applied the extra effort needed to work with citizens and the Administration to get things accomplished. We have offered numerous resolutions and ordinances addressing important issues facing our City. This commitment and hard work will continue, and that I pledge.

I would personally, at this time, like to publicly thank my friend and former Executive Assistant, Eric Feder. I want to thank Eric for his public service and his tremendous contribution not only to my office but to the people of Pittsburgh. Beginning today, Eric will join the administrative staff of Councilman Dan Cohen.

In addition to Gerri Hunter and Carolyn Hook of my office, I am now joined by attorney Irene McLaughlin who will expand her career of public service as my new Executive Assistant

Time and circumstance today do not permit me to speak at length about many important issues that are on my mind and certainly on the minds of most Pittsburghers. Suffice it to say that I will continue to focus my efforts on the more important issues confronting our City and the neighborhoods I have been elected to serve. They include working to ensure greater and more effective police protection, improving the quality of affordable housing, focusing governmental resources to support numerous community and economic development initiatives, cleaning up our streets and our neighborhoods and our vacant lots, and working to increase the effectiveness, the openness and the accountability of City government and its services and programs.

I will be working to ensure that City Council continues to be an open and accessible legislative body with lively debate and dialogue on the hundreds of decisions that we will make.

Council has been given, by the Home Rule Charter, sufficient powers to perform both a leadership role and a check and balance function in City government. I will be urging my colleagues to fulfill this responsibility in even greater measure this term.

We have a wonderful City in spite of the many problems we face. More importantly, although we may not always have the necessary financial resources at our disposal, we truly possess the creativity, the ability, and the perseverance needed to tackle any pressing local issue. I believe we will do this even more effectively in this new year, a year which begins a new decade, because we have a progressive Mayor and a progressive Administration. We have a City Council and we have a people who will continue their tireless efforts to make Pittsburgh an even greater place to live, to work and to raise a family.

Thank you for your friendship, your prayers, and your support. Happy New Year, Pittsburgh.

The Chair:

Thank you, Councilman Ferlo.

It is a great honor to introduce from Council District 4, Councilwoman Michelle Madoff.

Michelle Madoff:

I promised Judge Johnson I would be- have. I'm going to try.

I guess I'm still the only chicken among all the roosters. Eight to one; I think the odds are about even. Right, Kate Ford Elliott and Cathy Baker Knoll? We know what it's like, don't we?

Mayor Masloff, Judge Johnson, mem- bers of Council, honored guests, friends. As I begin my twelfth year on City Council, I look forward to the beginning of a new era in which, hopefully, we will put squabbling and personal- ity clashes behind us. And while I may have philosophical differences with some of my col- leagues, nevertheless, I have the utmost respect for each member. Each of us has a great deal of leadership experience and brings diverse opin- ions and exciting ideas to this new City Council and government.

It takes many years to learn how to be an effective elected official. It takes years to learn, to absorb, to understand the machinations of City government. The issues in government are much broader and more numerous than you could ever imagine. It takes a long time to find out what's wrong and what's right, to research the problems and be able to separate the fact from fiction, wheat from shaft, real from unreal.

The ability is not acquired by osmosis. It is only gained by on the job experience. For example, legislation to light the garages, provide security guards and escorts, charging non-City residents and insurance providers for paramedic services which now generates more than $2 mil- lion a year to the City coffers, focusing attention on antiquated operation of the customer billing operation of the Water Department, the need to remove the "not to exceed" dollar figure from contracts so that we stop giving away the store, legislation which allows for the purchase of used equipment and materials in mint condition which have saved the City many thousands of dollars, legislation which provides for the mar- keting of City property so that everyone has equal access. These projects were a result of my learning what was needed and how to make them happen, and by gaining the support of City Councilmembers and that of the Administra- tion. Understanding how departments relate to each other, the Administration and Council only comes with years of being part of the process.

With the decrease in population from a high of some 700,000 to 385,000, our work is cut out for us. We have moved in the right direc- tion, lowering the wage tax. We must now move to lower the other regressive taxes, business privilege, mercantile and amusement tax, if we are to stop the hemorrhaging of City residents to the suburbs. The City cannot do it alone. We must work with the School Board, perhaps in some joint purchasing efforts, to save us both money. That's the only way we're really going to truly lower Pittsburgh taxes.

We must assist the Administration in their continuing efforts to lobby Harrisburg for meaningful tax reform, tax reform that will not unfairly tax our senior citizens but will provide them with abatements. And if they don't get it, in April we're all going to Harrisburg, senior cit- izens, myself and any other member of Council. We're going to sit on the steps until something happens.

In light of the shenanigans that have tainted this City Council in recent history, we cannot wait six months, as some of my colleagues have pointed out, or a year, to get an ethics bill. In the first working session of Council, I will distribute copies of the State and County ethics bills, as well as other ethics drafts, to all Councilmembers, and request that a post agenda be scheduled. I feel confident that in short order we can offer our collective input to the Mayor's Ethics Commission so that hopefully we can expedite the timeframe of an ethics bill which is long overdue.

Well, no one gets anything done alone. I didn't get elected alone and I didn't get meaningful legislation through Council alone. It still takes at least five votes and I wouldn't be here today if it wasn't for the faith people had in me, in District 2 particularly. I will work very hard not to disappoint them and all the people in the City.

I would be remiss if I didn't take this opportunity to thank my excellent staff. Sarah Meeks, who is out with the same flu that I have, but she's listening, I'm sure. Linda Sarno, who has been with me seven years, and she's underpaid. Bill Urbanic, Ann Yahr, who gets offered other jobs but says, "But I like working for you."

As I said, no one gets things done alone. Our office will continue to be available to serve not only the public but to work with Councilmembers, particularly the new members, and to share information with them. Happy New Year, everybody, and I thank you.

The Chair:

Thank you, Councilwoman Madoff.

It is now a great honor to introduce from Council District 6, Councilman Jake Milliones.

Mr. Milliones:

Good morning and Happy New Year. Mayor Masloff, honored platform guests, members of the judiciary, it indeed is a pleasure to be here this morning to be sworn in. I certainly want to thank the many people who supported me, especially those who supported me through the thick and the thin. I am, indeed, grateful.

I am most grateful, however, to my family. Sometimes it's more difficult on ones family than it is on the candidate when you're running in a political campaign, and in that regard, I'd like my wife and my children and the rest of my family to stand please. I am, indeed, grateful.

I see my election to City Council as a mandate for us to begin to work more cooperatively together to make Pittsburgh a stronger City. The Sixth Council District, probably more than any other district in the City, represents the diversity of Pittsburgh. It is the most diverse district; Black, White, rich and poor. I intend to work cooperatively with members of Council to make sure that the issues that affect Council in District 6, which, by the way, affect the entire City, to work cooperatively with Council and to move forward.

I wear around my shoulders an African cloth called a Kinte cloth. It represents strength and it represents unity. I pledge to you, the citizens of Pittsburgh, that I will work cooperatively with Council so that we can make Pittsburgh a stronger city.

Thank you very much.

The Chair:

Thank you, Councilman Milliones.

It is now a great honor to introduce from Council District 1, Bernard "Baldy" Regan.

Mr. Regan:

Thank you very much, Mr. President. I think I pretty much gave my speech yesterday on the North Side. Thank God for the North Side; it's a great part of the City of Pittsburgh. And for you people who have never been on the North Side, we're celebrating our 150th anniversary this year, so I'd like to have all you folks over there.

The Honorable Mayor, who is on her way downstairs for her swearing in, Father -- I asked him if he was one of us. I meant a Pittsburgher; he probably thought I meant a Roman Catholic. Honorable Judges, it's certainly an honor to have so many Judges here today. In fact, I've never seen this many Judges together after an election in 20 years.

I'd like to take my hat off to two great women, two great Pennsylvanians; Catherine Baker Knoll and Kate Ford Elliott. Here's a lady that ran in two campaigns to win one election. I'd like to honor you two someday as outstanding women in our great commonwealth.

I'd like to thank the media. The power that they have, they help a lot of people. You know, the media can give you good publicity for 20 years but they take one shot at you and they say, "Those dirty, no good ... " But I'd like to personally thank the media for the money that they raise for poor people. For example, on the North Side we had six people die in one fire. We raised $21,000 to pay for the funerals of these poor people that had no insurance thanks to the media. When the Carolinas were devastated by Hurricane Hugo, it probably was the best display of a City 700 miles away to send 27 or 37 trucks and workers from the city to another community, 700 miles away. Thanks to the media, we raised hundreds of thousands of dollars in equipment for those poor people down South.

I don't want to take up too much of your time because, as I said, I made my speech yesterday.

Also, an outstanding woman is our famous Michelle Madoff. She truly is an outstanding lady and I want to commend her. I've never in my life fought with a woman that looked that good, and I hope we don't.

But I would like to say, in this great country of ours, as I look up at those American Flags above me, that never in my wildest dreams did I ever think that I'd be standing here today in front of people dressed that nice in Downtown Pittsburgh.

Thank you.

Mr. Wagner:

Thank you, Councilman Regan. Only in America.

It is now a great honor to introduce from Council District 3, Councilman Gene Ricciardi.

Mr. Ricciardi:

Thank you, Mr. President. Mayor Masloff, members of Council, ladies and gentlemen. First, I would like to take this opportunity to thank State Treasurer Catherine Baker Knoll for administering the Oath of Office to me today. Catherine is a dear friend of the family and she has blessed us with her friendship over the year.

I would also like to thank three special people; Lou Curry, Jill Preklas and Joan Brilovich for the strength they had during our campaign.

Special thanks to my family members, my sister Connie, my brother Virgil, brother-in-law Bruno Delano and sister-in-law Susan Ricciardi, for the special support and love and belief in my that they've shown through the years. Thank you very much.

A special friend of mine, my dearest friend, for everything she's given to me over six years, Lynn Karpa. Thank you, Lynn, very much.

It is an honor and privilege to stand before you today as a newly elected City Councilman, but more important, it's a time for hard work. I am looking forward to working with my colleagues. They're a solid group of individuals with good credentials. We have a good Mayor, Sophie Masloff, we have a new President, Jack Wagner, and the leadership will come from this Council. We're going to be working with each other to make the City of Pittsburgh an exciting place to live, an exciting place to work, a safe place, strong neighborhoods, direction for the '90s. And this Council will get that.

My focus is to make the neighborhoods strong, strengthen them. I will especially be looking that each neighborhood, each community in District 3. The South Side, the Slopes, the Hilltop communities, and South Oakland have a special place in Pittsburgh's future.. I would like to thank all my friends, especially looking in the audience, not for this victory, but for your friendship.

Thank you very, very much.

Mr. Wagner:

Thank you, Councilman Ricciardi.

The final district is Council District 4. First and foremost, I would like to thank the voters of Council District 4 which encompasses the neighborhoods of Beechview, Bon Aire, Brookline, Carrick, Overbrook and Mount Washington, for their overwhelming support in the past year. Without those neighborhoods, the neighborhoods commonly referred to as the South Hills, I would not be standing here in front of you today.

Today, January 2, 1990, represents a new decade. A new Council with five new Councilmembers, the first time we have ever had five new members in the history of the City of Pittsburgh. A new system of electing Council. A new Mayor, the first female Mayor in the history of the City of Pittsburgh. Today represents change. Today represents positive change. For the neighborhoods and the districts we represent, and for the entire City of Pittsburgh as one great City. Not nine separate districts or nine separate cities, but one great City.

This is a new decade. It is a time for City Council, as has been said, to stop pointing fingers and start working on substantive issues that will benefit the people of our districts and the entire City of Pittsburgh. Most of the issues that face City Council transcend district lines, such as the wage tax. In two short years working with the Mayor, we have been able to reduce the City's portion of the wage tax from two and one-eighth percent to one percent. Not commonly known, but yes, the City only today has a one percent wage tax. A significant accomplishment that will help to attract young people and families back to Pittsburgh. To me, and to all of you, that is progress for all Council districts and the entire City.

Other issues transcend district lines such as, economic development. I have been a proponent of economic development. Many of you may associate me with the Strip District Project, Down by the Riverside. I have been a proponent of many economic development projects, the far majority of which are outside my present district, including many riverfront development issues. We need to better utilize our God-given resources - the Allegheny, the Monongahela and the Ohio, the rivers - to enhance the economic development of our City and our region. Neighborhoods need to be extended to our riverbanks, something that has not happened in the past. Not only do neighborhoods need to be extended to our riverbanks, but public space improvements along with residential and commercial development need to occur along our 35 miles of riverfront. The jewel of our City is our rivers and we must utilize them properly in this decade, the '90s.

Another issue that transcends districts is intergovernmental communications. The problems of Pittsburgh are the same problems as many municipalities in the region. We're all experiencing many of the similar problems. We are strangled, and it has been indicated by several Councilmembers today, we are strangled by outdated state laws which must be changed in Harrisburg to improve our City and our region. A more cooperative spirit exists today than ever before between City Council and the Administration to initiate an all out lobbying effort with our state officials to address these concerns beginning today. Yes, beginning today, the second day of a new decade, and working together, this can happen.

In conclusion, this Council, we, are the people by which the new system of government, district elections, will be judged. We must, and we will, show greater attention towards specific neighborhood district issues including something not commonly referred to but the most common request by our residents - City services. Basic City services. This new Council by district will address that issue better than any Council in the history of the City of Pittsburgh. We must, and we will, show greater attention towards specific neighborhood issues. However, the major challenge facing the new by district election system is keeping in perspective and appropriately addressing the overall needs of this City. Let us not be so parochial to forget about the City of Pittsburgh as a whole in this new by district system. We have a great City and we are poised for greatness in the '90s, and this Council will be part of that process.

It is now a pleasure for me to introduce, as many Councilmembers have, some members of their family. First, I would like to introduce my mother, LaVerne Wagner. And even though it's tough for me to say, I know our dad is looking down on us and saying a prayer today with a smile.

I'd next like to introduce my wonderful wife, Nancy, and the guy that has been making all the noise in the Council Chamber, our son Luke. Both Nancy and I have been truly blessed with Luke.

Next I'd like to introduce my brothers and their families. My brother, Bob, and his wife, Eileen, and children.

And finally, I'd like to introduce my other brother, a brother I'm very proud of, my brother, Pete, and his wife, Judy, and their children.

And now we get to the point I think which many people have been waiting for, particularly the media, which is to announce the appointments of Chairpersons to the Standing Committees of Council which are as follows:

Committee on Finance
- Councilman Jake Milliones

Committee on Public Works
- Councilman Duane A. Darkins

Committee on Planning, Housing and Development
- Councilman Jim Ferlo

Committee on General Services

- Councilman Michael Coyne

Committee on Water

- Councilwoman Michelle Madoff

Committee on Parks and Recreation

- Councilman Gene Ricciardi

Committee on Public Safety

- Councilman Bernard "Baldy" Regan

Committee on Engineering and Construction

- Councilman Dan Cohen

Committee on Hearings

- President of Council

The Chair would like to announce the creation of several sub-committees today and the appointment of Councilmembers to Chair those committees.

I would like to reinstate today a committee that we have had in existence in 1989 that is a very pertinent, timely issue for the '90s, which is trash recycling, something that will be part of this City. I am now creating that Committee on Trash Recycling and the Chairperson of that committee will be the same Chairperson, Mr. Jim Ferlo.

A committee that many Councilmembers referred to in their speech. A Committee on Ethics and Rules in government. To review the recommendations on the Mayor's Panel of Ethics and make suggestions to Council for appropriate legislation that will be enacted in the early part of 1990. In addition, that committee will also review the Rules of Council and make appropriate changes that will be part of new legislation to enhance the Rules of Council. It will have two functions: ethics and internal rules. The Chairperson of that Committee, Mr. Gene Ricciardi.

A committee that I feel and several Councilmembers feel is very important, a Committee on the Black Infant Mortality problem in the City of Pittsburgh. Over the past decade, Pittsburgh has had the worst, and I repeat, the worst Black infant mortality problem of any major city in America. It's time we actively address the problem in City government by creating a special committee. I can think of no one better to chair that committee than Councilman Jake Milliones.

And the final sub-committee is a committee that I have talked about for years in this government. For the six years I've been here, I've talked about it. A committee on the marketing and promotion of Pittsburgh. We all know we have the greatest City in America. The problem is, the people outside this region don't know it. The time has come for us to actively coordinate the various marketing activities from this government to promote this City and this region. I am officially creating the Marketing and Promotion Committee in this government and the President of Council will chair that committee.

I also must state, in the creation of those four committees, all Councilmembers can be, and will be, active participants in those committees

Also, I'd like to make the appointment of Councilmembers to the Board of Trustees of the Carnegie Library which includes the Buhl Science Center. They are as follows: Councilman Bernard "Baldy" Regan, Councilman Duane A. Darkins, Councilman Jake Milliones, and also, under the Rules of Council, the President of Council is part of that committee.

I would now like to entertain a motion of which I have not discussed with every Councilmember but several of you individually, to nominate a President Pro Tempore that will perform the functions of the President if the President is not here. And I must tell you, in the last six years there has been very few days when I have not been here. But still, it is a critical position. It is something that this Council has had two President Pro tems within the last two years that have served a critical portion of this Council.

I would like to entertain a motion to appoint Councilman Ferlo as the Council President Pro Tempore.

Michelle Madoff:

So moved.

Mr. Darkins seconded the motion.

WHICH MOTION PREVAILED.

Mr. Ferlo:

Thank you.

The Chair:

There is one formal procedure that is necessary for all of us which is to adopt the existing Rules of Council so that we do have rules to operate under. I would like to entertain a motion to do that.

Mr. Milliones:

So moved.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Mr. Regan:

I make a motion that Jake Milliones makes a motion to approve it.

Mr. Milliones:

Thank you, Councilman Regan.

The Chair:

The motion has been made and seconded, I'm not sure by whom, but it has been made. All those in favor? Opposed?

WHICH MOTION PREVAILED.

The Chair:

The Chair is honored this morning to have with us Reverend Donald Clay of Mount Ararat Baptist Church who will be offering the Benediction.

Reverend Clay:

Eternal God, we come now asking that you might sanctify and anoint all that has been done in this place.

We pray, oh God, that you might instill within each of these individuals Godly wisdom ~~that~~, as they lead the way for this City, we might go forward in the assurance that your presence is with us as well as your power.

Now, Father God, as we leave from this place, we pray that your peace, your love, and your mercy might abide with us all.

In our Lord's name we pray. Amen.

The Chair:

Prior to a motion for adjournment, I would like to wish everyone a Happy New Year.

And on the motion of Michelle Madoff

Council adjourned.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are employed in the public sector has increased by 1.5 million (1990–1999) (1999a).

There is a growing emphasis on the need to improve the efficiency of public services, and to ensure that the public sector is able to deliver the services that are required in a cost-effective manner. This has led to a number of initiatives, including the introduction of competition, the restructuring of public services, and the introduction of performance targets. The aim of these initiatives is to ensure that the public sector is able to deliver the services that are required in a cost-effective manner, and to ensure that the public sector is able to deliver the services that are required in a cost-effective manner.

The aim of this paper is to examine the impact of these initiatives on the public sector. The paper will first examine the impact of competition on the public sector. Mr. Ricciardi moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Ricciardi:

Roberta, would you like to say a few words, please?

Ms. Smith:

Thank you, Gene, Mr. Wagner and members of Council. I just want to say that I'm very pleased and proud to stand before you today. Our paper covers about one-third of the City and Tom and I are the only staff. We depend heavily on things to come to us. We'd be happy to support you in any way we can. Thank you.

Michelle Madoff:

District 2 abuts your district. Maybe you cover part of us, but why don't you expand? We don't have a local newspaper and we have great problems reaching many of the people in the community who need services, community groups. There are about seven groups who don't know each other exist. I think it would be a good money maker for you and would be a tremendous public service to our district.

Ms. Smith:

I've talked to the Mount Washington people and I'll talk to you about it.

Michelle Madoff:

Not only in Mount Washington but in several other districts.

The Chair:

Thank you, Roberta.

Which were read, received and filed.

Michelle Madoff:

Discussion. I wasn't informed of the new appointment to building codes and I believe we have no say in that matter. Council doesn't approve aye or nay, it's a matter of just informing us. Is that correct?

The Chair:

That's correct.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to go on public record as saying that I have some great concerns that Council was not consulted. Many of us, certainly myself, have had some problems over the years with that department, Mr Imhoff's operation. And Mr. Cimino was, I believe, his first had administrator and I would like to know how he feels about some of the concerns that we've had.

As you know, there's an on-going investigation on demolition. I don't know whether Mr. Cimino is involved in any way, shape or form, nor am I implying that. But it would be nice to know what the procedure is. At one point when we had a problem a number of years ago, at recommendations from myself and others, the process was changed. It has since been changed again because that process left itself open for hanky-panky.

I'm a little disturbed that that appointment was made without the input of this Council and I would like to, at some point, have the opportunity to invite Mr. Cimino before this Council, regardless of whether we have the right to exchange ideas on how he plans to run this operation. I would appreciate your extending an invitation to him.

The Chair:

That could be done by any Councilmember at a post agenda meeting at any time in the future. As everyone is aware, with the creation of the Public Safety Department, we no longer approve the appointments of the five bureaus within that department, only the Director of the Department of Public Safety.

Michelle Madoff:

I would just think that it would be imperative that we, at some point, have some interaction and discussion with this department head simply because it has been a bone of contention in the 11 years that I have been here. It is not an outsider; it is not somebody new. It could be business as usual and I would have some concerns.

UNFINISHED BUSINESSMichelle Madoff:

Mr. President and members of Council, in the last week I distributed to all members the State and County Code of Ethics along with the floor motion amendment that I made here which you may find that there were some basics that were not even included in the County Code. I suggested that we have a working post agenda or a working meeting. I'm sure everyone will have had time to review that material; it's not very complicated.

I also included Mark Pollock's latest bill so that people might want to see what had been submitted and what may or may not meet with their approval.

I don't think it's appropriate for us to wait six months to a year and then have some kind of public hearing which would be appropriate and then go back and have the Board that's meeting redo that Ethics Commission legislation. I think it's going to be, at minimum, a year and a half, probably closer to two years unless this Council expedites the procedure. I think it would be advantageous for us to put in our own recommendations as a body. Of course, everybody can put it in privately and at some point I'm sure that the Mayor's Commission on Ethics will hold some public hearings, but I don't think we can afford to start off this new Council waiting a year or two to have an ethics bill.

I would very much suggest that the President of Council schedule the post agenda that I requested at our swearing-in ceremony. I did what I said I would do and distributed the information, and perhaps we should get together and have a round table discussion either as a post agenda or as a meeting in our board room open to anybody who would like to come, the media, what have you. But I believe it's time we move expeditiously on it to review whatever information.

I, for one, share some concerns with you. I don't want to make the ethics bill so restrictive that when we have someone come to us during budget time, for example the young man from the Bloomfield-Garfield Jubilee whom I never met before but I thought he was an outstanding person, I would like the opportunity to say to the Administration, "Have you considered this person to work in the City in some capacity?" Or, if somebody comes to our attention that we think would be beneficial to the City, I want to make sure that we don't close those kinds of avenues to us.

Also, I think we need to clarify what is ceremonial and what is it that we're getting of greater value than the general public which is outlawed in our Rules of Conduct. There are some things that need to be clarified very quickly but, in general, we should expedite this whole process by getting together and coming up through Mr. Ricciardi's chairing of this Committee and get on with the job.

Again, I just want to summarize by saying, let's not wait. Let's not delay it. If we wait and don't move quickly, I guarantee you it will not be in a year. We won't have it.

The Chair:

Councilwoman Madoff and members of Council, under the title of Unfinished Business, we really do not have any business in front of Council yet in that regard. I know it's the intent of Mr. Ricciardi to give a report on his sub-committee action in a few minutes and I would prefer to talk about that issue in a couple of minutes.

Michelle Madoff:

Sir, I thought we were on to Motions and Resolutions and I was suggesting that I've spoken to Mr. Ricciardi, I've sent everybody the information, and now I'm suggesting that any member of Council can call for a post agenda and that's exactly what I'm doing. Let's have a meeting as fast as we possibly can and let's start reviewing to the material and adding to the material.

I make that in the form of a motion and I believe I don't really need to do that. I think as a member of Council I'm entitled to call for a post agenda. Isn't that the rules?

The Chair:

Under Unfinished Business I cannot accept that motion now. But a motion of that type can be made when Mr. Ricciardi talks about that issue which is coming up soon.

Michelle Madoff:

We're going to talk about Unfinished Business first of all? Is that what you're saying?

The Chair:

No, no. There is no Unfinished Business, legally, in front of Council right now. There's no bill, no ethics bill, but Mr. Ricciardi is working diligently to put together all information available and I know he has sat down with several members of Council and will be requesting to sit with other members of Council in the near future and is going to talk about that in a couple of minutes. So, let's move on and that issue will be up for some discussion.

Under Reports of Committees, there are no Reports from Committees because there is no final action on any bills today.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEES

Mr. Ricciardi:

I'd like to give a brief update of the Subcommittee on Ethics and Rules.

Over the past week, I met with each colleague, sat down with each colleague of mine on City Council, and I spoke to Michelle on the phone. First, I would like to thank my colleagues on City Council. Everyone has been very helpful, everyone has had input into it, and each member has shown a concern for this topic.

This week I have a follow-up meeting with several Council colleagues of mine. I'll be extending an invitation to serve on the Committee and I will be making that recommendation to you, Mr. President, to put these people on the Committee.

I realize Michelle's concern. I don't look at it as though this is putting it off at all. Whatever we put together has to be a solid bill that will last through the '90s.

That's the brief update, Mr. President.

The Chair:

Okay. I'd like to simply update all of Council also. I sent a copy of a letter which was sent to the Executive Director of the State Ethics Commission, Mr. Contino, requesting that a public session be held for all City Councilmembers, public officials and public employees required to file a statement of financial interest to attend a seminar provided by the Pennsylvania State Ethics Commission. We are required to do that within the first 90 days of this legislation session. Hopefully we can do that within the first 30 days. So, we are anxiously awaiting a response to set up a meeting of that type here in the City of Pittsburgh that will include all of Council and, hopefully, the appropriate people from the Administration.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, the establishing of Committees does not exempt any member of Council or preclude any member of Council from calling for a post agenda. The material was distributed as a hold-over from last year. Those of us who are here from last year have very strong feelings and we don't want to be painted with the same brush that this Council was and the cloud that this Council has been under.

I am asking that the material that I distributed be reviewed, that Mr. Ricciardi chair that meeting, that we have a post agenda, and that we discuss immediately some recommendations that we can get, even an interim ethics code put forward to the Administration for the Mayor's Ethics Commission, so that we can get something in place that can be amended as we go along. Otherwise, it will be a two-year time frame before we have an ethics code before this Council.

Mr. Ricciardi:

If I may, Michelle. Before we have a post agenda hearing, I would like to appoint the members to the Committee, and that will be this week.

Michelle Madoff:

Certainly. But would we schedule one at the earliest convenience, please?

Mr. Ricciardi:

I will, but first I would like to make those recommendations for the appointment of a few Councilmembers to the Committee before we discuss a post agenda hearing. And that will be this week.

The Chair:

Thank you, Mr. Ricciardi. And I believe it's the intent of every member of Council for us to move on this issue within the first half of 1990 and to get the issue behind us.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

The Chair presents

No. 36 Resolution appointing Robert Wilburn, 310 South Homewood Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania 15208, as a Member of the Pittsburgh Water and Sewer Authority for a term of five (5) years beginning January 1, 1990.

Which was read.

Also,

No. 37 Resolution appointing Mary K. Conturo, 6615 Aylesboro Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania 15217, as City Solicitor, Law Department. Said appointment shall be effective February 1, 1990.

Which was read.

The Chair:

The Chair will entertain a motion to have the appointees here for consideration tomorrow, Wednesday, January 10, 1990, at 10:00 a.m.

Mr. Coyne:

So moved.

Mr. Ricciardi seconded the motion.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Wagner, on the appointment of the Solicitor as proposed. We received a very brief resume regarding this individual, Ms. Conturo. From reading the resume, one would wonder how she was appointed to this position. I'm wondering if there's any other additional subsequent information that the Administration can respond. If not, I would like, in addition to the appointee at the table, a representative of the Mayor's Office because I have some very grave reservations about this appointment given this individual's limited experience for what is certainly even more so becoming a critical position in City government.

I'm asking for some additional information and also for a representative from the Mayor's Office to be present to answer questions. This is also Council's Solicitor, please be reminded of that.

The Chair:

Mr. Perry, would you please pass that information on to the Administration and ask for someone to be here from the Mayor's Office tomorrow along with any additional information as requested by Mr. Ferlo.

All those in favor of bringing them in front of Council tomorrow? Opposed?

WHICH MOTION PREVAILED.

Mr. Ferio:

Very briefly, Mr. Chairman. I wish we could take a break but we have to hit the ground running. As we turn the new clock around for a new year, there was some unfinished business and very important discussion during the budget proceedings of Council on the possible phasing out and elimination of the WHIP program, the Weatherizing Homes In Pittsburgh Program administered by the Urban Redevelopment Authority.

As a follow-up to try to better understand what the intentions of the Administration are this year regarding that program and recognizing that there will be considerable loss in state funding, I want to, again, hold a post agenda next Wednesday which I think Councilmembers have received a notice of to bring back to the Table, the URA officials, the Mayor's Office, Equitable Gas, People's who were at the last post agenda and other interested parties from the community.

This is a very important program. As I lobbied during the budget proceedings, I felt that if it got down to priorities, that this is a priority, the weatherization of homes, especially for low and moderate income individuals and families as well as tenants, that before we phase out this important service we should better look at possibly revamping the program, creating a different model. There are any number of possibilities that are out there, including the bottom line which is possibly re-allocating CDBG dollars or operating dollars to support the program as opposed to continuing some other priorities that we've enumerated.

It's important discussion and I'm sure many of us on Council, especially new members, have appreciation for how important this program is. I think it's even far more important than some of the other programs that we fund. So that is the intent of the post agenda discussion.

In addition to that, a separate post agenda which I'm calling and that is that members of Council have received a communication from the Pittsburgh Community Re-investment Group, the PCRG, regarding their opposition to a proposed merger with PNB, Pittsburgh National, and First Federal Savings and Loan Association. The issue that is before the public and I think should be before this City Council —

I believe that City Council which acted quickly to support the Mayor's proposed changes on how we do business with our own banks on our depository accounts, I think City Council needs to become more of an advocate on this issue of how we relate to our local financial and banking institutions, specifically because so many of us represent low and moderate income communities here in the City of Pittsburgh. If the information is accurate, that PCRG has illustrated to Council in the document that I think all of us received, it is very alarming and I think should cause us great concern, and that is the very dismal track record as it relates to providing home mortgages and low and moderate income communities and individuals as well as the employment practices of First Federal.

What is more alarming is that over the last couple of years, because of the advocacy of PCRG, as well as the City now taking on an advocacy role, both Union National Bank, as well as Pittsburgh National, have really moved to take progressive steps to improve their track record both in home mortgage loan assistance, loans to entrepreneurs, minority and female entrepreneurs, loans to riskier business development efforts, you name it. It would be a tremendous step backwards if what this proposed merger, as has been proposed by PNB, we now have the situation where First Federal will head up their home mortgage division of Pittsburgh National. And if First Federal takes with them their bias and their prejudice, assuming the information is accurate, then we are moving backwards instead of forwards in this City.

I've asked for a post agenda to be held on Wednesday, January 24, 1990, to allow representatives of First Federal, PNB and other interested parties, as well as representatives of PCRG to appear. I'd like to separate what is fact and fiction here and really talk about the issue before us and that is the possibility that Council, as a legislative body, and if this information is accurate I will be submitting a resolution to Council joining with PCRG in filing a formal complaint with the Federal Home Loan Bank Board in Cleveland and oppose the proposed merger, unless we can get something out of it.

Now is the time for the City to ascertain what the facts are. If it is accurate, then this is a bad situation for our City. I think City Council itself needs to act as an advocate for our people and I will be proposing to do that. So, I encourage Councilmembers to think about the issue, review the packet, and attend the Wednesday, January 24, 1990 meeting.

The Chair:

So there are two post agendas scheduled; one for the 17th and one for the 24th.

Mr. Ferlo:

Yes, sir.

Michelle Madoff:

On the same subject. I would like to invite, or have invited, whoever handles the dollar energy fund to the first post agenda. It seems to me, as a long proponent of conservation and the issue of weatherizing, the dollars would be better spent weatherizing homes than spent on subsidizing bills for homes that are leaking and running up bills sometimes in small houses that are larger than mansions. And I would like to see what we could do about acquiring some of those dollars. I started an investigation of that and was working on it but there's no point in my working at odds with you. Let's work together on it. But would you please invite the dollar energy people to the first post agenda.

On the second post agenda, I think it would behoove us to invite Mr. Ben Hayllar who made the presentation to this Council saying that we're giving a point system to the banks that interact best with the community and serve the community best in obtaining our dollars to their banking system. Perhaps he has already looked into it and will give us an update and we'll monitor them on the fact that they will want to do some of our banking and whether they would still be eligible or ineligible.

I read the articles about the red-lining as well and I think there seems to be some indication that they want to be good citizens. Let's get it on the Record.

The Chair:

Mr. Perry, please invite those two people to the post agenda.

Mr. Ferlo:

Those individuals have been invited, Mr. Chairman.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Michelle Madoff moved to approve the Minutes of Tuesday, November 21, 1989 and Tuesday, November 28, 1989.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Michelle Madoff

Council adjourned.

AYES 9

NOES none

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the appointment of Mr. Wilburn was approved.

The Chair presents

No. 37 Resolution appointing Mary K. Conturo, 6615 Aylesboro Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania 15217, as City Solicitor, Law Department. Said appointment shall be effective February 1, 1990.

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff moved to approve the appointment.

Mr. Coyne seconded the motion.

Mr. Ricciardi:

Discussion. Mr. President and Members of Council, please be assured that it will not be my regular practice to make prepared statements to this body. But, the issue before us now is delicate, and the reasons for our decisions are as important as the votes we cast today.

Public discussion of a person's professional qualifications and reputation does not come naturally to me. When discussing personnel and hiring decisions, many public boards and councils retire to executive session. In preparing my thoughts for today, I tried to remember how I would appreciate a fair and objective treatment of my own qualifications.

Let me begin by stating that I have three important criteria for a City Solicitor: (1) knowledge of and experience in a broad range of municipal law; (2) legal management experience; and, (3) the mental and professional toughness to aggressively fight to maintain the highest legal, ethical and policy standards for clients.

Furthermore, I do not doubt the intelligence or professional accomplishments of the nominee. Pittsburgh is fortunate, indeed, to house many talented attorneys. Yet, few would argue that, for a specific legal task (such as criminal defense law), not every attorney is well-suited to serve the best interests of a client. This is no sin; specialization is common in many professions.

So the question arises: is the nominee's background, experience, and the quality of her testimony before us indicative of quality representation as the City's chief legal advisor. Regretably, I don't believe so.

I say this for several reasons. First, it is important to note that confirming a nominee for the position of City Solicitor is different for a Member of Council than, say, Director of Public Works or Director of Parks and Recreation. For positions other than City Solicitor, once confirmed, these individuals become thoroughly dedicated to achieving the Mayor's policy goals; and, that is how it should be.

However, for the City Solicitor, that person serves not only as part of the Mayor's policy team, but as Council's attorney and advisor. Today, we are, in effect, selecting our lawyer. When viewed in this light, this nominee does not meet the general criteria I outlined earlier.

In formulating my decision over the long holiday weekend, I reviewed several times the video tape recording of last Wednesday's confirmation hearing. I spent a great deal of time searching for a reason to confirm this nominee; again and again, I was not persuaded to do so.

The nominee did not respond sufficiently to questioning. In fact, it took repeated prodding to get the nominee to agree to return my phone calls. I found this to be a bad sign from someone who wants to serve as my lawyer. None of the nominee's clients in the private sector would settle for that.

Further, during the confirmation hearings, the nominee spoke of transforming our Law Department into a municipal law firm which would attract the brightest young legal minds from local law schools; and, I would wholeheartedly support such a notion. Unfortunately, I cannot envision someone with no litigation experience, scant managerial skills, or prior demonstration of interest for public service as the successful leader and manager of such a department.

Despite these reservations and in light of the legislative arithmetic in this Chamber today, it would appear that the confirmation of the nominee is assured. Regardless of the outcome, I want to say something to the nominee, her family and her supporters: my intention here is to act on my best professional judgment based on the evidence available to me, and not to personally offend the nominee. A lawyer wouldn't take a judge's decision personally, and I know that those who disagree with me today won't either.

Finally, this nominee's appointment was announced before Christmas. Yet, no information regarding this nomination was sent to me until Tuesday, January 9 -- the day before the confirmation hearing. There must be a better way to select and confirm nominees to important positions. I look forward to an improvement in this area in the future.

I thank my colleagues for their indulgence.

Mr. Coyne:

Mr. President, as you know and Members of Council know that I was initially skeptical of Ms. Conturo. However, after meeting with her when she came to be interviewed at Council and talking to several attorneys who I respect greatly throughout the City, I found that I believe she does possess the qualities that are necessary to run the City's Law Department.

The attorneys I have spoken to have said it is not essentially necessary that the person who will be the City Solicitor have a great deal of litigation experience because he or she would be running a department and administering it more than they would be appearing in court. And the people who I know that have worked with her have said that if she did have to appear in court, that she would be amply capable of doing so.

So, I have decided today that I will, even though I had initial misgivings, will support Ms. Conturo's appointment.

Mr. Cohen:

Mr. President, this was a tough decision. I agree with my colleague, Mr. Ricciardi, that it was, but I respectfully disagree with his conclusion.

When I first reviewed Ms. Conturo's resume, I, too, had reservations because she does not have litigation experience and my understanding from the City Solicitor's Office is that over half of the case load in the Law Department is litigation. But these reservations have been overcome in my mind because of several factors.

I found her answers to my questions last Wednesday to be thoughtful and intelligent. I found her to be bright and capable, and I think cognizant of her limitations as well as her strong qualifications.

Secondly, she comes from a strong background, from two fine Pittsburgh schools, from one of the best law firms in the City, and I think she represents perhaps the only way that government can prevent itself from becoming stale and cumbersome, and that is by getting talented people from the private sector to inject government with energy and with creativity.

I think also that her strong background in municipal finance will be a real asset to the City. We must invest more in our neighborhoods and in the current situation where the federal housing money has completely depleted, I think that the only solution is to come up with sophisticated techniques for municipal financing, including tax increment financing, which is what Ms. Conturo's specialty is. Finally, I think that the City Solicitor's role is one of supervisor, and I am convinced that she would be an able supervisor and be able to balance the various pressures that come in the City Law Department.

So, for these reasons, I will vote for Mary Conturo today to be the next City Solicitor.

I do think that there is one flaw in the system that came up in last Wednesday's meeting, and that is the built in potential conflict of interest in the City Solicitor's position under the City Charter. As we discussed last Wednesday, the City Solicitor is the lawyer for both the Administration and for City Council. That does present, I think, a built-in conflict of interest and we all discussed it and I think we have different views as to how that should be resolved. I would urge Council to resolve it quickly, for us to address the issue quickly, and either to hire our own legal advisor or to have somebody designated in the City Law Department. I, personally, haven't decided which way it would be better; I would be open to either solution. I realize that is not the issue on the table at the moment, but I would urge Council to move on that pretty quickly.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to echo the sentiments of my colleagues, Mr. Cohen and Mr. Coyne, and while I do not entirely disagree with Mr. Ricciardi, it seems to me that from hanging out in government all these years and what I've been able to observe, this is one person coming to us with unusual skills, unusual background, and many, many years as a professional. If memory serves me well, most of the people who have come to our Law Department, who headed our Law Department, were law clerks. They started out as law clerks; we're getting a pro who has had ten years experience.

We should also, perhaps, touch on the fact that the U.S. Attorney and the District Attorney's Office are generally not people who are litigators; they're administrators. I would like to have a good administrator who can find us, for the various breath and depth of issues that come up before the City, people who are specialists. For example, I recalled during the cross examination of Ms. Conturo that someone mentioned something about utility rates and wanted to eliminate going outside of the City and do it in house. Well, I recalled that Marv Fein who I have known for over 20 years, he started with me in GASP, has a great deal of expertise in utility rates. He's now with a private law firm, but I can't think of anybody off the top of my head that would be better to hire if we had a rate problem that we were fighting as a representative of our taxpayers. I don't know that we need necessarily always to keep someone on the City payroll who just has expertise or their great strength is in utility rate structures. On those rare occasions, we should go out to the private sector.

The one thing that I must agree with Mr. Ricciardi on, and I think that we're all getting a taste of it and I'm glad it's so early, is that the rest of us who have been here a long time are sick and tired of having 20 minutes to vote on something, whether it's the Pirates or whether it's Alcosan or whether it's the Water and Sewer Authority. "If you don't vote right this minute to go out, we are going to lose the time to do Grant Street. It will be your fault because we need the summer and you, City Council, are going to be responsible." If we recognize it as a body very early, and if we can sit down, through the efforts of the President of Council, with the Administration, and plead our case that we don't want to be offering the service not only as Councilpeople but as scapegoats, that we would like to be part of the process and meet early enough so that we are not the victims of the fact that we have 20 minutes to vote. I think that the point that was made, that if we had that information on Ms. Conturo early, we should certainly have had it.

Finally, no person, no man, no woman, can serve two masters. I would like to respectfully ask that Mike Perry pull out my bills, they've been introduced three times, twice they failed and once they passed. We even went to court on it; I'll show you the court ruling that says that Council is entitled to have its own legal counsel and separation of powers. And then we can do exactly what Mr. Cohen has said, we can start to address the issue of whether we want to have our own legal counsel, have that person work in the City Law Department so we don't go through the problems that Mark Pollock addressed which are, we'll have a law library and we'll have to have secretaries and we'll have to have this great big body that the taxpayers will have to pay for. We can eliminate that by hiring our own attorney.

Just remember one thing. Whoever is hired in the Law Department, and may I correct Mr. Ricciardi, that person does not represent me. I don't feel after 11 years that the Law Department truthfully represents me. I believe that that person represents the Administration who pays them and I believe that the Administration also has the right to choose their own lawyer in the same way that we should be given the same respect. We are, under the Home Rule Charter, allowed to hire our own attorney; let's go ahead and do it. And let's do it in an economical way.

I think that this woman is outstanding, I'm flattered that we have the chance to vote for her, and I will vote positively for her.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. President and Members of Council, I don't think it's any secret that I'm not happy with this appointment, and I've labored long and hard on this issue for the last week. I wasn't happy initially with the written information that we received concerning the candidate's background; it was much too succinct a resume, as far as I was concerned. I was not happy overall. And contrary to some of the comments made here today, I was not overly impressed, as I was hoping that I would be, with her actual interview before Council.

But for a lot of reasons, including the fact that I would say in the last four or five days I have probably received about 30 or 40 phone calls, most of them are individuals who I have a lot of respect for who have called me on behalf of the proposed Solicitor, Ms. Conturo, and I would say general comments to me from some of the community folks were sympathetic with my initial observation that the individual is lacking not only in litigation but did not bring to the office the broad background of municipal law which we discussed a little bit at the table.

For a bunch of different reasons, I'm going to be voting in favor of the applicant today. I think it's important that we send a good message and, certainly, as I sensed from some of the other Councilmembers here, some of whom have expressed themselves and some of them I've talked to privately, I think it's important that we try to get a unanimous vote for her if we can, even though there's some division in the house on her appointment. I think we need to send her the right message. This isn't a bond issue and a major ideological debate; this is really a question of whether we think she's qualified and do we have reasonable assurance that she's going to do a good job. And I do believe that after having discussed a number of issues with individuals who, frankly, have lobbied on her behalf. I don't find anything wrong with lobbying, especially if they can contribute something to debate.

The fact of the matter is, we do have a strong mayor-form of government and this is the applicant that has come from Mayor Masloff and Mr. Mistick, in particular, who has lobbied on her behalf, and I do have a lot of faith in some of the new administrators that the Mayor has appointed and I'll defer to their judgment and, to a large extent, hold them accountable and responsible, especially in the coming year, for some of the actions of the Solicitor.

I was happy to hear some of the comments of Ms. Conturo when I talked to her about the issue of advocacy. I have felt for some time that City government, specifically the Solicitor and his or her resources, in this case her resources in that Law Department, need to be much more vocal on behalf of the citizens and this Council on a broad range of advocacy issues from utility rate cases to appearing before the Insurance Commission on opposition to increases in the over 65 special. There's a whole gambit of concerns that we need to be much more vocal on as a municipality, and I do feel confident that Ms. Conturo will bring some renewed energy and some renewed vigor to the office and I look forward to trying to work with her specifically on some of those issues.

I think the Law Department is really at a crossroads, and that's partly what I was struggling with and trying to come to a conclusion on her appointment. I guess my relationship with the previous Solicitor, starting out very much as an adversary and in the end growing to respect the individual a lot, actually appreciating his fineness. The Law Department is at a crossroads. We're talking about a different management style, a different type of tenure that will be the reign of Ms. Conturo as opposed to the previous Solicitor. I think that's basically legitimate difference of opinion. And we've tried the other way, a strong Solicitor, "Everything comes to me, I'll do everything." There's legitimacy to that and I think now we're approaching a different potential here of a strong manager person who will direct the legal resources in that department, even as lofty as developing it as a municipal law firm that was euphemistically referred to. I think that's a strong case in point. I think we need to give her to opportunity to do that.

The issue of the legal advisor, I was a little bit concerned I think partly because she is so new to City government, we should make it clear that at any and all times when she is requested to appear or respond to anything that is before Council, that is her responsibility equal to her responsibilities to the Mayor as the Chief Executive Officer here in the City, and not a delegated responsibility to any Deputy Solicitor.

We've touched on a little bit, even though it's not on the issue before us today, the agenda, the Council Legal Advisor. I have no problem with Ms. Conturo assigning one of the Solicitors to work with Council on the drafting of legislation and that would be more of a legal skill and the drafting and review of the Municipal Code and all that. But if we really want an independent legal advisor that needs to be an independent person that is hired and accountable to Council through the President and through the leadership that was established. If Council wants to move in this direction, there are many reasons why we did not or could not do that in the previous year, then we have time still to re-open the Budget and that is something that Councilmembers should initiate very quickly if we want to really have that discussion. So, I hope that someone will take up the leadership on that because if we want our own legal advisor, that should be an independent person that is accountable to us and not a delegated individual in the Solicitor's Office.

So, overall, weighing her plusses and her minuses, I don't think there's any question of her academic background and it is clear that she brings certainly a tremendous legal background in one specific area of the law and, contrary to comments made by Mr. Cohen, I would hope that the Administration would think a little bit more about her expertise because really, if you review the activities of the Solicitor in the past, they really have nothing to do, or have not had anything to do with areas of municipal finance. That's not to say that her duties could be reconstructed a little bit, but that needs to be clarified by the Mayor to really use her to the fullest extent possible given her legal background.

So, I'm not overly happy. I wish it were an applicant who had a broader background in municipal law, but I think overall she's certainly a competent individual and I will be casting a vote in favor of her, partly to send the right message.

Mr. Regan:

Mr. President, I don't represent the Administration, I represent the people of the City of Pittsburgh, and I'm very much surprised that my outstanding colleague, Michelle Madoff, didn't say something about the grilling that that poor lady took here in Council.

Michelle Madoff:

I did earlier.

Mr. Regan:

I think that it's a new day in the City of Pittsburgh with Council by District and I think we saw a very outstanding young lady come before us and the grilling that she took, I was amazed how she stood up and the questions that she answered. I think we're going to see one of the real bright women in the State of Pennsylvania and I think she arrived on the scene at that Council meeting. And I, for one, am going to cast my vote for her. Thank you.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, Point of Personal Privilege, very briefly, since we are drawing on the fact that the applicant is a female. If we look very quickly, and just coming into the meeting I quickly added up the number of positions of directors and some of the top administrators in the City, and of the 25 that I counted, 9 are female and 16 are male. But equally disappointing to a large extent is the number of Black and minority leadership in this City. If we look at the number that we have, I only found two Black males who headed up departments and no Black females. So, while it's not the issue right before us today, I do think that we need to discuss these issues because, if I add up correctly also, there are only two more appointments basically to be made, the Water Director and the Director, at some point, hopefully, the Housing Authority of the City of Pittsburgh.

And I think as a footnote to the discussion today, it is legitimate and appropriate for Council to illustrate and raise concern about the leadership positions in City government. And if we do a quick survey, both male, female, Black, White, and Black female in particular, it's a sad situation that needs to be addressed. And it really needs to be addressed by Mayor Masloff, who I think will address it, but I think we should comment on that today as we fill yet another vacancy in City government.

The Chair:

Judging from the comments that all of you are making, it appears as if Ms. Conturo has an affirmative number of votes. I am voting in favor of her, however, I agree with most of the comments made by all of you, including some of the drawbacks.

I just want to mention in particular in regard to Mr. Ricciardi's comment, I believe that Ms. Conturo made some commitments at the table last week and I know this Council will hold her to them. One commitment was that she will be available whenever Council requests her to be available. In addition to that, she will assign a lawyer to Council that will work on the daily chores that are involved such as advice on legislation and the daily phone calls that many of us make to the Solicitor's Office. I think that's a very positive commitment. She will return phone calls in the future to Councilmembers and, if not, this Council has the capability through the Charter to demand her presence in this room and to answer questions as to why not. So, I believe she made a commitment to do that and she will follow through on it.

I believe the woman is well-qualified, has an excellent background; however, she is subject to questions in regard to legal capability in municipal law. However, I think she has tremendous capability when it comes to financial expertise in the area of law in regard to this City and I believe that is a very positive, progressive move by the Administration. We need more people in this administration that have expertise in the area of finance, particularly people in the Law Department. I believe she will grow in the position and will become an excellent Solicitor.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

Mr. Ferlo presented

Bill No. 60

Report of the Committee on Planning, Housing and Development for January 10, 1990 transmitting one resolution to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 17

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for an Agreement or Agreements with NeighborFair Pittsburgh, Inc., for the operation of the Neighborhoods for Living Center at a cost not to exceed $150,000.00."

Which was read.

Mr. Ferlo:

On this bill, Mr. Chairman, we had requested some additional information regarding the budget of the organization that we are entering into contract with, the listing of their new Board of Directors and a copy of the by-laws which I received a couple of days ago and Xeroxed it and put it in Councilmember's mailboxes. Hopefully you received it. That was basically the additional information we requested.

I would ask that one of the first objectives of the group be to resolve whether or not the NeighborFair will take place in the future. It's apparent that it will not happen this year. There are many in the community who think that NeighborFair is a good outreach event for neighborhood groups and I hope that the Director and the Board of the new organization we're funding will grapple with this issue and if there are additional resources needed from City government to conduct a NeighborFair, maybe it's something by budget time they would be able to re-appear in Council to discuss the issue.

Michelle Madoff:

I'd like my comments brought forward from the other day.

(BEGINNING - MICHELLE MADOFF'S COMMENTS ON BILL NO. 17, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 10, 1990.)

Michelle Madoff:

Mary Lou, like most people I was surprised that your entity had broken off and gone out into the private sector and while I certainly applaud and support the NeighborFair concept and I think it does do a tremendous amount for the morale and for the communities, I have what I consider a greater issue for taxpayers dollars and that is that -- and I would hope that you are able to raise more money and if necessary we should give you what you need and the reason for that is that it is no secret that -- you touched on it quite eloquently that the movement by everybody serving their own pocketbook, particularly the realtors, is to steer people to the suburbs and with the new highways going to the Fox Chapel area -- Route 28 is like a breeze -- the new highway going to the North Hills, I-79, the roads going to the airport, the development of the airport where we're likely to see another convention center, we are liable to see -- that could become the hub of this community if we're not careful. We had better do something very quickly to educate realtors and make it profitable for them to encourage people to stay in the City. Are you doing anything in the nature of taking -- 100 people come to you from the Chamber of Commerce. They become -- if you don't get them immediately they go somewhere else. You've got to strike while the iron is hot. What are we doing to educate the real estate people to know what we have available, taking them on tour, showing them the availability, giving them information as to what funding is available and why they should be promoting our City. That's an area that must be addressed and very quickly and there are also I believe funding sources for first-time homeowners and other URA subsidies -- anything that we can make it palatable and encouraging to keep people in the City must happen quickly and I see your organization as that vehicle and I would like you to address, if you would, very quickly my concerns and what you can do to stop this exodus to the suburbs through your group particularly.

Ms. Daniel:

Well, I think you have asked a lot of things but let's deal with the realtor issue. We are certainly concerned about dealing with the real estate professionals. Over the years we have done a number of things including helping neighborhood organizations better understand the real estate market and how it affects the development or the growth to help that community. In many cases, we have real estate agents, brokers and salespeople who are actively selling in the City of Pittsburgh who will work with us to help us help the neighborhood groups do better at that. Where we have met resistance -- and I'm not saying we have not met resistance -- we have tried to work so that the community group takes over the marketing of it. We will continue to work with the real estate community to make them understand that they do -- and they do have to take a more aggressive stance. There are people who like city living and they are cutting their own throats as we try to tell them by not being more aggressive in marketing homes in the City.

One of the things we have found is that many, many people who are in real estate are suburban dwellers. They have always lived outside of the City and they have no concept of city living. They don't understand the programs that are available to them nor do they want to understand them because it takes a little bit more time to do that.

We will continue to work with them. We will continue to work with the banks and others who are working with the real estate community. We will work with the Housing Department of the URA and the Planning Department and whomever else is interested in this but the real estate community will continue to be contacted by us so that they take out I think some of what has happened over the past few years.

Michelle Madoff:

I guess I neglected to point out that my greatest concern is that this wage tax concept that it's too expensive to live in the City must be combatted and we have to deal with it.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Michelle Madoff:

Two items, Mr. President and Members of Council. As you may recall, I raised the issue when the Mayor appointed Mr. Don Cimino as head of Building Inspection replacing Paul Imhoff, that it might be a good idea to have him come to Council either in a public meeting, perhaps our Tuesday meeting, so that the public will have access to hearing his comments as opposed to a post agenda which I originally sought. A post agenda is not televised and the public doesn't know what is happening.

As those who have been on Council for a number of years know, one of our greatest number of calls are from people who have problems with abandoned houses and the problems they create and the havoc they create in the community. I would very much like to know what is transpiring and also, in light of the investigation going on with reference to the problems we've had with demolition, I'd like to know his thoughts and what perspective Mr. Cimino is coming from. I think it would be beneficial to all of us to interact with him and I respectfully request that the President decide whether it would be on a Tuesday, a Wednesday, or whether you want to do it as a post, although I think we short-change the public on a post agenda.

People may not recall, the televising of Council gavel to gavel was my legislation and many of us who supported that legislation felt that everything should be televised. Maybe some of the budget hearings might be foregone because it seems that a lot of it is repetitious and dragging and so on. Maybe the important things will be there if there's a time frame or a dollar constriction.

The real meat of what happens in this Council, ladies and gentlemen, if you're listening in, is not in these Council meetings. It happens in the hearings and it happens in the post agendas where it's really discussed. I would suggest that we reconsider that sometime as a point of our discussion in Council.

AT THIS TIME, THE FIRE ALARM WAS HEARD AND, ON THE MOTION OF MR.

COYNE, THIS COUNCIL MEETING WAS RECESSED.

The Chair:

The Recessed Meeting is called to order. Ms. Madoff, you had the floor.

Michelle Madoff:

The issue I was talking about is having Don Cimino from Building Inspection come before this Council. I took the opportunity during the recess to speak to Mr. Wagner, the President of Council, who is going to notify us in what forum we will have the chance to interact. If we do a post agenda, unfortunately, the public will not be privy to what is said. Perhaps the first time we have an item on the agenda on demolition might be the time, since he's a new director, to interact and talk to him about philosophy. But we'll await the pleasure of the President of Council in addressing that.

On another matter. I would like to read a letter into the Record and share with Council and expand on what is happening. But I think the letter is so self-explanatory that it would save us a lot of time.

"January 12, 1990

Dear Mayor Masloff:

In October of 1988, I convened two breakfast meetings with the leadership of the major non-profit, tax exempt entities in the Greater Pittsburgh area, representing the houses of worship, the arts, educational institutions, health care providers and community service agencies such as United Way, UJF and The YMCA, etc." — I might mention that for those two meeting I was recorded as absent here in Council. It was the only convenient time that the groups could get together. So, if Mr. Schmitz is listening, that's where I was.

"As a result of these initial meetings, these non-profit organizations, under the coordination of the Hospital Council of Western Pennsylvania, lobbied long and hard in support of the Administration's position on tax reform. Though the tax reform referendum was defeated, they have continued to meet as an ad hoc group.

Today I spoke with Bill Horvath of the Hospital Council of Western Pennsylvania which acts as the coordinating body for the ad hoc group. He informed me he believes that despite the financial constraints of the individual tax exempt organizations, there is a great deal of empathy for Pittsburgh's economic problems.

It was agreed that I should seek a meeting with the Administration, City Council and the non-profits with the objective of creating a "focus group". The agenda would be open, non-restricted and provide an opportunity to share thoughts without any preconceived ideas while working together to seek creative solutions to the tax problem.

I will be happy to act as a liaison with the ad hoc group and contact Mr. Jack Robinette, President of the Hospital Council of Western Pennsylvania, to convene a series of meetings so that we may move forward in a positive, pro-active way. Mr. Horvath will be happy to continue acting as staff liaison to bring all the parties together.

I will be pleased to represent you in facilitating this urgent business.

Awaiting your reply.

Sincerely,

Michelle Madoff"

Now, what happened originally is that we met, there must have been 30 groups represented, just everybody was there. They understand the problems we have and I think that they realize that something is going to happen and rather than being hit on the head, they'd like to be part of the process. I think that's the correct way and the correct place for us to begin.

The letter went out on Friday. I have not heard from the Administration as yet. I am meeting with them at 2:00, but I would suggest strongly that we support this kind of interaction and that we, through the activities of the President of Council, his prerogative, create perhaps a post agenda or a hearing. This is your decision. Do you want the public to hear? I certainly think they would like to know. Perhaps a hearing or a post agenda. We'll invite the 30 groups, we'll invite this ad hoc group, we have Council present to interact, and we have the Administration here. Certainly we would be here. I would like to make that in the form of a motion and I hope someone would second it.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

The Chair:

Is that a public hearing or a post agenda?

Michelle Madoff:

I defer to you, Mr. President. What's your pleasure?

The Chair:

I think a post agenda would be more informal and I think more could be accomplished. And it could even be done, actually, in a private meeting. There would be nothing wrong with doing that.

Michelle Madoff:

Let's not start private meetings under the Sunshine Law.

The Chair:

I mean individually with the various groups, if you want to do that.

Michelle Madoff:

No, I think that that's what I'm trying to avoid. I think we should all get together as a body.

The Chair:

Okay, so you would like to do it here as a post agenda?

Michelle Madoff:

Yes.

The Chair:

There's actually no need for a vote on that.

Michelle Madoff:

Thank you, and our office will notify all the groups and we will schedule it at your pleasure. I will not be here from the 31st to the 10th and I just want to go on the Record with that.

The Chair:

Mr. Perry, will you please proceed with setting up a post agenda.

Mr. Perry:

Yes.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. President and Members of Council, just a few brief housekeeping matters. A reminder that a post agenda will take place tomorrow after the regular meeting on the issue of the WHIP Program asking the Administration and the URA to come to Council and talk about potential reduction if not the elimination of this Weatherization Program. That's tomorrow afternoon.

I had also scheduled for next Wednesday a meeting with bank officials and representatives of the PCRG. This is on the issue of the proposed merger with PNB and First Federal. Both parties are now presently in negotiations which they both termed as sensitive. So, with that in mind, I think it would be appropriate to postpone that meeting, allow the individuals to negotiate, wheel and deal, whatever they need to do, and if at the appropriate time, sometime in the future, we need to take that type of advocacy stance on behalf of City government, we can quickly move to do that. But, given the fact that both parties are negotiating, Mr. Stanley Lowe's comments from PCRG, a letter to me this morning was that they're sensitive and they'd like an opportunity to have some movement, some time to move around.

So, let's postpone that, give the members of the working group time to negotiate what they termed as sensitive negotiations with the bank officials.

The issue of the Housing Authority, I've submitted legislation today which is not secret. I'm very concerned, as I think all of Council should be, not only with the so-called severance pay being proposed for Mr. Pietragallo, the former director, but more importantly, or equally important, is the manner in which in violation of the Sunshine Law and other irregularities, the manner in which this proposal is taking place.

My bill will be up for discussion tomorrow and I'm asking the City Clerk to please communicate to the Administration and to the Administration of the Housing Authority, be it Mr. Washington, the Acting Director, Mr. Colbert, the Board Chairman, to be present in Chambers tomorrow to discuss this issue and also to bring with them minutes of the board meetings where these actions supposedly or unsupposedly took place. I would like the Clerk to notify the parties, including the representatives of the Mayor's Office who I think need to get a little more involved publicly in this whole fiasco at the Authority.

Two brief points and I'll close. It has taken me a year to finally get a house demolished on North Euclid Avenue in the East Liberty community. It finally went out to bid, Karas Demolition Company has the bid. Even though they received a bid and did not initiate the work, there's a 45 day clause in demolition contracts in the City. A much longer period of time passed than the 45 days, they finally initiated work. They started tearing the house down. Well, now the house has the roof off and it's up to the second story window and they have disappeared for the last three weeks. This building is now falling in the alleyway and the public street. It is a major safety hazard in the community.

I've communicated to BBI but some immediate action needs to be taken. I'd like the Clerk to communicate to the Public Safety Director the possibility of closing off some of the area with barricades if need be. But somebody needs to monitor the demolition work better than what has taken place in the past. This is not the first time that I've been unsatisfied in which demolition contractors have done their performance, the quality of their performance.

So, if Mr. Karas is listening, I hope that he will move quickly by the end of the week to get this house down to grade level. If not, I may start bringing some of the building materials out to his office on West Carson Street if I need to.

The last thing is a request to Council and it concerns an issue which I found out about just a few days ago and that's the proposed concessionaire contract with the Pittsburgh Zoo. The reason why this is important is that it's a contract that will be signed and will basically lock in our relationship between the City and whoever the concessionaire is for the next ten years. What I'd like to see is a letter from Council asking that the Administration hold off in signing the contract until such time that Council can intervene and review some of the materials.

The basic issue in a nutshell, and I'll try to be brief, there are four different vendors, companies, that bid on the work for the Zoo. This is the concessionaire stands, all the gift items and the food and the rental of strollers and all this kind of activity. The contract will be proposed to be given to an out of town firm from Denver, Colorado and I think there's a problem with that for a variety of reasons. One of the individual groups that bid on the work is our own Friends of the New Zoo. What they were proposing is to use the revenues that they would gather from the sale of items at the Zoo to actually recapitalize and put money back into the Zoo.

So, for a lot of reasons, and it's too lengthy to really give an overview knowing all these contract issues, I would like to see if Council could please join me in requesting that the Administration not sign the contract until Council can review this information. I just received this information this morning.

Michelle Madoff:

Is that a motion? I'll second it.

Mr. Ferlo:

Yes, it is, but let me just say one thing. I'll just take one paragraph out of this summary. The Friends of the New Zoo proposal was given very strong consideration because of the close working relationship and past support of the Pittsburgh Zoo. The proposal, meaning the proposal that they bid for the work, offers the highest capital investment figure. However, the capital funding would come from a loan from PNB. The bank has requested that any contract between the City and the Friends of the Zoo specifically state that the City will guarantee payment of any outstanding loan balance should the Friends of the Zoo be unable to make payments.

The basic point is, we have a golden opportunity here to award a contract not only to some entity that is a local company, but if it can't be a local company, I would like to see at least an arrangement worked out where the Friends of the New Zoo can get a piece of the action, even if they are only allowed to sell the gift items. Again, that money comes back to the Zoo and we're locking ourselves into a ten year agreement.

So, I make a motion to send a letter to the Administration asking them to hold off on signing the contract and I will Xerox this information and relay it to each Councilmember. And maybe the Chairman of that Committee could take the time to convene such a meeting. It's a very important issue.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

WHICH MOTION PREVAILED.

Michelle Madoff:

On an issue that has been discussed, Mr. President, it seems to me that if Mr. Ferlo is giving up the date, the 24th, Wednesday, for a post agenda, that we could schedule next Tuesday and Wednesday, I'll have to check my schedule to see when I'm free, to do Mr. Don Cimino of Demolition which is the issue I raised. And now that Mr. Ferlo is giving a graphic example of the kind of problem all of us have been dealing with, do one of those and perhaps the tax exempts. It's harder for them to get together, but we ought to do it very rapidly. They're already going for blood in the Administration and I'd like to try to do it in a friendlier way. Mike, check with my office to check my schedule.

The Chair:

That post agenda will be scheduled on the 24th.

And on the motion of Michelle Madoff

Council adjourned.

Mr. Regan:

Mr. President, I don't know if I'm out of order or not, but I'd like to introduce at this time Bob Caldwell, the head basketball coach at North Allegheny High School. He brought some students here from North Allegheny High School and I would like them to stand.

Mr. President, I also would like these young people from the suburbs to know what a great city we have here in Pittsburgh and, when they graduate from high school, we would like them to very seriously think about moving into the Number One City in the United States. Thank you.

The Chair:

Thank you, Mr. Regan. And thank you all for coming.

PRESENTATIONS

Mr. Coyne presents

No. 84 WHEREAS, the Council of the City of Pittsburgh recognizes that there has been a large influx of New Irish immigrants into the Pittsburgh area in recent years and that, the overwhelming majority of these new immigrants are undocumented; and

WHEREAS, many of the new immigrants do not have close family ties in America and are therefore unable to achieve legal status under the current immigration system; and

WHEREAS, the City Council is aware that this wave of immigrants follows in the tradition of previous generations of Irish in that they are hard workers and eager to contribute to the American economy; and

WHEREAS, the people of Pittsburgh are keen to see that the new immigrants have the same opportunity to contribute as past generations; and

WHEREAS, the Congress of the United States is currently considering the issue of Immigration Reform.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh hereby calls upon the Congress of the United States to enact Legal Immigration Reform which will introduce an independent category for immigrants who do not have close family ties and also to ensure that any such legislation passed provides redress to Ireland and those other countries identified by the State Department as being adversely affected by the 1965 Immigration Act.

Mr. Coyne moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Coyne:

I have with me here today Mr. Bob Cunningham who is a member of various Irish groups in the City of Pittsburgh and today is representing the Irish Immigration Reform Movement. Bob, would you like to say a few words?

Mr. Cunningham:

Council President and the rest of City Council, on behalf of the organization I'm representing, I'd like to thank you for this gesture of support.

If I may, I'd like to cite why this is so important, the goals that we're striving for. In 1965, an immigration law was passed that addressed the injustices of past immigration practices, namely the exclusion of the non-tradition immigration groups. That law had the unintended effect of closing the door on the traditional sources of immigration to this country, namely Western Europeans.

Presently, the Irish Immigration Reform Movement is trying to serve the needs of the approximately 100,000 illegal Irish aliens in this country today. I hesitate to use the word "illegal" because it connotes a criminal sense, but these people are undocumented. They live in fear of exploitation. They have to overcome the obstacle of strict quotas upon their nationality.

If I may, I would like to thank Councilman Coyne and Council President Wagner for supporting this because, when I take this to New York and give it to the people who are going to be lobbying for this immigration reform, they'll be able to show that there is widespread support across the country, especially in a city like Pittsburgh, for immigration reform.

And on behalf of the young people who are waiting to get legitimate legal status here in this country, I thank you.

The Chair:

Thank you, Mr. Cunningham.

Mr. Darkins presents

Mr. Darkins moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, Point of Personal Privilege. I'd like to know if the Councilman would consider a friendly amendment and that is, on the day of January 27th at the dinner giving the recognition, on that day we declare the day, January 27th, Sheriff Gene Coon Day in the City of Pittsburgh. I think that would be an appropriate amendment.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Sheriff Coon:

That sounded more like a press release than it did a resolution.

I want you all to know that I feel at home in these Chambers. Former Governor Lawrence, former Mayor Lawrence, swore me in as a Police Sergeant in this Chamber many, many years ago. As a matter of fact, it was 1957. And although I've enjoyed being the Sheriff of Allegheny County, my heart is still with the City Police and always will be. Thank you all so much for the honor.

The Chair:

Thank you, Sheriff.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President and members of Council, this is sort of an awkward resolution and the recipient is not here, but it needs to be read so that we can send it to him and he can keep it in his office.

Michelle Madoff presents

No. 86 WHEREAS, the legal work provided by H. Yale Gutnick, Esquire in connection with the recent racketeering, extortion and tax investigation spanning a period of over three years, entailing hundreds of hours of his time, was estimated to be worth well over $30,000.00; and

WHEREAS, because of Mr. Gutnick's generous public spirit towards this City and its residents, this work was undertaken at no charge to his client, Michelle Madoff; and

WHEREAS, the matter might not have come to its lawful culmination were it not for Mr. Gutnick's perseverance and personal integrity; and

WHEREAS, Council subsequently approved payment of a nominal bill in the amount of $2,966.50 submitted by Mr. Gutnick for his legal services in connection with a civil suit arising from the investigation; and

WHEREAS Mr. Gutnick's awareness, and that of his firm, STRASSBURGER, McKENNA, GUTNICK & POTTER, in recognizing the public benefit arising from participation in this investigation has, in that same spirit, chosen to pledge the amount of this legal bill to the Make-A-Wish Foundation of Western Pennsylvania.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh hereby expresses its thanks and appreciation to H. Yale Gutnick for his contribution to the City of Pittsburgh and the Make-A-Wish Foundation and considers his feeling of indebtedness to the City "for all opportunities and advantages derived as a result of living in an extraordinary city" as "Paid in Full".

Michelle Madoff moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

The Chair:

I'm presenting a resolution pertaining to Hurricane Hugo and I would like to ask Director Gaetano, Mr. Tiglio and all the people that participated in the Hugo clean-up effort in Charleston, South Carolina, to please step forward. I know you have a copy of the resolution already. Also, inside the resolution is a photo of the group.

We have representatives from each of the various departments that participated in Hugo. Not all 37 people are here today, but the resolutions will certainly be passed on to them.

The Chair presents

No. 87 WHEREAS, on September 21, 1989, one of the worst hurricanes of this century, Hurricane Hugo, roared up from the Caribbean and made a direct hit on historical Charleston, South Carolina, with its 135 MPH winds; and

WHEREAS, the City of Pittsburgh responded to the call for assistance from the City of Charleston in the aftermath and catastrophic destruction of Hurricane Hugo; and

WHEREAS, the contingent of people and equipment sent by Mayor Masloff from the City of Pittsburgh was the largest of any City assisting in the clean-up effort; and

WHEREAS, the following Pittsburgh volunteers worked for seven days, 12 to 14 hours per day, removing debris, cutting trees, repairing roofs and doing "whatever it took" to rebuild Charleston and to help the people in the clean-up effort after "Hugo": Sam Tiglio, Ed Kreuzer, Terry Matuszak, Greg Feigel, Roger Abbott, Bill Ahlin, Robert Bowe, John Brandon, Damon Blankenship, Stanley Bruno, John Bucci, Stanley Franiewski, Ron Gembarosky, Calvin Glover, Sam Godino, Isaac Harris, Sandy Heintzinger, Russell Killcrece, Tom Leech, Hugh Morgan, Dorse Moye, Willie Oakley, Mark Pampuch, Charlie Puerzer, Joe Ranft, Ron Rogalsky, Paul Romah, Lonnie Rotondo, John Sabo, Bill Seaman, Jim Smith, Anthony Stasiak, Spencer Thornton, Howard Tracey, Robert Vavro, Dale Vezzetti, Mark Yourick, Lou Gaetano and Jack Wagner; and

WHEREAS, all of the workers returned to Pittsburgh safe, sound and a little tired after leaving an indelible mark on the City of Charleston, South Carolina.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh does hereby commend and thank those who gave of their time and effort to help those in need and once again showing why Pittsburgh's greatest asset is the caring spirit of its people.

Mr. Cohen moved to adopt the resolution.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

The Chair:

I would simply like to interject in addition to the resolution, I cannot commend Mayor Masloff enough for putting this group of highly skilled people together to go to Charleston. They did an exceptional job. It was an honor to be part of it, and Pittsburgh truly left its mark on Charleston, South Carolina. The resolution is a little late, but it's better late than never, and it certainly is deserved of each and every person that took part in that effort.

There's also a commemorative photo in the resolution of all of us standing down there at the job site on the last day of work, and I can't say enough about all the effort that went in from the various departments.

The Department of Public Works coordinated the effort through the Mayor's Office and I would first like to introduce the Director of Public Works, Lou Gaetano. Lou, please say a few words.

Mr. Gaetano:

Thank you very much. If you had been there and had seen the devastation in Charleston, and at the end of the day if you would have seen the actual people from their homes, how they came out and thanked us for what we were doing, you would have been very, very proud to be a Pittsburgher.

I'd like to thank Terry Matuszak, Sam Tiglio and Ed Kreuzer who helped coordinate this, all the members of Environmental Services, General Services, Parks and Recreation and, of course, Public Works.

I had many, many calls and letters from people who do not live in the City of Pittsburgh who are former Pittsburghers. They were all very proud to say that they were Pittsburghers. I've had people call me from Mount Lebanon, Dormont, all the boroughs and townships, and they didn't refer to themselves as being a Dormont-ite or wherever they were from. They were all Pittsburghers and they were very, very proud of Pittsburgh.

Again, I thank all of you and I thank the Mayor for sending us.

The Chair:

I would just like to introduce one of the two people that supervised the entire effort, Sam Tiglio. Sam, would you please say a few words? And I want to say prior to that, if anyone ever needs their tree cut down, Sam does a heck of a job with a chainsaw.

Mr. Tiglio:

Thank, Councilman and Mr. President. I have to say that this is probably one of the highlights of my career in public government. It's been 40 years since I've been in public service and I've never been touched by anything in my whole career as I have been touched with this Charleston situation.

Again, a lot of thanks have to be passed and commendations have to be given to the 37 people that went down there because everybody put in a hell of an effort. The effort that they put in, I think, is second to none anyplace. The contingency that we had down there worked together. There was never one argument; there was never one consideration about not doing anything. They pitched in and they did what they were asked to do. This is the soul of a successful operation.

I have to say that if anybody in the audience here has any labor work that they need done, Jack Wagner is a hell of a laborer. I think the respect that Jack gained down in Charleston from the group that was down there I think will never be forgotten.

And, Jack, I want to say thanks for the effort that you put in with us and I think you being there just made us work that much harder.

The Chair:

No, Sam, I think you made us work harder.

Mr. Tiglio:

Nevertheless, we won't throw accolades back and forth, but I want to say thanks to everybody that was there, especially my assistant Eddie Kreuzer, and to Terry Maruszak who coordinated the effort of the contingency that went down and back. He headed the convoy and I think he did one terrific job keeping all of that equipment together and bringing everything down there and then bringing it back. And, Terry, again, I want to say thanks to you and to all the men that participated. Thank you very much.

The Chair:

One of the workers, Lonnie Rotondo, is going to say a few words.

Mr. Rotondo:

The workers asked me to speak for them and we just wanted to thank both Jack Wagner and Lou and everybody else that was involved for the spectacular job they did of coordinating down there. The people would not believe how smoothly everything went. We weren't looking for commendations or anything when we went down; all we were trying to do was help. And I think that's about the best we can do.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I'd just like to make a comment. I just want to say that for the constituents I represent I want to thank you not only for what you've done because you did above and beyond the call of duty. I expect no less from Sam and Lou, who I love dearly, I'm head of his fan club, but I do want you to know that you really brought honor to this City. We were in the national media. And it was not only that you helped the people there but you helped the honor of this City. Thank you.

The Chair:

I would just finally like to say that never in my whole life have I been more proud to say that I was from Pittsburgh than when I was in Charleston, South Carolina. Thank you very much.

Also, with a NEGATIVE recommendation,

Bill No. 18

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution approving a Conditional Use Exception under Section 993.01(a)A-(4) of the Pittsburgh Code, Title Nine, Zoning, Article V, Chapter 993 to Leeann Associates of Pennsylvania and Mark Utley, Owners, for authorization to use the property located at 400 Roup Avenue as a parking area to serve employees and customers of Baum Boulevard Dodge, Inc. (51-H-118), 8th Ward."

Which was read.

Mr. Ferlo:

I'd like my comments brought forward on this bill.

(REMARKS ON FOLLOWING PAGE)

(BEGINNING - MR. FERLO'S COMMENTS ON BILL NO. 18, WEDNESDAY, 1/17/90)

Mr. Ferlo:

I strongly urge my colleagues to reject and deny this proposed resolution approving Conditional Use Application for the owners of Baum Boulevard Dodge. I hope that Councilmembers did take the time to read the background material that comes to us from the Planning Commission who soundly rejected the Conditional Use Application. They did this as a result of interviewing the neighborhood residents, conducting a public hearing and I think there was lengthy and appropriate discussion at the Planning Commission and while some of their concerns which are summarized in a memo to Council are somewhat boiler plate. Suffice it to say that this is a community in transition and this City Council in the last year or so working with the communities have worked to upgrade the residential quality of this community. The proposal here is to take what is a tree-lined triangular piece of property -- residential in quality which is adjacent to the rear of the Baum Boulevard Dodge and use it for a parking lot. The Planning Commission and certainly the residents were clearly opposed to this for the reasons so stated. We are not required to conduct a public hearing on this matter and it was my hope that we could dispense with the issue today.

I think we have to send an appropriate message to landowners and developers in this city and that message needs to be that if an entrepreneur and a developer or a major business owner thinks that they can circumvent the process and the situation here basically was a beautiful house that was on this property acquired by this company hoping to basically demolish this house and establish a parking lot in a residential community. The owners of this property knew full well that they were purchasing in a residential zone hoping to circumvent the process, knock the house down and at that point they would have a way of getting what they want. So I think we need to stand firm and reject that kind of an agenda and I think equally important we need to support the efforts of the community who very recently have organized a very active members of the Friendship Preservation Group and others, so for all those reasons and I'm sure many more which some Councilmembers will add, I hope that we vote no on this Conditional Use Application.

(END OF COMMENTS)

PREPARED BY: MARY ANNE HRUSKA, STENOGRAPHIC REPORTER

Mr. Cohen:

I'd like to make some comments on Bill No. 18. I am voting nay on this bill because I believe that it will be bad for the neighborhood of Friendship. As we discussed earlier, this is a property which was residential and is attempted to be converted to commercial use and, in fact, the attempt has been to clearly tear down a house and put up a parking lot.

I think that there is a tenuous balance between residential and commercial which has to be maintained and this conditional use, if it were approved, would tip the balance in favor of commercial without a compelling reason. I think there's a new spirit in the neighborhood of Friendship and it's one that is spearheaded by the Friendship Preservation Group, a group of enthusiastic and energetic people who are working to protect and preserve their neighborhood.

The denial of this conditional use would help the residents in Friendship in their efforts and I would urge my colleagues to vote nay on Bill 18.

The Chair:

Even though the bill has a negative recommendation, if you are voting for the legislation, vote aye. If you are opposed, vote no.

Is there any further discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

VOTING NO:

Mr. Cohen	Mr. Millions
Mr. Coyne	Mr. Regan
Mr. Darkins	Mr. Ricciardi
Mr. Ferlo	Mr. Wagner
Michelle Madoff	(Pres't)

AYES none

NOES 9

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the bill was defeated.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 41

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution amending Resolution No. 1061, effective January 1, 1990, entitled: 'Adopting and approving the 1990 Capital Budget and the 1990 Community Development Block Grant Program', by decreasing line item HA-345, Rehabilitation and Modernization of Housing for Low and Moderate Income Families, by $39,000.00 from ($1,510,000.00 to $1,471,000.00)."
---(SPONSORED BY MR. FERLO)

Which was read.

Mr. Ferlo:

I'd like my remarks brought forward on this bill, please.

Mr. Coyne:

Please bring my forward also.

The Chair:

Please bring my remarks forward.

(REMARKS ON FOLLOWING PAGES)

(BEGINNING - MESSRS. COYNE, FERLO AND WAGNER'S COMMENTS ON BILL NO. 41, WEDNESDAY, 1/17/90)

Mr. Ferlo:

This legislation is being proposed by myself and I have talked to many colleagues on this Council and certainly many in the public have expressed their concern on a recent action by the Housing Authority Board of Directors or possibly the Executive Committee of the Housing Authority Board which I'm not fully clear on exactly who took the action, the action being specifically a one-time lump sum gift referred to as a severance pay for the former Director of the Housing Authority roughly in the amount of $39,208.50. It is with that kind of disregard that my intent here today is to amend the capital budget. My position is that we should not reward or condone or participate in this expenditure in that it's an independent action of the Authority but there is no reason why this City Council and I think many in the public look to us to provide some oversight of the independent Housing Authority and in this respect the intent of the legislation is to reduce the CDBG allocation to the Housing Authority by roughly the same dollar figure as the proposed severance pay.

The second bill which we'll discuss later, would redirect the monies to the Hunger Trust Fund where my rhetoric was that we should feed several thousand people instead of one person. The second bill would redirect the money. I'm voting on them separately because we can debate -- assuming we want to get into this we can then talk about where the money could go and there may be other suggestions.

I've asked the Authority representatives to come here today. I do see Mr. Colbert in the audience, the Chairperson of the Housing Authority Board and I believe Mr. David Washington, legal counsel and now Acting Director of the Authority here and they are welcome to come to the table. I would like to ask them some questions Mr. Chairman if you would permit them to come to the table.

William Colbert
Chairperson
Housing Authority

David Washington
Acting Director
Housing Authority

Mr. Rhodes
Asst. General Counsel
Housing Authority

Mr. Perlo:

Mr. Colbert, could you educate Council and explain to us the actions that the Authority took regarding the severance pay? Could you explain the circumstances in which the action was taken, how it was taken and by whom?

Mr. Colbert:

As you know better than we, since the resolution that called for the ouster, for lack of a better term, of Dan Pietragallo came from City Council and initiated by Councilman Coyne, there was a lot of thought given to that as well as to the general aura surrounding the Housing Authority at that time. Of course, all the negative publicity and in fact we felt that the operation of the Authority itself could be affected by the environment, the outside environment. Not only in recognition of that but in recognition of all of the circumstances, we on the Board began a process of negotiations with the Executive Director about his prospective retirement. That culminated in a meeting on December 8th at a personnel meeting which you will learn that we are entitled to have in private as a personnel meeting of the full board. That is, all six who were on the board were present at that meeting and the action taken at that meeting was that of course the Executive Director would retire and we would consider some compensation beyond that moment partly because of the fact that he did not plan to retire at that point; he planned to retire at some distant point. There is no age retirement mandatory in the Authority and Dan (Pietragallo) became 65 I believe on January 4th. He had not planned to retire at that point but quite frankly I think if you will take a look at the public record you would find that there was no reason why we could have dismissed him at that point even though as an Executive Director and as directors do and as many other appointed people do serve, he served as an "at will" employee". It was the consensus of the Board in that private meeting to consider compensation beyond that moment for that reason. I believe then and I believe now that that was a sound business decision. It might not be a popular decision but I believed it then and I do now that it was a sound business decision and when all of you have the opportunities you soon will have to serve on public boards, you'll learn first that it's not always the most popular thing to do. But secondly you will learn that you will become privy to information that the public will know but not at that moment and it might deleterious to the interest of the Board or to the public and of course the operation of the Authority itself where the public knew everything at that moment. That's a grand design and I must say that the Sunshine Laws have served us all very well. When it comes to the diffusion of information, they have served us all very well. But as I say, if you don't know and I'm sure some of you have done this before, you will learn that everything can't be known instantly where it doesn't serve the long-term better interests of the operation that you've sworn as a board member, as a fiduciary or as a steward to the public to uphold. It was that kind of a decision.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Colbert, was the retirement of the former director a voluntary retirement?

Mr. Colbert:

Yes, it was.

Mr. Ferlo:

And is there precedent or an established policy at the Authority regarding the issue of severance pay?

Mr. Colbert:

There was precedent, yes. We brought documentation of that with us. There is no policy in writing, no. If you are asking is that contained in the personnel file? No, it's not.

Mr. Ferlo:

And do you have minutes and who was present at this meeting?

Mr. Colbert:

No, there were no minutes taken.

Mr. Ferlo:

There were no minutes taken of a personnel meeting.

Mr. Colbert:

That's correct.

Mr. Ferlo:

Is that regular or highly irregular?

Mr. Colbert:

It's not irregular; there needn't be. I think you'll learn that there needn't be under law and if there are they needn't be disclosed is the interesting point.

Mr. Ferlo:

And your contention is that the personnel matters -- who was at the meeting, I'm still trying to get that?

Mr. Colbert:

I said the six board members.

Mr. Ferlo:

And staff?

Mr. Colbert:

No, no staff.

Mr. Ferlo:

Just the board members. Mr. Pietragallo was not present.

Mr. Colbert:

He was not present until I asked him to come into the room.

Mr. Ferlo:

Who made the motion?

Mr. Colbert:

I can't answer that, I do not know.

Mr. Ferlo:

You don't know who made the motion and there are no respective minutes of this particular meeting.

Mr. Colbert:

That's correct.

Mr. Ferlo:

Now your interpretation of the Sunshine Law -- for instance often times in Council alone we had a recent meeting where we discussed solely personnel changes, where we were discussing individuals' names on any substantive matter of budget matters, anything of that sort, those would have been discussions that legally would have to take place in a public session and they have to do with the city budget. What is your interpretation between the difference of the personnel matter of the so-called severance pay versus the budgetary issue or do you see no distinction?

Mr. Colbert:

I wouldn't say I don't see a distinction. For your information and as the afternoon paper would probably show you, not only was I interested in the opinion of the legalities surrounding this, interested in the opinions of our own counsels who have had many years of experience, but I also asked a major law firm in Pittsburgh for their opinion about the events and --

Mr. Ferlo:

-- this is subsequent to the publicity or prior.

Mr. Colbert:

I consulted with them prior to that.

Mr. Ferlo:

So you must have at least thought in your head that there may be some impropriety on conducting such a meeting where you would propose a severance pay.

Mr. Colbert:

I didn't think there was any impropriety but on the other hand I haven't gotten to this age to want to be charged with some violation of a state or federal law. I didn't get to that point to do that.

At our December 14th meeting following the private meeting, a perfectly legal private meeting, we accepted the retirement of Dan Pietragallo and that "spread it" on the minutes -- if you want to use the words, spread it on the public record in such a way that he in fact had retired. We accepted it as of -- ratified December 14th and accepted December 8th.

As regards to compensation, it would be sufficient public notice if we wanted to deliberately obfuscate the thing, it would be sufficient public notice to have that simply included in the budget. By the law it would be sufficient public notice. Now we're going to go beyond that and we will make it a matter of record probably by voting on it at the next meeting.

Mr. Ferlo:

So at the December 14th board meeting, was that a formal board meeting?

Mr. Colbert:

Yes, it was.

Mr. Ferlo:

Why wouldn't you normally have just ratified and entered into the record the actions of the personnel meeting at the 14th meeting?

Mr. Colbert:

Why would we not have?

Mr. Ferlo:

Yes.

Mr. Colbert:

We accepted his retirement. The compensation itself was not mentioned; you're right.

Mr. Ferlo:

So it wasn't because there was no publicity, nobody knew anything about this, it was because it just didn't happen.

Mr. Colbert:

I'm sorry.

Mr. Ferlo:

One would likely conclude that following your December 8th personnel meeting, along your line of thought, one would conclude that at the December 14th formal board meeting there would be a ratification of the actions of the personnel meeting including the lucrative severance pay.

Mr. Colbert:

There were regarding the acceptance of his retirement but again --

Mr. Ferlo:

-- it seems like you didn't take any of this concern until there was -- to use your phrase "bad publicity" --

Mr. Colbert:

-- the publicity existed prior to that and if you let me give my accounting of it, I'd like to do that.

The fact is as I said that when it appears in the budget that will be public notice, and that's all the public notice required to be given. Now I say this to you and as you will find and can learn for yourself, at no authority, whether you're talking Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, the State of Pennsylvania or the School Board for that matter I believe, I don't know, I can't attest to that, but at no time is the compensation of the executives simply put on the table for public discussion. It is a public record and you or any reporter, any citizen can get that simply by asking the question but that is never voted upon. As a matter of fact, under the law as it is in the State of Pennsylvania, the compensation for that executive is set on the signature of the Chairperson of the Authority solely; the Board really has no vote. The Chairperson if he is at all prudent will get the consensus of the Board to establish that but the Board really has no vote on that. It's set on the signature of the Chairperson and that's all authorities right across the Commonwealth.

Mr. Ferlo:

Does the authority have an employment contract with the former director?

Mr. Colbert:

I don't believe we had except the implied contract that he worked there for 29 years.

Mr. Ferlo:

During the budget hearings in December I asked for a copy of the operating budget of the Housing Authority which was given to me in the latter part of December by Mr. Washington. Included in that budget is an indication that the Executive Director made roughly $70,000.00. What is actually the current salary of the Director?

Mr. Colbert:

I believe and I've looked at it recently, I believe when he retires or as he retired it's $78,417.00.

Mr. Ferlo:

In the last budget it's listed as $70,000.00 how did that go up?

Mr. Colbert:

There was a general increase on the part of the City plus there was an increase that was granted to him by me at some point.

Mr. Ferlo:

So some time during the approved budget year by the Authority there was an $8,000.00 plus increase.

Mr. Colbert:

As I said, you have to bear in mind that there was an increase for all city employees and at that time we consider our employees as well. The City is our comparable for compensation as well as for the timing.

Mr. Ferlo:

I'm sure most city employees would like have benefited from a better than 10 percent rate increase but it did not happen.

Mr. Colbert:

I would think that department heads did if you read your own budget.

Mr. Ferlo:

That's not the case.

Mr. Colbert:

Look at the numbers, I think you'll find it is the case and I have no quarrel with that. I come from industry and I believe, I firmly believe the way to get good people is to pay them and the way to keep them is to pay them.

Mr. Ferlo:

What is the intention of yourself and the Authority, to ratify this in a formal action? What meeting? You indicated earlier that at some point in the future you will move to enact that.

Mr. Colbert:

Yes, at a public meeting.

Mr. Ferlo:

When is that meeting?

Mr. Colbert:

The meeting is on the fourth Thursday of each month.

Mr. Ferlo:

So at the next fourth Thursday of the month --

Mr. Colbert:

-- I would assume, if that's the pleasure of the board. You must bear in mind that I as Chairman have no vote.

Mr. Ferlo:

Where are you getting the moneys to do this severance pay?

Mr. Washington:

The funds did not come out of Housing Authority's HUD operating budget, it came out of administrative fees earned by the Housing Authority for the management of properties, but the funds didn't come out of the regular HUD operating budget.

Mr. Colbert:

I would tell you this. Your comparables are housing authority directors. There's isn't a small housing authority in this area of which the director is not paid more than Dan Pietragallo was. For your information, the Housing Authority Director in the City of Miami that has fewer units than we have, many of which cannot meet the building codes in Miami, that Director is paid $160,000.00 a year under a five year at a time contract; that's the norm.

Mr. Ferlo:

But is it the norm to give out a $40,000.00 severance pay to somebody who voluntarily retired?

Mr. Colbert:

Most authority directors won't even take the job without that kind of guarantee up front.

Mr. Ferlo:

That would suggest to have an employment contract which you said you did not have.

Mr. Colbert:

Yes, we did not have at that point and we're in a more enlightened age and maybe next time we will. I personally wouldn't want that because as you know and as any lawyer present can tell you, a contract exists only in case you fight otherwise you are going to do what you said you would do.

Mr. Washington:

Just from this standpoint. As the Chairman indicated, it's true that Dan voluntarily retired and voluntarily resigned his position but I think Mr. Colbert was careful to point out that there were extensive discussions that went on for a prolonged period of time that culminated in his voluntary act of taking retirement at that time. So it was not as though he just abruptly came in and tendered his resignation or decided to retire.

The other thing and I think looking from a more positive standpoint about the situation towards the future, there has been a very gray area in Pittsburgh local government over this whole question of severance pay. I have had extensive discussions and I won't go into which lawyers I talked with and that kind of thing but I had extensive discussions during that entire period when the discussions were going on about Dan retiring with attorneys at HUD and in Pittsburgh city government about the whole question of Mr. Pietragallo's retirement and under what conditions he could be compensated.

Mr. Ferlo:

And this is perfectly acceptable to HUD. Are you not required to in any way file an indication to HUD as to how you're utilizing these dollars which you have to admit are generated as a result of federal support.

Mr. Washington:

Very definitely. As Mr. Colbert indicated, the salaries including the severance pay granted to Mr. Pietragallo will be shown in the budget in the auditing of the Housing Authority's fiscal operations.

Mr. Ferlo:

How much money are we talking about? What kinds of dollars do you generate as a result of the administration fees and how do you normally utilize those in terms of the operation of the Authority? I'm trying to understand the Board's priorities and where those dollars come from and what other ways you utilize those dollars.

Mr. Washington:

Basically the administrative fees are used to supplement activities of the Authority. For example, if there is a construction project where the HUD funding just is not totally adequate to do the kind of thing we want or if HUD for example on a particular project says they will approve it but don't want garages in these houses, then the administrative fees could be utilized to fund that portion of the construction to provide garages.

Mr. Ferlo:

I will close but maybe my colleagues have some additional questions.

Out of all the other important priorities confronting the Authority, I've talked to you at length about the vacancy rate, about units which are unoccupied, about the waiting lists, I'm trying to fathom and comprehend the priorities of the Authority Board as it relates to what anyone would amount would have to admit is a lucrative severance pay present to the former Director at a time when there are so many other programmatic needs confronting the Authority. Is this the best utilization of these dollars Mr. Colbert?

Mr. Colbert:

Is this the best utilization of the dollars? Well, I think I have sat over there for about 11 years and Dan has been there maybe 12. The regular operating budget of the Housing Authority is about $28 million. In a normal year we get to spent $40,000.00 and as you might have read or heard in my answers to questions by the media, the fact is that the 11 years that I have been there we have brought in over one half billion dollars and the other moneys have been used to improve, build and buy housing in each of your districts. Every district here has been affected by the money we've brought in and as I said before, that didn't have to come to Pittsburgh. As you will learn, that's a highly-competitive thing as URA is competitive with every other community in the United States for funds. We must plan, propose, develop, whatever, whether it's the purchase of Section 8 housing, whatever it is and then compete with other communities right across the country for those funds. We have done that simply more successfully than any community in the United States and I'm sitting looking at a director who has done that. Now you must know and Dan would be the first to tell you this, he and I have not been and are not personal friends in that regard; we are not. I nevertheless was able to assess his abilities, what he has done for this community based upon what he did and what he brought in and that did not have to come here. Over $200 million that didn't have to come here. If it were my money, I would have given it to him just based on that alone. As I said, when you put that into the context of everything that was going on, it was a sound business decision that I would make again, and I don't know who made the motion but I have to tell you that if there hadn't been one I would have said I would entertain one.

Mr. Ferlo:

I find that incomprehensible that no one knew who made a motion. I just recall the bill a year and one-half ago turned down and came back up again.

Mr. Colbert:

Mr. Ferlo, I'll say this. Once you assume a seat at the Housing Authority Board, you will have a different perspective in six or eight months and I'm not disparaging the state of your intelligence, I'm disparaging the state of your education at this moment, you'll have a different perspective.

Mr. Ferlo:

I do think it's fair to suggest that the individual, the former director, was very well paid as the director, in fact he probably received compensation in greater amount than any of the other authorities.

Mr. Colbert:

That's not true.

Mr. Ferlo:

I'm talking about the City of Pittsburgh.

I might mention that I noticed I guess in the Post-Gazette this morning and I was not aware of this, that apparently the City of Pittsburgh government itself has a policy under which severance pay up to one month can be granted to departing directors and that policy was just adopted a year ago. I will review that because as has been indicated, our personnel practices are to be comparable to be that of the City of Pittsburgh and with that kind of a severance pay policy in existence, that's something that we can review and recommend to our board for consideration as having a severance pay policy in the future.

Mr. Ferlo:

So that would be a little over $6,000.00. Is it unlikely that the Board would reconsider it's actions?

Mr. Colbert:

Is it unlikely? As I said to you before --

Mr. Ferlo:

-- essentially your intention would be give him the 40 or $39,208.00 and then maybe you'll adopt something in the future on the board.

Mr. Colbert:

I would say but that is the will of the directorship. I don't have a vote unless there is a tie or unless I can vote to create one. That's not a cop-out. It is my intention to do that. As I have said very clearly, had there not been such a emotion at that private meeting, I would have called for one and you need to know that. I think there are times you will find, as we all will learn, when you simply step up and say "yes, I did it", I would have called for that.

Mr. Ferlo:

I have no other questions.

Mr. Coyne:

Mr. Colbert, I have a couple of questions. I understand and I agree with your position that sometimes operational decisions have to be kept private in the public's interest until a program would develop because of different factors which may be involved. However, don't you see a difference between operational decisions being kept public and a monetary give-away which is decided in private?

Mr. Colbert:

Of course I see a difference between those two being of at least average intelligence and I don't mean to be insulting to

Mr. Colbert:

As I said to Councilwoman Madoff, I respect your views. You are quite young and that again is not disparaging but I would suggest that you take a hard look at what lump sum pensions are.

Mr. Coyne:

Sir, that wasn't the question. I am a member of the Public Auditorium Authority and there is no way in the world, no way that I would vote for a severance pay for our director if there was none written down. There is no way in the world that I could do that in good conscience knowing the responsibilities that I have. So I may be quite young at 35 but my conscience, I know what's right and wrong and this is not right.

Mr. Colbert:

Thank you.

Mr. Wagner:

Gentlemen, first off I'd like to start with the premise that Mr. Colbert, Mr. Washington, Mr. Rhodes, the Mayor and all nine Councilmembers, all of us have a great concern for public housing and obviously all of you know more about it and have been intimately involved in it for a number of years. What we're talking about today is two actions. Is this Council going to vote on a bill to take $39,000.00 away from public housing because of a proposed action that all of you will take at your next board meeting, to take an additional $39,000.00 away from public housing. And the way I look at it, public housing and the people that live in public housing in the City of Pittsburgh have at stake here a potential loss of $78,000.00 because of two independent actions that can be taken by this Council and by the Board of the Housing Authority. More so than the $78,000.00, what's at stake here is public opinion and a public confidence level I think of city government in general, this Council, the Mayor and the Housing Authority. True, Council only allocates $1.5 million out of your $40 million a year but the reason why the Housing Authority exists is because of a mayoral suggestion in a formal Councilmatic action.

Now what we really need I think is a cooperative working spirit that exists based on some policies and procedures.

The existing policy today in city government is, based on what I'm hearing from everyone is a severance pay of one month for anyone and everyone. There is no reason why that policy should be deviated and if it is deviated, I see potentially the people in public housing being the loser both from your action and our action.

I guess what I'm saying is, I'm requesting from all of you and Mr. Colbert you as the Chairman of the Board to just please make a recommendation that that policy be implemented within you but speaking English passively well, of course I see a distinction between those two, but I will, and that's all I can say for the moment that there are sound business reasons for doing what we did.

Mr. Coyne:

You can't elaborate.

Mr. Colbert:

I can't at this moment. You will know publicly within a few months, sound business reasons. I'm very pleased to know by the way that Mr. Ferlo will have personal knowledge of that in a very short time.

Mr. Coyne:

So am I, I'm very pleased.

Mr. Coyne:

Also touching on a point of Mr. Pietragallo's salary which you say is underpaid in comparison to --

Mr. Colbert:

-- even small ones.

Mr. Coyne:

-- if you would give me the courtesy to finish.

Mr. Colbert:

Sure, sorry.

Mr. Coyne:

I agree and I think we've seen publicly that elected officials and other officials in the City of Pittsburgh are paid less than our counterparts throughout the entire nation. My question is, don't we find it unusual that Mr. Pietragallo is making more money than the Mayor of this city?

Mr. Colbert:

The Executive Director of the Housing Authority always has.

Mr. Coyne:

You see no problem with that?

Mr. Colbert:

I have no problem at all with that and I don't think the Mayor would have a problem with that.

Mr. Coyne:

I don't know what the Mayor thinks, I'm just asking you a question.

Mr. Colbert:

No, they always have.

Mr. Coyne:

Also, I can understand personnel meetings being in private. I like Mr. Ferlo am puzzled that there are no minutes of that, especially when you had to consider the sensitivity of the issue at hand. I mean, an average personnel meeting where you're going and discussing overall personnel, I could see that no one would bother to bring someone to take the minutes, however, when viewed with the sensitivity that this issue was bringing on in the public's interest, I find it highly unusual that no one would have thought that maybe we need to take these minutes in writing and have them for a back up in case it's needed. But I do question whether this is the best utilization of the money which is acquired through the administration of homes by the Housing Authority. I think that maybe this money could be put back in for more home improvements, for making a lot of people who live in housing communities a little bit better and I guess that's just a question of our perceptions. I think it would be better spent in one area and you may think it's better to be spent in another.

However, when we get to the basic point that there was no severance agreement written, Mr. Pietragallo had no reason to believe he would receive any severance pay because it hadn't been written and upon his voluntary retirement I find it very, very disheartening that a decision could be made by Authority board members which arbitrarily took nearly $40,000.00 of taxpayers' money and gave it to Mr. Pietragallo who was already making $78,400.00 a year, who's going to receive a pension of $256,000.00 in one lump sum. Now I have no problems with those numbers but it's seems to be very ironic and a very sad state of affairs that we also would give Mr. Pietragallo an additional nearly $40,000.00 and I will be voting in support of the next one which I think even though it's not for discussion right now is going to put something back into the housing community and I just found it very disturbing the actions that you have taken so far.

your authority as it is within city government for the case involving Mr. Pietragallo and for anyone else because if we don't follow that policy, potentially we set a dangerous precedent; all of you set it and this Council sets it if this resolution passes.

I'm not in favor of this resolution because it takes money away from all of you quite frankly. To do your job and you are serving the residents of this city in doing a job, and doing a fine job but what we are letting getting intertwined here is an issue that I don't think should be an issue so I'm just publicly stating on the record to all of you to please at your next board meeting recommend one month's severance pay of $6500.00 and grant that $6500.00 and let's keep a cooperative working relationship with this Council and with what the Mayor has suggested in terms of what a severance pay should be and I think if we do that, if this Council defeats this resolution as suggested, if all of you make a commitment to go with a policy that's in existence, I think we have an excellent working relationship and more importantly the people of public housing are being properly served by keeping moneys there that all of you need to operate and in addition to that a public confidence level that is very important today, probably more important than ever because of all the public attention given to this issue. So that is my request to all of you and I am hoping and I believe that's the will of this Council. If all of you were to say that you would make that recommendation and obviously the Mayor has done that also, I see this resolution in front of us failing. I'm asking that as a question.

Mr. Colbert:

Could you hold one moment?

(DISCUSSION OFF THE RECORD)

Mr. Colbert:

Dave (Washington) just said to me exactly what I was going to say to you Councilman Wagner. I deeply respect your views and I think that they strike a balance that everyone here needs to hear and also the statement on the part of Councilman Cohen that we ought to really shorn of the personalities make this decision. Let's forget who here liked or didn't like Dan Pietragallo, let's think about the people in the communities. And I'd like to stay with that position. I think the difficulty that we of the Board are faced with at the moment and lawyers present would recognize that in an instant is that you are asking us to do something retrospectively rather than prospectively. I think since HUD requires us to have comparables, as I said before, that if the City's severance arrangement is as it is and as a comparable, we're almost obliged to adopt it.

Michelle Madoff:

You said that ten minutes ago.

Mr. Colbert:

We're almost obliged to adopt it but you're asking me to do that retrospectively which legally is a wholly different matter and I won't go into that beyond the point but I think that some of the attorneys present would know very well what I'm saying. If you ask me to do that retrospectively, that's a very different matter.

Mr. Wagner:

I'm not asking you to do that. That policy has been in existence and if the Housing Authority has not been aware of it then I don't know how you have dealt with that issue in the past. But you by granting a severance pay above and beyond that policy that is and has been in existence are in and of yourselves setting a dangerous precedent within your authority which should not be set and I am simply asking you for the sake of $31,000.00, the difference by which one month versus $39,000.00, we should not be here arguing on this. Mr. Pietragallo has been adequately compensated in serving the Authority and has been suggested the number that he is being granted as a retirement lump sum is adequate, let's not leave the people of public housing hostage because of $31,000.00. All of you could make that decision and I'm formally, publicly requesting you do that at your next board meeting rather than $39,000.00, it be $6,500.00. Thank you.

Mr. Ferlo:

Just to summarize, the real issue here and again let's be clear, let's separate our feelings good, bad or indifferent to the former Executive Director; that's really not the issue before us. It's been admitted and it's all clear to us that that was a voluntary retirement, so why this issue of a severance pay is even being proposed is beyond my understanding. The issue really before this legislative body City Council is one of public confidence, it's one of public trust, it's one of accountability and it's one of checks and balances and what many people in this city and certainly even our own mayor, Mayor Masloff is concerned about the appearance of impropriety as it relates to the granting of a lump sum gift to the previous Executive Director. The manner in which it was done and the merits of the amount of money. We're talking about an authority that has utilized dollars as a result of management fees collected from provision of Section 8 units in the Northside community. Moneys within the Authority that could certainly better be used for any number of capital projects, any number of social service kinds of problems. Nowhere else are problems more acute: hunger, homelessness, evictions, infant mortality, you name it, nowhere are the problems more acute than the public housing communities which even one colleague has referred to continually as projects, and it's just an indication that an authority that has worked for so long to build communities, the perception real or otherwise is still that we have housing projects in the City of Pittsburgh and it speaks a lot about the quality of life in those communities. So if anybody should bear the burden on how these dollars are being utilized unwisely, it should be the Authority Board and I think what the public is requesting and my intent of the legislation today is to set the record straight on what those priorities should be. It would be very easy for us in approving this legislation and approving the re-direction of the money to the Hunger Trust Fund, it was my hope that we vote for both and that we encourage the Hunger Trust Fund to be utilized by the various food pantries that exist in the public housing community alone and in supporting this I think we would be making the correct kind of statement.

If the Authority Board reconsiders their action over the next couple of weeks, it would be easy for this Council having approved the bills today to reconsider and repeal them. Put the onus of the responsibility on Mr. Colbert and the Authority representatives.

Mr. Colbert:

If I can have one word? Curiously enough for the benefit of any and all here whether you believe it or not, if you put this very issue to the residents of the communities they would vote for the severance as you call it. The residents of the communities would --

Mr. Ferlo:

-- Mr. Colbert, the residents in Garfield would vote to fix the elevator which hasn't worked in the last three months, that's what they would use the money for.

FERLO)

Which was read.

Mr. Ferlo:

I would like my remarks brought forward for the Record.

The Chair:

I would also like my remarks brought forward.

(REMARKS ON FOLLOWING PAGES)

(BEGINNING - MESSRS. FERLO AND WAGNER'S COMMENTS ON BILL NO. 42, WEDNESDAY, 1/17/90)

Mr. Ferlo:

Again, this bill would utilize the dollars by adding to the $150,000.00 that we committed last year to the Hunger Trust Fund. The Hunger Trust Fund being the City's anti-poverty agency operating out of the Hill House Independent Community Services Board. The moneys go to food pantries that operate in the public housing communities and other low-income communities around the city.

It was very clear that even in allocating the $150,000.00 that we did not fulfill the respective need that is there. We still have a situation where food pantries are turned away and again it's supportive of the previous resolution which we just affirmed.

Mr. Chairman, I would suggest that we vote in the affirmative on this bill and then if we would like to we can hold both bills on Tuesday for final action allowing the Authority Board to do what I don't think they're going to do anyway. Mr. Wagner wants one thing and the Authority Board is not going to rescind their action to give Mr. Pietragallo the $40,000.00. I would urge us to vote in the affirmative on this bill and if need be we can hold both bills on Tuesday one week to allow the Housing Authority to take whatever action they probably won't take.

I obviously support the Resolution initially. Michelle's amendment was intended to try to deal with the issue that I don't think it's going to deal with anyways, the concern by Dr. Milliones and others that we are holding one group hostage over the other.

I think Reverend Darkins makes a good point and that is while there are some food pantries that operate in the public housing community, it is also the case that there are many community-based food pantries that provide services to residents of the public housing community. He mentions one but it is often times the case that you have a community food pantry and it provides services to residents within, especially where they are adjacent nearby to a public housing community so I think again we're confusing the message here and the intent with the issue of who exactly would benefit in terms of the food pantry. I don't see the dichotomy that has really been suggested.

Mr. Wagner:

I know this may be out of order in a sense and if so please rule me but in regard to this whole issue I'm requesting from the City Clerk that a resolution be drawn up that we can vote on formally on Monday requesting that the Housing Authority grant the severance pay as to the policy that exists in the City of Pittsburgh so that this Council can formally vote on that at our next Legislative Meeting on Tuesday.

(END OF COMMENTS)

PREPARED BY: MARY ANNE HRUSKA
STENOTYPE REPORTER

Mr. Cohen:

Mr. President, I will be voting in favor of these resolutions, but I do not find this to be an easy vote at all. The last thing I want to do is to take any money away from the tenants of the public housing community, even such a relatively small amount. But I think both the merits and the process by which this action was taken undercuts the public trust and I feel that I have no other choice.

Let's first look at the merits of the decision. The Housing Authority Board chose to give as severance pay $39,000 to its retiring director. This is six times the standard set for the City of Pittsburgh employees for severance pay and, in fact, it's not severance pay at all because, as we discussed at last Wednesday's meeting, it did not involve a termination. Moreover, it was given to a director who is already receiving $256,000 as a lump sum pension payment. I have no problem with that payment or that amount, but it is a great deal of money. Also, it is going to a director under whose reign I believe the public housing communities have made little progress towards home-ownership, integration into the community and the provision of social services that are essential to bringing the Public Housing Authority into modern times. I think that we have to provide young people born into public housing communities with hope.

My decision has nothing to do with my view of Mr. Pietragallo. It has everything to do with my view of the public trust that has been placed in the Housing Authority which I think has been undercut here.

Let me briefly look at the process by which this decision was made. It was taken at a private session where no minutes were kept and the action itself was kept secret. The Housing Authority Board, and particularly its Chairman, Mr. Colbert, claims that this was an executive session and that that was an exception involving the employment of a public officer. Even if this were true, and I think it is certainly open to dispute as to whether this was a decision involving personnel or whether it was a budgetary decision, Section 278(c) of the Sunshine Act makes it clear that the vote itself must still be taken at a public meeting. This was not done.

When asked what the compelling reasons were for this extraordinary action, Mr. Colbert, last Wednesday, said that it was a sound business decision. I think, Mr. President, on the merits and the process by which the decision was made, this decision was not sound and that it eroded the confidence which the citizens of Pittsburgh have in the Public Housing Authority. Should the Housing Authority Board reverse its decision at its Thursday meeting, then I would happily reverse my vote here.

In the short run, yes, we are taking money from the Housing Authority Budget, but, first, this money, I think, is going to a very worthy cause by feeding the hungry. Second, Council has no other means by which it can send a message to the authorities, and in this case the Housing Authority, and I am convinced that in the long run it will make the Housing Authority more accountable and more responsible to the people of Pittsburgh, and that's why I am voting yes on both of these motions.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Chairman, I'd like to make a statement with your permission with reference to this bill and then ask that the bill be held, and I want to explain why.

I think that everybody on this Council is united, I believe, I could be wrong, on the fact that what has transpired is wrong, the way it was done. The fact that even if it was deserved, as some people agree it was deserved, it should not have been done surreptitiously. Each one of us could say, "This is why this is a wrong action to take."

I had asked at the previous meeting that this bill be held so that Mr. Colbert, the Chairman of the Board, could poll all the members before today and let us know if, indeed, they were going to rescind the six month gift. And I kid-dingly, tongue in cheek, suggested that if they wanted to give a gift they could all chip in $5200 apiece. But I think there's a message there. For instance, Mr. Colbert stated that they have tied their actions to that of the City actions which would now make it rightful to give him perhaps one month, lower the six month gift to a one-month gift, that we would then not have the need to engage in what I see is confrontational politics.

This Council, and I congratulate all of us, is really getting along well. We're into our second month, we're getting along well with the Administration. We're not fighting. When we disagree, we disagree respectfully. Boy, it's a new day for me. Mr. Wagner, I must thank you, you treat me with respect and I treat you with respect. If I'm attacked, I fight back. And that has not been necessary.

The Mayor is going to veto the bill; she has already stated that. That means we're not going to win. There are five votes. If we're going to lose, and we've already sent a message, what are we going to gain? Why don't we do this in a productive manner? Why don't we hold it a week or two weeks? I'm only suggesting this; let's not have closed minds. And if, indeed, as I believe the Mayor has already stated that she is opposed to the six month gift and has asked that it be rescinded, why don't we just say I'm going to vote, even though you're going to veto and we're going to lose anyway, and we say, okay, let's give you a chance to act in good faith and see if, indeed, Mr. Colbert will since he hasn't polled them and there's a meeting, I believe, this week, give it two weeks and maybe this action won't be necessary. If it is, we can still decide if we want to make another statement or send another message.

I don't think we're gaining anything and I respectfully ask my colleagues to hold this because I think it can be resolved in a proper manner. I make that in the form of a motion if it's appropriate to do that at this time but I don't think so because we have one on the floor. Is that right? We'd have to rescind the motion so I could make one. Can I move to hold?

Mr. Perry:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

I move to recommit.

Mr. Cohen:

I'll second it for the purpose of discussion.

Michelle Madoff:

I have just stated my case; I don't think I need to repeat it. Either we want to send a message for the sake of sending a message, which I think has been sent pretty loud and clear, and I still feel as we all do, most of us who voted to take this action. I believe that we are not going to gain anything.

There's a message that went out to the Housing Authority. They need us. They need to work with us and we need to work with them. And if they don't rescind that gift, what's going to happen is there's going to be bad vibes between this Council and we're not going to be as lenient in our dealings with the Housing Authority and, subsequently, I believe they're going to rescind this. And I hope somebody there on that Board is listening because I think they're creating an unnecessary schism with this Council that is not needed.

I respectfully ask my colleagues, we've made our statement, we're going to lose, the Mayor is going to veto, let's hold it and let's see if, indeed, Mr. Colbert and the Board, and I believe they will rescind that gift, and then there will be no need to take this action.

Mr. Coyne:

Mr. Chairman, I believe that if Mr. Colbert and the Board of the Housing Authority had any intention of rescinding the amount of money they have awarded to Mr. Pietragallo, they would have done so by now. It has been five days since we had Mr. Colbert in these Chambers to discuss the issue and we have no indication to this point that they're going to change their mind. I see no reason to believe they're going to change their mind.

I think that it's not relevant as to what the Mayor stated her position is. The Mayor is an independent branch of local government and she can say whatever she wants. If she publicly wants to take the stand that it's wrong and yet will go ahead and veto on the basis that we are hurting the individuals who live in housing communities, I would like to say for the Record that at least City Council is taking the money that we're rescinding from the Housing Authority and putting it back out to the general public, whereas the Housing Authority is taking money which could be put to a better use in the Housing Authority and putting it into an individual's pocket. I think there's a big, big difference between the actions that this Council is taking and the actions that the Authority Board is taking and I see no reason to hold this legislation up.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, first of all, I'd like to thank Mr. Cohen for his succinct and articulate explanation as to the intent of why this legislation was needed in the first place.

On the motion to recommit, I think it would be inappropriate at this time. No one can count better than Mr. Colbert and it's very clear that the house is divided, that the majority of Councilmembers want to support the legislation and there are at least four members who do not support the legislation for a variety of different reasons. So really, unfortunately, there's no point in recommitting the legislation.

It was my hope right from the beginning, and let's put the onus of responsibility on the right shoulders, and those shoulders are the shoulders of the Housing Authority Board and Mr. Colbert. They are the ones who started the problem in the first place and the problem is articulated, it is a one-time gift of $39,208.50, and also the manner in which the appropriation was done in violation of the Sunshine Law.

As a priority, they are the ones as the Housing Authority Board mandated to provide services to those most in need in this City of Pittsburgh as it relates to housing. They are the ones who, as a priority, said, "We would rather spend $40,000 to feed one individual, Mr. Pietragallo, than to put that money into any number of priorities confronting that Housing Authority and the communities in which it is mandated to serve." If anybody can explain to me the logic of feeding one person as opposed to using dollars which are very precious to benefit and help feed, help clothe, help provide housing, renovations, rehabilitation, what have you, large numbers of people, then I am at a loss to understand that.

So, the onus of responsibility is on the shoulders of the Housing Authority Board. They are the ones who said, "We'll take close to 40 grand. Instead of rehabbing homes in Manchester, we're going to use funds to feed Mr. Pietragallo with a one-time gift." That is inappropriate.

It was my hope that a majority of Council would stand up, not only the five, but the six, unfortunately, given the Mayor's pronouncements. I would be willing to recommit the bill if one of the other members of Council were willing to indicate that they would vote in the affirmative. And then I would move to hold the bill to see if, indeed, the Housing Authority Board this Thursday morning at 10:00 would act to rescind the resolution which they initiated. I don't know that that's going to happen. If one of the other members would like to speak to that, that would be great. If one of the other members would like to vote in the affirmative, indicate so now and let's hold the bill and let's see what the Housing Authority Board of Directors will do based on the public pressure, based on the public pressure from Mayor Masloff, based on the public pressure from this legislative body. I would be in favor of that. But, unless one of the other members indicates their support for participating in this issue, there would be no reason and no logic to recommit the bill.

Mr. Millions:

I agree with you, Mr. Ferlo. I'm against recommitment. However, I was hoping that you would come over to the right side. I don't intend to change my vote.

If, in fact, the Housing Authority Board is the culprit, as you, perhaps, indicated they are, then perhaps we ought to think of a way to punish the Housing Authority Board as opposed to its residents. This action with the residents of the public housing community has nothing to do with Mr. Pietragallo getting the $39,000 that he's getting, and I would agree with you that it's a Board decision. But I am reminded of the situation where a youngster is reprimanded by his parents and becomes enraged and goes and kicks his little sister. The little sister had nothing to do with it.

I think this is a bad precedent. I think it is, as I indicated last week, pitting one part of the poor community in Pittsburgh against another section of the poor community in Pittsburgh, and I am absolutely opposed to that in any form or condition. I will vote that this bill be defeated, absolutely.

The Chair:

Let me remind Council, we're still voting on an amendment to recommit and if we want to talk about the bill in total we can do that after the recommitment motion is either passed or - - Actually, if it is passed, we will not. If it doesn't pass, we will.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Chairman, we're all pretty bright and it doesn't look like recommitment is going to happen. I'd like to rescind my suggestion of recommitment and come up with another suggestion, another motion. May I do that?

The Chair:

If you are rescinding it, we need the second to be rescinded also. Mr. Cohen's second.

Mr. Cohen:

I was prepared to speak to the recommitment motion. Things are moving a little too fast here.

Let me just speak to that very briefly, and that is, I very much respect the spirit in which the recommittal motion was made by Councilwoman Madoff, and that is the spirit of cooperation. I think we need to separate what this vote is from what it isn't. It is a vote with respect to the Housing Authority and, under the City Charter, we really have no other means by which we can send a message. I agree with Councilman Milliones that --

The Chair:

Mr. Cohen, are you going to rescind your second?

Mr. Cohen:

I never seconded it in the first place.

The Chair:

Yes, you did.

Mr. Cohen:

That's true. I seconded it for the purpose of discussion.

The Chair:

I have no problem with you talking on the bill, but I'd like to clear up this motion that has been put on the floor.

Mr. Cohen:

I would like to rescind my second and then discuss this bill.

The Chair:

Okay. That motion is now no longer being entertained. Mr. Cohen, you have the floor in regard to the bills.

Mr. Cohen:

Thank you. This is not a vote to act in any manner that is not cooperative with the Housing Authority. I want to act, and I believe this body can and will act in a cooperative manner with the Housing Authority and with each other. I agree with Councilwoman Madoff that we have, in the last month, City Council has really worked together and when we disagreed, we disagreed in an honest and respectful way.

I think we can do that in the same way with the Housing Authority. If we disagree with this action, we disagree with it in an honest and respectful way. And it is not, I don't think, a signal that we weren't going to be acting cooperatively with the Housing Authority. We can do that.

And under the City Charter, Councilman Milliones, I wish there were another way by which City Council could send a message to the Housing Authority, but there really isn't. That's why I think we should vote for this motion now and if the Housing Authority Board changes its mind, then we can come back and rescind our action as well.

Mr. Darkins:

Mr. President, I just want to say that I'm concerned with what Mr. Ferlo is saying about this taking care of hundreds of people, the Hunger Service Pittsburgh Community Service. Since last week when we were here, I know of 27 referrals that have come from various food banks to us to feed people. And I'm just wondering, who are these hungry people he said they're going to feed with this money? I'm concerned about that.

Mr. Ferlo:

In response to Reverend Darkins' concern and comments, this is the second time he has made reference to the fact that he volunteers his time and expertise in the administration of a food bank run out of his church, and for that I certainly applaud him. I would hope that not only this food bank but any others that for whatever reason have not applied or partaken in the application process for the City's anti-poverty agency, the Pittsburgh Community Services, please do so and maybe the Clerk can forward information from this agency on their grant application process.

On the issue of the merits of the legislation, I'm very concerned about the comments and appreciate the comments made by Dr. Milliones and I think it's a very crucial part of this debate because certainly nothing that I would ever want to do would want to pit one group of individuals against the other.

But I think it's important that we again focus in on where the burden is and whose responsibility it is to focus the debate. Again, I point to the actions of the Housing Authority Board. I would urge from an advocacy point of view that residents within the public housing community articulate their opposition initially to the Housing Authority Board of Directors that would take revenues generated as a result of managing Section 8 properties in the North Side for the expenditure that has been discussed, the $39,000 plus one-time gift to Mr. Pietragallo. And I think if we keep that in its proper perspective, I think we would have to agree that Council's actions are appropriate. We are the only body, really, that can provide the checks and balances that are needed at this time and really demanded by the public as it relates to the performance and the prerogatives of this independent authority that we unfortunately have very limited ability to influence.

I rest my case.

Mr. Milliones:

Mr. Ferlo, I would gather that things are going to be better at the Housing Authority since you're going to be on that Board now.

Mr. Ferlo:

Hopefully.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President and Members of Council, again I'm going to try. It's obvious, as Dr. Milliones has stated, that the make-up of the Board cannot easily be changed and perhaps we ought to put the blame where it belongs. But in the absence of an opportunity or method of doing that, I agree a message has to be sent.

I disagree, respectfully, with my colleague, Mr. Cohen, when he says that that doesn't mean we're sending a message that we're not going to do good things with the Housing Authority in the future because if they pass this, and indeed Mr. Pietragallo does get the money, I think there's going to be a feeling among the five of us at least that when budget time comes around, needs of the Housing Authority, we're going to look awful close. And when it's a question of one way or the other, it seems to me that we're not going to be cooperating. There may not be the spirit of cooperation that there should be with the Housing Authority.

And so I'd like to make another suggestion. Even though the bill is going to be vetoed, and we're going to lose it because we only have five votes, why don't we offer a friendly amendment to your bill, Mr. Ferlo, that we state clearly that should the Board not make this gift, that we will immediately move to reinstate the dollars back to the Housing Authority and not to a food bank.

What that does is send a message to the Housing Board, to Mr. Bill Colbert, that says two things: One, why do you want to have an antagonistic, an on-going feeling of bad faith, unhappy relationship with this Council that has to vote on the budget? He understands; he's a very bright man and I've known him for a very long time. Secondly, if the Mayor has already stated that she doesn't approve of this gift, I think the message has gone back. I seem to get a sense, even though we haven't had an answer. Frankly I haven't had a chance to call Mr. Colbert and perhaps he feels he ought to go the procedure waiting for the Board.

I think we need to send a message that if the Board doesn't vote for this, we're not going to take action, a negative action. So, I'd like to put an amendment in to say should the Board not appropriate the $39,000, go from six months to one month, we will move immediately to rescind this piece of legislation. Would you object to that, Mr. Ferlo?

The Chair:

The amendment is out of order because it's not in writing.

Michelle Madoff:

I had a motion before that wasn't in writing.

The Chair:

That motion was to recommit.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm sorry. But if the sponsor of the bill agrees that it would solve the problem, I think it might be an appropriate floor amendment. We were saying we're going to do it anyway, let's make it official.

Mr. Regan:

Mr. Wagner, I not only think we're going to send a message, we're going to send a message loud and clear that we represent the poor people, that you just can't do what you want with the taxpayers' money. I think it was an out and out gift and I don't think we should go along with it.

I have to say that I commend Mr. Ferlo for giving the money to the hungry. We're talking about people in public housing who at least have a house. We're talking about feeding people who don't have a house. And we're also saying that if they have a meeting and only give them $6,000, then we will be glad to rescind that motion and give the money to the Housing Authority. I don't think that we could be any more fair. We're not trying to take money off the poor people. We're trying to save money for the poor people down the road and this is the only way that we can do it, by our vote and by our lobbying in Council.

I also have to say that there were six people in the room and for the Director to tell us that he doesn't know who made the motion, it's tough for me to believe. I'm sure it could happen but I'm saying that we're not only sending a message, we're sending a message loud and clear.

I would go along with any motion that is made to reconsider and give the money back to the Housing Authority. But if we've done nothing more in Council in the very short period of time, we're sending a message loud and clear that you can't do what you want with the taxpayers' money and we represent the poor of the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Ricciardi:

Mr. President, I wholeheartedly agree with my colleague, Dr. Milliones. I believe that this bill will pit the hungry against the homeless.

I also believe, and I disagree with my colleagues, I don't see a relationship between decreasing the funds to the Housing Authority and the six month payment to the past Executive Director of the Housing Authority. I see no relationship there.

Also, the last Council made a commitment of $1,510,000 and I believe that it's our responsibility, or my responsibility, to live up to their commitment.

I believe it's important that we send a message, but the right type of message and not the wrong message. I believe that this Council will be sending a message to the Housing Authority when we confirm Mr. Ferlo's appointment to that Board. Mr. Ferlo has been critical of the Board. He has followed through with it for the past year, and I believe that's the message that we could be sending. Thank you.

The Chair:

I want everyone to know clearly that I'm voting no on both bills. I agree with Mr. Milliones, what he said earlier. This is a negative response that we are sending and it is a bad precedent. We are pitting the people in public housing against the people that are hungry.

The most important thing I want to say is that two wrongs do not make a right. We all agree that there was a wrong within the board at the Housing Authority. They took $39,000 away and gave it to Mr. Pietragallo and now we are doing the same thing. Two wrongs do not make a right.

Rather than us sending a negative message, I think we should be pro-active and send another message and after these resolutions are taken care of, whatever happens with them, I would entertain a motion on the floor from any member of Council that we send a message to the Housing Authority Board that we think Mr. Pietragallo and his severance pay should follow existing City policy and should be one month severance pay, equal to the severance pay of any other City employee. I believe in passing a floor motion of that type at the end of this meeting we can, in a unanimous way, send a solid message to the Housing Authority Board prior to them voting on that this Thursday.

Mr. Milliones:

Call the question, Mr. President.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

The Chair:

I would like to entertain a floor motion that we send a message to the Housing Authority that the severance pay for Mr. Pietragallo be equal to one month's severance pay which is existing City policy.

Mr. Ferlo:

So moved.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, on the substance of the concern, the only problem I have is, and please educate me on this issue, my understanding of severance pay is that it has nothing to do with an individual who voluntarily retires. City department directors and authority department directors who voluntarily retire, they're lucky if they get a handshake. Where is this notion that somehow the individual is owed a severance pay, whether it be one month or, God forbid, the six months if the action took place? If you can review, I don't happen to have a copy of that policy, I asked for it but I haven't received it by today, if we have a copy that we could review it. But my understanding is the context in which a severance pay is given is not given at a time that somebody voluntarily retires from the City. If you're saying that this is a nice gesture or what have you, and this is a way out of a sticky issue, that's fine. The context in which a severance pay is given out is not given out to someone who voluntarily retires. And please correct me if I'm wrong on this point.

The Chair:

All I know is that I've asked Mr. Perry to research it. There is an existing City policy and there has been some misunderstanding, precisely what they call this, but if they would have followed the existing City policy and they are a Pittsburgh authority, a full-fledged Pittsburgh authority, I don't think we would have the argument we have here today.

Mr. Ferlo:

I have never known, other than the recent case of Mr. Norton who parted company with the Caliguiri Administration, who I believe, if I remember correctly, received three or four thousand dollars which probably could best be described as severance pay. In the context of that break of relationship where the Administration brought this individual in, there's a parting of company along the way, I believe that gentleman received three or four thousand dollars and I don't know if it was referred to as severance pay, but it was provided to him.

In that context, I see the severance pay issue is appropriate, but again, in voluntary retirements, is it the case that every department director, the recent directors that we've had retire, receive severance pay? I don't think that is the case.

The Chair:

If they meet the criteria that is indicated in the policy.

All I'm asking is, rather than us debate that issue, that we send a uniformed message to the Housing Authority which you, Mr. Ferlo, can physically carry, hopefully, to that Board come this Thursday.

Mr. Cohen:

Mr. President, I think the motivation behind the motion is a very positive one and I would very much like to send a unanimous message of cooperation and I will vote for the motion.

Technically, it's not severance because there was no termination involved, but nevertheless, I think that it would be a positive motion. I'm going to vote for it.

Mr. Coyne:

Mr. President, I agree with the sentiment behind the idea. However, I think along with the lines that Mr. Ferlo is on is that, if we send this letter right now, we are admitting that it is a severance pay. I think maybe the letter should be written in such a manner that it states in the future, that we urge the Housing Authority to adopt City guidelines. However, in the case of Mr. Pietragallo, I don't see that being the case because I think there is a dispute as to whether he deserves severance pay or what the actual terminology should be to the amount of money he receives.

So, I can't see sending this letter with the context of this issue, but I think a letter would be appropriate urging them in the future to follow City policy.

The Chair:

All I know, Mr. Coyne is that they have not officially voted on this yet. So, as far as I'm concerned, it's hearsay until they officially vote on it.

Mr. Regan:

Mr. President, I don't think we should let anybody take the back door out here. We voted to send a message and anybody that didn't want to vote to send a message, they were welcome to do so. And I don't think you or anybody in this body should be able to take the back door out.

The Chair:

I'm not. There is an existing City policy.

Mr. Regan:

I didn't say you were. I just said that I don't think that anybody should be able to do that.

The Chair:

All I'm saying is, there's an existing City policy and there's an official meeting coming up Thursday and I want them to abide by that existing City policy. And I think this legislative body should send a message that they do that.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, I sympathize with the concern that you're raising. Could it appropriately be worded that we urge the Housing Authority Board of Directors to adopt the same, if not similar, policy that the City has as it relates to severance pay period, without mentioning Mr. Pietragallo, without mentioning any of the particulars? Just say that we urge the Authority Board to adopt the severance pay that is in place for the City Administration without addressing the issue of Pietragallo or anything like that.

The Chair:

That's fine.

Mr. Ferlo:

I have no problem with that. But I have a problem if you muddle it with the issue of Mr. Pietragallo and what is severance pay and what have you. We wanted to send the message to the Board to please adopt a like or similar policy that is in place in City government. I would support that resolution.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. Ferlo, I can live with that as long as you, as a Board Director, put that issue on the agenda as the first item.

Mr. Ferlo:

I most certainly will, Mr. Chairman.

The Chair:

Okay, that is the amended issue.

Mr. Milliones:

I can live with that as well so long as -- Perhaps this Board may choose not to adopt such a policy and I would have the expectation that we would not take any more of their money.

Mr. Ferlo:

I would commit to that, certainly.

Mr. Cohen:

I would commit to that.

Mr. Regan:

I think we already agreed to make a motion to give the money back if they agree to show a little interest in this body. We didn't hear from them last week. I don't think we're trying to take money off of anybody; I think we're trying to send a message and, evidently, nobody is hearing that message.

The Chair:

On the motion to ask them to adopt the official policy of City government for one month's severance pay, roll call vote.

Mr. Coyne:

One question before I vote. This is not going to deal, then, with the Pietragallo issue? Just for cases in the future?

The Chair:

It's first on the agenda, yes. Mr. Ferlo can bring that up as the initial issue.

Mr. Coyne:

Then I vote no.

Mr. Ferlo:

I think we have unreadiness on the motion, Mr. Chairman. My proposal to you, Mr. Chairman, is that your motion just be pure and simple, and that is, we would like the Housing Authority Board to entertain a discussion and to approve the same policy that City government has as it relates to severance pay. Period. That has nothing to do with Mr. Pietragallo because we haven't even decided at the Authority Board that he's owed a severance pay or what amount. It's entirely an apples and oranges discussion.

The Chair:

They're apples and oranges but, at the same time, they're in the same crate. The reason why the motion is on the floor is so that we can send a message prior to them officially voting on that item. And, if anything, we would send a uniform message.

Mr. Ferlo:

But the motion that we're sending over in writing from the Clerk just says, pure and simple, "Please adopt the same City policy as it relates to severence pay." Now, what the Board interprets that to mean as it relates to one month for Pietragallo or anything of the sort, that's on them.

The Chair:

That's on you. You'll be on the Board.

Mr. Ferlo:

I'm not on the Board yet.

Mr. Coyne:

If the letter is going to be used for the purpose of dealing with Mr. Pietragallo, I vote no.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

PRESENTATIONS

Mr. Cohen:

Good morning, Mr. President and Members of Council. I'd like to call up to the microphone Steve Irwin, Judy Aiken, Gerri Giles and Kathy Martin, Fred Goff and Steve Ross. Steve Irwin is Chairman of the Bowl for Kids Day of Big Brothers/Big Sisters. Judy Aiken, to his left, is Executive Director of Big Brothers/Big Sisters. Gerri Giles is Big Sister of the Year and Kathy Martin is Little Sister of Gerri Giles. Fred Goff is Big Brother of the Year and Steve Ross is his Little Brother.

Mr. Cohen presents

No. 185 WHEREAS, Big Brothers & Sisters of Greater Pittsburgh, Inc., celebrating its Silver Anniversary, is a nonprofit corporation which recruits, rigorously screens, trains, then matches and supervises adult volunteers who work with boys and girls from single-parent homes; and

WHEREAS, boys and girls being raised by a single parent usually enjoy only half the amount of adult contact of other youngsters; and

WHEREAS, since its inception in 1965, Big Brothers & Sisters of Pittsburgh, Inc. has provided services to more than 2,600 children who have benefited from the special care and concern of the Agency's Big Brother and Big Sister volunteers and its professional staff; and

WHEREAS, the Agency currently is monitoring 207 active matches at a cost of approximately $1,650 per match per year; and

for service, is not a United Way agency, and receives its support solely from friends in the Pittsburgh community; and

WHEREAS, Bowl for Kids Day, a one-day event which 4,000 persons attend and where nearly 18,000 sponsors pledge money to Big Brothers & Sisters for each pin knocked down, is the principal fund raising vehicle for Big Brothers & Sisters and is scheduled for March 4, 1990; and

WHEREAS, Princess Lanes, Kenny Ross and Sons Chevrolet, WPXI-TV, WAMO-FM, and Arby's, among other companies, have joined together to underwrite the cost of this important event vital to the continued operation of this great mission; and

WHEREAS, Pittsburgh Steeler Most Valuable Player Louis Lipps, and his wife, Toni, are Honorary Co-Chairpersons of Bowl for Kids Day 1990; and

WHEREAS, Gerri Giles and Fred Goff have been named Big Sister and Big Brother of the Year, respectively.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh congratulates Big Brothers & Big Sisters of Pittsburgh, Inc. on its Silver Anniversary and acknowledges the contributions it makes to the lives of so many young people, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Council declares March 4, 1990 to be Bowl for Kids Day in the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Cohen moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Cohen:

I want to congratulate all of you and I think there are a couple people who want to make some remarks.

Mr. Irwin:

President Wagner, Members of Council, Councilman Cohen, on behalf of the Board of Directors of Big Brothers and Sisters, I congratulate you on proclaiming March 4, 1990 as Bowl for Kid Day. Now whenever you see one of these buttons, "Ask Me About The Day", you'll know exactly what it is and you can tell people to either bowl or form a team or sponsor somebody else who is bowling for kids.

I can speak well of your support for this agency. I've been a big brother for more than 11 years and I've watched my little brother rise from the floors of his grandmother's bedroom where he slept, to the floors of my college dormitory from time to time on the weekend, to now the dormitory of Brandeis University where he is a sophomore. It's very exciting to see that and to be here today.

We have with us today the kids that this whole thing is all about. We have the Big Brothers and Sisters of the Year who will be recognized tonight at the annual meeting of Big Brothers and Sisters which is celebrating its silver anniversary, 25 years here in Pittsburgh.

I think that maybe Kathy and Steve might like to just thank you for recognizing Big Brothers and Sisters and Bowl for Kids Day.

Kathy Martin:

Gerri is my Big Sister and we like to read, skate and going out to eat. And I'm going to Bowl for Kids. Thank you.

Steve Ross:

Me and Fred do a lot together. We eat, we go swimming, we go bowling. We do a lot of things together every Saturday. Thank you.

Mr. Goff:

Just on a personal note, I just want to comment that it's a privilege to have a small role in Councilman Cohen's first piece of legislation that is passed. I'm confident that all his future proposals will receive the same unanimous support that this one received. Thank you very much.

The Chair:

Thank you all.

Mr. Ferlo:

I'd like some of the representatives from the various senior centers from the City throughout the area to come up, all this lobbying crew that's here today. I figured if I brought some troops, there'd be no way you couldn't support this resolution. We have some folks here from Troy Hill and Sheraden and Bloomfield/Garfield, Market House, South Side and probably a few other neighborhoods.

Mr. Ferlo presents

No. 186 WHEREAS, the Senior Citizens Health Care Campaign, the Pennsylvania Public Interest Coalition, the Citiparks Senior Advocacy Council, City Council and over 500 organizations state-wide have endorsed Pennsylvania House Bill 700, the Medicare Overcharge Measure; and

WHEREAS, the elderly are the fastest growing age group in the Pittsburgh region, and have higher health care costs and lower incomes than any other adult age group; and

WHEREAS, every medical insurance program sets rates which doctors must accept if they wish to be included; and

WHEREAS, even though Medicare's rates are reasonable and adjusted annually, only 30% of Pennsylvania's doctors accept Medicare's reasonable charges all the time; and

WHEREAS, Pennsylvania's seniors were overcharged $61 million in out-of-pocket expenses by Medicare-participating doctors in 1986; and

WHEREAS, these enormous overcharges severely restrict older people's access to needed health care, causing unnecessary pain, suffering, and even death; and

WHEREAS, other state governments have taken effective legislative steps to curtail Medicare overcharging and have passed legislation over the objections of physician lobbying organizations.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh supports the efforts of the Senior Citizens Health Care Campaign and our own Citiparks Senior Citizens Advocacy Council in their efforts to support House Bill 700, the Medicare Overcharge Measure, which requires all licensed physicians in Pennsylvania to charge Medicare beneficiaries no more than Medicare's reasonable charges, ensuring access to needed quality health care regardless of income; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh urges all citizens to participate in a rally and legislative lobbying event on February 7, 1990 at the State Capitol in support of H. 700, the Medicare Overcharge Measure (MOM).

Mr. Ferlo moved to adopt the resolution.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, I think it's important because really, City Council set the pace here a year and a half ago. Councilman Coyne and many others have been involved in supporting the MOM bill. When this bill started, it had one sponsor, Alan Kukovich, from Greensburg, Westmoreland County. It now has 86 co-sponsors and was a main part of the Governor's budget message a week ago. So, the MOM bill has come a long way and we're really at the point now of getting this bill passed because of tremendous support in the Legislature.

Pretty much all of the Allegheny County delegations are in support of this bill, so your traditional names like Gigliotti and DeLuca and Kyle and Itkin and Bill Robinson and Frank Pistella and lots of others are behind the bill.

However, I do want to single out six State Representatives in the Greater Pittsburgh area who have not supported the bill and they are, specifically, Huck Gamble, Joseph Markosek, Elaine Farmer who is from the North Hills, Dave Mayernik who I believe is from the North Hills area, Rick Cessar and Brian Clark. These particular legislators have not endorsed the bill, so if you're in the listening audience, please communicate to these six Legislators and get them on board in support of the MOM bill.

This bill is very critically needed. I quoted figures of $61 million. This would be the out of pocket expenses that an elderly recipient who has Medicare has to pay out of pocket. This bill would eliminate out of pocket expenses. It would say that if a physician accepts Medicare Assignment Fee, he or she would have to accept that fee in full. This is being done in a number of other states. It would eliminate the out of pocket additional expenses that is burdensome to any elderly person. And at a time when the co-payment and deductible of Medicare has outrageously increased over the last decade, this bill is even more critically needed.

I'd like to just call briefly on Sam Valicenti who is very active in the Sheraden community. I know him from many other issues that he's been active on. I'd like him to say a few words about this bill and anybody else who might want to make a brief statement, you're welcome to. But all these folks are from various senior centers throughout the City.

There is a bill that we're introducing in Council tomorrow to expend payment of about $1,500 to charter two buses. They were going to send about 20 people in two City vans which I think is not only unsafe but not necessary when there's so many others that have signed up and want to go.

Mayor Masloff testified over a year and a half ago in support of this legislation and I believe very clearly that she will be in the leadership on February 7th in support of this legislation.

Mr. Valicenti:

Mr. President, Members of Council, ladies and gentlemen, you don't know how we feel right now. We're very glad that City Council has brought this proclamation up and we know that you're behind us. We need your help really bad. It's very hard for a senior to go to a doctor, with the limited income they have, to come back and find out after Medicare pays their share of the bill that they still owe X amount of dollars more. That's the part that we want. We want doctors to accept whatever Medicare allows.

As I said, we thank you for backing us and we hope you use your influence in asking other Legislators to support us. Thank you.

Mr. Ferlio:

Members of Council, I just want to say that I will be in Harrisburg on February 7th lobbying with our Representatives from the City and around the State. If any of you can join us, that would be great. And, if not, maybe there's others in the community that you know would like to be advocates on this bill. Let's really converge on Harrisburg and let's use this as one of our first main lobbying efforts because I think we can be successful. And then we'll take them all back for tax reform, Michelle. Thank you.

The Chair:

Thank you all.

Mr. Milliones:

May I ask Mr. Manford Sales to step forward, please? Mr. Sales is being honored as Scoutmaster of the Year. He has been a Scoutmaster at Ebenezer Church in the Hill District for over 49 years and I think that's truly commendable.

Mr. Milliones presents

No. 187 WHEREAS, on February 3, 1990, Mr. Manford Sales will be honored at the Pittsburgh Hilton Hotel Grand Ball Room as "Scoutmaster of the Year"; and

WHEREAS, Manford Sales has been involved with the Boy Scout's Troop 59 Ebenezer Baptist Church located in Pittsburgh's Hill District since he first joined at the ripe age of 12, became Scoutmaster in 1940 and has served in this capacity for over 49 years; and

WHEREAS, Manford Sales is highly respected today for his help in developing leadership among black youths, and has received numerous awards for his contributions to the Boy Scouts Organization, including that of Recipient of the District Award of Merit in 1989, Scouting Commendation to Urban Youth in 1989, Recipient of Ebenezer Baptist Church Commendation in 1989, and Recipient of Commendation from Pastor and Committee in 1989, as well as many other awards; and

WHEREAS, along with his prestigious scouting career, Manford Sales is very active in his church organization, and has distinguished himself as a leader in the civic community by helping to place the first black vendors at Forbes Field and the first black sales people in supermarkets, banks, and other organizations locally; and

WHEREAS, Manford Sales has shared his life with his beloved wife, Ann, and five children, Sandra Bullock, Linda Robinson, Lisa, Manford Jr. and Stephen.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh hereby commends Manford Sales, recipient of the Scoutmaster of the Year Award, for his outstanding service, inspiring leadership, and dedicated support to the youth of this community and especially the members of the Boy Scouts of America Troop 59; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that February 3, 1990 be proclaimed as MANFORD SALES DAY in the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Milliones moved to adopt the resolution.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Sales:

First, I'd like to have some of the ones that are responsible for me being in this position to come and stand with me, my wife, Mr. Pickett and other friends who came with me.

First, honor to God that I receive this resolution, and thanks to this committee and the Councilman who has so recommended that I receive it.

This is very special to me because this year is my golden year. In March of this year I start 50 years of scouting. I've been satisfied with just starting scouting. 50 years this October I received the best assistant that anyone could have. She has washed the pans and found my packs. This has helped my responsibility and she has been the finest assistant that I have had.

I hope that I will take this resolution and do just like a scout always does - carry the words of the law and be prepared to do more work for the next 50 years.

Mr. Darkins:

Mr. President, I would like to put a motion on the floor that February 3, 1990 be Manford Sales Day in the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

The Chair:

Thank you all.

(REMARKS ON FOLLOWING PAGES)

MR. FERLO'S COMMENTS ON BILL NO. 40-Wednesday, January 24, 1990)

Mr. Ferlo:

This is a very important contract, and I think as many of you will come to find out very quickly, a large percentage of complaints into our office have to do with litter and lots. A lot of this delegated authority and responsibility goes to the independent, nonprofited group, Clean City Committee, which is under the Administration of Director Walker in Environmental Services.

The question I have, Mina, the amount of money actually that we expended last year was greater than $540,000.00, and two years in a row I have sought to ask Council and the Administration to actually increase that; each time it was denied. But then, in effect, we actually did increase it throughout the year because they, on two occasions, came back and asked for more money. So where are we at on that? Are you actually only going to spend the 540,000 or we actually will reappropriate monies again, as we did consistently for the last two years?

Mr. Walker:

Since Mina is new on the job, I think I should answer that. Last year the reason the request was for more money was because of the long rainy season we had. It rained so long that there was more work required with the growing of weeds and different things. If that would occur again this year, there will be a possibility of asking for more money.

Mr. Ferlo:

The other reason why I wanted to see more money is because I don't think, unfortunately, despite the great work the committee does and they have a great work force, it is still not enough of what needs to be done in terms of the vacant lots. It seemed to me in large measure as I looked at an analysis of lots cleaned that it seemed or appeared to be that the Clean City Committee had enough of a struggle just to maintain the URA lots and contracts for which they are paid, as opposed to all the other problem lots we have with absentee landlords and one thing or another.

So at least my next question, Mina, I realize you are new and it might be unfair to ask you this, but I would ask that you please consider or begin to think about what are the priorities for the Clean City Committee as you prioritize your work force in terms of what lots need to be done.

Ms. Gerall:

To a large degree I can answer that already. The URA contract is very specific, and they are on be a very specific maintenance schedule. Now, in it is known as part of our obligation to them to do snow removal, so that would cut down on the number of lots, but that is really separate. What we have been doing for the last couple of years is doing actual in the field, on-site inspections of all the property that falls on the city owned and 3TB list with maps.

Mr. Ferlo:

The URA contract, by the way, is in addition to the 540?

Ms. Gerall:

That is a separate amount.

Mr. Ferlo:

How much is that amount, do you know offhand?

Ms. Gerall:

About 285,000.

Mr. Ferlo:

Do you know what inventory of lots they give you? Do you have a rough idea how many lots?

Ms. Gerall:

The number? I honestly don't know. But theirs is very specific.

What we are trying to do with all the non-URA property is do a complete inventory. We have done approximately probably half. We went on-site, updated the maps. We just got the new 1984 maps and we are working with the Real Estate Division to try to get everything updated. What we then do is identify lots that are very public, on main thoroughfares that need to be done on a preventive maintenance basis, and we do those minimum once, some of them more frequently. Hillsides that can go two years, we move those back, and in between, the only way we can clean beyond that is through work orders from the city. So we respond to work orders as they come in, in addition to the priority lots which are on a preventive maintenance basis.

Mr. Ferlo:

The one thing I have always been upset about, it never appeared to me that there was actually an inventory in place and on a computer; there was not a management information system in place. It seemed like lots of human energy has been expended both by Council offices, the Mayor's Complaint Center, Public Works, citizens' groups, you name it, for things that really are routine. Basically, there are a finite number of lots that are out there.

Ms. Gerall:

Finite, but growing.

Mr. Ferlo:

Right, each year they add. Basically, unless there is a turnover in real estate or we get rid of the property, it shouldn't have to extract four or five months of aggravation on everybody's part to do something we know we have to do. At this point, given as long as Clean City Committee has been in operation, at some point if not already, there should be a management information system in place, even if it is just on a small PC. Is that in place?

Ms. Gerall:

It is not completed. We have a program which we have input everything that has been on-site inspected. Now, as we finish this process, at the end everything will be on a computer.

What has also been very helpful is the Mayor's Service Center, because we only can do work by work order. They have done a terrific job of updating all our records across the city as they change hands.

Mr. Ferlo:

Are you connected with the Mayor's Complaint Center to your office?

Ms. Gerall:

We are connected by telephone on a daily basis to update our records as we get information from them, and we will put in requests, if we get a complaint or something, we check with them first. So that is what has been the primary mover in getting this system on line. Also, they are working with the Real Estate Division as they work through their process.

I am not going to tell you what year, but we are all getting closer and closer to having a realistic inventory.

Mr. Ferlo:

So you are telling me that within this budget year of this commitment of 540, we will have that management system in place? At least in terms of computerization of the data, in terms of what lots are out there and some ferreting out of when lots need to be cleaned and some process by which you manage the resources. That is your commitment at this table that will happen this year?

Ms. Gerall:

That will happen this year. I can't tell you that it will be completely accurate, as the county, city, everybody keeps updating information, but the basic program should be.

Mr. Ferlo:

How do you relate your priorities and are you aware of the priorities and/or the work orders that come out of Public Works? Public Works also involves itself with cleaning hillsides and other kind of cleaning activities. And also, this Council appropriated additional monies to put part time college aged youth, making them available, the monies, in the Public Works budget. The goal is to beef up Public Works' hillsides and main intersections and a lot of stuff that just doesn't seem to happen. Are you meeting with Public Works?

Ms. Gerall:

Public Works has always had a working relationship with Clean City. Clean City will call them out for special assistance with heavy equipment, or if they need help they call our people and they go out. It is an ongoing, regular, everyday operating procedure. And I think Director Gaetano would agree we have never had any problems and we certainly don't anticipate any.

Mr. Ferlo:

Just two last questions, I am sure other Councilmembers have questions.

When will the neighborhood kinds of clean up activities happen?

Ms. Gerall:

As a matter of fact, we are having a meeting tonight with the neighborhood organizations to talk about the big spring clean up.

Mr. Ferlo:

I am interested in doing the one I did again in Lawrenceville.

Ms. Gerall:

Lawrenceville will be at the meeting tonight.

Mr. Ferlo:

That will be in April?

Ms. Gerall:

We have a couple of dates, depending on what you want to do. There has been some interest in trying to get the schools more involved again, so we are having a community meeting tonight. Lawrenceville will be there to talk about exactly what the focus will be.

Mr. Ferlo:

One other issue I raised and ask the Administration to please consider, I was wondering whether or not we couldn't appropriate some monies to make a reward, a $5,000.00 reward, where basically -- community groups, as you certainly are aware, are involved in the litter clean up and sort of street clean up and neighborhood clean ups. We haven't really challenged neighborhood groups and/or Boy Scott groups, Girl Scout groups, volunteer groups in the community to actually clean lots. The main emphasis of the Clean City Committee has been on the general street cleaning and all that. I am wondering whether or not we can't institute some kind of reward system. If a neighborhood group knew that if they cleaned more lots in their quadrant than somebody else and they could get a $5,000.00 reward, I am wondering for the little bit of money that would be whether or not that could be a useful tool to challenge and involve community groups in lot clean up.

Ms. Gerall:

First of all, I think you will be happy to know that I have already met with Director Hayllar and we have talked about how to better involve community organizations in ongoing maintenance in their neighborhoods. So it is on the table, and I think it would be wise for you to talk to him about some of the things we discussed.

Another piece that I have also met with him about, and I am sure Councilwoman Madoff would be happy, too, we are going to try to do another blitz in the spring. As our folks go out and clean vacant property, if there is an abutting property owner, we will start offering them immediately, "Do you want this lot? We will clean it up, get it ready, buy it for some nominal price." Another way to try to bring that list down is try to sell small parcels for virtually no cost to get them back into the public hands.

So that is something we have already started for this year, along with how to get the neighborhoods more involved. I would talk to Ben about it, because he is very enthusiastic, also.

Mr. Ferlo:

Unfortunately -- this is probably better directed at Building Inspection -- there needs to be better enforcement and holding especially absentee landlords accountable for the condition of their lot. Certainly I have been vocal on that issue this last year, and with the new law that we have now enabling Housing Court to place a lien on the property, I know Magistrate Melvin has been instrumental in being a strong advocate on that, but I think you need to remain vigilant on that and bug BBI and everybody else --

Ms. Gerall:

You can be sure that whenever we get a work order from them to clean a private lot that we send in the bills immediately.

Mr. Ferlo:

You agency has more folks in the field and certainly Director Walker has a lot of staff people out, and he knows, I have talked to him a million times, but we really need to use tickets more. We have a ticket tag and Police Department, we may as well get them out there tagging, and getting Building Inspection doing more, and holding people accountable. We have large landlords. For instance, the Giant Eagle on Highland Avenue in East Liberty, they have a terrible track record as it relates to the cleanliness of their property. They are a big employer, it is big business there, they could easily have people go out every day. We have all kind of convenience stores, and I am sure there are others in the city that are a real problem. The city has to be more aggressive at harassing these people to make sure they do clean up.

Ms. Gerall:

Clean City certainly doesn't have any enforcement power, but we on a regular basis turn in --

Mr. Ferlo:

We hire you partly to be the person who is really out there in cleanliness, the watchdog.

Ms. Gerall:

I would say on a regular basis we turn in information to BBI. Yesterday we turned in a major institution in Oakland, we turned in a very serious problem. They went out and cited them immediately.

(Deleted text.)

Mr. Ferlo:

Since we are talking a little bit about enforcement -- and again, some of this is maybe a little bit off the subject from the contract we are awarding Clean City Committee, but I raised this during the budget the debate and I can't see why it can't be done.

There are a finite number of locations around this city where people dump. There are 50 to 100 most popular places where people dump, especially fly by night contractors who dump building materials, and I can name 20 very quickly right now. And given the fact that it is now a $1,000.00 fine, if not greater -- and we can make it greater possibly locally under Public Nuisance Ordinance or asking our friends in the State House to amend the state statute. Why not, since the Administration has consultant-it is usually anyways, why can't there be on retainer some investigative firm or some type of security outfit, somebody who does investigations, let them do surveillance, let them catch people? If it becomes generally known in the city that you are going to get caught dumping your building materials, we are going to see a whole different kind of response.

It can be a revenue neutral suggestion, because I think the amount of money that we get in the enforcement from the collection of the fine will pay adequately for some type of professional service contract with a surveillance contract.

Mr. Walker:

Councilman, if I may, we have fined people for dumping. One thing about littering or dumping, you need a witness.

Mr. Ferlo:

I am talking about somebody being there with a video camera in the middle of the night.

Mr. Walker:

Being there with a video camera, you have to know what time they are going to be dumping. We have caught people dumping because we have witnesses or either we could pick some material out of what was dumped and find out who dumped it that way. We have fined them and we will continue to do that. But we have also told the residents in the areas where the dumping seems to be the biggest problem that if they just give us a name or license plate number or something like that, we will follow it up.

Mr. Ferlo:

I understand you have been doing things, I don't dispute that, and I have been a part of many proceedings before the courts where I have gone out and worked with residents or a community group where dumping has taken place. I have an intimate knowledge of the problem.

What I am suggesting is, getting back towards Mr. Cohen's point, maybe a little more pro-active plan where we just try not to follow-up when somebody actually issues a complaint. But again, it is the same argument I used about stolen vehicles always ending up in the 30 or 40 same places around the city to get stripped. Why can't there be surveillance? So I ask the Administration to at least think about that issue. Again, it is revenue neutral. If somebody wants to go out and spend two weeks of energy sitting out there with a video camera in hopes of getting $1,000.00 fine, reimbursed for the $1,000.00 fine that will take place, let them worry about this. So I think we should explore other alternatives.

The Chair:

I'd like to entertain a motion to bring the two in front of Council tomorrow.

Mr. Cohen seconded the motion.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to cast my vote in favor of them right now. I know them very well.

Mr. Ferlo:

Point of Clarification. I was just going to ask that we approve them and at some point, when it's convenient, bring them in for discussion.

Mr. Darkins:

No. They should come before us first.

The Chair:

All those in favor of bringing them in front of Council tomorrow? Opposed?

WHICH MOTION PREVAILED.

Mr. Coyne:

Mr. Chairman, I'd like to bring something to Council's attention. Back on April 18, 1988, Council passed a bill which required a residency requirement for six City authorities, being the Parking Authority, the Urban Redevelopment Authority, Housing Authority, Water and Sewer Authority, the Stadium Authority and the Equipment Leasing Authority. The original bill was vetoed by Mayor Caliguiri but the veto was overridden on April 19, 1988 and it was to go into effect three months after that date.

So far, and this is almost two years, only the URA, the Water and Sewer Authority and the Equipment Leasing Authority have complied. The Parking Authority, the Housing Authority and the Stadium Authority have not complied with setting up a residency requirement.

The bill says that the Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh and the City Controller shall not countersign any warrant that names as payee any authority defined herein unless the authority has passed a resolution directing the following: all employees and officials of the authority shall be domiciled in the City of Pittsburgh at the time of their initial employment and shall continuously maintain their domicile within the City throughout their term of employment in the City.

I think that Council needs to send letters not only to these authorities but also to the Controller to remind them of this bill. And I think we need to be more vigilant in making sure that these authorities do come along with a residency requirement.

The Chair:

I agree.

Mr. Ferlo:

Obviously I support Mr. Coyne's concerns, having introduced the bill originally. I will, upon the next meeting of the Housing Authority, when and if there's a Board, introduce a resolution to accept this concern by Council. And I would hope that other Councilmembers who are on other authorities would also do the same.

Michelle Madoff:

In line with what has been said, I would like to point out as a positive that the Mayor has appointed a number of people to the Advisory Committee and they are outstanding appointments. I don't know if they're coming before us, or if they need to, but I know many of the people.

The Chair:

We have a motion on the floor regarding Mr. Coyne's concern.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm getting on to that. While I'm complimenting her on one hand, I'm also suggesting - you pointed out a need with the fact that here we voted in the past and nothing happened - that the Mayor needs to look at all authorities. She needs to take a very hard look and perhaps move to overhaul most of our authorities where they need overhauling and this is just a perfect time.

Do you remember the long hearings and the battles that went on here and we were pushed aside that they'll take care of it themselves? Well here we are over a year later and nothing has happened. I think this points out the need to revamp, relook at all the authorities.

The Chair:

Is there any other discussion on Mr. Coyne's motion in regard to residency requirement? All those in favor? Opposed?

WHICH MOTION PREVAILED.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, three very brief points. I would like to request a report from Director Hayllar, the Finance Director. If we remember, the Mayor made as part of her budget message the concern on the Community Reinvestment Act and she made major policy changes in the City regarding where we deposit the wealth of this City. A lot has been happening in the Finance Department on this issue as they begin to develop a system for having banks compete for the City business, the depository. So, I'd like to ask Director Hayllar to give us an update report on what has happened over the last month.

Secondly, on the issue of video poker machines. I would like a clarification from Director Cannon, the Public Safety Director, on exactly what is in place with the video poker machines. I have been led to believe that some of these video machines were given permits early on in the year and some since his order have not been. And if that is the case, then we have a two-tiered system where some were able to get the permit early on in the year and still have these machines, and others are not able to get the permit and can't use the machines. I mean, if there's going to be a general order to get rid of the machines, then it has to affect the whole class of individuals in the City who want to have these machines. You can't have gotten to the gate early enough and gotten the permit, and now you're allowed to use the video poker machine.

And secondly, I do think we have to consider refunding money. If we basically took money, knowing very clearly that we were going to ban them, that just is not fair and I think there should be some discussion about that issue. So, I'd like a report from Director Cannon on the issue of the video poker machines and clarifying whether some, indeed, were able to get the permit early on before the general ban. I'd like that in the form of a communication.

My third item, very briefly. I submitted two bills today repealing the $39,000.00 deduction in the Housing Authority's grant pursuant to debate two weeks ago. Obviously, much has transpired and these bills were submitted as an advocacy statement on behalf of Council regarding what was going on at the Housing Authority. Things have moved very quickly with new appointments, changing of the guard. There really is no reason to maintain the reduction of the $39,000.00 in the Community Development Block Grant allocation for the Housing Authority. So, those bills will be up for discussion tomorrow.

The events have transpired very quickly at the Housing Authority. I do think the Mayor has shown great leadership in stepping in with the appointments of two very well qualified individuals, Mr. Young and Mr. McClendon.

There is an outstanding issue, and that is tenant representation. I still am very concerned that Mr. Gardner and the other two individuals on that Board immediately resign. I issue that call once again. If not, they will suffer from legal and other kinds of embarrassment that will happen over the next couple of weeks. They need to get off that Board. More importantly, tenants within the public housing community, and those who are in some way directed with the Authority through the Section 8 program, should have a democratic process by which to be represented on that Housing Authority Board.

So, after these individuals have resigned, I hope that there will be a system in place either with the Metropolitan Tenants Organization or some legitimate tenant group to have representation on the Authority Board. But, in the meantime, these three individual, Petrell, Gardner and Turner have to resign from this Board.

The Chair:

Mr. Perry, has the Mayor sent over the veto on those two bills?

Mr. Perry:

No, sir.

Michelle Madoff:

In line with the subject that Mr. Ferlo has raised, my office is still having on-going dialogue with the HUD Office. We've been speaking to some of Jack Kemp's key people and we're going to be in touch with their Philadelphia office. We faxed a number of newspaper articles that summarized what had transpired here and I've been told that the comments that were made with reference to Mr. Pietragallo bringing more money to our community than other cities is laughable.

And I pointed out to Bill Colbert the other day, I met him in the street, that Dan Pietragallo being kept on as a consultant was laughable in light of the fact that he's now ineffective, having the focus of attention and what has transpired as public information. And he said to me that he agreed, that he hadn't thought of that. Now here is somebody that was essencially getting $39,000.00, now $41,000.00, to be a consultant to try and raise $25 million for us for Broadhead Manor which is in my district and very much in need of that money. I think he would be more detrimental than productive; therefore why you would keep him as a consultant and that nullifies any reason to give him that extra five months' pension. And I think that that money has to be recouped from the pension dollars that he is going to draw out as a lump sum.

That brings me to my next point. I would like to have a hearing before Council within two months to give the Administration sufficient time, and I make this in the form of a motion and I hope someone will second it, but I'd like to request the Administration come to Council and bring the appropriate people that can brief us, this Council, on what County, City, State pensions offer, what the dollar numbers are, how they operate, how they function, and particularly all the authorities. It is beyond my comprehension, I can't even conceive of it, how Mr. Pietragallo, even with 30 years service to the community, is going to receive over $256,000.00 in a lump sum.

I know that as members of Council, people have left here, either not re-elected or retired or what have you. For example, my pension is going to be, if I were to leave now after 12 years, something like $6,000.00 a year. Where does he get $256,000.00? I'd like to understand that. I think the public would like to know that.

I think it's important for another reason. How do we attract good people to government and keep them in government when they're going to think in retirement of eight or six or five thousand dollars? I think anybody with half a brain knows why Dave Matter left, we know why George Jacoby left, why Pellegrini left. They want to support their families. There is not enough money to entice people to stay in office. And I'm not saying that we should raise our pensions; that is the last thing I'm saying, unless we can get Harrisburg to give us some money.

We really need to look at how Mr. Pietragallo got $256,000.00 in a lump sum. I'd like to understand that and I think we're entitled to do that. So, I respectfully request - and I think the Administration is very interested, I've talked to them about this - briefing this Council in an open session as to how the pensions functions in the Authority, the City, the County, and the State, how they are comparing them. I think it would be very much of an eye-opener and what we need to do in government in general, particularly in the City.

The Chair:

Is your request in the form of a post agenda or a public hearing?

Michelle Madoff:

I think that should be your decision or the Finance Chairman's.

The Chair:

It's your motion.

Michelle Madoff:

The motion is that we bring them here and discuss the issue. I think that's imperative. I don't think I have to set the mechanism.

The Chair:

There's no need to vote on a post agenda; there is for a public hearing.

Michelle Madoff:

I think it might be a public hearing then, don't you? I think it's such a significant issue and the dollar effect, certainly the Finance Chairman would have some special interest.

The Chair:

There's a motion on the floor to have a public hearing to take a look at the various pension plans in City government and other levels of government.

Michelle Madoff:

The reason I was reluctant to do this, I don't want to turn off the Administration or the County or whatever in coming to brief us. If necessary, I could introduce some legislation that they do that, then they could come in that part of the regular hearing. Maybe that's the better way to do it. I'm just putting the thought that it needs to be discussed before us. If we do the post, nobody knows what happens except those of us that turn up. If we do it as a public hearing, we may be looking like we're throwing down the gauntlet which is not what I'm trying to do. This should be an informational meeting.

So, if it's appropriate, and I need some guidance, would the best procedure be to introduce legislation that Council take a look at this and look at what we want to do, or a study to do it, maybe a study to review? I don't want to put any money into it. It's a very tricky kind of thing. We don't want to turn people off but we want to do it. Do you have any suggestions?

The Chair:

I would suggest we do it in a more informal session, possibly such as the meeting we had with Chuck Kohling last Friday in an open forum.

Michelle Madoff:

Would that be covered by the media? I want this to be on Cable. I think the taxpayers have a right to know what happened to the money.

The Chair:

Then you need to make a motion for a public hearing.

Michelle Madoff:

So moved.

The Chair:

Is there a second on the motion? Is there a second?

The motion dies due to the lack of a second.

Michelle Madoff:

It won't die because one way or another it will be addressed.

The Chair:

I would suggest a post agenda meeting.

Michelle Madoff:

If you wish to address the subject --

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, I think partly I agree with Michelle that we need to review this whole issue of the City's pension operations as well as its authorities. The first thing I think we need is just general information. I don't think we know alot about our own system within the City side and then I, frankly, don't know anything about how each one of the respected authorities operate, what kind of pension system they have, be it a private carrier and interaction with a consultant, be they part of the City system or some other State operation that might be available.

So, I think the first thing is just to generally get some background material and I would suggest that Michelle consider asking for a report from our Finance staff. Ask the Finance staff to do some type of a general overview giving to Council some background material on each one of the various pension plans that exist, be it for the Housing Authority or the Parking Authority or be it for the Police, Fire, City retirement side. And then from there, we can have some more information and proceed with some course of action.

Michelle Madoff:

Since it was my motion, that would not make me happy. I think at the very least we should have a post agenda and those who wish to come from the media could be there. I don't want to repeat, with all due respect, what happened in the Housing Authority; "We have our little meetings and we discuss it and we take care of it." I want to do this in a public forum whether it's a post agenda to begin with as an informational gathering, fine. And those who wish to come can come, and those who do not wish to come on Council do not have to come.

The Chair:

I believe what Mr. Ferlo is suggesting is, information first and then a post agenda.

Michelle Madoff:

They won't even know what we want until we have a meeting as a post.

Mr. Coyne:

I agree with the concept that Councilwoman Madoff states; however, I sort of lean with Mr. Ferlo. I think what we need to do is to ask for an explanation from the Housing Authority as to why Mr. Pietragallo is receiving the pension he is receiving. And then give similar circumstances to the City, say you had a director who was making the same amount of money and worked for the same amount of years, what the pension would be with the City and also ask the County to do the same, if they had a director with Mr. Pietragallo's experience and his salary, what the pension would be. Then I think we would have enough figures in front of us to hold the post agenda publicly and let the public listen to it and let the reporters cover it so that we could do some comparing. Right now I think we're just shooting in the dark and I don't think we have enough information to make any valid conclusions. I think we need to gather more information and then compare them and then see what we need to suggest and how we would enact a solution to the problem.

Michelle Madoff:

I don't know if my colleagues were present when I requested the same information on workers' comp. The Administration was absolutely delighted, came in with a stack of information that they wanted to share, that they wish had become a public document. I don't want to get a lot of printed material, a lot of data that I don't know and I can't interact and ask the questions.

I would like a post agenda, I will ask the questions of the Administration, but we need to have the Authorities here, all the representatives of the Authorities who handle this, every Authority. Of course, we wouldn't need the Leasing Authority because they're not pensioned, I don't believe. But anybody that would be subject to pensions, the City, the County, the State, and they may not wish to come; therefore, at that point I could ask our City Administration to look into a comparative study for us.

The Chair:

Mr. Perry, please schedule a post agenda based on Councilwoman Madoff's request.

Michelle Madoff:

Not for at least a month, please.

And on the motion of Mr. Coyne

Council adjourned.

Ms. Milton:

Thank you very much. I am embarrassed. We're usually on the other side of the mike doing things like this, but I take this in great humility and I'm very, very honored. I've been up since 4:00; I've been out on a drug raid this morning, I was over with the Mayor, and so I'm sorry that I'm late to be here. But I shall cherish this. Thank you very much.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Mr. Regan:

I'd like to ask the former Light Heavy Weight Champion of the World, Billy Conn, and his son to come up here, please.

It could only happen in America.

Mr. Regan moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Regan:

Billy, I'd like to congratulate you on what you did. You sure as hell don't look like a senior citizen, I'll say that. You look better than half of us in the room.

But I would like to say that the City of Pittsburgh has always been proud of Billy Conn, the former Light Heavy Weight Champion of the World and still the Champ of Pittsburgh. Thank you, Billy.

Mr. Conn:

Thanks very much, ladies and gentlemen. It's a real nice present just being here.

The Chair:

Thank you.

nity; and

WHEREAS, having an educated populace and fostering an environment that promotes learning at all levels is important to the long term health of our City and its continued success; and

WHEREAS, local colleges and universities have arranged for institutions from across the country to meet with our young people and their families in the forum of the National Pittsburgh College Fair.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh encourages the residents of this City to participate in this informative program, and declares February 14th and 15th, 1990, as NATIONAL COLLEGE FAIR DAYS in the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Ricciardi moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Dr. Lorensen:

Mr. Council President, Councilmen, it's my pleasure on behalf of the literally hundreds of volunteers for the National Association of College Admissions Counselors who sponsor this fair to accept this proclamation.

For just a little history, this fair is now in its 17th year. It was formed in 1974. It's one of 26 national fairs given throughout the United States and we're happy to say that it is the second largest fair, even though it's given in cities like New York City and Los Angeles and San Diego and Chicago. I think it's because of the tremendous cooperation of the many sectors of the Pittsburgh community, both on the secondary level and the higher education level.

Again, on their behalf, I thank you for your support and I'd like to have Kevin say a few words.

Mr. Altomari:

I would just like to add my thanks to Dr. Lorensen's for the gesture today. Since one of my responsibilities is to make sure that a lot of people get there, I'd like to extend an invitation to all of you and your constituents to come on down to the fair on the 14th and 15th of February, take a look at what we have to offer and browse around. If we can be of any assistance, please feel free to see us.

The Chair:

Thank you.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

Mr. Milllones presented

Bill No. 212

Report of the Committee on Finance for January 31, 1990 transmitting sundry resolutions to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 49

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for an Agreement or Agreements with a Consultant or Consultants for consulting services to assist the City of Pittsburgh at an aggregate cost not to exceed thirty-thousand dollars ($30,000.00) chargeable to and payable from Code Account 1017, Index Code 101709, Miscellaneous Services, Mayor's Office."

Which was read.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, on Bill No. 49, the $30,000 annual consultant contract for the hiring of our Legislative Lobbyist in Harrisburg, Mr. Kohling. A year ago there was a lot of controversy on this bill and I voted against the appropriation and at that time one of my major concerns was the potential conflict. I'm not suggesting, necessarily, that there had been a conflict, but the conceivable potential conflict of having a lobbyist working full-time for the City who, at the same time, is working full-time for the County Commissioners in terms of what their legislative agenda was and is, and certainly there's room for potential conflict as it relates to tax policy questions.

Also, the gentleman, Mr. Kohling, I believe represents the Port Authority and the URA. There was a lot of discussion and debate at that time. Since that last contract, Mr. Kohling has been working. Things have changed to some extent. The Administration has pretty much committed the resources and energies and expertise of Mr. Georgetti who was assigned to the Law Department who basically acts as a Legislative Lobbyist in Harrisburg for the City and the Administration. That begins to address one of the major concerns that I have.

I was very impressed with the presentation that Mr. Kohling made a week and a half ago at your request, Mr. Wagner. I thought he gave a very well-rounded assessment and it's very clear that we get a lot of bang for the buck. For the $30,000 I was very impressed that whatever reservations or concerns I have about the potential conflict with the presence of Mr. Georgetti, and looking at the track record specifically of Mr. Kohling, and looking at the legislative round table that we reviewed, I would say that the City's very well positioned to do well in this coming year on the number of legislative items including least of which is the major tax policy issues that will be addressed in Harrisburg.

So, since there was no discussion at the Committee Meeting, I just want clarify my change of attitude and I would ask that yourself, as President of Council, convene or please consider convening a quarterly meeting with Mr. Kohling. I thought the meeting that we had was very informative and a lot of good dialogue and I certainly got educated on a number of legislative issues. And I would ask that, in approving this today, that you establish some mechanism for whatever you feel appropriate but at least a minimum quarterly review, meeting update, whatever you want to call it, with Mr. Kohling.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Cohen	Mr. Milliones
Mr. Coyne	Mr. Regan
Mr. Darkins	Mr. Ricciardi
Mr. Ferlo	Mr. Wagner (Pres't)

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bill passed finally.

Box 19588, Irvine, CA 92713, in payment of a monthly bill for the hiring of counsel to assist in the representation of the City of Pittsburgh in the case of John Robert Torquato, Jr., Debtor; City of Pittsburgh, Movant v. John Robert Torquato, Jr., Respondent, filed in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Central District of California at No. SA89-05008 Jr, providing for the payment of cost thereof."

Which was read.

Mr. Ferlo:

On Bill No. 72, this concerns a payment of $5,500 plus to a California law firm. This involves the unsettled dispute with the City, with Mr. Torquato and the year's past lawsuit, the famous CTA scandal and I would like my comments brought forward.

(REMARKS ON FOLLOWING PAGES)

(BEGINNING - MR. FERLO'S COMMENTS ON BILL NO. 72, WEDNESDAY, 1/31/90)

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Specter, this came up last year and Mr. Pellegrini talked a little bit about our initial engagement which involved the so called CTA scandal of many years ago. This initial payment, it implies that this is an initial payment, what is the anticipated relationship that we will have with this law firm as it relates to total expenses?

Mr. Specter:

At the moment -- that's a very good question and one which has me equally concerned.

As a result of this bill, which I recognize is several hundred dollars in excess of the approval given by Council in December, I began to study this matter and frankly we are now in the process, and I discussed it Mary Conturo just this morning, of reviewing the entire matter to determine whether in fact we ought to continue to proceed with this case.

Mr. Ferlo:

That was going to get to my next question. The reason why I don't think you should do that -- it's my understanding that there's a bankruptcy relationship of Mr. Torquato in the California courts and if that is the case and obviously I'm not an attorney but you can educate me on these issues, that there's no light at the end of this tunnel. I don't mind going after somebody if we can get something out of it but why spend upwards of $40,000.00 and greater for some equal return and then face a Bankruptcy Court of a gentleman and you're not going to get anything so what's the point of this?

Mr. Specter:

I agree with you and that's why I caused a review to be initiated, in fact I conducted a basic review myself.

What I have asked our counsel in California to do was to withhold providing any further services and to ask the Court to defer any proceedings until we've had a chance to review the schedules that are required to be filed by Mr. Torquato. Those are schedules in which he's required to state under oath what his assets are and that sort of thing. I understand that they were just filed recently; he was long overdue, and upon review of those schedules, if we conclude that there is simply no sense in spending an excessive amount of funds to get a judgment which may never be collectible, then I would come up here --

Mr. Ferlo:

-- so until this economic impact statement is done we're not going to proceed incurring any greater debt.

Mr. Specter:

Let me say this and I have to be very frank with you. We have received an additional bill which is not part of this request and that bill is in excess of $4,000.00 and when I heard about that bill being in process, it was prior to having received it, then that's when I initiated the review. I think that in light of that, the fact that we have now, our department may be required to come up here someday and ask for an additional $4000.00, I have expedited the review. I've also asked our counsel and I'm being somewhat repetitious, to ask the Court formally if necessary by motion to defer any proceeding so that they will not run up another nickel of costs other than to Xerox the schedules and send them to us for our review.

Mr. Ferlo:

Already being $9,000.00 in, I don't mind a couple thousand more just to get this financial information that you suggest but you also raised another issue and this has been a repeated debate between the Administration and Council and there have been many fights in the past and that is the incurring of these debts prior to approval, so please keep in mind that there is no authorization for that $4,000.00 and there will obviously be a situation once again where Council will have to approve it since it's already expended and we'll be held legally accountable for it.

But just to reiterate, the Administration and certainly the Solicitor does not have the power to do this retroactively. Please inform Ms. Conturo of that relationship once again.

Mr. Specter:

You are absolutely right and I want you to know that when we retain counsel, we advise them of the fact that the limitation was $5,000.00 and they knew that. They were between the proverbial rock and a hard place in that here was the Court scheduling things and here were we on the other hand saying you're limited to $5,000.00 and they took a chance.

Mr. Ferlo:

It may be and certainly it looks like we should pay that $4,000.00 but I'm just saying to reiterate, especially since we have a new solicitor, a long-standing bone of contention. Thank you.

(END OF COMMENTS)

PREPARED BY: MARY ANNE HRUSKA, STENOGRAPHIC REPORTER

Mr. Ferlo:

I'm voting obviously to pay for this bill since we already incurred the expense but I have two concerns; one, there's already an addition $4,000 that's been occurred for this California law firm without approval of this Council and I want to reiterate, especially since we have a new Solicitor, that that is not appropriate, that there is no expenditure without the advise and consent and approval of Council unless there's really some extraordinary emergency reason for payment and we have a mechanism in place to seek interim approval. So, I want to raise that concern so that we're not off in the future of this year because I can see where if you set this as precedent we can engage ourselves in costly legal battles without getting approval of Council.

So, in approving this today, and obviously approving what most likely come to us shortly as an additional $4,000 payment, I hope no one is getting the idea from the Administration that we now have given up our approval process on the issue of these expenditures.

I would again ask for that legal opinion that I've asked for from Mr. Specter and Ms. Conturo requested at the last meeting, and that is, an assessment as to whether or not we want to drop this case, given the circumstances which I have been led to believe this individual is in bankruptcy court and it's a question of whether or not we would actually see any light at the end of the tunnel, whether or not we would actually get any money back from the $10,000 investment we're making with this lawsuit. So, by the next meeting, I would like to please ask for that assessment from Ms. Conturo on this issue. It's a lawsuit. Thank you.

The Chair:

Mr. Specter is here and I'm sure he heard your request for an opinion.

Mr. Ferlo:

Thank you.

The Chair:

Under Reports of Special Committees, I just simply want to state that the Mayor's veto will stand simply by us not acting on it due to the fact that we repealed Bill Nos. 93 and 94.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. President, just very briefly. Tomorrow I will not be in session; I'm attending a legislative lobbying effort in Harrisburg. As you know, we approved today an expenditure of about $1,500 for two buses, chartered buses.
This will provide an opportunity for about 80 residents, primarily older individuals here in the community, to participate in a lobbying effort tomorrow and a press conference and a public hearing before the State Senate, chaired by Senator Peterson, on the MOM legislation, the Medicare Overcharge Measure, House Bill 700.

I just want to thank Celeste Clyde from the Citiparks Advocacy Council for helping to coordinate the buses. Councilman Coyne is also attending and I believe Mr. Allen from Councilman Darkins' office is attending the legislative lobbying effort.

Again, we have a really good opportunity to get this bill passed in the State House and I apologize for not being here tomorrow.

Mr. Coyne moved to approve the Minutes of Tuesday, January 16, 1990 and Tuesday, January 23, 1990.

Mr. Regan seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Ferlo moved to excuse Michelle Madoff for absence from the meeting.

Mr. Coyne seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Regan

Council adjourned.

PRESENTATIONS

The Chair:

I would like Mr. Dan Haller to please step forward. Mr. Haller and the Neighborhood Legal Services requested yesterday the urgency of this resolution.

The Chair presents

No. 293 WHEREAS, the recently announced funding cut by Legal Services Corporation, a federal agency, of 1.4 million dollars to Neighborhood Legal Services Association will result in a devastating withdrawal of legal services to the poor citizens of Pittsburgh and the four county areas served by NLSA; and

WHEREAS, the loss of legal services will cause irreparable harm to those poor people and will jeopardize pending and potential litigation; and

WHEREAS, there exists no alternative resource immediately available to provide these services now being provided for by Neighborhood Legal Services Association; and

WHEREAS, Neighborhood Legal Services Association's funding by Legal Services Corporation has been terminated without prior notice, without any attempt to determine if a resolution could be negotiated, and without any due process hearing or procedure of any type.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh supports Neighborhood Legal Services Association's opposition to the funding cut-off and any reasonable efforts by Neighborhood Legal Services Association to use the legal system to effect a change in this decision.

Mr Ferlo moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Regan seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

The Chair:

Mr. Haller, I understand, number one, you have something going on, some other news conference at this time, and we're pleased to have you here in Council. Would you please say a few words to support the resolution?

Mr. Haller:

We're most gratified at Legal Services for your support. We try to do a good job to represent the poor and, as many of you know, they're your constituents, many of them. As a matter of fact, we've had a number of people who never thought that they'd cross our threshold. But, as a result of the economic downturns that occurred in this City and in this region through the last ten years, we've seen many people who never, ever thought that they'd have to come to us for services. I've represented many of them myself in the mortgage foreclosure area.

So, we appreciate your support. We try to be good and conscientious members of the community, the legal community, and to work hard for our clients. We felt that this was sort of an ambush that had occurred and we certainly appreciate all of the support that we've gotten from not only this body but our representatives and senators as well. Thank you all very much.

Michelle Madoff:

What is your annual budget?

Mr. Haller:

I don't know that. I'm just one of the staff attorneys.

Mr. Ferlo:

One point six in federal funds.

Michelle Madoff:

Are there any matching funds locally? I was wondering if you ever applied to Council during budget time for some funding and if we've been a supporter. I believe we have.

Mr. Haller:

You did.

Michelle Madoff:

I thought we gave you some money.

Mr. Haller:

Mr. Ferlo, I think, has an answer. I have the answer too, but maybe --

Michelle Madoff:

I thought that had happened, that we had supported you. Do you have any money to get you through this interim?

Mr. Haller:

Yes, we do. Actually, the funding, there was an emergency. We were put on the agenda of the Legal Services Corporation yesterday in Washington. One of the members of our Board, Bob Summer, as well as our Director, spoke at that meeting. We were restored yesterday, but it's the kind of overwhelming support that we get from people like yourselves that really made that happen. It didn't happen in a vacuum.

Michelle Madoff:

Nothing does.

Mr. Haller:

That's right. But to answer your question, we did receive $10,000 from Council and that is to be applied towards a support project. As you probably know, the Regan Administration, when it came in, had an agenda to just dissolve legal services. They put us in every year except the last year of his presidency; we thought that was an oversight on Ed Meese's part, but nevertheless, we were put in every year at a zero budget. And the people who were put in as members of the corporation were really put there to dissolve the corporation. It was Congress who kept restoring the monies but never at the level that we had been. So, we're cut way back.

Michelle Madoff:

I just wanted to be sure that if there was anything we could do as Council to expedite even that $10,000 as an interim drawdown, sort of trade off dollars, is there anything to help you stay in business.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Wagner, first of all, thank you for introducing the resolution. As a follow up, as you just indicated, Mr. Hallard, it's my understanding that at today's press conference you will announce the fact that the national NLS Board institute a 60 day cooling off period and basically will maintain the funding during this period. However, it's possible and probable that the local NLS and/or the collective bargaining unit that represents the Legal Services workers will probably have to initiate litigation on this issue.

So, I have really two concerns. One is that our resolution be forwarded to the National Legal Services Board of Directors themselves. And secondly, if, indeed, there is litigation on the part of the NLS Corporation locally, I think, Mr. Wagner, we should at least refer this issue to the Solicitor to see if the City as a municipality can enter a friend of the court brief on behalf of the issue.

Mr. Haller:

We would appreciate that very much.

Michelle Madoff:

Is that a motion? I'll second it.

Mr. Ferlo:

I'll make it in the form of a motion.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

The Chair:

Thank you all very much.

The next resolution to be introduced pertains to Brashear High School Vocational Educational Day which will be officially one week from today. I would like to ask the following people to please step forward for the resolution: Mr. Robert Nickolas, the Principal of Brashear High School; Mr. Joe Poerio the Assistant Director of OVT Programs for the Pittsburgh Public Schools. And the others that are here also today: John Groetsch; Al Ulrich, Technical Supervisor, Jan Ripper, Home Economics Supervisor, Ann Erikson, Business Supervisor; John Masilunas, TV Production at Brashear; Nick Sarno, Technical at Brashear; Earline Henderson, Home Economics at Brashear; and Jim White in Business at Brashear; and Brandon White, a student at Brashear. Please step forward.

I'm sure one Councilmember, Mr. Milliones, is very familiar with what this resolution is all about.

Mr. Milliones:

It's nice to see this esteemed Council recognizing the Pittsburgh Public Schools in a positive way.

The Chair presents

No. 294 WHEREAS, the progress and well-being of the students of John A. Brashear High School depend to a great extent upon education and training for employment as provided in the school systems of this State; and

WHEREAS, profound sociological, economic and technological changes in our society are bringing about rapid changes in the structure and nature of the Pittsburgh community, thereby placing new and additional responsibilities on the Pittsburgh Public School System; and

WHEREAS, the Congress of the United States, the Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania and the Pittsburgh Board of Public Education have recognized these problems and have acted upon them through appropriate legislation; and

WHEREAS, the professional contributions of Mr. Robert C. Nicklos, the Principal of John A. Brashear High School, have assisted the students of Brashear High in the process of preparation for employment.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh hereby commends Robert C. Nicklos, Principal of Brashear High School, for his contributions to the success and achievements made by the Administration, Faculty and students of the John A. Brashear High School Vocational Education Department; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that Wednesday, February 21, 1990 be known as John A. Brashear High School Vocational Education Day in the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Ferlo moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ricciardi seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

The Chair:

I will be attending this session next Wednesday and look very much forward to it. I'm very pleased that all these people could join us today in Council, Mr. Nickolas, Mr. Poerio who is a friend of mine for many years. It's an honor to have you here. I'm sure Mr. Nickolas would like to say a few words.

Mr. Nickolas:

Thank you. On behalf of the Pittsburgh Public School system in general and the Brashear High School staff and the occupational, vocational, technical staff of the Pittsburgh Public School system, we would like to thank you for honoring us this day as we look at Vocational Education Week.

Yesterday in the newspaper it talked about several billion dollars of construction taking place in Allegheny County and general Pittsburgh specifically and one thing that was disturbing and alarming was the fact that we have to go outside of even the State of Pennsylvania to get many people to come in. So, we're trying to look at vocational education as being a viable position of the Pittsburgh Public School system in our training of students along with going to college in order to become contributing members of the Society. And, hopefully, by the time all of the students who are here start coming out of school and becoming involved in our community, that we will no longer have to go outside of Pittsburgh to spend some of this money that you have in the construction activities.

I've asked one of our students, Brandon White, to say a few words. Brandon is a 12th grade student at Brashear High School in one of our vocational and technical programs.

Mr. White:

Thank you. Vocational education has really enhanced my decision for my choice of careers. And now that I have chosen my career, Business Management, with the knowledge I've gained particularly from Marketing Education, I feel I could go on to become a business manager. And maybe one day I'll host many of you in my business, many people will come to my business so I can give you some of the things that you've given me. I'd just like to thank you.

Mr. Nickolas:

I would also like to take this opportunity to invite those of you who sit on Council to visit the school one time. Dr. Milliones has been there. The Honorable Jack Wagner has been there on various occasions; in fact, he's coming again on the 21st. So, if you can fit that into your schedule, why don't you visit him. Also, the Bishop Duane Darkins has visited us on occasion. And Michelle has been a speaker there. Baldy has been around there also. But there are a few of you who have not been there yet. We sit right on Crane Avenue to the right of the Liberty Tunnels, and it's easy to get there. Five minutes from here, so you can even come up during one of the Council meetings that are brief.

Mr. Darkins:

Being that this is Black History Month, it's been a part of this City Council that we acknowledge those in the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Darkins presents

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Mr. Ferlo presented

No. 89 Resolution supplementing Rule X of the Rules of Council which will provide for informational meetings to be included in the Wednesday Standing Committees Meeting Agenda.

Which was read.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, motion to approve for purposes of discussion.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, very briefly, I've held this bill for several weeks. I'd just as soon have some discussion on it, either vote it up or down, or possibly recommit it for further discussion or amendment.

This issue in a nutshell is very simply put and that is, the Wednesday sessions which are the Standing Committee Meetings of Council, for many decades have only been relegated to discussions on two aspects of City government. One is the formal bills that come to Council by way of the Administration which, as all of us know, are probably about 90 percent of the bills that are on the agenda and make up the discussion of Wednesday's session. The other bills, 10 percent or less, are pieces of legislation that come to the table, to the Committee structure, as a result of legislation submitted by individual members of City Council.

This proposal here, very simply put, is to include in the Wednesday regular course of business the possibility of including other items on the agenda and this amendment is suggested in order to do several things. First of all, it would allow individual Councilmembers, provided they seek majority support of Councilmembers prior to the Wednesday session, to be able to suggest and have on the agenda other important items that may come up for discussion. So, rather than just being totally reactive to bills either submitted by Councilmembers or bills submitted during the normal course of business with City government through the Administration, we would have the right to submit, through this process that is spelled out in the rule change, agenda items that can be discussed during the regular course of the televised Wednesday session meetings.

For instance, let's say we wanted to, next week, have an update discussion with our legislative representative, Mr. Kohling, in Harrisburg. Let's say he's working on some major bill about to be voted on in the State House. This would simply enable us to have a discussion on that issue with this gentleman at the table during the regular course of the Wednesday session. There may be other important items. In the two and a half years that I've been on Council, there in fact have been a number of important items that have taken up public hearing and post agenda time that could regularly have been discussed and dispensed with as part of the regular course of business on the Wednesday session. Issues around the amusement tax. We've had a meeting, an update, at one time we met with the Mayor on some Public Safety concern. We've met with key people on issues that have come up on economic development items.

So this, simply put, is meant to be able to provide a new forum and a new way for other items to be discussed as the regular course of business on the Wednesday session. And so that this is not a situation that will get off into a tangent and become unwieldy or unreasonable, built into this amendment is the requirement of each Councilmember, if they want to have a specific item discussed, they must then inform all of the Councilmembers and they have to get a majority of Councilmembers who wish to agree to have that item be discussed and to work through the Council President in order for the item to appear on the agenda. They would also have to indicate what the subject matter is of the item to be discussed and who they invited parties are that would be asked to come to the table. It still doesn't mean that a person couldn't object to somebody who appears at the table based on the other rule of Council. It doesn't conflict with the necessity of having post agendas which continue to be somewhat of an informal way for Councilmembers to interact on an issue, and it doesn't replace the need for public hearings, be they televised or untelevised.

Very simply put, I think this is a progressive step forward and it puts into public domain other discussions that are important not only to Councilmembers but certainly many people around the City who are interested in items that are before Council's table.

Michelle Madoff:

My support of this legislation goes back to my introducing legislation that, indeed, put this Council, gavel to gavel, on cable. I thought, as many of us did, that it was very, very important that the public knows what is going on and I believe the President of Council shared that point of view in his votes previously. We have a new makeup of Council. We were not able, in the previous Councils, to let the people, the public, be informed on what is really happening.

One of the shortcomings of my legislation, and I want to be very up front about it, was that because we put everything together that was official business, we have the ongoing, many of it routine, budget meetings on Council. The reason I mention that is that I'm afraid we're going to hear from Brother Richard that we just don't have the money. But I would suggest that if we do have a problem, that we trade off the major budget hearings where we actually vote and where the public is before us asking for grants and so on, or when major issues are discussed, indeed be on Council. But the routine of just going over the numbers between the Finance Chairman and Councilmembers may not need to be televised if we run into the issue of shortage of dollars. My understanding is that there is plenty of money; that may not even be an issue. But if it gets to a choice of which is more important, the people's business is indeed the most important thing. And frankly, you've been here a very short time, members of Council, you new members, but you know that the action does not take place other than the Wednesday meeting. The real action takes place at public hearings. The real action takes place at post agendas. That's where it all happens and I think the public has the right to have that televised so that they can know what is going on. I urge support of this legislation.

Mr. Milliones:

Mr. President, as Chair of the Finance Committee, I would urge that my fellow Councilmembers not support this legislation. I think the post agenda meetings serve the purpose as well as the public hearings that we very often have serve the purpose that Mr. Ferlo has stated. So, I would certainly urge my fellow colleagues not to support this change.

Mr. Ricciardi:

Mr. President, as Council is aware, next week I will have a bill open for discussion on televising post agenda hearings and I would ask my colleague, Mr. Ferlo, to recommit his bill to Committee until after our discussion on my bill.

The Chair:

I would like to make a brief comment. I personally think that the public hearings that we have today is the same vehicle as is proposed, without us adding to the agenda of Wednesday meetings. In other words, with five members of Council voting in the affirmative and voting to televise a public hearing on any issue, we can achieve the same purpose. And we can do it in a more structured fashion, identify a time that it's happening, not just at the end of a Wednesday agenda, and it can be publicized through the City Clerk's Office, the purpose of the public hearing, even if there's only a couple people that will talk at the public hearing.

So, I personally think that vehicle is present here today in Council to achieve what is attempting to be achieved with this bill.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, I couldn't disagree with you and Dr. Milliones more strongly. First of all, the post agendas, as we all know, are informal, they are not televised, and although the attendance has been better, there's only been a couple since the beginning of the year, the history of this Council has been that as Councilmembers become involved and busy in other issues, the attendance at the post agenda meetings basically becomes non-existent.

Secondly, the public hearing process is a lengthy process that usually involves upwards of 10, 15, 20 speakers and involves a process by which there's lengthy public input and discussion and then there's lengthy discussion with the Administration. It's a much different format and a different scenario in terms of what would likely be discussed under this proposed rule change that I am proposing Thirdly, what often times happens, we often times have to do follow up as a Council in reaction to some question that has been discussed at a public hearing. For example, we had a controversial public hearing a week ago on the boundary street excavation by the gentleman, Mr. Gross. We have requested various things to be followed up by the Administration. Right now there's really no vehicle or format in which that information will come back to Council in terms of interacting with the Administration on follow up. It's true that we could receive a report. It's true that at the end of the meeting we could discuss it. But what is wrong with having the rule changes that I propose which, using that as an example, would then allow us during the regular course of the Wednesday agenda to once again discuss that issue which has already been through the public hearing process, which has already been through the process of the Administration issuing some kind of a report to Council. There may be a number of questions, and I certainly have a lot of questions about that one issue in particular, that could easily be dispensed with during the course of the regular Wednesday meeting.

Again, this legislation does not conflict, and I support the resolution that Mr. Ricciardi has submitted in terms of televising some of the post agenda sessions. But we're really talking about apples and oranges here in terms of what the two purposes of the various bills are.

Mr. Cohen:

I have some questions with respect to both of these bills. There is a potential procedural problem with this bill which is that it's not clear from the bill how the person who wants to add this issue to the agenda would obtain the majority's support prior to the meeting. They do it similar to an interim approval, for example, or they do it by vote at the later meeting. So, I have some questions in respect to it.

Also, I think that we should recommit this for further discussion so that we can discuss it in conjunction with Councilman Ricciardi's bill. The two are before this Council; I think we really should discuss the two together and I think that there is a possibility of a compromise being reached with respect to them. My personal view of the merits of the issue is that we should have some vehicle by which we can bring issues before Council on the agenda but, at the same time, restrict ourselves so that we all don't bring up our own pet projects at that time. And I think that maybe through a compromise on these two bills we could reach agreement.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to share with this Council, just before I left for vacation I had a post agenda that I had referred to in this Council that I was going to have. Unfortunately, everybody was busy. A number of Councilmembers came for ten minutes and had to leave. The subject matter was meeting with Mr. Don Cimino who took over for Mr. Imhoff in Building Inspection and the subject was demolition of properties. It was amazing what came out. There was nobody here, the media wasn't here, no one learned what I learned. Does everybody know that we have nobody to do demolition on a one on one basis, people don't want to bid on them. There was something like five or six demolition people and that only two of them have heavy equipment and they rented out to the rest of them. And the reason that we don't get the jobs finished is that we have no regulations governing that and Mr. Cimino feels that he really has a terrible job ahead of him, a big job, that he has to revise his whole department. It was terribly informative, very enlightening, and I think the public who call us all the time about abandoned and vacant properties would have loved to hear what he had to say. One, it wasn't televised; two, it was only information shared with me; and three, Councilmembers did not receive the benefit of this and, more importantly, the public was shut out of the process. I would like to see some of this discussion become part of the procedure of Council hearings.

Mr. Darkins:

Mr. President, I don't see the necessity of this. I just think that we're not here to be television stars or artists. I think we're here to take care of business and that's the reason why I was elected to City Council, to come here to take care of business. I'm not interested in being televised all the time when we're having a post agenda or whatever's going on. I'm interested in business being taken care of.

Mr. Ferlo:

First of all, no one is more interested in City business than myself and I have a lot of pet projects but they're pet projects that have to do with important public policy matters and issues that confront the City of Pittsburgh as a municipality and confront this City Council. That's part of the job of being on City Council, forwarding to the people major debates and dialogues on important issues confronting this City. As far as I'm concerned, every darned thing in this City should be televised, including Authority Board meetings.

In terms of discussion that's before us today, and I realize that some of my colleagues don't want any of the meetings televised, I hope at some point that discussion surfaces. My point very clearly, having moved this for purposes of discussion, hearing Mr. Ricciardi's concern is to ask for a withdraw of the motion to approve and a motion to recommit this and maybe parallel to the debate on Mr. Ricciardi's legislation we can have another discussion.

The Chair:

I would like to say from a procedural point of view, we have held this bill twice already. This bill cannot come up at the same time for discussion as Mr. Ricciardi's unless his goes through Committee and ultimately hits the legislative session. So, I would like to see us resolve this issue now or at some designated time in the future.

Mr. Ferlo:

The suggestion, Mr. Chairman, would be to discuss this bill following the discussion and vote on Mr. Ricciardi's proposed resolution.

Mr. Regan:

I just want to say that I agree with Bishop Darkins and Dr. Milliones on this issue.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Chairman, please indulge me for half a second. I'm really offended. I'm not offended that everybody has different points of view; we can disagree without being disagreeable. But if we have Councilmembers who are going to continue to have resolutions which are, indeed, on Council and then imply that the rest of us are grandstanding, I resent that.

The Chair:

Councilwoman Madoff, that has nothing to do with the issue in front of us.

Michelle Madoff:

But the point is that a statement was made that we want to be television stars. Who is more of a television star when you're giving resolutions out all the time?

The Chair:

Let me say this. We're going to vote on this bill, as is suggested, but I just want to make a comment. I think this body is the most open legislative body in America. Every meeting we have is televised, Legislative and Committee, and public hearings if anyone has a desire for that to happen. In addition to that, this room is open for up to 200 people to walk in any time. The media is always here. This is televised live, right now, and it will be retelevised every evening that it's on. I think we have an extremely open process in City government and I personally think that if we need anything, we need organization and structure. And I think the people would agree with that also.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, my point of order, and I agree with everything you just said, as a matter of fact, and I think often times we're criticized but the Record will show, as you indicate, that we are more public than any other legislative body in the Commonwealth. I would like to see us be a little more public and that's what the amendment is proposed to do.

My point of order is that we recommit this and that a vote on this take place a week following discussion and vote on Mr. Ricciardi's proposed resolution.

The Chair:

You have a motion on the floor to approve and there has been a second.

Mr. Ferlo:

I withdrew that for the purpose of asking for a recommittal.

Michelle Madoff:

I'll withdraw my second.

The Chair:

Okay, this item is now not in front of us for vote. You are going to have to make a motion to hold this bill.

Mr. Ferlo:

So moved.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

The Chair:

For one week or two weeks?

Mr. Ferlo:

For the week following the discussion and vote on Mr. Ricciardi's proposed resolution.

Mr. Milliones:

Mr. President, this will be the third time that this bill has been held. Can we get a specific time and date when we can discuss this and resolve it?

Mr. Ferlo:

I'd be happy to do that if Mr. Ricciardi's bill is up tomorrow for discussion --

Mr. Ricciardi:

Next week. I held it for two weeks.

Mr. Ferlo:

Okay, then it would be the Tuesday following whatever that day is.

The Chair:

I would ask for a motion to hold this for two weeks and that we would vote finally on this two weeks from today.

Mr. Ferlo:

That is my motion.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

WHICH MOTION PREVAILED.

Mr. Ricciardi:

Mr. President, last week a motion was made to hold Bill 172, the Steel Valley Authority, for two weeks. I would like to request that we reconsider that motion and move that Bill 172 be placed on tomorrow's agenda.

Mr. Milliones seconded the motion.

WHICH MOTION PREVAILED.

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Cohen	Mr. Milliones
Mr. Darkins	Mr. Regan
Mr. Ferlo	Mr. Ricciardi
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Wagner
(Pres't)

AYES 8

And there being two-thirds of the votes of Council in the affirmative, the bills passed finally.

Also,

Bill No. 160

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for the issuance of a warrant to David J. Pierson and Lori Ann Pierson, his wife, in the amount of $50,000.00 in full settlement of claim for personal injury, and providing for the payment thereof."

Which was read.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. President, on Bill 160, the $50,000.00 payment claim against the City and actually the three taxing bodies, unfortunately, I was in Harrisburg and I wasn't here for the discussion. My main concern is, having reviewed some of the discussion of the last Committee Meeting, is that the Council, although they asked a number of questions, they didn't fully get some answers from the Administration. I'm not proposing that the bill be recommitted but I do think there needs to be some follow up and, specifically, whether or not Public Works has address the specific problem of the sheared off guardrail that is obviously in disrepair and led to the foundation for this legal claim given the traffic accident that took place. I don't know if some of those things have been directed to Director Gaetano; apparently they have, and I hope that we can get a report from Public Works on that issue. I'm still not satisfied with who actually is responsible for this guardrail, given the location where the traffic accident took place.

Mr. Cohen:

On the question of responsibility, this is such a very complicated situation. I'm not sure that question will ever be answered. I asked several times, both with the Law Department and with Public Works. We did, however, receive a letter from Director Gaetano saying that this situation has been resolved and the guardrail has been fixed.

I did further follow up discussions with George Specter from the Law Department about the merits of this bill and of this lawsuit because I had concerns that I expressed last Wednesday. After discussing it with him, I'm convinced that this is a worthy bill to vote in favor of.

Mr. Milliones:

My comments were similar to Mr. Cohen's, that yesterday we did receive a memo indicating that a work order had been issued to take care of the guardrail.

The Chair:

I agree. We did receive a memo and, in reading the memo, it states a work order has been given to remove the damaged guardrail at Jefferson and Federal Streets. The question is, the work order has been given to remove it, but are we going to replace it. That's, I think, still the unknown question that is being brought up and I would like Mr. Perry to please follow up on that memo.

Also,

Bill No. 161

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for the issuance of a warrant in the sum of $3,000.00 to Jesse L. Garrett and Anniebell Garrett, c/o William W. Acker, Jr., Esq. their Attorney, Acker & Acker, 304 Ross Street, 7th Floor, Pittsburgh, PA 15219 in full and final settlement of an alleged razing of plaintiff's garage at 2426 Webster Avenue or or about December, 1984, in the City of Pittsburgh."

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

Bill No. 173

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for the issuance of a warrant in favor of Public Strategies, Inc., 1208 Palo Street, Pittsburgh, PA 15212, in the amount of $1,000.00, in payment for professional consulting services rendered to Eugene Ricciardi." (SPONSORED BY MR. RICCIARDI)

Which was read.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. President, on Bill 173 in regards to consultant payment of $1,000.00, unfortunately I was not here at the Wednesday session and I basically want an explanation as to what this bill is for.

Mr. Ricciardi:

That bill is for professional services to me and the monies will come out of my allocated funds for City Council staff.

Mr. Ferlo:

Thank you, Mr. Ricciardi, but that doesn't really answer my question. I'm trying to understand what the bill is for and why is this payment being made. What services were provided?

Mr. Ricciardi:

The services provided to me were concerning my possible legislation that I hopefully will be presenting in a week or two on different subject matters. But I would not like to speak of the legislation I am researching at this time because I am not prepared to.

Mr. Ferlo:

My concern is that, and please correct me if I'm wrong, that this company or this individual actually is a political consultant. I'm wondering what is the nature of the actual services performed for the respective Councilmember.

Mr. Ricciardi:

The person is Mark Zabierek, the person who I'm dealing with. It has nothing to do with politics, however. There's an agreement between myself and Mr. Zabierek on researching legislation that, hopefully, I will be presenting in the future. And, as the public knows, each Councilperson is allocated $70,000.00 to our staff that we have the responsibility to pay out as we wish. In this case, I've decided to pay a professional consultant for services rendered to me.

Mr. Ferlo:

Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Millones:

Point of Clarification. Isn't it the prerogative of each Councilperson to spend their $70,000.00 in terms of services in whatever way they so wish?

The Chair:

Yes it is, as long as it pertains to City business. And I believe that this does pertain to City business, as Mr. Ricciardi has indicated, and I think that's all the reassurance this Council needs.

Mr. Millones:

I would hope that it would be for City business. I would question that it would be for anything else.

The Chair:

And I would hope that we all vote in favor of it.

Michelle Madoff:

Point of Clarification. We're not voting on whether Mr. Ricciardi has the right to transfer money to Mike Perry out of his own stipend to hire a consultant; we're voting on the legislation. Is that correct?

The Chair:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

Thank you.

Mr. Cohen:

I'm going to abstain on this bill for reasons unrelated to what we discussed today.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Darkins	Mr. Regan
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Ricciardi
Mr. Milliones	Mr. Wagner
	(Pres't)

AYES 6 NOES none

(MR. COHEN AND MR. FERLO ABSTAIN-ING)

And there being two-thirds of the votes of Council in the affirmative, the bill passed finally.

Also,

Bill No. 175

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for the issuance of a warrant in favor of Walter H.
Drane Company, in the amount of $11,653.33 for the purchase of the 1990 replacement pages to the Pittsburgh Code, without previous authority of law, chargeable to and payable from Code
Account No. 1005-3, Printing Pittsburgh Code (Index Code 100537)." —(SPONSORED BY

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. President, I move to recommit Bills 148 and 149 which is the application of the Department of Community Affairs on the GNC property. Specifically, I think there needs to be further discussion as to what the City is going to get out of this $2 million commitment. One thing that is not present so far is a commitment from the corporation of some type of a long term lease agreement and the commitment to stay in the Downtown area. I think if we're going to be committing $2 million to retain or save 225 jobs, I think we have to have that kind of commitment. That commitment is not present at this time and I think there needs to be some discussion with the Urban Redevelopment Authority on this issue.

Secondly, I'd like to know a little bit more about the commitments of the company as it relates to MBE requirements which were not discussed at the meeting

For those reasons, I respectfully request that the bill be recommitted for further discussion.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

The Chair:

I'd like to make a comment. I am not going to vote in favor of recommitment. I think it is the wrong signal for us to send at this time in an attempt to keep a City based company that is presently looking to locate in the Southwestern part of the United States. I have had discussions with Brooks Robinson; I'm sure that he would be more than willing to talk with you, Mr. Ferlo, in regard to this bill. They are very hopeful that the positive signal being sent by this City in regard to this formal action to be taken by Council. It is one of the very important ingredients to keep this company.

Mr. Ferlo:

I couldn't agree with you more. I don't think it's in any way a suggestion on my part not to send any proper message to this company. However, we're talking about a very lucrative arrangement whereby the City, through the State funding, will provide $2 million which amounts to a very lucrative real estate arrangement whereby RIDC will become the owner of three buildings along Penn Avenue leasing back to the employees as part of the leverage buyout of the GNC Corporation. I think there needs to be some quid pro quo.

This Council in the past voted for $800,000 plus on an issue with the Heinz Company, the same type of an issue, and we were always pressed that we had to vote for it instantly. There's an immediate need to approve the legislation. That project is still going on; the water-line is even not yet completed and something that was supposed to happen, boom, boom, boom, had to happen in two months. It's still a year later and there really has not been any conclusion to that project.

I'm only saying that as a legislative body we have the right to have a better appreciation on what we're getting for our money. Unfortunately, I have great concerns. I want to support, obviously, GNC and, obviously, I want them to stay in this City. But I don't want this to amount to some lucrative real estate arrangement and I want a commitment from the Corporation that they're going to be here for a minimum of five to seven years. That should be part of the agreement. The problem with approving this without having that discussion, as we approve this and it's no longer on Council's table. We no longer have any say so or have any relationship to this piece of legislation or what's going to happen on the project. It will not be before us to debate or discuss or to review.

The Chair:

I would just like to respond and comment. Under a worse case scenario, even if GNC did not choose to stay in Pittsburgh, the real estate investment that is proposed by RIDC is a good one. Many times the far majority of investments that RIDC has is outside the City of Pittsburgh and they feel that these properties can be enhanced, can be marketed, and in doing this in an aggressive fashion right now, we have the opportunity of keeping a company in the City of Pittsburgh. Too often we are too little, too late. What we are suggesting to do here is to do something up front to keep a company rather than hearing a Braun Baking Company say, "We have made our decision, it is too late, you cannot negotiate with us any longer." This City is being very up front in attempting to do that with GNC today and I think it's the right thing to do.

Mr. Ferlo:

I agree with you, Mr. Wagner, but I'm only suggesting that again we're talking about what the priority is for these dollars. You mentioned Braun, and it's a perfect example of whether or not we should spend $2 million to keep and employ immediately two or three hundred Pittsburgh residents as opposed to the composition of the workforce that works for GNC. So, it is a question of what the priorities are and I don't think it's unreasonable to have a second discussion on this bill which I have been led to believe will not in any way impair or limit the application process that is currently underway. Those are my concerns.

Michelle Madoff:

With all due respect, I always second the motion for discussion because I think it's imperative that we don't squelch everybody's opportunity to speak. This is only an application, as I understand. They don't happen tomorrow. There's still plenty of time to have a post agenda or whatever Mr. Ferlo wish to do to meet with either the people from GNC or Brooks Robinson or anyone else and I think his point is well taken. I personally is very familiar with GNC; I know the President of the company and I know him to be an honorable man. My understanding is that they would like very much to stay here and I certainly support giving them some dollars to keep them here, especially federal dollars that we're going to apply for in a grant. But, as I said, the reason I seconded it is so that we don't ever keep anybody from speaking on the subject.

Mr. Regan:

I think that we should send the business community in the City of Pittsburgh a message that we're behind them 100 percent and we're for them rather than sending a negative message to them. I think that we have to do more of this because we've lost too many businesses in the City of Pittsburgh and we're going to lose more unless we have a positive attitude here in Council.

Mr. Ferlo:

Just to respond to that, Mr. Chairman. My concern, obviously, is a positive message, the point being, though, that if we're going to commit $2 million, I would like some assurances that part of these negotiations are commitment for a long term relationship. If not, I don't want to give the $2 million. I'd rather give the $2 million to economic commercial infrastructure in Garfield or in Homewood or in the North Side or anywhere else where I can actually determine that local residents are going to benefit from jobs and employment. So, this is a public policy matter. It's a question of where the priorities of dollars should go. It's not a negative message to the business community; it's a quid pro quo message that's saying, "We want to be supportive of you and in return we expect a commitment." I don't think that commitment is there and I think that should be an aspect of the negotiations with the agreement for the GNC Corporation.

Over the last year or so I have gotten to know Breachmenders, and I know you have too, Councilman Milliones, and I have found them to be a really fantastic community development corporation. In fact, Councilman Milliones, you and I were both at one of their openings last summer.

This is a group that really has potential. Dave Brewton and those folks have put together some pretty sophisticated financing for new housing development in that area. I think this is great that the URA is working with them to do this.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President and members of Council, for those new members who may not be aware that this Council has engaged in very, very lengthy informational meetings with the Administration and learned that there has been a great impasse over the years, real problems that needed to be solved in the workers' compensation area, and in the situation of our unfunded pensions. I had planned to wait on these issues for some time, but I don't think we can in light of what is happening.

We are asking, and rightfully so, that the tax exempts pay their fair share, as they should, certainly for a fee for service. But before we can, in good faith, say we want you to pay monies, I think we have to put our own house in order. In so doing, we need to look at the situation and have an update from the Administration on the status of unfunded pensions, the status of workers' comp.

For example, when I stumbled on the problem with workers' comp a number of years ago, it appeared that we had gone from $40 million to $60 million, now approaching $80 million. I think it was workers' comp, Jack.

We also have the big problem in the Water Department with collections. Thirty percent of the people not paying their bills, and yet, the little people who are on Social Security, fixed incomes, they scratch their pennies together and pay.

We have a problem, as we learned today, because whatever happens on the County level, taxes generally reflect themselves in the City delinquencies.

I would like to have, and I'm making an official request, that we have an update at three separate meetings; one on unfunded pensions, one on workers' comp. As you recall, those who were here, we had a big problem in actually getting a contract. It took almost a year to find out we couldn't sign a contract with the people who were going to address the issue of following up in this area. There was to be a surveillance program or a verification program in place. I still don't know what's happened on that.

But I think it would be interesting to the public and certainly to this Council to know what is our outstanding delinquency in real estate, mercantile business privilege taxes. And that does not by any means imply that we ought to be putting pressure on indigents. I think we should show great compassion and put people who are having great difficulty on some kind of payment plan.

What do we have outstanding in light of the great problems this City is having in meeting its fiscal obligations and the fact that we need to get rid of our regressive taxes.

This Council has been in session now for almost two months. I would like to request that at the earliest convenience that three sessions be scheduled. I would ask for post agendas on these, but I think they're more important than just having a post that nobody knows what's happening.

Workers' comp. What I can wait to do is when the workers' comp issue comes up and say, "Okay, now let's get an update." That's what I did last time and it carried on for, I think, two full meetings. Unfunded pensions and the status of our uncollected taxes.

Now, let me point out that I have indeed been working with Mr. Turner, particularly in the area of collecting our water bills and he has absorbed some of the concepts and ideas that I suggested to him, collections, because I have a rather lengthy background in collections.

I've also been working with Ben Hayllar on the fact that we must get some more auditors. It doesn't cost the City anything to get auditors.

They usually bring in at least ten times the $20,000 that they're paid. At least. Usually a lot more than that. One of the benefits that we've derived is that we didn't have early on the tapes from the State which we now can check against our City tapes for delinquencies and, more recently, we were fortunate in having the laws changed so we get the federal tapes. That is making a significant difference in collections.

But, again, we don't have sufficient auditors. I know that Mr. Hayllar is moving in the direction of getting some more auditors and that's one of the reasons I asked to have that bill held so I can look into the issue. But today, I'm respectfully requesting whatever mechanism is needed to have three hearings because they're separate and apart and they're all very voluminous, to update us on what our outstanding taxes. One hearing on workers' comp, what is the status of the collections of workers' comp. Did we finally sign an agreement? Did that company go out and hire someone in surveillance as we had planned? And on the unfunded pensions, are we going to go to computations. We were looking at some dollars up front so that we could start to redress the problem and bring the debt down.

So, Mr. President, what is your wish? Do you wish to do them in three separate post agendas? Do you wish to do them as part of the regular meeting? Or do you wish to wait until Mr. Ricciardi has a meeting to decide who we are going to incorporate all this?

The Chair:

Well, they certainly are three separate issues and I would suggest that we take them separately, whether it be a post agenda meeting or simply a meeting similar to the one we had with Mr. Kohling a couple weeks ago.

Michelle Madoff:

How does the public have access to that information?

The Chair:

They certainly can come and join us at the meeting here, sit in and listen along with the media.

Michelle Madoff:

Would you not say that this is probably as important, if not more important, than almost anything we discuss in this Council? And that they should have the right, if they're handicapped or they're not able to come or if they're at work during the time that we're having this meeting, to be able to see it when it's replayed on cable? This gets to the gut of what we were talking about earlier.

The Chair:

Certainly the taxing issue, outstanding taxes, is and if it's the will of this Council, the majority, we should have a public hearing on the issue.

Michelle Madoff:

The problem with the public hearing is, basically what we've done in the past, as you know, is interact with the Administration. A lot of information was shared and incidentally triggered in great part by George Jacoby who wanted to express and share with us information, and it became very, very pertinent. The Administration wanted the public to know how their hands were tied and what the problems were. So, it isn't just Council; it is the Administration. And I, again, am pointing this out. How do we get this information to the public if we don't do it as part of the regular agenda?

The Chair:

Why don't we start by doing this. Why don't we formally request through Mike Perry's Office that the Administration provide all Councilmembers with information pertaining to the outstanding debt in the workers' comp area, the present status of the workers' comp program, the pensions, and the status of those programs. And, in addition to that, the outstanding taxes for all types of taxes that the City applies.

Michelle Madoff:

And the outstanding water bills. Last May is when I started my audit, last May. It was presented in July to the Water and Sewer Authority. I want to know what has been collected, and what is still outstanding, and what has happened to correct the problem. I think they're doing some things but I think we should share that with everyone.

The Chair:

And based on the information we receive, we can then make a decision as to what to do.

Michelle Madoff:

Are we not going to schedule -- We're going to get this information, and goody, goody, we're going to look at it. You don't think we should schedule either a post or -- It's not appropriate to have a hearing unless we want to set up a hearing and improvise. I can create a hearing; I could ask some people to come from insurance companies to give us some concepts on what we can do on unfunded pensions and we could turn it into a hearing. But I think that's inappropriate. That's almost like an attack on the Administration and I don't want to do that. I want to work cooperatively.

And so I'm saying we need to come up with a format, Mr. Ricciardi, do you see the problem, as to how we can bring this into the public purview, not have a post agenda where they are shut out of the system and out of the process. I don't know what to do so, at the moment, I'll request three post agendas which can be changed if we come up with some kind of meaningful process for the public to have access. If not, we'll just invite the media here, maybe WQED to do a show on it. I think these are probably the most important problems confronting the City.

Mr. Ferlo:

Just as a follow up, Michelle didn't offer to the floor a specific motion. There are two avenues; one is the three post agendas or a motion to be made for a public hearing. And at that point, she could make a motion to televise them.

Michelle Madoff:

I did suggest and I did make the motion that we do it in three post agendas for the moment because I don't know any other mechanism in which to undertake to get this information.

Mr. Ferlo:

Fine. That doesn't require a motion.

The Chair:

Why don't we ask for this information to Council within 30 days and from that point schedule a post agenda, public hearing, or simply a public session similar to the one with Mr. Kohling.

Michelle Madoff:

I think 30 days is too long. If you start at 30 days, then we start having hearings and then we start finding out what is happening. I think we have to express our urgency, no longer than two weeks.

The Chair:

Two weeks. Thank you.

Mr. Regan:

I would like to tell the Councilwoman who has been out of town for several days and looks well rested and looks ready to go, that I'm paid up.

Michelle Madoff:

My suggestions were in no way addressed to anybody. Please, that is not what I had in mind.

Mr. Ferlo moved to excuse Mr. Coyne for absence from the meeting.

Mr. Regan seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

The Chair:

As everyone is aware, tomorrow's meeting is rescheduled from 10:00 until 2:00 p.m. due to the death of Michael Coyne's father. We need a motion to recess this meeting and meet again tomorrow after the Standing Committee Meeting.

Michelle Madoff:

So moved.

Mr. Regan seconded the motion.

And on the motion of Michelle Madoff

Council recessed.

Pittsburgh, PA
Wednesday, February 13, 1990

And the time of recess having expired,
Council reconvened and there were present:

Mr. Cohen	Mr. Milliones
Mr. Darkins	Mr. Regan

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

Mr. Milliones presented

Bill No. 299

Report of the Committee on Finance for February 14, 1990 transmitting one resolution to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 91

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution authorizing the City to incur Lease Rental Debt in the amount of $14,000,000.00 by entering into an Equipment Lease with City of Pittsburgh Equipment Leasing Authority at annual rentals in varying amounts which will be sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on the Authority's Equipment Revenue Bonds, Series of 1990, the proceeds of which will be used to pay the cost of acquiring equipment and paying financing costs relating to that series; approving the form of lease and authorizing execution of the official statement relating to the Authority's Bonds."

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like my comments brought forward from the Standing Committee Meeting.

(REMARKS ON FOLLOWING PAGES)

(BEGINNING - MICHELLE MADOFF'S COMMENTS ON BILL NO. 91, WEDNESDAY, 2/14/90)

Michelle Madoff:

Discussion. Would you like me to explain the bond issue first?

The Chair:

No, just ask your question please.

Michelle Madoff:

Have we decided on the interest rate?

Dir. Hayllar:

Yes. As you know it changes for each year, the rate, but the average rate is 6.32583.

Michelle Madoff:

So in the Year 2000 it will be 6.5?

Ms. Botsford:

It doesn't go out that far.

Dir. Hayllar:

If you look on Page 14 of the report that was submitted, the blue report, you will notice the maturity and the rates for each year.

Michelle Madoff:

In light of interest rates in the marketplace today do you think you'll have any problem selling them

Dir. Hayllar:

They're ordered.

Michelle Madoff:

So this is a done deal.

Ms. Botsford:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

It doesn't matter at this point what happens, we have the commitment.

Dir. Hayllar:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

Was this a negotiated or competitive?

Dir. Hayllar:

It was negotiated choice for the underwriting team.

Michelle Madoff:

You invited only City of Pittsburgh persons, companies including the one that was left out and they were people who had the underwriting capacity located in the City of Pittsburgh who had underwriting capacity and they were invited and it was not competitive amongst those invited, it was negotiated amongst those that were invited.

Dir. Hayllar:

Yes, and given the events of yesterday, the wisdom of being able to choose your team was borne out. The major event in the financial world is the bankruptcy -- yesterday when they were getting orders for the $14 million in bonds, the market was beyond sluggish, it was not moving and everybody was sitting looking at their ticker tapes waiting to see what Drexell-Berman was going to do; the bonds weren't moving. And because of the underwriting team of W.R. Lazard, they made the necessary adjustments late in the day to sell the bonds without having to raise the interest rates so this is a very commendable action, it's not necessarily the kind of action you are going to get unless you have teams that you have faith in and that are willing to make that sacrifice. They sacrificed their own income to do the deal for us.

Michelle Madoff:

I don't question that, it's a $14 million bond and that puts them in the position for the next $100 million bond and it may be good business for them to absorb based on events taking place in the marketplace. But, on the other hand there is nothing to say that had you not gone with some other competitive bid, the same thing could not have held true from a Merrill Lynch or anybody so that's rhetoric, I disagree.

Dir. Hayllar:

Drexell-Berman may well have won the bid and we would have been in big trouble.

Michelle Madoff:

But you could have had the same problem if the company that you are deciding to go with had problem and you're saying you investigated them and you felt they were good.

I can't imagine you would have gone with a company that had junk bonds anyway. They've had this problem pending for a long time but it just erupted yesterday. This is not a new situation.

Dir. Hayllar:

As we have said, bidding the underwriters appropriate in certain circumstances and in this particular circumstance we felt that it was in the best interest of the City to have a competitive process that allowed us to negotiate and choose our underwriter and we are delighted with the results and the turmoil of yesterday's markets and our ability to come through with an interest rate that is low and in comparing as you can see on Page 16 of your report with other related issues, we are in excellent shape.

Michelle Madoff:

I think you did a good job on the bond but I also think that it would not have been any different had you gone out to a competitive bond with a good company that was a reliable company that did not have the kind of problems they had. I just don't believe in ever going to a negotiated bid.

The Chair:

Do you have a specific question?

Michelle Madoff:

Yes. What is the blue sheet showing for the day on that bid?

Dir. Hayllar:

On Page 16 you will find comparables.

Michelle Madoff:

Is there any higher or any lower?

Dir. Hayllar:

There's East Stroudsburg Area School District that is lower but as you know school districts are in a state of virtual guarantee by the State of Pennsylvania.

Michelle Madoff:

So other than the school districts --

Dir. Hayllar:

-- no.

Michelle Madoff:

We're not higher -- we're not paying more basis points.

Dir. Hayllar:

No.

Michelle Madoff:

That was the point I was going to make.

Again as I said, I think Council needs to be aware that I am not just speaking to be heard. The problem with the difference between negotiated and competitive bonds and we're trying to get some of the studies that were done by the federal government and we applied for them is that almost universally, competitive bonds come in much higher and cost the ratepayers a great deal of money.

The Chair:

I think the entire Council is aware of your views.

Michelle Madoff:

I just want to be sure that we watch for that in the future.

The Chair:

Do you have another question?

Michelle Madoff:

I'm through.

The Chair:

Mr. Cohen.

Michelle Madoff:

One question. The bid is now going to go to a minority firm.

Dir. Hayllar:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

Is that the same gentleman who was legal counsel when I was on the Leasing Authority got him into the red book so that they would have the opportunity to bid?

Dir. Hayllar:

I don't believe so, no.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm glad to see minorities getting into the red book because without being in the red book -- I'm almost sure that's what happened.

Mr. Cohen:

No questions.

(END OF COMMENTS)

PREPARED BY: MARY ANNE HRUSKA, STENOTYPE REPORTER

The Chair:

Mr. Ferio	Mr. Ricciardi
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Wagner

(Pres't Pro tem)

Mr. Darkins:

Mr. President and Members of Council, this is a great honor today as far as I'm concerned because Mr. Franklin Henry is a giant in our community. And if there's anyone a tribute should be made to in the month of Black History, he is much deserving.

Mr. Henry:

I'd like to thank Councilman Darkins and, of course, City Council for this honor. But I really accept it because of the staff and the volunteers and, really, the community, the main community that we serve in the Hill District which is so much in need and makes it easy day in and day out to really come to work because it's of an unselfish nature. So, I thank you and God's speed to all of you.

Mr. Darkins moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

The Chair:

Would Mr. Ferlo present this next resolution for all members of Council?

Mr. Ferlo:

I'd like the representatives of JUST HARVEST to come up here. I see Joni Rabinowitz and Ken Regal. I believe all of my colleagues were asked by this advocacy group to sponsor this resolution.

Members of Council present

No. 349 WHEREAS, National School Breakfast Week, as part of National Nutrition Month, occurs this year from March 5-11, 1990; and

WHEREAS, breakfast programs can increase educational achievement, improve child health, decrease classroom disruptions and discipline problems, and improve school attendance; and

WHEREAS, many children do not have a healthy breakfast before coming to school despite evidence that concentrating more calories early in the day at breakfast, results in better weight control and better health; and

WHEREAS, a recent Boston study shows that the National School Breakfast Program actually improves students' academic performance; and

WHEREAS, a U.S. Department of Agriculture study of child nutrition programs, the National Evaluation of School Nutrition Programs (1983) revealed that many more students would eat a nutritious morning meal if one were provided in their school; and

WHEREAS, the Pittsburgh School District now serves about 5500 breakfasts a day to hungry children, which is 1600 more children than they were serving last year; and

WHEREAS, Congress, the Pennsylvania State Government, and over 100 national organizations have placed a priority on seeing that hungry children eat breakfast.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh wants each child to have the opportunity to reach her potential while starting the day with a nutritious breakfast and encourages all parents and children in the school district to take advantage of the programs in their schools; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that City Council commends JUST HARVEST for their advocacy work over the past three years towards bringing the National School Breakfast Program to Pittsburgh and to Allegheny County.

Mr. Ferlo moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ricciardi seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. President, Joni Rabinowitz and Ken Regal are here from just Harvest. They've been here many times before. This Council, I think, has been very progressive over the last five years in particular in supporting not only the School Breakfast Program but other advocacy programs in this City that directly relate to the issue of hunger. So, at this time I'd like to ask Joni or Ken to just say a few words.

Ms. Rabinowitz:

Thank you, Jim, and Members of Council. We're very happy to be here and to receive this proclamation on behalf of all the school children in Pittsburgh and the country. I think it's really significant that Council has chosen to present this as a joint resolution from all of you because we do believe that all of you do have similar concerns for the health and nutrition of our school children.

Right now, just for your information, we are working with a couple of school districts in the County, most particularly Northgate School District which, by the way, last night voted down a School Breakfast Program 7-2. They voted that they did not want a School Breakfast Program in Northgate School District, but we're hopeful that we can move forward on that and we ask your help in whatever way you can provide it. There are 21 districts now in Allegheny County that have a School Breakfast and we're hoping that in the next couple of years we can make that 100 percent throughout the County.

So, again, thank you for your support and your continued support and we will be talking to you further. Thank you very much.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Mr. Milliones:

This is a resolution commending the Free South African Movement, specifically Nelson Mandela.

Mr. Milllones presents

No. 350 WHEREAS, many anti-apartheid organizations and Pittsburghers Against Apartheid (PAA), itself a coalition of approximately 30 community organizations, mobilized to remove the South African Consulate from Pittsburgh in March, 1983; and

WHEREAS, these organizations picketed that Consulate and certain establishments selling the Kruggerand until both ceased to do business in Pittsburgh; and

WHEREAS, Pittsburghers lobbied the city government, the school board and the University of Pittsburgh to divest from South Africa and identified with the black South African struggle for freedom led by Nelson Mandela; and

WHEREAS, on Sunday, February 11, 1990, Nelson Mandela, after 27 years, was unconditionally released from Victor Verster Prison in Paarl, South Africa; and

WHEREAS, Nelson Mandela, in 1944 along with Oliver Tambo and Walter Sisulu formed the African National Congress Youth League; and

WHEREAS, Nelson Mandela, along with Oliver Tambo, formed the first black law partnership in South Africa, and during the same time period were arrested and charged under the Suppression of Communism Act; and

WHEREAS, Nelson Mandela, in December 1956, was one of 156 political leaders arrested and charged with high treason; and

WHEREAS, Nelson Mandela, in March 1961, along with his co-defendants, was acquitted in the reason case after a four and a half year trial; and

WHEREAS, Nelson Mandela, living as a fugitive in January 1962, was smuggled across the boarder in order to make a surprise appearance at the Pan-African Freedom Movement Conference in Ethiopia; and

WHEREAS, Nelson Mandela, in August 1962, was captured and charged with inciting unrest and leaving the country illegally; and

WHEREAS, Nelson Mandela, while serving a five year prison sentence, helplessly saw the South African police raid the African National Congress underground headquarters where documents outlining a planned guerrilla campaign were found; and

WHEREAS, Nelson Mandela, in October 1963, along with eight other co-defendants, is sentenced to life imprisonment; and

WHEREAS, Nelson Mandela, despite his imprisonment, continued to fight both white and black dominations, preserved the ideal of a democratic and free society in which all persons live together in harmony and with equal opportunity; and

WHEREAS, Nelson Mandela lived for this ideal, but if need be, was prepared to die for this purpose.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh gives honor and praise to the life, leadership and continued works of Nelson Mandela.

Mr. Milllones moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Milliones:

I just wanted to say that Pittsburghers, particularly, were very much involved in the South African struggle, as you recall, and in 1983 I think was one of the cities that was in the forefront of supporting the liberation of South Africa. I wanted to state that for the Record. Thank you.

Mr. Cohen:

Mr. President, I just wanted to take a moment to commend Councilman Milliones for this resolution and say that I think it's both ironic and tragic that Mr. Mandela had to give up over 27 years of his life so that the people of South Africa, Black and White, could be free and that Blacks in South Africa right now still do not have the right to live where they want, to go to school where they want, the right to vote. There's still a long way to go. But I wanted to commend Councilman Milliones for presenting this resolution.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. President, I'd like to add something to this resolution. I think it's certainly proper and fitting, not only due to Black History Month but, more importantly, due to the contributions of Mr. Mandela and certainly the events in South Africa. And while some in Pittsburgh may see this discussion as somewhat obscure or some may feel that the discussion is far off from South Africa and shouldn't occupy the discussion here in Council, I think we have a track record over the last six years in particular of this Legislative branch in government, the Administration, and in fact, the School Board under the leadership of Dr. Milliones passing very strong, important divestiture legislation which has been in effect for over five years now.

One thing that concerns me, and I want to speak out about this at this time, is that there are many, and certainly some of the editorial pundits who begin to write articles at this time, that now is the time for removing divestiture legislation from universities and from City governments. And now is exactly the time not to do that; in fact, it's in large measure because of the isolation, and certainly the economic isolation of South Africa, that we're at the point now where Mr. Mandela has indeed become a freer man but certainly not as free as he hopefully will be in the future when the ANC has full political rights in South Africa. So, I would say now is the time for us to even strengthen our earlier resolve and maintain the divestiture legislation that we have.

There was an article in the Sunday Press a week ago that talked about how over 550 companies have left South Africa and South Africa now, other than Argentina, has the worst credit rating and is pretty much internationally bankrupt, not only morally but also financially. And that, in large measure, has to do with the strong divestiture stand that this Council, the School Board and universities and municipalities took all over this Country. And I would say, let's maintain that resolve and let's maintain the struggle until minorities in South Africa have full political and human rights.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President and Members of Council, I don't know, Jack, whether you were here, but in 1983, this Council led the battle to get the Consulate out of here and stop the Krugerrands. I was here and I'm happy to be here to vote for this piece of legislation.

The Chair:

Thank you all.

Mr. Cohen for Mr. Coyne presented

Report of the Committee on Finance for February 14, 1990 transmitting sundry resolutions to Council.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 46

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for the issuance of a $753.42 warrant in favor of American Rent A Ride, Inc. in settlement of claim for automobile damage and providing for the payment thereof."

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

On Bill No. 46, I will stand firm on voting no for the reasons that we've got to stop this business of renting cars and abusing them and then saying, "Well, it was a long, hot summer and the kids couldn't help it and the wind was blowing." We're paying damage when we have vehicles that we can't keep and we've had absolute vandalism in other cases. We've got to stop this and I can't vote for it.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, on Michelle's point on Bill 46 which is the payment to the car company for damage on the summer work, one point is well taken. I have to vote for the bill since the damage already was incurred and we have an obligation to pay the bill. But there are a number of City departments that rent vans for as much as $800 a month, close to over $8000 a year, and it's a totally ridiculous situation. I asked Director Turner a year ago to look into that matter.

There's no reason why we should be renting a van at close to $10,000 a year when we could own it in a year and a half.

So, I would ask in approving this bill today that Operations Director, Mr. Turner, review that situation. I know the Water Department does that and possibly some others. That is just fiscally not sound and since we do have an Equipment Leasing Authority that can pay for the purchase of such vehicles over a long range period, we should review our needs and find out what's the best way to make payment. It may not, in fact, be the renting of vans at very high cost each month.

The Chair

Maybe we could use old police vans for the purpose.

Mr. Ferlo:

Anything.

Michelle Madoff:

That's what I've been saying for ten years.

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

On Bill No. 163, as you know, I requested that the bill be held so that I would have a chance to interact with the Finance Chairman, Mr. Ben Hayllar. I've reviewed this legislation with the Director of Finance, Mr. Hayllar, and we've agreed that the bill should be supported. However, I've asked the Director, and he's agreed, to submit additional legislation to increase the scope of services for delinquent bill collections so that we can increase collections that are delinquent taxes for the City.

What we're talking about is 5,000 small cases that have been backlogged coming out of the Legal Department that we really need to do something to get them moving. There is $1 million of earned income, wage tax, that must be collected, and $3.5 million in business privilege tax uncollected.

The new legislation will establish a trust fund into which the delinquent business and earned income taxes be deposited by the agency. It is from this trust fund that the agency will be paid. Bill 163 does not provide enough compensation to recover all the delinquent businesses and earned income taxes available to the City. My understanding is that this will only deal with backlog, not the ongoing business. As of today, over $1 million is uncollected and delinquent earned income tax of $3.5 million and various delinquent business taxes that should be collected by, in this case, we're going to an outside agency.

I'm asking that you support, and I agree with Ben, we ought to go with Bill 163 so that we can get on with starting the collection of our bills. There will be an amendment or a more comprehensive bill in the next few weeks, but we don't want to delay starting to collect our taxes.

This does not address the somewhere between $3 and $18 million and probably as an educated guess, I would say $5 million of the Water Department uncollected. It does not address the fact that 30 percent of the water bill payers, and they're not the little people, they pay, the people on social security pay and the little widows are paying. Thirty percent of the people are delinquent. It doesn't address that and my understanding is that it will not address the ongoing collection of new bills that become delinquent in the tax issue.

I see no reason for us to be paying away one-third to an agency. I don't have a problem, and we should have Mr. Hayllar here to give his viewpoint, but I would like to get some of this long-standing, three, four, five years, delinquent of the small claims that are sitting in the Law Department.

And that brings us to the major issue. I find it amusing that finally people are beginning to see the light. What is the job of a Controller for the County? And we do pay County taxes. What is it? I suddenly found out that as a Controller, gee, people aren't paying their taxes. What is a Controller for if not to see that our taxes are paid? And that applies to the City tax collector, in essence, and that person, the Controller, really should be doing it.

I notice we've got an audit today that was submitted which is a fiscal audit. Fiscal audits only say, "Somebody brought in $10 and someone has a receipt that $10 was paid." The important thing is, what kind of performance audits are we seeing and that all ties in to this issue of tax collection.

So, I'm asking that we pass it today with the understanding that there will be other legislation. And I want you to understand how serious this tax collection is. It isn't just what we're seeing in the newspapers; that's only the tip of the iceberg.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

The Chair presents

No. 351 Resolution that the appointment by the Mayor of the following persons are hereby appointed and confirmed as a Member to the Board of Trustees of the Comprehensive Municipal Pension Trust Fund in accordance with Ordinance 25 of 1986: Jack Wagner, President of Pittsburgh City Council; and Mary Conturo, City Solicitor; to fill the unexpired term of prior members which will expire in 1991.

Which was read.

Also,

No. 352 Resolution appointing Dominic J. Cimino, 1200 Pocono Street, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania 15218 as a member of the Historic Review Commission for a term to expire December, 1992.

Which was read.

Also,

No. 353 Resolution appointing Jane Downing, 7716 Lyman Street, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania 15221 as a member of the Historic Review Commission for a term to expire December, 1992.

Which was read.

Mr. Ferlo moved to approve the appointments.

Mr. Coyne seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

On two other issues, Mr. President. Please, may I respectfully request that our leader, Mr. Wagner, please consult with the Administration to find out if they are planning to give us a new Water Department Director or whether, as it is rumored, it will fall under Mr. Sciulli who is now in Construction and Engineering and keep it altogether. It would not make me happy and I'd like to get some response. Would you check that out for us?

The Chair:

What I know is, as recent as yesterday they were interviewing candidates.

Michelle Madoff:

Well, can you stick a hatpin in them?

On another matter. I don't know what the proper procedure is but it would seem that perhaps we ought request our lobbyist, Chuck Kohling, to introduce an amendment to the Authority's act that would make it mandatory that anyone leaving government would also leave their appointed position on an authority. We've seen too much of that over the years. Over the ten years, I've seen a number of people, for one reason or another, not get re-elected or not run and still continue in their position on an authority. I think that's inappropriate and it locks the hands of the Administration and is not representative of this Council for which this whole legislation was initially instigated to give representation of the people to this authority.

As far as I'm concerned, there shouldn't be anybody, as you know my position in government, particularly in Council, who sits on an authority board. Maybe the Ethics Commission will agree with that when they come out with their final ruling. But meanwhile, I think we need to initiate some action that says we start taking the proper moves to change the procedure as it exists today. I don't know, maybe we could throw that open for discussion to see if anybody else has anything they care to add to that or if they disagree or agree.

Mr. Ferlo:

On this issue, since Michelle raised it, I feel very strongly that Mr. O'Malley, and certainly Mr. Pollock, should not be on the authorities. The only reason why they're there originally, and this is no disrespect to the two gentlemen, the only reason why they're there originally is because of their status and their position in City government, having been first an elected City Council member.

The whole intent of the Home Rule Charter is to have some networking between the Legislative Branch, the Executive Branch, and the various authorities which, as everybody in this room knows, have become governments unto themselves. The idea was to have Councilmembers who would regularly attend and be both a part of the political life of these authorities and these commissions as much as just the Administrative and Legislative activities that they get involved in. So, it defeats the whole purpose.

As a courtesy, if nothing else, Mr. Pollock and Mr. O'Malley should resign because they're really there in a bogus fashion. They should not be on these authorities and I would certainly call on them to voluntarily resign. Unfortunately, they were appointed to specific terms that take on a life of their own as a member of an Authority. In Mr. Pollock's case I believe it's until '93, and in Mr. O'Malley's case I'm really not familiar but I think it's until next year, if I'm not mistaken. Really, these gentlemen, by their own accord, should voluntarily resign, if for no other reason than as a political and professional courtesy to the Mayor who ultimately is held politically accountable.

One of the beefs I've had about the Housing Authority is, if nothing else, the Mayor should be afforded the opportunity to make her appointments to these various boards and commissions and authorities with the advice and consent of Council. That should be her prerogative. When she's running for office, or anybody else is running for office, we're going to hold them politically accountable for whatever problems exist in the Housing Authority or Alcosan or the Water Department or anywhere else and, at the same time, you can't tie your hands. She should be able to have representation of her own choosing and, in keeping with the intent of the Charter, Councilmembers, every one of them here, all nine of us, should have an opportunity and privilege to serve on one of the important authorities. And again I would issue that call.

Michelle's point is well-taken. There is a couple ways we could do this. We could ask a friendly State Legislator and working with Mr. Kohling and the Mayor to amend the Municipal's Authority Act to specifically put that in there. On a tactical level, it would also behoove the Mayor in the future to think about the appointments and possibly not appoint a Councilmember for any greater time than what their term is either on Council or whatever his or her term is, whoever the Mayor is. That's another way, on a tactical level, to do it.

But I would support a motion to communicate to Mr. Kohling on this issue in terms of the Authority's Act, if Michelle wants to make it.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to make it. I would like to make a motion that we have our letter go to the Law Department investigating and reporting back to this Council within a week, what is the proper procedure. One, of course, is to ask all Mayors or try to amend that part of the Code that says that they respectfully don't appoint anybody, and they can reappoint them if they're re-elected, longer than their term. And secondly, what is the legal procedure to bring about this change, to investigate and report back to us.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

The Chair:

I would like to add one item to the motion, to the City's Clerk's memo, that Council be informed as to which appointments specifically are totally within the jurisdiction of the Mayor and which ones need confirmation of Council within all authorities. For instance, Mr. Regan being appointed today was the appointment of the Mayor. So, therefore, we need a clarification on that also.

Mr. Coyne:

Mr. Chairman, I would just think that the Administration has a solution itself when it's appointing people --

Michelle Madoff:

And when we second or approve, we would say no if the person is appointed for longer than the term of their office.

The Chair:

If I may just interject, the problem is that many times the person's term of office does not correspond with the vacancy on the authority, such as Mr. Regan today. Consequently, the Mayor would have the authority to remove any member where she has the total authority to appoint, if their term of office expires. And that may be the case with two previous Councilmembers.

Mr. Cohen:

I just want to make sure I have a correct understanding of this motion. This motion is to call for the Law Department to do an interpretation of the Municipal Authority's Act and to lay out the options available to the Mayor, is that right?

Michelle Madoff:

In addition to the Authority's Act. There may be some other route, such as our approval of Council and such as the Mayor automatically not appointing anybody longer than their term. But we have another problem. What happens if somebody unexpectedly gets into trouble and has been appointed with good faith for the length of their term and then it's inappropriate for them to serve. We have to address that. They could still continue to serve.

Mr. Cohen:

I'll support this motion if that's what it is, an interpretation of the Act and not --

Michelle Madoff:

Exactly. Let's find out before we move, but my intention is to stop this nonsense.

The Chair:

It's an informational-type of motion.

Mr. Cohen:

Okay.

The Chair:

All those in favor? Opposed?

WHICH MOTION PREVAILED.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. President, on another matter, since we're talking about authorities. I just wanted to report very briefly that the last Housing Authority Board Meeting, after two and a half years of requesting by this City Council, two things we've done. First of all, the Authority, at my motion, passed the Residency Requirement, the same requirement that was a part of Council legislation over two years ago. So, as of any future hirings at the Housing Authority, people must be domiciled in the City of Pittsburgh as a resident.

Secondly, also at previous Council action, the Authority Board approved a working cooperation with a performance audit being conducted by the City Controller. The Board of the Housing Authority as well as the staff will be involved with the Controller in finding what the scope of services will be. That is, what other things that the Controller will be looking at and evaluating. And I would ask all Councilmembers to please communicate to me if there are specific programmatic or financial or administrative actions at the Housing Authority that we would like to specifically have included in the scope of services by the performance audit. So, please, let me know about that.

We also approved a motion that I made to basically sever ties and any relationship that we had with the former Director and, secondly, we also are proceeding with an outside legal firm to evaluate our options as it relates to recouping the so-called retirement and severance pay of $41,000 plus.

We're also going to be reviewing the bid process that's in place at the Authority. We're in the process of hiring the Executive Director. The job will be posted in the local newspapers by the week's end. Obviously, Councilmembers know qualified applicants and they should encourage them to apply for this position.

We're also establishing a Board orientation and training which will also include a tour of each one of the Housing Authority's communities. Some members are not that familiar with the operations of the Authority.

Lastly, but certainly not least, we accepted by motion, we voted to approve the City's criteria for evaluating the local banks. We have a similar kind of situation now where the Housing Authority, which is the largest authority both in terms of investments and depository accounts, will now be using the same process by which the City evaluates the local banking community in terms of their mortgage lending procedures. So, I think it's important that we added a large part of City government, it's operations, to a very important progressive policy that the Administration has initiated.

There were five members present at the Authority, including myself, including Ms. Turner and Petrell who were former members. All of these resolutions were approved unanimously

Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

The Chair:

Thank you, Mr. Ferlo, for that report.

I'd like to mention one issue briefly that all Councilmembers are aware of and may want to comment on. The Pittsburgh Office of the Census Bureau I know has contacted each Council office and is looking for approximately 1,000 people to work on the 1990 census. The jobs pay in the range of $6.00 to $6.50 per hour and will last for approximately six weeks. The Census Bureau is located in the Chamber of Commerce Building on Seventh Avenue in Downtown Pittsburgh, and the phone number is 394-7805.

I'm mentioning this simply because there are people out there who are looking for work and there are opportunities for employment. I would even ask the City Clerk to please communicate that information to the Bureau of Cable Communications and possibly we could have some advertisements on the Bureau indicating where people go to apply for these jobs.

Mr. Cohen:

I'm glad you brought that up. Our office has contacted community leaders to try to find people who will work on the census, but maybe this is an opportunity to repeat how important it is for everybody to be counted in the census because the number of people who are counted and the information that is gleaned from the census is directly related, as you know, and hopefully everybody out there will know, that it's directly related to the revenues that we could obtain from the County, from the State, and from the Federal Government. So, when you get your census form in the mail, please fill it out and send it back.

The Chair:

Thank you, Mr. Cohen.

Michelle Madoff moved to approve the Minutes of Tuesday, January 30, 1990 and Tuesday, February 6, 1990.

Mr. Darkins seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Coyne

Council adjourned.

PRESENTATIONS

The Chair:

We are going to divert from our regular order of business today. Instead of saying the Pledge of Allegiance, we are going to have that sung. Mr. Regan is going to introduce the group.

We are also going to have the National Anthem played after the Pledge of Allegiance.

Mr. Regan:

Mr. President, we are honored today to have Patricia Fisher who is the Principal of the Martin Luther King High School on the North Side --

Mr. Milliones:

Elementary School.

Mr. Regan:

Martin Luther King Elementary School, as Dr. Milliones, the former President of the School Board just told me.

We're honored with celebrating Black History Month and the tremendous contributions that Blacks have made, not only to the great country of America but the better place, the City of Pittsburgh.

I would like to have the choral group come up. Mr. President, you usually say the Pledge of Allegiance but these kids are a lot better than you, so I asked them to come over and sing the Pledge of Allegiance.

AT THIS POINT, THE PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE OF WAS SUNG.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Now we are going to have the National Anthem played by Mr. Harold Betters.

Mr. Regan:

Mr. Trombone himself and Mr. Pittsburgh of Music, Harold Betters is here to play the National Anthem.

The Chair:

And the group is going to sing along.

AT THIS POINT, THE NATIONAL ANTHEM WAS PLAYED.

The Chair:

Thank you, Mr. Betters.

Mr. Regan, is the group going to sing one last song for us?

Mr. Regan:

Yes. Would you sing one last rendition for us?

AT THIS POINT, SONGS WERE SUNG BY THE MARTIN LUTHER KING SCHOOL CHORUS.

Mr. Howard:

Thank you for inviting us to your Chambers to sing for you. We have a lot more songs but I know you're very busy. Thank you very much.

Mr. Regan:

Mr. President, I'd like to thank Mr. Howard and that great choral group from Martin Luther King Elementary School on the North Side. I think this is a great tribute to America to have these young people who are our future. If we treat them well, they'll treat the country well. Thank you.

The Chair:

I believe Mr. Darkins has a presentation to make to the young people.

Mr. Darkins:

We have candy for all the children. Thank you.

The Chair:

I'd also like to thank Mr. Harold Betters who is an institution in this town. I have been a fan of his for decades and I'm sure everyone else has also.

Mr. Regan:

You know, I felt good hearing those little children sing "Come on up to the front of the bus" because I've been in the back of the bus a lot of years myself. Just watch yourself, Mr. President, because I want to get up to the front of the bus like you someday.

PRESENTATIONS

Mr. Regan:

We're very honored today to have with us the greatest Running Back ever in the history of the National Football League. I only say the greatest Running Back in the history of the National Football League because when they made Pittsburgh the No. 1 City, the Most Liveable City in the United States, I think it was this man and the Pittsburgh Steelers and the Rooney family that made us the No. 1 City in the United States. I honestly believe that for the impact that they made on football and what they did for the City of Pittsburgh throughout the United States.

I only feel bad that Mr. Rooney, the Chief, isn't here today because he sure would have been proud of Franco being inducted into the Hall of Fame. It's a great tribute not only to the Steelers but to the City of Pittsburgh and the Country to have such a great man as Franco be inducted into the Hall of Fame.

We also have a resolution to read for Jack Lambert. He told me that he would be here. His wife is going to have a baby and I guess as tough as he was on the football field, he's not that tough when it comes to his wife.

I would like Dan Rooney, the President of the Pittsburgh Steelers, and Dan Edwards, the Publicity Director for the Pittsburgh Steelers, to come up here along with Sam Davis, the four-time Captain of the Pittsburgh Steelers Super Bowl Teams. Sam Davis has to be the most humble man I've ever met in my life. You here about all the great Running Backs, Franco, Terry Bradshaw, Lynn Swann, but this man they picked to be the Captain for four Super Bowl teams, so that has to tell you something about the character and what they thought about him. Also, Dwight White, I'd like you to come up here while I read this resolution into the history of the City of Pittsburgh honoring Franco Harris. Franco, come on up. Sam. Sam's a big concrete contractor so he had to come straight from work over here. He's usually all shined up.

Mr. Regan presents

No. 375 WHEREAS, Franco Harris has established an outstanding record of performance in the field of professional football; and

WHEREAS, Franco Harris has reached the epitome of accomplishment in his chosen profession by his election to the Professional Football Hall of Fame; and

WHEREAS, Franco is regarded by all who have witnessed his 13 years of high level performance as a player who has always rose to the great heights in important and crucial contests; and

WHEREAS, Franco Harris, always a team player, was revered and respected by his team mates and his opponents as a man whose quiet leadership and gentlemanly manner epitomized the term "professional"; and

WHEREAS, Franco Harris is recognized, not only as a great football player, but as a great humanitarian for his involvement in many charitable causes and for his devotion to his family and his adopted city; and

WHEREAS, Franco Harris is a man who will live forever in the hearts of Pittsburghers as a true example of what our City is about.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh commends Franco Harris for his successful football career in the Pittsburgh community, congratulates him on his induction in the Pro Football Hall of Fame, and acknowledges the contributions he has made in helping to make Pittsburgh the #1 Most Livable City in the Nation. "IT COULD ONLY HAPPEN IN AMERICA!"

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the week of February 25, 1990 be known as FRANCO HARRIS WEEK in the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Regan moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Regan:

See that? That's the only time we agreed in here, Franco, since I've been here.

I'd like Mr. Dan Rooney to come up and say a few words. The President of the Steelers. And I can't say how much the Rooney family has done for this City. We appreciate you coming, Dan.

Mr. Rooney:

Mr. President, Members of Council, it really is a pleasure to be here to help honor Franco and Jack Lambert. It really is an honor for the Steelers. We feel that everybody, all the Steelers, should have been there, but these two men, not only were they great football players, and as Baldy said, Franco was the greatest Running Back in the history of the National Football League, but they were great people. I think that's what made them and I think that's why they fit so well into the Steelers and the City of Pittsburgh.

It's also been a great pleasure to be here while you had the North Siders. Me being a North Sider and Franco being a North Sider, it was really a special honor to be here.

Thank you very much and congratulations, Franco.

Mr. Regan:

Franco, we're going to name this "Franco Harris Week" in the City of Pittsburgh. The Mayor has agreed to that so you're getting stronger every day.

Mr. Harris:

Mr. President and Members of Council, I'm kind of speechless. Baldy mentioned this to me and I really didn't know it was going to be such a formal presentation. I really thank you for putting this together because I know it's not easy a lot of times to do things like this.

The reason I feel very good about this is because, as I travel, I meet a lot of people but when things happen to you here at home it just makes you feel a little extra special.

And just thinking back, I'm not sure if people read that Sports Illustrated article about the development of the 1970 Steelers. It was quite interesting and it just brought back some memories about well, maybe I could almost have been in Dallas and Robert Newhouse could have been here. But, you know, fate works in certain ways and I was able to come to Pittsburgh even though at that time I wasn't very excited about coming here. But, as it turned out, I could not have been at a better place, at a better time, working for a better organization.

When you think about the Pittsburgh Steelers, I think you also think about the work they do around the community and that has to have the support of the organization. If you know the Rooney family and how they do give back to the community, I think that really set the pace for our athletes doing that sort of thing and, believe me, as I travel around the country, you don't find as many athletes doing it as you have here with the Pittsburgh Steelers. So, it's something to be very thankful for, that the organization is this way.

Also, I'd like to thank my teammates. As you know, Sam Davis is here. He was the Captain of our Offense. I ran behind him many times and because of that I was able to gain a lot of yards. And like Dwight White on our Defense, well, our Defense was so great that our Offense always had the ball. So that made it very easy. We had a great team, a very close team, and it was just a great experience.

To the people of Pittsburgh, what can I say? I still say that back in the early '70s that this town set the standard for fan participation with all the different groups, the Franco's Italian Army, the Jack Ham Dobreshunkas, Gerella's Gorillas, and all that kind of stuff. Then after that, other cities started doing things like that. But this City here is a City that started all that kind of fan enthusiasm and that helped us really get through the '70s.

I guess what I'm really saying is that it took a lot of things to put me up here today. I took a lot of things to work to put me up here. I just want to thank everybody for being a part of it and allowing me to be here and accepting this on behalf of everybody in the City of Pittsburgh.

Also, I do want to say, Dan, thank you very much for all the great years. I wish your father could be here too because that's where it all started. Thank you very much.

Mr. Regan:

Thank you very much, Franco. I'm glad you mentioned Franco's Italian Army because I want you to come back on Columbus Day. I'm going to have another one for you.

Mr. Regan presents

No. 376 WHEREAS, Jack Lambert came to our City as relatively unheralded and rose to become one of professional football's greatest linebackers; and

WHEREAS, Jack Lambert distinguished himself as a leader on a team recognized for top level performance; and

WHEREAS, Jack Lambert led his team to four Super Bowl Championships and helped the Pittsburgh Steelers to be recognized as the greatest football team in history; and

WHEREAS, Jack Lambert's athletic skills were surpassed only by his intensity, intelligence and desire to excel; and

WHEREAS, Jack Lambert, with his fierce competitive nature, would never let it be known that inside his combative exterior beat a heart of love and compassion for the poor and downrodden; and

WHEREAS, Jack Lambert has forsaken the accolades and glory that he truly deserves to devote his life to the improvement of our ecological life and to explore and enjoy his love of life in the outdoors; and

WHEREAS, Jack Lambert will always be known as a man who rose to the top level of performance as a member of Professional Football's Hall of Fame and yet, never lost his sense of perspective in striving to make a better life for all of us in a quiet and effective manner.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh commends Jack Lambert for his successful football career in the Pittsburgh community, congratulates him on his induction into the Pro Football Hall of Fame, and acknowledges his contributions in helping to make Pittsburgh the #1 Most Liveable City in the Nation. "IT COULD ONLY HAPPEN IN AMERICA!"

Mr. Regan moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Cohen seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Regan:

I'd like to present this to Dan Rooney. I appreciate you accepting this on behalf of Jack Lambert.

Mr. Rooney:

Thank you.

Mr. Regan:

Thanks for coming, Dan. I appreciate it. I know how busy you are.

Franco, the Pittsburgh Steelers will always love you and the fans of Pittsburgh can never thank you enough.

Dwight White, they used to call him Mad Dog, but he's as gentle as a lamb.

Sam Davis. If you need any concrete on your sidewalks, Sam's in the concrete business.

Thanks alot for coming. We appreciate it.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Mr. Ferlo:

Excuse me. I'd like the Chairman to recognize the new Mayor of the City of Wilksburg, Mayor Bob Pitts. I'd like to congratulate him on his victory. He's going to be a great Mayor.

The Chair:

Thank you. Glad to have you here.

Mr. Regan:

Now, I'd like to honor some good friends of mine on behalf of the City of Pittsburgh and this great United States in honor of Black History Month. It's a great tribute, the contributions they have made to this City of Pittsburgh and the great Country of America.

He's extremely outstanding in music. I'd like Harold Betters to come up here, please. Stand right here, Harold, so they can see you. The places you play in sometimes, you really couldn't see that well.

Mr. Regan presents

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh does hereby commend Harold Betters for this positive influence, leadership, and commitment both to the City of Pittsburgh and to the field of music. "IT COULD ONLY HAPPEN IN AMERICA!"

Mr. Regan moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Darkins seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Betters:

This is very heartfelt and I really appreciate it. I'd like to say that I've been a part of Pittsburgh for the last 40 years and I've been very fortunate to work with some very fine Pittsburghers, that was the Rooney family, the Galbreaths, and even the late Mayor Caliguiri. This has been a great City for sports, for music, a lot of wonderful people, and humanitarian changes and I'm glad to be part of the humanitarian changes here for my people of Black history.

So, I just want to thank everyone and Council for making it possible for me to receive this award. Thank you very much.

Mr. Regan:

Thank you very much and good luck to you.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Mr. Regan:

I thought I'd be remiss in my duties as a City Councilman of the City of Pittsburgh if I didn't honor, along with Council, two great Black men that we serve with. The first one is Councilman Duane A. Darkins. Would you please come up, Bishop?

Mr. Regan presents

My wife, who stands here to my left, she is my backbone at the Institute. I have here today my family, my three daughters, my youngest son, my play daughter, my sister-in-law, and one of our great musical rising stars, and also our Administrative Assistant. On behalf of all of these people, we would like to thank you very kindly and we hope to continue this tradition as the years come. Thank you very much.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Darkins:

I am so proud of you and so glad that you were able to come, not only as a minority but as a woman, to receive this award in Black History Month. And these roses are from us to you. It says, "Give me my flowers while I can smell them."

Dr. Lillie:

President and Members of City Council, it is indeed an honor for me to accept this award. As I accept the award, however, somehow or another I feel that it really should be Rob Penny standing here because it was a vision of Rob Penny in the early '60s who gave me the proper perspective on Black life and the Black experience and provided me with, I suppose, over 20 vehicles for me to develop the notion of Black theatre as the concept that is used here in the City of Pittsburgh.

I can assure you, I am a native of Houston, Texas, and I'm extremely proud of that world. But I came to Pittsburgh and I found another home and I will continue, as long as I can, to present those kinds of images and to fight those kinds of battles that will say that I am indeed alive and this world is mine too. And I will not relinquish a single piece of ground to any man. Thank you.

Mr. Darkins:

Mr. President, I would just like it to be a part of the Record that we're so glad that you have extended this opportunity for all of the colleagues of City Council and this time has been taken out of our busy agenda to commemorate and talk about Black History Month. I think, Jack Wagner, that's the thing that I saw in you that had me to vote for you to be the President of City Council.

The Chair:

Thank you, Councilman Darkins.

I have one final resolution; I'd like to ask Mr. Meyer Berger to step forward to receive it. It's an honor to have Mr. Berger with us here today. His friends commonly refer to him as Micky. Many of you know him; he's the Chairman of the MAGLEV Task Force created by the Governor and he also is the coordinator of the MAGLEV Working Group.

This is an extremely important resolution in terms of economic development opportunities in the City of Pittsburgh.

The Chair presents

No. 384 WHEREAS, the City of Pittsburgh, the Pittsburgh metropolitan area and every major metropolitan area in America is experiencing "Grid Lock" or maximum capacity of traditional forms of transit such as cars, buses and airlines; and,

WHEREAS, a new high speed ground transportation technology has been developed and demonstrated, known as Magnetic Levitation (MAGLEV), which can transport people and cargo at speeds up to 300 MPH in a safe and efficient manner; and,

WHEREAS, Carnegie Mellon University's High Speed Ground Transportation Center and the MAGLEV Working Group has determined that the magnetic levitation technology provides the best opportunity for an alternative high speed ground transportation system to help solve the growing national transportation problem; and,

WHEREAS, the MAGLEV Working Group has determined through a preliminary feasibility study that a demonstration project linking Downtown to Pittsburgh International Airport, manufactured in Pittsburgh, could establish Pittsburgh as the supplier for future North American Markets; and,

WHEREAS, establishing Pittsburgh as a manufacturing site of MAGLEV Technology represents the birth of a new industry that would create thousands of jobs in high technology, skilled manufacturing, construction and service industries for the Pittsburgh region.

NOW, THEREFORE, IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh commends the MAGLEV Working Group for their accomplishments to date and encourages and supports the implementation of a demonstration project between Downtown Pittsburgh and the Pittsburgh International Airport and the establishment of Pittsburgh as the manufacturing base for Magnetic Levitation Technology.

Mr. Milliones moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

The Chair:

Mr. Berger, it's an honor to have you here today. Obviously, the purpose is for this Council to officially support this technology. This past Friday there was a major news conference. Several Councilmembers were at the news conference. We all know what has happened. We've read in the newspapers over the weekend how significant this project can be to Pittsburgh. It can really be a replacement industry for the Steel Industry.

We appreciate all you work, all your efforts in this project. We would like you to say a few words, but prior to doing that, I simply want to wish Mr. Berger a Happy Birthday. Today is his birthday.

Mr. Berger:

Thank you, Mr. President. What you're doing here is very timely. It keeps our momentum going. And I think you'll see that happening in the years to come. We're off to a running head start. And I know from your resolution that you really have hit the high points and that this will be the center of a manufacturing industry which will affect all of North America.

Let's look at it, for a moment, just focusing on a Pittsburgh aspect. Number one, you pointed out that the genesis, this thing was generated by Carnegie University. Carnegie Mellon University is the think tank which got this thing going. You want to keep that in mind while we're all deliberating about what we do about the universities. This is a great contribution that they have made and we are now taking it over. We civilians are now taking it over in the business element and we're going to make it a joint City and business project. You'll hear more about that as time goes on.

One of the things it does is relieve some of the pressure on the Greater Airport end of this County which is beginning to sink because of all the stuff that has been put on it, all the new tax sources, all the jobs, and we're going to bring a lot of action to this side of the County. The Downtown Airport will be right here, and that will create tremendous activity, a great number of jobs, and will change the face of Pittsburgh. That's the thing to watch.

Finally, I want to mention something that those of you who were at the press conference saw, and that is that the Japanese have come in offering to play a role in this. And what they have said is that we want to show, the United States, that we want to do for them what they did for us in rebuilding our infrastructure at the end of the war. So, it's not just a business proposition but it's a good will, good neighbor and good PR for the Japanese. They originally had planned to make this proposal in New York where they said in Manhattan if you want to get to LaGuardia or Kennedy or New Jersey, you can't get there from here. On a busy day it's a real problem. Their concept was to start this in New York but we quickly refocused them on Pittsburgh. What they said was, "Ah, yes." Pittsburgh is well-known in Japan. It's the City which reconstitutes itself. That's the image we have there. The birth of the Steel Industry and the City which reconstitutes itself. And once again, we're going to prove that we can do it and it's on the way.

We thank you very much for the help you've given us. Thank you.

Mr. Cohen:

I want to commend Council President Wagner for this resolution because I think that it sends a strong message and enthusiastic stamp of approval for this MAGLEV program and one that really can, I think, bring a new industry to the City of Pittsburgh.

But I also want to take this moment to say that I think that Micky Berger is the most appropriate person to receive this resolution, the most appropriate Pittsburgher, because of his great contributions to this City and to the Country from his leadership in the civil rights movement and President of the ADA. Mr. Berger's really progressive vision for Pittsburgh and for the Country has really inspired many of us, including me personally. And I think that in order for Pittsburgh to move forward, we have to think big and Micky Berger is a big thinker. I'm glad that we have him.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, you've covered all the high points but there's one that I think could be added. The reason that we don't have an anchor client or an anchor business down on Second Avenue, a high-tech center, is that they have no access to the Airport. That's what is holding us up. If we get some action going to the Airport, that will turn this whole City around. That's an area we forgot to mention.

The Chair:

Thank you, Mr. Berger, for being here.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Mr. Ferlo presents

No. 89 Supplementing Rule X of the Rules of Council which will provide for informational meetings to be included in the Wednesday Standing Committees agenda.

Which was read.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, the rule change as I have proposed that has been discussed in the past, there's not majority support on this Council to enact it. There might be some other vehicle to achieve what I want which is basically to enable some of the post agenda sessions to be televised. But, more importantly, in this amendment to have other items be added on the Wednesday session to allow a broader discussion with Department Directors and other important individuals in the City on important issues confronting Council. So, I would just ask that we vote the question up or down.

Michelle Madoff:

For the sake of repeating myself, I think it's important to point out that after being here longer than anyone else, other than Mike Perry, and I think he would probably be very honest and would have to agree that the gut of what happens in Council does not happen in the Tuesday or Wednesday meeting. It happens at the hearings; it happens at the post agendas. That's when the public really finds out what is going to happen and I think at some point there has to be a vehicle to include that kind of information for the public to have access as the public's right to know.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

omissions. It was under Section S-22, waiving the need for the Controller's assistance to fall under Civil Service and that we waived the right, we have have objected to during budget hearing, to having certain people be exempt from the Civil Service regulations.

I just want to point out, in the old days of patronage on this Council when we, as Councilmembers, each took our turn in being able to choose someone to fill a need for Mike Perry's staff, when it came my turn what I said to Mike, and he'll substantiate it, was, "Mike, send them down to Civil Service. Make sure they can at least do the job, and you pick the person." I have no problem with anyone picking the person if they can do the job.

I don't believe that these people would pass the Civil Service test. And if they would, let them go take it.

I'm going to vote against this bill because we were not given the facts. I'm distressed that this slipped by me. I have to take responsibility for not going through this with a fine tooth comb. It was a rather lengthy number of items where they shifted items around. I thought, as it was stated to us, the annual corrections and errors, omissions, deletions are just little bookkeeping items. And they're not just little bookkeeping items.

So, I just want you to know, I did speak with all of you. You have to make your own decision on it.

The Chair:

Bill No. 317

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution amending Res. No. 963, effective Dec. 15, 1989, entitled 'Authorizing the issuance of a warrant in favor of Louis Viglione Contracting, Inc., in the amount of Fifty Four Thousand Eight Hundred Dollars and Twenty Three Cents ($54,800.23) in payment for Extra Work furnished for the benefit of the City in connection with the renovations of Fifth Avenue with a 3-1/2" concrete overlay without previous authority of law; and providing for the payment thereof,' by adjusting the cost of the project to the appropriate accounts."

Which was read.

Mr. Cohen:

Mr. President, with respect to Bill 317 involving the construction of the Fifth Avenue Bus Lane, you had expressed some objections to this bill last Wednesday and I want to just echo those objections this morning. The bill involves the reconstruction of the Fifth Avenue Bus Lane and the City is paying $50,000 and Port Authority is paying $4,000.

I'm not going to vote against this bill because this contract, apparently, has already been struck. But I'd like to send a message to the City to do a better job in negotiating. It seems to me that since the bus lane really is under the egress of the Port Authority that we could have done a better job negotiating this and resulted in a way that we would have to pay much less of this. I'd like to see it at least be a 50-50 split but, because this contract has already been struck, I won't vote against it but I do want to ask that the City do a better job negotiating these in the future.

The Chair:

Thank you, Mr. Cohen, for echoing my feelings.

Also,

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution amending Resolution No. 500, effective June 23, 1989, entitled, 'Providing for the letting of a Contract or Contracts for the furnishing and delivery of motorized fire equipment for the Department of General Services, and providing for the payment thereof,' by increasing the total project allocation by $660,000 Dollars from $1,302,000 to $1,962,000."

Which was read.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. President and Members of Council, on Bill 229 which amends a resolution of Council from last year, that resolution being the authorization of $1,302,000 for the issuing of specifications and bid procedures for the purchase of, at that time it was six, fire pumper trucks. This resolution comes back to us with an increase of $660,000 supposedly because they want to now, all of a sudden, desire to purchase additional pumper trucks in the amount greater than the initial six that we gave them authorization for.

This bill really represents, and from what I understand the process to be, another example of the Administration botching up bid specifications which they continually seem to have a problem properly bidding for major equipment purchases, specifically fire trucks. Many on this Council are not fully appreciative of similar crises that evolved on the purchase of the tiller fire trucks that have become, basically, white elephants in the City that required thousands of dollars of retrofitting and still are not properly the kind of vehicle that we want in the Fire Department.

This is another example of bid specifications being done poorly and improperly. Bids were let out. Several other companies bid. The lowest responsible bidder was not honored. For some reason, I am suspect of the whole bidding procedure and I would ask the Administration to go back to the drawing board to seek some professional help and whatever else they need to do to begin to reconstruct a proper bidding procedure. We have vendors in this country that will no longer do business with the City because the basic attitude has developed, "Well, forget about doing business with the City; either they're going to botch up the bid or somebody's got the inside track or one thing after another." That's got to stop.

There are over 50 companies that produce pumper trucks; only four bid. One was the lowest responsible bidder. Somebody has the inside track, as far as I'm concerned, on these pumper trucks. Same thing with the tiller truck, and I think that's the Pierce Company. If there's some reason why Pierce should have these trucks, then just design the bid so they're going to get the bid in the first place. Don't carry on this shenanigan and this charade and then throw all the bids out and then come back to Council under the guise of, "Well, we now want to purchase more pumper trucks so we have to amend the legislation to give us the new authorization."

I'm saying that the whole thing is suspect and the whole thing better be investigated by somebody in the Administration. I can't understand why some of these vendors, and I appreciate the sensitive nature and the predicament they're in, nobody really wants to take the City on, nobody really wants to talk publicly about the problem, nobody really wants to initiate a lawsuit. But as far as I'm concerned, the whole thing stinks. I think the Director is incompetent as it relates to bidding the work properly as it relates to the purchase of pumper trucks, and I think somebody in the Administration better start looking at this situation.

I'm all in favor, obviously, of purchasing this equipment, but I'm voting no in principal on this authorization. They already have the authorization to purchase the six and I'll bet $100 that the Pierce Company mysteriously wins the next bid. That's $100, it's on the public record, and I'd like to have that so noted.

Michelle Madoff:

With all due respect to my colleague, and I know what he's referring to, I think it would be inappropriate to vote on that bill today. I think we should have the Fire Chief and the Purchasing Department be here and define or respond to what was said here today before we vote on that bill. I don't think it would be fair to the public. I make that as a motion.

Mr. Darkins seconded the motion.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman and members of Council, on Bill 282 regarding the $20,000 payment to the University of Pittsburgh for the Shakespeare Festival, if William Shakespeare were alive today he certainly would be the kind of guy who would want to sit in the local pub and have a slug and a mug. But the University really does not need this money. We're going after the Universities for taxes and other kinds of contributions that we feel are warranted to City government. We're also talking about an Administration that now is saying that they'll never reach the budgeted number of police officers and they're talking about major problems associated with providing public safety to the Regatta and to the Three Rivers Arts Festival and other kinds of events.

It's totally a contradiction as far as I'm concerned and a lack of appreciation for what our priorities should be to give this money to the theater group at the University for the Shakespeare Festival which basically amounts to going up to Flagstaff Hill and making it available to all the suburbanites as well as some City residents.

I love the activity and I think it's great that people go to the Shakespeare Festival. I just don't believe the University should receive a $20,000 contribution from the City. If we want to do something for theater, let's continue to do things like we did today granting a neighborhood based theater group in Lawrenceville some money so they can put their building together which is falling apart and let's bring some theater and culture to some low income and minority individuals who I think deserve an opportunity. We gave a very little amount of money to the Homewood Art Museum.

Let's really talk about priorities. As far as I'm concerned, giving the big old University $20,000 for the Shakespeare Festival is misguided and I certainly will be voting no on this appropriation, with all due respect to William Shakespeare.

Mr. Ferlo presents

No. 385 Resolution approving the reappointment of Joan Ivey, 1368 N. Sheridan Street, Pittsburgh, PA 15206 as a Member of the City of Pittsburgh Historic Review Commission for the unexpired three year term, which will expire December 31, 1991.

Which was read.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. President, I'd like to make a motion to invite these individuals to a Wednesday session prior to a final vote on them.

Mr. Cohen seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

The Chair:

Mr. Darkins has a motion on Parks and Recreation. Is that a formal motion?

Mr. Darkins:

Yes, I'd like to read this into the Record.

This morning I am pleased to acknowledge an office that I did not realize played a role in making contributions to Black History Month observance for the residents of the City of Pittsburgh.

Since 1988, they have supported many events including Pro-journalist essays, African Drum and Dance Assemblies, community marketing classes and original dramatic productions and a City-wide recall contest of African American experience.

I am honored to recognize that the City of Pittsburgh and our Parks and Recreations for their contributions and support they have given to the Black History Month observance.

The Chair:

Thank you, Councilman Darkins.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President and Members of Council, I have three items, and I'll try to be as brief as I can. I'll start with the least pleasant.

As I walked into Council today, I was served with a subpoena in connection with Benjamin Woods and the Pittsburgh Publishing Company. We had requested from the Law Department a methodology of how Members of Council who, because of their jobs, have to hire an attorney would do so. As yet, we have not received that. I understand the letter we got was to be thrown away. Somehow the note on Mr. Specter's desk was not to be sent to us. So, we do not have any method yet of covering our legal expenses. And, obviously, since I'm requested to be there on Tuesday, I will take a lawyer and I expect my expenses to be covered.

I think we need to get on with the President of Council getting an answer to the request that was made. I'm not sure, but I think it was Mr. Wagner who did request for some kind of formula to be developed or a method of how we would address this problem.

My second item, which is also very brief, is that I talked to all members of Council, I believe on Thursday, about a problem that has arisen in regards to the safety particularly of our staff. We have a disgruntled, very unhappy citizen who has been in and out of our office who has a real problem, and I'm not sure that it isn't a justified problem. But it's one of those unfortunate things that have happened that have practically bankrupted him and he will probably lose his home and he is so irate that he is threatening to take action, shoot people up, etc.

I've talked to all the appropriate agencies, all the departments here, to speak with him and see what we can do to calm him down. We're trying to help in every way we can.

But this brings home the issue of safety that was passed here in Council but was not acted upon. We voted to put a metal detector at the door, or to look into having a metal detector as we come into the building, particularly for the judges who had some problems, where you come in on Grant Street, you can leave on Ross but you can't come in from that direction, and have a metal detector. There must be some kind of security in this building, particularly up here in Council.

What I'm asking, and I spoke to Mike Perry about it and I've talked to other members of Council, is that we get some bullet-proof glass at the entrance to the Mayor's Office and to our Office, a buzzer system to let people in, and a speaking box so people can announce themselves and who they're here to see and get it clear before they come through it.

It is a very serious problem. I don't think we can ignore it because if somebody gets hurt, we're going to say, "Why didn't we address this issue?"

Mr. Darkins:

I'd like to address that issue, Mr. President. This was only brought to my attention by one of your staff people the other day about this particular individual. Had I known that this individual was going to Council and had I been contacted, I could have given you the entire background of this whole situation because, as I was the Chief Deputy of the Clerk of Courts Office, it came through our Bureau. But I was never contacted, I never knew anything about it until this individual appeared on this floor. I don't think that he can endanger our lives or anyone else's lives.

Michelle Madoff:

I don't think that's the issue. The issue doesn't relate to whether somebody will or will not act. As a matter of fact, I had asked my staff to contact you about perhaps talking to him because I did not know that you knew the story and I'm delighted that somebody will, hopefully, interact.

As I said earlier, I'm not so sure that the man wasn't treated shamefully but I don't know what recourse we have through the courts. We're trying to help; we're trying to do what we can, and have been for a very long time. But this man was removed previously from the Mayor's Office with a gun by two guards. This is not the first time this has happened, not with him but with other people. We've had episodes in the court and I just think we need to get on with security in this building and I don't think we should necessarily pinpoint, and maybe that was my fault saying that one person can cause problems. But here's an example that brought it to mind.

I would suggest that the President of Council find out what the next move would be. We have legislation, it passed this Council, but it was never acted upon. Do we want to have another bill? Is it just a procedural thing where the President gets together with Mike Perry and says, "Yes, let's order some glass and get on with it."? Or do we want to make this a big resolution and go through a hearing, which I don't think is necessary.

The Chair:

I don't recall specifically the bill that was passed by Council where we asked the Administration to take certain measures.

Michelle Madoff:

We passed in Council that we would have a metal detector for this room and then we talked, as well, about having the whole building secured for the judges. That was to be discussed with the Administration but, at the very least, since there is a pending possibility -- One doesn't know what's in anybody's mind. I mean, I know people that I never thought would commit suicide but they have and it surprised me.

I do think that we ought to not delay and we ought to move. This is not an expensive item. I think the metal detector is $2,000. People come in one door. And the glass for the two doors and the speaker box and a buzzer is not an expensive item. I think an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

Mr. Ferio:

Mr. President, I am totally opposed to plate glass or buzzers or people announcing themselves. This is an open government. People come to the counter and they want services and they want individuals. I am totally opposed to any notion of expenditures, or even the need. If somebody wants to shoot somebody, it's going to happen. I don't care what anybody says. And as far as I'm concerned, this whole thing is much to do about nothing. And if we have a problem then somebody should indicate to me what the problem is, and that hasn't yet been demonstrated, even the need for a metal detector.

And I think the matter really should be referred to the Public Safety Department. We have a Public Safety Director, we have Chief Pampena from the Police. If there's something we need to refer to them, we should just do that. If there's some advice we want to seek from them, they are most experienced. And I'm certainly not going to pay to protect judges; they can pay for that themselves. If we're going to pay for anything in this building, let's pay for cleaning up the lobbies which need to be cleaned.

Mr. Cohen:

Mr. President, I do think that we need somehow to secure the premises. There have been too many instances, nationally and at local levels, too, where people have been shot by deranged people. So, what I would suggest is not for us to decide here what the means are for securing the premises, but we give Director Cannon a call, the Public Safety Director, that he obtains a security expert, that maybe the President could set up a meeting with Councilmembers who are interested. Let's talk to an expert about what needs to be done and go ahead and do it. I think that something is necessary; I'm just not exactly sure what.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I think my colleague, Councilman Cohen, has stated it very succinctly. I am not assuming that I'm an expert or that this Council is an expert. We did discuss at that time with the Safety Director about having a metal detector. They were not adverse to it. But I think it might be well advised to go back again, the President of Council, go back again and talk to the Safety Director. If you want to introduce it as another piece of legislation for Wednesday, they can come in and we can discuss it then. I don't think it should be done in that mechanism. What I was asking is, what procedure do you wish to take as President of Council to pursue what we should or should not be doing.

The Chair:

I think the ideas brought up here are legitimate. Why don't we simply ask the Director of Public Safety to take a look at the building in general and make recommendations as to how we can improve security, maybe even with identification passes. I think every City employee should have one for off hours. And maybe some other recommendations that any Councilmember can make. But anything that's done has to be done jointly with the County.

Michelle Madoff:

Exactly. What I'm saying, Mr. Wagner, is that when we say, "Why don't we do it?", somehow or other a year goes by and we don't follow up and we forget about it and that's why it might be appropriate to just introduce some legislation to say that we ought to look at security the building in general concept, have them come here on a Wednesday, then they have an assignment and they get back to us. That may be the way to proceed, unless you want to take the responsibility upon yourself. I don't care.

The Chair:

We will send a letter to Director Cannon asking him to look at it immediately. If he needs outside expertise, then he'll have to come back to Council for the allocation of dollars to do it.

Mr. Regan:

Mr. President, I absolutely, positively think that these women should be protected out here. Although Mr. Ferlo is not a big man in stature, I've seen him duke it out pretty good in here and he's an expert. But I think those ladies, they're not wrestlers or fighters. If someone comes in here and he's deranged or has a problem of some sort or we vote on bills which reach a lot of people, I think these ladies out here should absolutely be protected. I've seen it as a District Justice where they shot at a District Justice and hit the secretary. I just think that we need protection for these ladies out here because they're the front line; we're in the back.

Mr. Ferlo:

Bullets do not have a gender bias.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Michelle Madoff:

On another matter. I happened to hear your comments on the news about the research grants and I couldn't agree with you more, Mr. Wagner. So, I have a statement that I'd like to make and ask for a motion regarding the research grants.

It appears that the Masloff Administration is looking at taxing research grants to our local universities. My research indicates that taxing grants for the State or Federal Government would be illegal. You cannot tax government. Yes, it would probably be legal to tax research grants and corporations to the schools, but I believe this would be self-defeating. It might be a win and a lose at the same time, even if we got the money.

First of all, we would be sending the wrong message. Secondly, this action would discourage corporations not based in the Pittsburgh area to look to other research schools where all the dollars would be spent entirely on research and not on subsidizing the tax base of Pittsburgh.

As I previously stated, the tax exempt non-profits helped us lobby for tax reform which went down the tubes. However, since I convened this group in October of 1988, they continue to function as an ad hoc group. In recent weeks, I have spoken with many of their leadership and I'm convinced that they are very sympathetic to Pittsburgh's tax needs. And I'm also convinced from discussions with them that if we had a mechanism to assess the individual tax fees for City services, they would pay their fair share.

To this end and for the purposes stated, I'm hereby making a motion that we obtain a figure for an assessment for each tax free entity, a service fee schedule for providing police, fire, paramedic services, water, street clean up, road repair, snow removal, trash collection, litter removal, and anything else that I haven't thought of.

We should have this information as a Council at the earliest possible moment and support the Administration in obtaining these justifiable dollars. And I believe they will pay them.

I'd like to make that as a motion, that we ask the appropriate agency in the Masloff Administration to give us what would be the dollar for whatever hospital it would be. Come up with a percentage formula and let's get on with it. And let's not look for Micky Mouse ways to embarrass ourselves nationally.

Many of the grants, as I researched in the last few days, do not come from local corporations; they come from out of state and they don't have to come here. They can go to other schools in other parts of the country. They told me where the schools would be and they would resent this enormously. So, we get the money but we lose the benefits. And the research does create jobs here. I think it's very self-defeating.

I don't think the Administration thought it through completely; I don't even think they're married to it yet. But before we go any further with it, and I'm not saying that the Administration is entirely wrong in what they're looking at on the overall concept. I mean, I'm offended when I find out that a doctor is practicing in a hospital and using their space and is in private practice. I've seen that happen. I know there are garages, I know there are buildings in hospitals, and even in the universities, that are buildings that should not be tax exempt. There is a certain amount of that that I would support. But I think this issue of research grants and taxing is absolutely ludicrous. It sends a bad message and a bad image.

I make that as a motion that we get some kind of interaction with the Administration so that we can support the Administration to get a service fee for all the things I've listed. That's my motion.

The Chair:

So, the formal motion is, if I am correct, that we obtain figures for an assessment for each tax-free entity, a service fee schedule for providing police, fire, paramedic services, water, street clean up, road repair, snow removal, trash collection, litter removal, etc.

Michelle Madoff:

And I repeat, I believe that they're receptive and will be very happy to pay this. Maybe not happy, but they'll do it.

Mr. Ferlo:

I'll second it for purposes of discussion, even though I don't agree with it.

Mr. Chairman, I really don't want to do anything that's going to detract from the Administration's ability at this time to wage the campaigned that they're waging. I don't have any problem if the universities, either voluntarily or through some system that Michelle would devise, would in some way pay user fees for services that we provide to them. But we are, right now, in a situation where the Administration, as far as I'm concerned, has taken leadership to go after profit relationships that exist in the non-profit setting of the university and health community. And as far as I'm concerned, sports at the Pitt Stadium is big business and if there's a way that we can delineate the profit nature of that activity, we should get some money out of it. I don't think that's an unreasonable activity.

I don't think it's unreasonable for the Graphic Arts Institute, which sounds like a non-profit group, but the Graphic Arts Institute on Forbes Avenue in Oakland in Craig Street is a profit company. It does printing and professional writing. It's a profit oriented company. Why should they have a competitive edge over some other for profit operations only because they've been able to be sophisticated enough to understand the IRS Code and define themselves with a viable 1 status?

I think the Administration is being very reasonable and I think at this time we should stand behind the Mayor, behind Director Haylar who I refer to as the Sheriff of Nottingham, and anybody else in the City government who is right now embarking and engaging in a very well thought out, sophisticated campaign and getting revenue from institutions who have now contributed to this City being close to 50 percent tax exempt. I wouldn't want to do anything that is going to detract from the times -- It's like going into battle; you don't want division. I think we're going into battle.

It's rare that we've seen such cooperation with the County. We have the County Solicitor also very supportive and linking arms with the City Administration on the efforts that are now underway before the tax property board assessors. I think we ought to stand behind them and go for the throat, as far as I'm concerned.

It has nothing to do with saying that we don't appreciate the tremendous contributions of the university community or the research community. There are communities even in Florida. The State of Florida passed legislation which was later repealed due to some politics that actually began to tax the service industry which we have to recognize is pretty much the new industry in this City and will occupy that place for the next decade and beyond.

So, I think what the Administration is up to is very reasonable. It's in cooperation with the energies of County government. I think it could probably be a successful strategy because there are many for-profit relationships that exist under the guise of the non-profit setting. I think it's about time that everybody in this City contribute as the burden has been placed disproportionately on the backs of working class families and low and moderate income individuals in the City, and that can't continue.

Michelle Madoff:

I'd just like to clarify something. I am not saying that we should not encourage and support the Administration. And where it is reasonable, to support everything they're trying to do. Except, I think in this particular research grant, I think it's a big lose for the City.

Mr. Ricciardi:

Mr. President, presently I'm very pleased with the direction the Administration is taking in acquiring as much payments as we can from tax exempt institutions. I think Michelle's motion is a good motion and I would have supported it a year ago, but right now I don't think it's needed. I'm very pleased with the direction that we're taking.

The Chair:

I'd simply like to comment. I think the motion has good intent but I think it needs to be clarified more in terms of what the Administration is presently doing and what we would like them to do. In the memo passed out entitled, "Research Grants", the motion we're voting on really is not that. I think what we're talking about here is simply tax exempt status and --

Michelle Madoff:

I'm coming up with an alternative. I'm making a suggestion for an alternative. Having spoken to the entities and believe that they would support it so that we could keep the City not at each other's throats but working together and let's get the money we need.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

WHEREAS, today members of the Knights of Equity and Daughters of Erin constitute a vast and energetic society, directing their efforts toward mutual assistance, helping the church, working for the cause of liberty for Ireland, and denouncing discrimination in all its hateful forms.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh hereby extends its sincere best wishes for the success of the St. Patrick's Day Banquet and Dance; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Council extends its gratitude and appreciation to the Knights of Equity, Court No. 9, the Daughters of Erin, and all persons participating in the week's festivities.

Mr. Coyne moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Coyne:

Joining us today are Mr. Don Gillespie and Mr. Walter Vanslow. Mr. Gillespie is the Vice-Sir Knight of the Knights of Equity and also is a Councilman in the Borough of Millvale. And Mr. Walter Vanslow is a resident of the Mount Washington area and is the Chairman of the Board of Directors for the Knights of Equity.

Mr. Gillespie:

On behalf of the Knights of Equity, the Daughters of Erin, I'd like to extend thanks to Councilman Coyne and to the rest of the Council for voting for us, and at the same time, extend an invitation to join us in our festivities. Thank you.

Mr. Coyne:

My next resolution is commending Ms. Arlene Stromberg for her work as the Executive Director of the Squirrel Hill Urban Coalition.

Mr. Coyne presents

No. 438 WHEREAS, Arlene Stromberg has been Executive Director of the Squirrel Hill Urban Coalition since August, 1985; and

WHEREAS, the Squirrel Hill Urban Coalition is a community-based organization which is involved in public and private development, maintains the crime prevention network in the 14th Ward, is involved in overall public safety, and monitors traffic and parking for the community; and

WHEREAS, Arlene Stromberg is the founder of the Coalition's long range planning program for Squirrel Hill which extends to the year 2010; and

WHEREAS, the Squirrel Hill Urban Coalition is financially supported solely by the contributions of community residents, and receives no public funding; and

WHEREAS, Arlene Stromberg has also been active in many City-wide organizations including the City of Pittsburgh NeighborFair and worked closely with bill board issues; and

WHEREAS, Arlene Stromberg has been offered a job in Harrisburg serving as a Management Analyst for the Bureau of Management Services for the State of Pennsylvania, and will resign as Executive Director of the Squirrel Hill Urban Coalition.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh does hereby commend Arlene Stromberg for her dedication to the Squirrel Hill Urban Coalition and the City of Pittsburgh communities and residents, and extends best wishes to her for success and happiness in all her future endeavors.

Mr. Coyne moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Cohen seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Coyne:

We have with us today Arlene, and Wayne Gerhold who is the President of the Squirrel Hill Urban Coalition.

Mr. Gerhold:

Breifly, we're viewing Arlene's leaving with mixed emotions. We're very happy that she can further her career in Harrisburg. On the other hand, her services to the Squirrel Hill Community will be sorely missed. She brought the activities of the Coalition, in serving the Squirrel Hill, Point Breeze area, to a much, much higher level than we ever thought possible, particularly in the long-range planning and our Block Watch Program. So, once again, we're going to miss her alot.

I'd also like to thank Michael for introducing this resolution and recognizing Arlene's service.

Ms. Stromberg:

I'd like to say thank you both to Michael and to Council. I was overwhelmed when he indicated that I would get this proclamation. I never believed that a little Jewish girl from Squirrel Hill and from Cleveland Heights, Ohio would stand before Council and thank you. And thank the City for the privilege of working with the Coalition and working with all the executives and the administrators that I've worked for. It's been a real privilege and a pleasure for me, and I know that you will all be hearing from Squirrel Hill continuously. Thank you very much.

Michelle Madoff:

Arlene, this little Jewish girl was one of the founding members.

Mr. Regan:

Arlene, this little Irish kid would like to say, "Zei Ge Zunt" which means, "Go in good health".

Mr. Ferlo:

I'd like Mike Stoudt and Tom Croft to come up, please. This resolution has to do with the Industrial Renaissance Conference that will be held here later this week.

Mr. Ferlo presents

No. 439 WHEREAS, the first Conference on National Industrial Renaissance was held in our nation's Capitol in September, 1989 for the purpose of developing new national policies towards rebuilding the manufacturing base and revitalizing industrial communities; and

WHEREAS, the Steel Valley Authority, the Tri-State Conference on Steel and the United Steelworkers of America, Pittsburgh-based organizations, were the leading organizers of the Conference, along with the newly-formed Federation for Industrial Retention and Renewal (FIRR); and

WHEREAS, the Conference was co-sponsored and attended by over 100 leaders from around the country from government, labor and management, academia, religion, economics and community, including two dozen municipal, regional and community-based industrial jobs programs, a half-dozen leading state industrial services programs, one dozen international unions and state labor councils, progressive manufacturer representatives, federal delegates, national churches, and several national economic policy groups; and

] WHEREAS, Pittsburgh's own Steel Valley Authority was held up as a model for other regions and communities in reversing industrial dislocations and regenerating manufacturing jobs; and

WHEREAS, the first major follow-up meeting to the conference will be held in Pittsburgh at the United Steelworkers of America headquarters all day Friday, March 9, 1990, to be followed by a reception celebrating the Grand Opening of the SVA's new offices and

WHEREAS, the City of Pittsburgh has always been on the cutting edge of preserving and redeveloping family-wage industries, and saving the jobs of our local citizens, as exemplified by the pioneering work of our Mayors and City Councils over the past decade.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh hereby recognizes and congratulates the hard work of the organizers and sponsors of the National Industrial Renaissance Conference; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh welcomes the Conference attendees to the City of Pittsburgh and wishes them well in their critically-needed long-term endeavors.

Mr. Ferlo moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Coyne seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Ferlo:

We have two representatives here, Mike Stoudt as well as Tom Croft who is the Executive Director. They've been working very hard for the last couple of years; they helped to bring this national organization into existence. We know them quite well because this Council, as well as past Councils, have had the wisdom to fund them in order to do some of the important work that they're doing in retaining and saving and developing local manufacturing jobs and good jobs at decent wages.

So, at this time, I'd like to call on both of them to say a few words. I'll call on Mike Stoudt first who, hopefully, will be our next elected State Representative.

Mr. Stoudt:

I'd like to thank all the distinguished Members of Council. On behalf of all the members of the Tri State and Steel Valley Authority, I'd just like to say a few words. If people had the opportunity to see the Pittsburgh Press article that appeared on the front page last night by Mary Kane, there's an article that in a page and a half describes some of the suffering and the tremendous amount of underemployment that still exists in the Mon Valley and in the City of Pittsburgh, of the families who are working two and three minimum wage jobs just to make two-thirds of what they formerly made at their job in the mill or the plant. I think you know as well as me what suffering goes on, not only amongst the poor but the underemployed and the unemployed and how much of it still exists in our area.

To us, the only solution is to join the rest of the ranks of the free industrialized world and to begin to build for a national industrial policy, a national industrial policy that comes just like it did during the Roosevelt years, from the ground up; a national industrial policy that is organized jointly by the businesses, by the unions, by the churches, by the local governments and the state governments, by the academic community, and by the unions and labor. And only when we all pull together, and only when those of us at the grass roots help to pull them all together, are we going to see a dent made in the suffering that continues in this area.

And I'd like to say that the Tri State Conference on Steel and the Steel Valley Authority, come hell or high water, are going to do everything we can to organize and revitalize the manufacturing base. We're going to do it by reopening the South Side electric furnaces, we're going to do it by bringing in the magnetic levitation train system that will put thousands of people to work in this area, and we're going to do it for the former Brauns Bakery workers who are trying to form their own baking company, and we're going to do it for the thousands and thousands of other people that need it.

I'd like to, on behalf of our organizations, thank you very much for your support over the years.

Mr. Croft:

I also want to thank you from the bottom of my heart for all of the Councilmembers here and the Mayor's Office for your support for our efforts.

I would also like to take time, on a little lighter subject, to invite you to the grand opening for the SVA's new offices. Most Councilmembers will have received this. That will be Friday night. Our Homestead office is at 120 East Ninth Avenue in Homestead, Pennsylvania. Congressman Coyne will be there and hopefully we'll have Councilman Wagner and several other local public officials and public leaders who will be there.

I also want to take this opportunity to provide two reports which we've just recently completed; one is the final report for the first year of the Pittsburgh area Early Warning Network which this Council supported where we surveyed the mature manufacturing industries and developed strategies in conjunction with the City and the URA to try to monitor and prevent plant closures.

I want to also provide a final report for a dislocated worker survey where we surveyed 16,000 dislocated steel and manufacturing workers in the City and the Mon Valley and were able to reach about 4,000 of those who hopefully will be people who can go back to work in some of these job development projects that are on-going.

I think you'll find both reports are both illuminating in terms of the kinds of skilled workers we have here, but also very distressing in terms of the problems of the manufacturing workers and being able to return to meaningful wages. So, I want to provide both of these.

Mr. Coyne:

Mr. Chairman, I would just like to personally congratulate both of these gentlemen. Being a member of the Tri State Conference on Steel, I've had the opportunity to work with Tom and also with Mike Stoudt. I know that Tom has been in the area only a couple of years but has really showed a desire to help the people, help the Mon Valley region, and I'd like to express my personal appreciation.

And Mike Stoudt, I think that you have the vision for the future that this area needs and I commend you for your efforts. I know that you were very heavily involved in the labor unions in the steel mill and, even after you lost your job, you didn't lose interest in the people of the region. And I would like to personally commend you for your leadership abilities and I look forward to working with you in the future.

Mr. Ferlo presents:

12, 1912 and is part of the Improved Benevolent Protective Order of Elks of the World; and

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

The Chair:

Unfinished Business is pertaining to two bills introduced by Mr. Ferlo that we have received a legal opinion from the Mayor's Office. At last Tuesday's Legislative Meeting, Councilman Ferlo introduced Bill Nos. 385 and 386, the reappointments of Joan Ivey and Ralph Alster as members of the Historic Review Commission. We have received a legal opinion notifying Council that these seats are not vacant. These members will serve until they are replaced.

Based on this information, I would like a motion to table.

Mr. Ferlo:

So moved.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Milllones:

Mr. Chairman, would it be proper at this time to talk about whether or not these persons would appear before Council tomorrow?

The Chair:

Yes, it's appropriate to talk about it, but they will not be here based on the fact that their appointment or reappointment is not in front of us.

Mr. Milllones:

I see.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, speaking on the issue, I support the tabling of the bill for two reasons. First of all, the one gentleman, Mr. Alster, specifically asked to have his name withdrawn. He really does not want to get into any kind of a disagreement with the Administration.

On the other hand, Ms. Ivey certainly would like to remain a vital member and an active member of the Commission and I hope that is the case. I don't happen to agree very much with Ms. Ivey. I don't support several of the historical designation requests that are now before Council and will probably come to Council shortly. But, nonetheless, she has been an extremely articulate, competent and qualified member, an ardent preservationist, and somebody who I think and I hope that the Mayor will be prevailed upon by herself and other advocates in the community to consider her continued tenure on the Commission.

She is in the middle of doing something that I think is important and that is developing a strategic plan as it relates to historical preservation for this City, something that can be pro-active instead of continually having a historical designation be something that always seems to be in conflict or crises or always throwing Council in the middle of some major disagreement. I would hope that she would be able to be allowed to continue that work, and I do appreciate the unsolicited opinion from the Solicitor.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

Mr. Milliones presented

Bill No. 431

Report of the Committee on Finance for February 28, 1990 transmitting sundry resolutions to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 300

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for the issuance of a warrant in favor of The Simplex Group in the amount of 45,000.00 in payment for Phase I of Project Management Training; and providing for the payment thereof."

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

On Bill 300, due to the pressure of time and it's a rather difficult effort, Mr. Perry was not able to provide Council, as we had hoped, with information on the Massaro dialogue that had taken place in this Council with reference to organizing and reviewing and supervising contracts out of Construction and Engineering.

I will not hold up this bill because it's something we need to do. I won't ask to hold it up. But I also would like to point out that that information will be forthcoming. Mike has promised but it's taking some time digging it out of the Records, and I would urge you to look at it only because it will give you some feeling of what has happened, what modern technology has allowed us to do by going to computers. We're into money that we spent and should not have spent and it's very self-explanatory. If anybody wants to know what really transpired, Mike can tell you, I can tell you, and I think some of the other people who are still around can brief you.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

On Bill 328, as you know, I use the opportunity any time a Water bill comes up to say I'm going to vote no to get the message across that we have somewhere between $3 million and $15 million at this point. I've talked to Mr. Turner as recently as yesterday. There is not a Water Department Director as yet. They thought they had someone and the person renegged. If anybody is listening, we're going to pay $61,000 to do that job.

As you know, last May when I realized how bad things really were, I knew they were bad but I had no idea how bad they really were, I did an audit of the Water Department and I think all Members of Council got a copy of that recently, and I presented it to the Water and Sewer Authority. It took years to get the message across to the Administration but, you know, it's one thing to listen and another thing to hear. I'm happy to report that I'm being heard. Many of the ideas and thoughts that I had on collections have been incorporated and I learned yesterday that a half million dollars in delinquent accounts has been collected already.

In the very near future, the Administration is going to start to publish the deadbeats and they are never the little people on welfare and fixed incomes, rarely, if ever. The people who just are recalcitrant. One-third of the people of our 90,000 just don't pay.

We're also in the process of purging the records to take the City properties that have no buildings on them, City properties that we do receive water, remove that from the list. There's a coding process going on. I will be meeting with Ms. Denko to further refine the computerizing the list so that right now we just have major buildings but we'll break them down into apartment houses and banks and hospitals so that any one of us can go over and get a print-out and take a look at who is paying their bills and who isn't. And, as I said, as soon as that kind of information and the meters get a little further along, and I hope we don't wait until then, but as soon as we know that somebody is truly delinquent, meaning, when Joe Mistick goes in and he's reported as being delinquent and he has a bill of $2000 that he doesn't have, and he goes down and he corrects it, and they correct it but it doesn't come out on the next month's computer, until we're sure that isn't going to happen and embarrass anybody needlessly, we will start to publish the deadbeats and you know what will happen; overnight those millions will pour in.

So, I'm going to be a little sympathetic and vote for this bill. I won't abstain; I'll vote for it.

Also,

Bill No. 330

(REMARKS ON FOLLOWING PAGE)

BEGINNING - MR. FERLO'S COMMENTS ON BILL NO. 19, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1990)

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Brown is here if we have any questions. This was a discussion at the public hearing and I thought it was an excellent public hearing, there was significant input from community organizations as well as at least two individuals who had a specific problem and that being a very obnoxious sign on the rooftop in the Northside.

This bill is very reasonable and it sets into motion a decent way to deal with the problem and that is rooftop signs which could and have gotten out of hand. The old Code did not speak adequately to the problem. The bill that comes before us had the support of the Planning Commission and many in the community, it's a reasonable way and does not infringe on the prerogatives of business. If anything, it could probably be strengthened to deal with some of the signage that appears on the side of buildings but that could be the subject of additional amendments in the future and Mr. Regan, Mr. Wagner and others spoke to these issues but I wholeheartedly urge the passage unanimously of this bill and Mr. Regan and I talked at length about this and he made me better aware of the situation on the Northside which I appreciate and I support this resolution wholeheartedly.

Mr. Chairman, I'd like my comments brought forward on this bill, please.

(REMARKS ON FOLLOWING PAGES)

(BEGINNING - MR. FERLO'S COMMENTS ON BILL NO. 322, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1990)

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Whitmer is here from the URA.

The Director is certainly aware of my feelings about Washington's Landing. I think it was a bad decision of the previous council and the administration made. It seems as though we're too far into it down the tunnel to turn around. This amount is specifically needed for some of the environmental costs which continue to plague the island. I wish the money had been spent developing industrial sites in Hazelwood or the Butler Street Corridor or down at Beaver Avenue or a few other places but in any event we're into this thing Director, do you want to discuss this bill?

Dir. Whitmer:

This is the ongoing Cooperation Agreement which we enter into every year with the City for funding of the various projects going on Washington's Landing.

This particular amount will go toward the continued site development for the park on the northern end of the island and as Councilman Ferlo pointed out, our efforts in remediation of the environmental problems that we found in the development of this island.

Mr. Ferlo:

Could you just address the status of some of the development on the island which is relevant to whether or not we should approve this, specifically the status of the tennis company and some of the other initiatives, the marina proposals that you have before you?

Dir. Whitmer:

As you know, in the fall we opened the boathouse of a private rowing association opened their facility; that is the first venture. We have another building that has been in some dispute. When we found the PCV's, I think we're close to an agreement with the developer on that and Northside Civic.

As I indicated, we have an ongoing remediation project of removing PCV's from the south end of the island to the northern end and encapsulating them as prescribed by the Department of Environmental Resources. We have under consideration now two proposals for a marina to be located on the island. We are meeting with those developers in the next several weeks and hope to make a decision shortly.

Mr. Ferlo:

Specifically on the status of the tennis company.

Dir. Whitmer:

We have been working with a company known as Gamma Sports. They make tennis racquet -- different accessories for playing tennis. They are located in Detroit and out in the eastern suburbs. They are interested in consolidating into one plant which would employ about 40 people and they are interested in building a building adjacent to a park that would be built by the URA on the northern tip of the island.

Michelle Madoff:

Does that have anything to do with Washington's Landing?

Dir. Whitmer:

Yes. The $300,000.00 would go to site development of that park.

We have legislation which will be coming to Council shortly wherein we are entering into an agreement with Gamma Sports for this development.

Mr. Ferlo:

Director, I have no problem continually funding the initiative in terms of the environmental cleanup, especially given the commitment that seems to be -- the potential of the company being sited there as well the Rubinoff Building and the Northside Civic Building, the next first development site for small commercial enterprises.

The issue of the park though, at what point will Council debate this issue? I mean, I have major reservations about allowing the Parks Department in the City to construct a new park when we have a hard enough time maintaining and taking care of lots of parks that I can think of in my Council district and I'm sure if we go down this table we could spend five hours in a public hearing on the conditions of our parks and the need for a maintenance and reconstruction.

Dir. Whitmer:

I think your concerns would be expressed by the Budget Office and by Director Brown.

The original intention and the continuing intention of us is to have a park that would have tennis courts that would be covered that would generate revenue to make this park self-sufficient. In addition, there is a proposal and one of the discussions ongoing with Gamma Sports for people locating on the island to have an association that would pay fees to maintain the park.

Mr. Ferlo:

When and if that proposal comes to us, it should be a private proposal where we give a sign-off of the land or something of that sort but not have to lay out capital dollars or anything of this sort. If it's going to be profitable or it has some revenue capacity, let's entertain for-profit proposals that --

Dir. Whitmer:

-- I think there is the commitment to build the park with capital funds and state funds, the question is a long-term maintenance and operation and that's where no one -- and that's one of the hold ups right now in our discussions. That's where we do not want to have operating funds come out of the city to maintain this park and the original notion was that it would come from the tennis development and the inside tennis courts.

Mr. Ferlo:

My only suggestion relevant to this bill -- I would not want to see the Administration get too far down the line without Council's involvement and approval because there may be a situation where there might be enough sentiment on Council to have a strong bias against that.

Dir. Whitmer:

We will be coming back to you on that.

Mr. Ferlo:

Thank you.

Mr. Ferlo:

On Bill 322, regarding the additional sum of money that we continue to pour into the Washington's Landing hoping to see some light of day for it's development, I think it's important to note at this time that we need to communicate, I believe, to State government on this issue of the environmental cost for cleaning up and redeveloping not only this particular part of the City, Washington's Landing, but it's a problem that we've had in existence I know in the development effort in Lawrenceville in the shopping center which is now resolved. But it's going to come up more and more in the future as we move to develop our riverfronts, and that is, environmental hazards, many of which are not known until we start actually digging.

In the last several years, I've noticed significantly that the banking community here in the City, even with DER approval, continues to hold a position that basically says that we're not interested in getting into something where DER regulations may change in the next five years. We want to be held harmless from any kind of environmental impact. That's just not practical or reasonable but it's going to be something that is more and more going to become a reality as we begin to develop riverfronts which historically have housed manufacturing, industrial, and other kinds of centers where hazardous materials and semi-hazardous materials were held.

So, I would hope that somebody in the Administration begins to communicate to State government. There needs to be something from the Casey Administration on developing a State fund to assist municipalities with special problems associated with environmental clean-up. Otherwise, we're really not going to be able to take back our rivers and develop the areas like Washington's Landing.

Mr. Chairman, I'd like my comments brought forward on this bill, please.

(REMARKS ON FOLLOWING PAGES)

(BEGINNING - MR. FERLO'S COMMENTS ON BILL NO. 324, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1990)

Mr. Ferlo:

The reservation I have about this and I spoke with the Director yesterday, I can appreciate that some of this has to be done in phases especially the initial work involving the surveying of the sidewalk, the vaults and all that but in terms of the construction related activity, if it's going to be done in phases I'm voting no on it because I'm not going to vote in a similar fashion that I did with Grant Street which I refer to it as a fiasco, some people think it's great, where basically we had multiple costs for consultants, inspectors, you name it we had it relative to Grant Street. There were cost overruns and I don't think we should do the Fifth Avenue Project in that same fashion. Either we should get enough money to bankroll the construction related activities all at once as opposed to doing the work in the various stages. Are you familiar with the construction related activities?

Dir. Whitmer:

I'm familiar to the sense that this would initiate a design contract where we would only have one design consultant for the entire project, however it would be phased in construction and my understanding and I haven't seen the design that the Planning Department is working on but it would not be the type in-depth as Grant Street, the total street replacement and that type of thing and all those things have yet to be determined however it would be phased in for a reason of phasing the funding over three years and that's the purpose of phasing the construction as you go down Fifth Avenue.

Mr. Ferlo:

Again, looking at this from the broader perspective we're talking potentially about three different major projects being done in possibly the same time the Wood Street initiative, this initiative, the Fifth Avenue initiative and Penn-Liberty activities. It's conceivable that there will be major reconstruction and construction related activities happening in the Downtown area on three major corridors at the same time over the next three years and my point which finally Mr. McDermott the previous director accepted, he made a commitment when we approved the monies to pay for the Wood Street from Ft. Pitt Boulevard over to Liberty that unlike the Grant Street example he said that the construction related activity would be done all at once instead of being bid out separately. I'd like a better appreciation for what will happen here as it relates to the construction activity. Is the URA directly involved in that?

Dir. Whitmer:

We will be directly involved in this phase of it for a design and the construction for a design and the construction of as we are on Penn Avenue.

Mr. Ferlo:

So you're overseeing this part, E & C is overseeing Wood Street.

Dir. Whitmer:

We are handling Penn Avenue in three phases.

Mr. Ferlo:

How will the construction related work?

Dir. Whitmer:

The construction-related activity would be phased over three years because of the funding phasing.

Mr. Ferlo:

Thank you.

(END OF COMMENTS)

PREPARED BY: MARY ANNE HRUSKA
STENOTYPE REPORTER

Mr. Ferlo:

On Bill 324, in relation to the Fifth Avenue Square area, and this is the legislation that puts into motion some of the streetscape improvements which are badly needed and long overdue, I voted no and I'm still going to vote no because I think before this leaves Council's table and Council's oversight, I think we need more assurances from the Administration regarding the construction timetable.

I thought, Mr. Chairman, you gave an excellent presentation the other day at a luncheon for the Building Office Managers Association and Golden Triangle Representatives where you discussed the Downtown improvements, Fifth Avenue Square, Wood Street, Penn Liberty and whatever. I do think, and I hope that you will convene some type of meeting regarding the construction schedule, but in this particular corridor, the Fifth Avenue which is the major retail commercial area as opposed to the Grant Street fiasco, the construction activity needs to happen as quickly and as expeditiously as possible and I don't think we have that assurance yet. We may, in fact, have a situation for the next two and a half years where not only Wood Street but Smithfield down to the end of the street along Fifth, Wood Street from Fort Pitt over to Liberty and the Penn Liberty district is all going to be dug up at the same time. That will really kill the retail area of Fifth Avenue. I think it's better, as you pointed out, to do it quickly and get it done with as opposed to dragging it out for several years.

So, I think it's an important enough issue and I hope that you will convene an appropriate meeting of the appropriate parties over the next month and a half to figure out what this construction schedule is going to be.

The Chair:

We will have such a meeting the first week of April. Mr. Perry is setting one up.

I'd like my remarks brought forward on this bill, please.

(REMARKS ON FOLLOWING PAGES)

(BEGINNING - MR. COHEN'S COMMENTS ON BILL NO. 253, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1990)

Mr. Cohen:

I think that this is a thoughtful and creative project also and I want to commend you for it. Mr. Ferlo asked a number of questions that I had in my mind and let me just follow up on a couple of them.

Maybe we should begin with Mr. Shuttleworth and that is that you say the financial background was done by the URA, right? I think that would apply more to the second phase of this rather than this one here.

Ms. Brown:

No, it was done for the ice rink loan. It was not done in terms for the other developer.

Mr. Cohen:

I got some similar criticisms about his housing ownership and/or management, I think that would come into play more so with respect to his housing development but I would like to see the financial information that was obtained on this man and his development company, can you do that?

Ms. Brown:

I will certainly check with URA, I'm not sure what is public information and what is not but I will check.

Mr. Cohen:

Okay, that would be helpful. With respect to the rent schedule here, let me see if I understand it right. There's nothing coming to the City if the revenues are $300,000.00 or under except for $1.00, over that there's a schedule of percentages, is that right?

Ms. Brown:

That's correct.

Mr. Cohen:

What in reality do you expect will happen here, what are the projected revenues maybe after the first year or so? Will the City actually get money from this?

Ms. Brown:

Yes, but not right away. But after his capital costs are taken care of. If it's a successful program, I think that we can make some money. We were not actually looking at a project to make a lot of money, we were looking at a way to get a facility open and useable by the community. Ultimately it can be a very successful venture.

Mr. Cohen:

I understand that it's not intended to be a money-making project, it's intended to be a project that will be a great recreational center for the Southside and for the City of Pittsburgh, but it would be nice if we had some icing on the cake and I want to get a sense of what the projected revenues would be.

Mr. Mancuso:

I would expect that the rink will operate in the $500,000.00 range and probably over that as time goes on. The key to remember is that before they make dollar one over there the City has already essentially stopped the outward flow of cash into that property. We were spending $80,000.00 and subsidizing each skater to the tune of $16.00 a skater.

Mr. Cohen:

Good point. My understanding from the lease agreement is that the ownership of the structures and the improvements, even those constructed by the lessee will ultimately rest with the City; is that right?

Ms. Brown:

That's correct.

Mr. Cohen:

Does the City have any authority over the prices of the food and beverages that are going to be served at the rink?

Ms. Brown:

The lease includes a provision that the pricing structure must be reasonable and comparable with similar facilities in Western Pennsylvania. We did not want to nor could we put in a pricing structure. This is a 50-year lease and to limit that capability of the developer but we do approve within reasonable time those prices.

Mr. Cohen:

I don't see that, maybe I'm misreading the lease.

Ms. Brown:

We don't actually approve the pricing structure but we do look and see if it does meet that criteria which is set forth in Section 901.

Mr. Cohen:

Do you feel that you have enough control over that so that the prices for food and beverages don't become too excessive?

Ms. Brown:

I believe so, I think it will be what the market bears right now and a Pepsi or Coke will be whatever the going rate is.

Mr. Cohen:

It comes into play a little bit because we just found out that the Stadium Authority has increased their prices. I'm not saying that those increases are excessive but it's something that I think is important to supervise.

I want to talk briefly about the potential liability to the City and I see in that hold harmless clause -- I think it's a well written clause but I want to know whether you think that it's an airtight release of liability. Obviously when you're talking about an ice skating rink there's a lot of potential for liability there, certainly if I got on an ice skating there'd be a lot of potential. Do you think that that's an airtight clause?

Ms. Brown:

Our Law Department did draft that provision. The proposed developer definitely thinks it's airtight. He thinks it's very strong.

Mr. Cohen:

Of course he does, I want to make sure that we do.

Ms. Brown:

But I don't know if you have any other suggestions.

Mr. Cohen:

I do one. Again I don't want to hold this up but we were talking earlier about the possibility of a developer walking away from this after a point. There is no phrase of successors and assigns. Usually when you have a hold harmless clause -- unless I'm missing it.

Mr. Mancuso:

The whole lease -- there's an assignment provision within the whole lease and in order to assign this it has to be with the approval of the department and the signee would have to be willing to enter into this document for its remaining term.

Mr. Cohen:

That's true and that's good but in a release of liability clause normally the boiler plate language, and it makes sense here, is to include successors and assigns in the liability clause otherwise you might have a problem, so where it says lessee agrees to indemnify defendants harmless the City, I think -- tell me if it is possible -- in fact it's important that we do Director because otherwise we're going to have a problem. If somebody comes into play, they're released from liability unless we include that in there so I would urge you to just include that language in there.

I think that's all I have. I think it's a good project.

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, you have been here long enough to know that I have great concern about the issue of the overruns that take place repeatedly, overruns and the fact that the projects are not well defined, the scope of work is not well defined, the fact that Grant Street Phase II and Phase IV ran $1 million each over the estimates. I could go on and on because I have talked about this as far as I can remember.

Today we are in the process of sending a summary, a cover letter and the documentation that you all received some time ago from Jim Josephs who was hired to try to put together a method as to how we could stop these terrible, terrible overruns that run into the millions of dollars.

For example, the 14 bills that were just introduced exceed $5 million and they have a figure next to every bill saying how much we have to give away. We will never advertise $3 million for a project and have anybody come in at $2 million. They'll come in at $2.99 million.

I have a letter that I would like to read. It's a summary and it's going to Alex Sciulli, Jim Turner, Ben Hayllar, the Mayor, Joe Mistick. And I do want to tell you that just before I came into Council, we were able to locate Alex Sciulli who has agreed to look into this matter immediately. He's talking to legal counsel for the City of Pittsburgh. I've talked to Jim Turner and Jim said, as you know when I interviewed Alex Sciulli when he took the job as Construction and Engineering Director, he said, yes, he was sympathetic and, yes, he would do it. It seems that this is the appropriate time. If we let $5 million of contracts go right now, all I'm asking is that you hold it for a week or we can amend to remove the dollar figure. I'll take direction from the Chair, that we start to handle this matter in a way that is more responsive to our taxpayers. If we don't do anything, we're as culpable as anybody else.

I just want to read the letter because I really think it summarizes everything.

"To: Joseph Mistick
Mayor's Office

From: Michelle Madoff Council

Date: March 5, 1990

Subject: Supplementing the Pittsburgh Code by adding a new Section entitled, "Estimated Costs" to provide procedures for the confidentiality of that amount.

The attached material will update you on my on-going efforts for eliminating the publishing of "not to exceed" dollars from City contracts before they are awarded, in an effort to stop the millions of dollars in over-runs.

When Jack Wagner asked Dan Pellegrini to produce the State document mandating initial publishing of a dollar amount for individual projects before the contracts are awarded, Pellegrini could not produce it because it doesn't exist. For years Council had been told this was a necessary evil. Subsequently, Council and the Administration was prevented from stopping this antiquated, dollar give-away practice.

Conceptually:

A. Engineering and Construction obtains Council's initial approval to undertake construction of a project, i.e. firehouse, police station, bridge, road, etc. The annual budget will reflect a total sum to be spent on a list of projects without a dollar figure next to each item so that we don't telegraph "Come and get us. We have all this money to spend."

B. An in-house cost estimator or consultant determines a realistic dollar figure for said project. Construction and Engineering returns to Council and notifies Council of their choice of contractor and the dollar figure to be expended. A reasonable cost escalation is factored into the not-to-exceed number which now appears on the final agreement approved by Council.

C. The Law Department would prepare a confidentiality document to be signed by any outside engineer or architect preparing scope of work and engineering and/or design of projects. Deterrents such as removal from bidders list and perhaps a financial penalty must be in place. While this is not a 100% guarantee of confidentiality, it is certainly a 10,000% improvement over how business is presently conducted.

D. E & C must come to Council with sufficient time to allow for re-bidding of contracts if the prices appear out of line based on an educated, in-house, cost estimators figures or that of the consultant."

I think that's a little garbled and needs to be refined. But I wanted to get it to everybody today because of the $5 million that I was concerned about.

Grandview Avenue is a typical example. There are about four large blocks, granted they are large, being repaved, the sidewalks are being redone. The contract was put out so late that the actual contract wasn't signed until August. Now we're sitting with the winter, people have not been able to use that facility. What do we need eight months for to do four blocks of cement work? Consequently, that gives you some kind of example of what is happening.

"E. The scope of work of any project must be very, very well determined, i.e. sufficient borings and anticipation of additional work that will probably have to be done in conjunction with any project, so a contractor doesn't bid low knowing full well that there will be additional work and a multitude of over-runs."

Let me give you one classic example that is used in the construction business. Let's say somebody buys a room this size and they're going to turn it into offices and the law say that you've got to have sound boxes at each side saying, "In case of fire, leave." So, we say four sound boxes. But the contractor has somebody who is a pro looking at the contract saying, "Oh, we don't have to worry, we'll bid low.", because on that item priced on X dollars, we're going to need forty of them because this room is going to be divided into cubicles. We've got to have somebody in-house who thinks the same way.

"Nothing is infallible. This is not a perfect world. However, can you imagine a DeBartolo, Kossman or Buncher advertising how much they have to spend on any given project? Not on your life! They know before awarding contracts a realistic dollar value. A cost estimator allows "X" number of dollars for foundation, inherent unforeseen problems, "X" dollars for above ground construction, "X" dollars for materials and "X" dollars for a reasonable profit. We can do likewise.

Holding a price for materials and labor increases can be factored into a project by a good, in-house cost estimator or professional consultant.

I'm tired of hearing reasons from the previous director of E & C as to why our goals cannot be accomplished. It's time to work out the problems and make it happen.

I look forward to moving forward on this issue expeditiously. I've been harping on this problem for years. It distresses me every time a project runs as much as a million dollars over estimate. Enough is enough. The time to act is now.

cc: Jim Turner
Alex Sciulli
Ben Hayllar
Mary Conturo
Mayor Masloff"

I repeat, I do not tell lies. I've spoken to Alex Sciulli, I've spoken to Jim Turner. I think by sending this back, or if it is the will of the President of Council or the Chairman to just remove the dollar numbers, I could live with that. But we better start to move now or we're very remiss in our obligations to the public.

So, I'd like to move that either we remove the numbers or that we send it back for a week. I don't know that the pleasure of the Chairman would be.

Mr. Cohen:

Mr. President, I think that Councilwoman Madoff has a good point and a point that I have discussed with Director Sciulli and with Assistant Director Reginella at length. What it comes down to is this: If you are going to repair your porch or a kitchen, and you hire a contractor, the first thing you say is not, "I've got $1000 to spend on this." What you say is, "What are you going to charge me?", and try to negotiate a price. So, it's a very good point and I think one that we should look into.

But I think that there are two problems with the motion before this Council. The first one is that it would require, in my view, an amendment to the City Code to do this. It would require an ordinance, and, of course, we do not have an amendment to the ordinance before us today.

Secondly, frankly, I don't want to hold up these worthy projects for all of our neighborhoods in order for us to look into this question.

So, what I would suggest is that we schedule a post agenda, bring forward the appropriate people like the City Solicitor, like the Director of Engineering and Construction, and really take a hard look at this issue and see whether we need to amend the Code in order to save the City money which is exactly what Councilwoman Madoff is talking about. We might be able to save a lot of money. But I would not urge Council to recommit these particular bills.

Michelle Madoff:

I think there is a misunderstanding. We don't have legislation that says that we've got to put the number in. We were told there is. There is no bill that says that. I'm saying merely to take the numbers out. I've talked to Alex Sciulli, I've talked to the Administration and they are sympathetic. If we don't move now, we'll be doing what I've been doing for five years. Let's get together and talk about it and nothing will happen. We'll get their attention, it will not affect these bills, it will not affect the construction dates one iota. All we're doing is saying, as you just said, "We're not going to give you $1000 for putting this street in." We're still going with over $5 million but we're not defining how much will be appropriated to each contract. Nothing will change.

All I'm asking you to do is to remove the dollar figure. Start doing it the right way.

Mr. Cohen:

I think ultimately we need the view of the City Solicitor on this but, Section 161.01 of the City Code, under Contracts, says, "Shall designate the maximum amount authorized for such contract." It is, in fact, in the City Code and I think that we would need an amendment to do it.

In any case, this is not the forum to discuss the method by which we should resolve this problem. The forum, I think, should be a post agenda or other forum that would be suggested by Members of Council where we can talk about this issue and how to eliminate a "not to exceed" amount, not just in Engineering and Construction contracts but across the board, and do that in a way that is deliberative and thorough and not to hold up projects for all of our neighborhoods.

Michelle Madoff:

May I straighten out something that was just said that is in error, please? You will always have to have a contract that says, "not to exceed", but it won't be on when they say, "I want to go out on a project." It will be after they determine the price. Then we get a "not to exceed" and the final contract when they've chosen someone and know realistically what it will cost. When they sign a contract with you to do that porch and you decide you'll do it for $800 as opposed to $1000, there's a contract signed that says $800. We must have a number before we go out on the contract but it wouldn't happen when they come to us and say, "We'd like to spend $5 million on doing Fifth Avenue." It would be, "We want to go out and do Fifth Avenue." Council says, "Yes, we need to do Fifth Avenue." They then go out and look into various phases of Fifth Avenue, do in-house estimating, hire somebody to do the estimating, and when they've chosen the person, which they do anyway, and then when they're going to sign the contract, they come back and say, "We now want approval from Council, this is what we're spending." And we have our conscience clear that it was done properly.

I think it's because people are new and it just takes time to catch up on it. I can't imagine that no one can grasp this. It's very logical. And I would like to move that we remove those dollar figures.

The Chair:

The motion is not in writing and it must be in writing according to the Council Rules.

Michelle Madoff:

There are extenuating circumstances where we can poll Council to see if they're willing to waive rules.

The Chair:

We can temporarily remove that Council rule with six votes.

Michelle Madoff:

I'd like to ask that that rule be removed. I didn't put it in writing because I talked to everybody and I just assumed there was no difficulty with it. Logic would say we're not going out and give money away without having a number.

My motion, and obviously we have to poll everybody, is to say will you support waiving the rule so we can remove the numbers. It's not going to change anything.

The Chair:

Is there a second to that motion? The motion fails due to the lack of a second.

Mr. Ferlo:

There's not really an amendment or a formal item on the agenda or the floor right now for us to debate. I think Michelle is accurate and I appreciate the fact that she's raising this issue again for the fifteenth time. Many of us have raised it in the past.

The Municipal Code, in 161.01, Contracts, explicitly states that it has to have the "amount not to exceed" figure. I think the issue is that there's nothing necessarily in the State law that says that we have to do this this way.

The real issue, though, is not to hold up any contracts. I know I've worked hard to get the Leslie Field done and I don't want to do anything to slow them down because there's a lot of other things that are going to be on the agenda today and in the weeks ahead of us and we have to move ahead and get some of this construction work done.

The issue is to come back full circle. Every Councilmember has the right and the prerogative to introduce legislation to amend the Municipal Code and to change the manner in which we operate City government. I would encourage either Michelle or other members of Council to do that.

As far as a post agenda, I think it's a great idea. Let's bring all the parties to the table. Director Sciulli is the new Director of Engineering and Construction. I think I sense philosophically a different view than one that was held by the previous director. Let's bring the people back and let's start out at ground zero again and try to rework the debate that Michelle has initiated and we've discussed for the last couple of years. But, at this point, it doesn't do any good to slow things down and throw a monkey wrench into the works.

Mr. Milliones:

Mr. President, I agree with Mr. Cohen's suggestion of having a post agenda as soon as possible to discuss this issue.

Michelle Madoff:

Point of Clarification. Again, before we can go out on any contract, we must have a "not to exceed" number, but you don't have to have it when you say we're going to look at a project. I don't know why people can't grasp that.

Mr. Milliones:

It has been grasped. I understand what you're saying.

The Chair:

I think all of Council is hearing what you're saying and is receptive to it. I know several other Councilmembers, Mr. Coyne, has brought this issue up also in the past and I think it's a good issue. But the point of this legislation, specifically, I think we have to deal with it. A piece of general legislation based on the concept, I think is a good idea. And it has to be done also in terms of the annual budget because all the contracts in 1990 obviously reflect the dollar volume. So, we would have to begin fresh and new, I would think, in 1991.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, you've been here a good number of years and you know we've gone through this. And you know we've had public hearings on it. And you know we've had promises from the Director. When we sit here with the public watching, and we are not willing to hold for one week to talk to the Director to remove the numbers from $5 million worth of projects knowing that Phase II of Grant Street, Phase IV of Grant Street have gone $1 million over, the Ohio River Crossing, I held up the bill because there was a problem with materials and the bill was rebid and we saved $300,000 on that. The Contractor wrote me a letter and said, "Because of the time, we were able to do it."

This is not going to affect the legislation one iota, but we're sending a very strong message to the Administration. We can still have our meeting, but if we let this go, I just think it's criminal. It is absolutely criminal.

Mr. Ferlo:

I think it's an important issue. It's something I've discussed, Mr. Coyne, Michelle, yourself, and anybody else who has been here with some tenure. I would suggest that Michelle submit the legislation that was drafted, even though it might be inadequate or improper --

Michelle Madoff:

It has been submitted three times.

Mr. Ferlo:

Not to this Council. This is a new Council. I would suggest not a post agenda but that we submit this bill for the purposes of getting it on the Wednesday agenda, since you didn't support my motion last week to add other items to the agenda. So, Michelle should submit this as legislation. We should all know that it's a working draft. We get it submitted, it comes to the table, and then we have a structural framework and a formal framework in which to discuss this issue with the Administration. So, I would encourage Michelle to submit this knowing that it's in draft form. It gets it on the table, and we could lock the Administration into dialogue and debate and discussion on what the heck we want to do on the contract section.

Michelle Madoff:

I would accept that as a recommendation but there's one little problem. What you're doing is letting $5 million worth of contracts slip by us today. Do that, but hold up the $5 million.

Mr. Ferlo:

I'm trying to find a way to structurally move this and progress this discussion ahead.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bills?

And on the question, "Shall the bills pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Cohen	Mr. Milliones
Mr. Coyne	Mr. Regan
Mr. Darkins	Mr. Ricciardi
Mr. Ferlo	Mr. Wagner
	(Pres't)

AYES 8 NOES 1

(MICHELLE MADOFF VOTING NO)

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bills passed finally.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, it's with great honor and privilege that I issue, as alleged to my powers and duties as an elected Councilman, a special proclamation on behalf of myself to an individual, Mr. Frank P. Ressetano, and this proclamation is referred to as The Slum Landlord Award For Excellence.

"WHEREAS, Mr. Ressetano is the proud owner and landlord of at least 26 known commercial residential properties in the City of Pittsburgh in such neighborhoods as Highland Park, Lawrenceville, Garfield and Bloomfield; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Ressetano owes back real estate taxes, water and sewer bills totaling over $80,000 to the City and governmental units; and

WHEREAS, the litter and accumulated garbage at only one of his properties located at 4521 Butler Street has been accumulating for at least a decade and is an unsightly eyesore in the commercial district of Lawrenceville."

If you want to know how I know it's at least a decade, I'm sure my colleague, Mr. Regan, remembers Tom Tucker Soda. That's how old those soda bottles are that are littering the property.

"WHEREAS, Mr. Ressetano has the notorious track record of building and code violations and is well known to many community agencies and service providers who work hard to maintain good quality housing in our neighborhoods; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Ressetano is known to set new standards in landlord-tenant relations by requiring tenants, many of whom are receiving public subsidies, especially Section 8, to sign an illegal lease in order to rent his properties; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Ressetano recently threatened to have one of my administrative aides, who happens to be an attorney so he should think twice, arrested for facilitating a Section 8 Building Inspector; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Ressetano is a master at intimidating low and moderate income tenants with threats of illegal eviction; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Ressetano is the proud owner of a beautiful home in Fox Chapel, far away from the blight he has created in our City.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that Councilman Jim Ferlo salutes Mr. Ressetano as the individual achiever who most slum landlords would like to emulate; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that this proclamation is official notification to Mr. Ressetano that if he does not clean up the property at 4521 Butler Street by this Saturday, 10:00 a.m., Councilman Ferlo will personally deliver to his office in Bloomfield all the litter and trash that has collected at 4521 Butler Street for the last decade."

I just want to let Mr. Ressetano know about this proclamation. I think it's a great honor that he has earned this and I'll see him Saturday morning.

The Chair:

Is he here today?

Mr. Ferlo:

I wish he were here but he failed to show up to accept the proclamation, Mr. Chairman. But I will be there Saturday morning at his office in Bloomfield, if any of you would like to join me. And I have pictures which I would like to have Councilmembers look at. And I wish he were alone, but he's not alone.

Michelle Madoff:

I also think it is appropriate at this time, because I feel confident that Mr. Ferlo did his homework and everything he stated is accurate, but it would also be interesting to have perhaps some chastising of the people who haven't followed up from the appropriate agencies to see that this does not occur, sufficient penalties, fines, arrest if necessary, jail sentence if necessary. If everything Mr. Ferlo says is gospel, why hasn't he been stopped from doing what he's doing? We should know why and what agencies were responsible.

On another subject. I'm sure everybody is aware of the articles in the Press this week about St. Clair Village. And I thought it was really telling that one of the quotes stated that this is what Mr. Pietragallo thought was his shining star, his achieving, his glory. If that's what he thinks is wonderful, it's a sad day for this community. There are better than 20,000 people who live in this kind public housing. All of us, I believe, have public housing in their communities that have the same problem. This is not unique to St. Clair; it's no better, perhaps worse, in Westgate in some areas. We've brought it along tremendously; the crime rate has practically been eliminated. No shootings anyway. Broadhead Manor is no panacea.

I think at some point when we talk about responsibility to the community, the one thing that we're elected to do is to think about the human suffering in the community and I think it would be very appropriate, within a month or two at your discretion, perhaps at the end of April or the first of May, to have a meeting with Reggie Young of Housing and get to talk about what we can bring, ideas that we can have to make life better for everybody in public housing, to find out what is realistically being done.

Mr. Regan:

Mr. President, I'm really not old enough to remember those Tom Tucker bottles, I'd like my colleague, Mr. Ferlo, to know. But the Allegheny City which is the North Side which most people rarely come over and visit us, we'd like Mr. Ferlo to collect those Tom Tucker bottles and have an exhibit there on the North Side for us for our little celebration this year. Thank you.

Mr. Ricciardi:

Mr. President, I haven't seen one of those bottles for a long time on the South Side of Pittsburgh. But I would like to mention, picking up on Mr. Ferlo's idea, that Mr. Cohen, Mr. Miliones and myself working with community groups and the Administration in the Oakland area, are beginning to address the problems of absentee landlords. And, hopefully, once we kick off this task force, maybe we could have a type of press conference and if it works in Oakland, we might be able to carry it on into the other parts of the City. Thank you.

And on the motion of Mr. Millones

Council adjourned.

PRESENTATIONS

Mr. Darkins presents

No. 475 WHEREAS, Keisha McBroom, a 12 year old student at Florence Reizenstein Middle School, was left to care for her four brothers and sisters on Friday, February 2, 1990; and

WHEREAS, on that morning the home's furnace exploded, causing the home to be engulfed in flames; and

WHEREAS, Keisha discovered the fire and competently and courageously, without regard for her own personal safety, repeatedly returned to the flaming house several times to rescue her younger brothers and sisters, Darrell age 8, Keith 7, Deborah 4, and Drashawn 2; and

WHEREAS, Keisha McBroom remained calm and did not panic during this life-threatening experience and is to be recognized for her valiant efforts that saved the lives of her family members.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh does hereby commend Keisha McBroom for the brave and outstanding heroic efforts she demonstrated in saving the lives of her brothers and sisters on Friday, February 2, 1990.

Mr. Darkins moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Darkins:

Keisha is here today and I'd like to let my colleagues on Council know that her mother is here, her grandmother is here.

When I started with the City of Pittsburgh years ago as a counselor in the Neighborhood Youth Corp, Keisha's mother worked for me in my office. It's just so rewarding to have them here today.

This came through the efforts of Officer Drummond from our Ninth Council District. It was brought to my attention and I thought that this was a rewarding thing that should be done at this time.

Ms. McBroom:

I don't really think of myself as being a hero, but I thank God the most and I thank him for giving me this message to save my family and I'm proud of myself.

And I thank you, all the people who are doing this for me right now.

Mr. Darkins:

We also have from Reisenstein School her teacher, her principal, and also our School Board member here, that came along today to accompany Keisha in receiving this resolution.

Officer Drummond has something from their Zone 5 Station to present to Keisha today.

Officer Drummond:

From Commander Mitchell, all the officers at Zone 5 Station, we are very proud of this juvenile here. She has done a job that we really want to commend her for. It's from all of us at Zone 5 Station. We don't just get the bad one; we get the good ones as well. We love you.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Mr. Darkins:

Mr. President and my colleagues on Council, I'd like to recognize today the men from Greyhound.

Mr. Darkins presents

No. 476 WHEREAS, the employees of Greyhound Bus Lines, represented by the amalgamated Council of Greyhound Local Unions, are on strike; and

WHEREAS, the strike is affecting more than 9,000 employees nationally and 135 employees locally; and

WHEREAS, Greyhound's contract negotiation tactics demonstrate an utter lack of good faith towards its employees; and

WHEREAS, among other things, Greyhound is refusing to negotiate with its retirees, the very people who made Greyhound what it is today; and

WHEREAS, one person has died while on the picket line; and

WHEREAS, this resolution constitutes an emergency measure providing for the immediate preservation of the public, property, health or safety in that the Greyhound strike does not serve the interests of the traveling public and should be concluded immediately.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh supports the striking employees of Greyhound Bus Lines, and calls upon the bus company to resume negotiations toward a new contract in good faith.

Mr. Darkins moved to adopt the resolution,

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Darkins:

Mr. O'Neill is here to receive this resolution.

Mr. O'Neill:

I first want to congratulate all of City Council and the Mayor for passing this resolution. And on behalf of all my fellow Greyhound employees, this is the kind of action we want to take to try to bring the Company to a fair settlement of our dispute. We appreciate calling for the City of Pittsburgh. The safety of the people is a top consideration and we ask them to print a boycott.

On behalf of all the Local 1043, that's the Greyhound drivers and all the organized labor in the City and the County in the State of Pennsylvania, this is a brave thing you did, and we appreciate it.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Mr. Ferlo:

I'd like the representatives of the Boys and Girls Club to come forward. Mike Hepler who is the President and CEO of the Boys and Girls Club of Lawrenceville; and another staff member, Tim Macahone who is Executive Vice President.

Mr. Ferlo presents

No. 477 WHEREAS, the Boys and Girls Club of Western Pennsylvania in Lawrenceville was founded on March 21, 1923 by members of the Rotary Club of Pittsburgh with help from the business community, and in particular R.B. Heppenstall, Sr.; and

WHEREAS, the United Way has been a sustaining force throughout the existence of the Club; and

WHEREAS, the Lawrenceville Boys and Girls Club is the only organization in Lawrenceville which provides supervised recreational, educational and social activities for the youth of Lawrenceville; and

WHEREAS, the Club has initiated the Smart Moves Youth Program which is a unique and innovative program aimed at dealing with the critical problems of drugs, alcohol and teenage pregnancy; and

WHEREAS, the Club is used for Rotary Club meetings, bingo games and other activities for adults; and

WHEREAS, the Club has been in the forefront working with law enforcement officials, elected officials and community groups in a neighborhood wide effort to eliminate on-street trafficking; and

WHEREAS, on October 25, 1989, the Lawrenceville Boys and Girls Club was the target of robbery and arson which resulted in a four-alarm fire; and

WHEREAS, the fire caused extensive smoke and water damage to the Club, and destroyed the Club's administrative offices for Western Pennsylvania, and wiped out improvements made throughout the Club in a year-long modernization program costing more than $300,000; and

WHEREAS, last year the Council of the City of Pittsburgh allocated emergency funds of $10,000 to the Club, and in doing so, joined numerous local residents and organizations who voluntarily contributed to the renovation fund; and

WHEREAS, the Lawrenceville Boys and Girls Club will celebrate the Grand Opening of their newly renovated facilities on March 17, 1990.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh does hereby designate March 17, 1990 as Lawrenceville Boys and Girls Club Day in the City of Pittsburgh, and wishes the Club continued success in the future.

Mr. Ferlo moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Coyne seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Ferlo:

Thank you, Mr. President, and members of Council. Again, I'd like to have Mike and Tim say a few words. I really appreciate the previous City Council, and I'm sure this Council would likewise have stepped in and contributed. We made an emergency allocation last year of $10,000 to try to assist them with some of the relocation of the administrative offices in order to maintain the program. It's a tremendous effort and a statement not only by the organization itself but many who came forward from the community within Lawrenceville, really City-wide, to contribute to the rebuilding and the renovation fund. This is an important organization in the community.

I think, and I'm sure that Mike will say this better than anybody, this organization is not going to go away and it's not going to be intimidated, and I'm sure this organization is going to continue with many of us who are working diligently in Lawrenceville to eliminate on-street drug trafficking. There's no turning us around; we're going to continue, and I appreciate the support that Council has given in the past and I hope that everyone will participate and is invited on March 17th.

I'd like to introduce Mike and Tim and maybe they'd like to say a few words.

Mr. Hepler:

With all the children here, I feel like I'm at one of our Boys and Girls Clubs and it kind of makes me feel at home.

The fire on October 25th did put us out of business in Lawrenceville. However, immediate funds that came forward from the City enabled us to set up alternative programs within the community so that we did have something for the children. Here it is, five, almost six months later, and we're ready to open this building up and the building is gorgeous. I do hope, if you are available, that you would stop in the club and observe what your generosity is helping us to provide.

We have but one mission, and that is to make the growing up years count for the children. And with the help of a lot of people in this town, it's a reality, every one of our operations. But it's nice to have friends in a time of need. We had a time of need, the City responded, and I truly appreciate that. Thank you very much.

Mr. Macahone:

Ironically, my son is one of the members of the St. Basil class that's here. Hi Mike. My wife is here as a chaperone. Very convenient.

Thank you very much. We really appreciate the help both financially and emotionally. We're very excited to re-open and we really look forward to working with kids again. That's what we're all about. Thank you.

The Chair:

I would like to introduce Sister Michelle O'Leary to introduce the group, and we're going to have a dance, I understand.

Sister O'Leary:

Thank you, very much. On behalf of the Oak Grove Ceili Club, I'd like to introduce Mr. Ed Brady who is the Chairman, or the leader, of this group. Thank you.

Mr. Brady:

On behalf of the Oak Grove Ceili Club, I would like to thank you for receiving us to play for your beautiful City.

Since our arrival in Pittsburgh, we have really been made to feel at home by all we have come in contact with. The cordiality and friendship bestowed on us is enhanced by the close links formed between our two cities with the Ireland Institute of Pittsburgh. The City has formed close links not only with Derry, but also with various parts in both Northern and Southern Ireland through the many projects innovated by the Ireland Institute of Pittsburgh. These projects are designed to improve not only the economic status but also the quality of life enjoyed by their participants through providing the job related training, education and reconciliation.

I would like to thank you all in our own Gaelic tongue, "Taing Bui Dhea Coas."

I'd like my remarks brought forward on this bill, please.

(REMARKS ON FOLLOWING PAGES)

(MR. FERLO'S COMMENTS ON BILL NO. 334-Wednesday, March 7, 1990)

Mr. Ferlo:

Director, this was held a couple weeks ago. Obviously, Council, in approving the ice skating rink, is very supportive and wants to fast track this important effort. However, this thing is somewhat tangential to the skating rink proposal, which we have already given final approval to, and this would provide land that would become available to one specific developer supposedly, and this would be the same gentleman who would operate and develop the skating rink proposal.

We did ask for some information, I don't know if we received it today. We wanted a better appreciation for who the developer is and what his particular track record is in developing housing on the site. Apparently from a memo from Evan Stoddard, we are talking about 23.9 acres of property conveyed, which is a significant amount of land, at least 17.5 acres is developable. So lots of questions come to mind: What is this individual? What is his track record in development? Why are we dedicating this land only to one developer? Why not see who can present us with the highest and best use for housing on that site?

Again, we are not privileged to any meeting that has taken place possibly with the community, we have received no information regarding the ability financially or otherwise of Mr. Shuttleworth to do this housing. There are just a lot of questions that have to be answered.

Personally, I couldn't vote for this until there was a public hearing. I would like some better assurance that the community is involved and having input on this whole issue.

Mr. Whitmer:

Let me address it, first, in relationship to the skating rink. It is my understanding that Mr. Shuttleworth approached the Parks Department or vice versa with respect to the skating rink and his desire to develop the skating rink into a recreational use. Secondly, his desire was to look at the potential of developing the property adjacent to the skating rink. To the best of my knowledge, there has never been any interest in that particular site. I think Mr. Shuttleworth's position was if I am going to sink my money and do all this work involved in getting the skating rink, at least I would like an option to look at the property that is adjacent to develop the housing. That's essentially all we are doing here, is giving -- and we haven't yet -- Mr. Shuttleworth an option for a specified period of time to develop that property. That is not saying he is going to develop it; he still would have to come back to us even before we would acquire the property from the city with the development plans.

Mr. Ferlo:

But, Director, it does set into motion what amounts to a dedicated transaction, a dedicated sale or authorization from this particular developer to do whatever it is that ultimately he would desire approval-wise, whether or not he could do it. But it does apply, at least a dedicated kind of transaction with one developer. As is often the case, in the brief time I have been on Council and even before as a community activist, it is unfair to say that there might not be other interested parties. Oftentimes people who are into development, especially housing, will interact with the City bureaucracy only to be told, "The land is not available," or, "It is for somebody else," or one thing or another. I would like some sense that others are -- I think the atmosphere of competition is needed here, unless there is some overriding reason why it has to be this particular individual.

The specific question I have is why are we having a dedicated sale to this individual when we haven't been supplied with any information as to his financial background, what other types of housing and track records he has built?

There is also a question I have, which I don't know if you can answer, maybe somebody from Parks, it has been conveyed to me from the community that there is a possibility that either part or some of this land has some covenants on it in relation to the original deeding of this property to the City. And I was wondering, is there any truth to that information?

Mr. Whitmer:

That is all information that would have to be determined, because there are title searches and everything, and the developer is fully knowledgeable that for some reason we may not be able to convey that land.

I think the question here is really, the developer came forward and said, "I want to take an asset off the city that is not being used, the skating rink, and develop it. I would also like the opportunity to develop the adjacent property within a specified length of time, or look at developing it. I don't want somebody else coming in and developing when I spent all this money on the skating rink."

Mr. Ferlo:

We are talking about 17 acres of land, which could amount to 150 housing units. In every other instance, the Crawford Roberts example and others, there was a very lengthy process of community involvement, an air of competition with various competitors, developers or construction people were involved. That may have taken place in the community, I don't know, maybe Mr. Ricciardi or others would like to speak to it. I have a problem with a dedicated sale when we have so little information to vote on it.

(Deleted text.)

Mr. Ferlo:

I am in support of all the things that were just outlined by Mr. Ricciardi. The issue is the process, and the process so far is inadequate. Part of that process is more adequate information to this legislative body. I think it is irresponsible to vote on this until we have additional information.

Mr. Ricciardi mentions a plan. Is there some plan we could review, either by the developer --

Mr. Whitmer:

There will not be a plan for some time. The only thing we are doing -- I am speaking for the Parks Department -- is trying to accomplish the skating rink first.

Mr. Ferlo:

Why are we voting on this, then?

Mr. Whitmer:

Because I think the developer has taken the position in his negotiations that, "If I am going to invest money into the skating rink, I want to have an exclusive opportunity for a period of time to take a look at the development of this adjacent property."

Mr. Ferlo:

What other development has this gentleman been involved in that you could point to?

Mr. Whitmer:

I can't give you specifics, but he has done other development, mostly in the South Hills, he is a South Hills developer.

Mr. Ferlo:

I would like to know that information. It is a fair and reasonable question.

(Deleted text.)

Mr. Ferlo:

Let me conclude, Mr. Chairman. What happens theoretically -- and I am not saying I am for or against this -- that this land is made available to him, and assuming proper zoning were in place and the gentleman wants to bid on Housing Authority for Section 8 units? In other words, these are things that I think should be discussed.

Mr. Whitmer:

All these would come back in the development plan.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Cohen	Mr. Milliones
Mr. Coyne	Mr. Regan
Mr. Darkins	Mr. Ricciardi
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Wagner (Pres't)

AYES 8 NOES 1

(MR. FERLO VOTING NO)

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bill passed finally.

Mr. Coyne presented

Bill No. 471

Report of the Committee on General Services for March 7, 1990 transmitting sundry resolutions to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 223

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for a professional services agreement or agreements for the use of existing agreements for the purchase of fuel for City owned vehicles, and providing for the payment of the cost thereof."

Which was read.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, on Bill 223, the infamous gasoline credit card, of which there are over 700 in this City, I object to this strongly. I didn't debate it to death this time since most Councilmembers seem willing to support it.

I do want to point out, however, that this contract has ballooned into a $625,000 contract. Originally, it was suggested a year ago, that it would be no greater than about $350,000.

Again, it makes more sense to me, cost effective-wise, to utilize the existing gas pumps that we have in a different department, and that is the Department of Public Works, of which there are 7 strategically located all around the City. There's nothing wrong with a police officer or somebody else getting out of their car and pumping their own gas, but that's really not even necessary because, at these pumps, they are currently staffed and serviced about 70 percent of the time by a Public Works individual worker at the gas pumps.

Secondly, if we wanted to have a creative use for light duty or modified duty for individuals on workers' comp, let them come back and pump gas at some of these stations that we operate in the City. It makes no sense to spend $1.30 plus for this gasoline. It's a waste of money. This is a give-away which makes no sense to me when we can achieve the objective which basically is to give our emergency vehicles a better place for gassing up their vehicle without having to go back to the Strip District location.

So, I strenuously vote no on this.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Cohen	Michelle Madoff
Mr. Coyne	Mr. Millions
Mr. Darkins	Mr. Ricciardi

AYES 6 NOES 3

(MR. FERLO, MR. REGAN AND MR. WAGNER VOTING NO)

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bill passed finally.

Also,

Bill No. 229

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution amending Res. No. 500, eff. June 23, 1989, entitled, 'Providing for the letting of a contract or contracts for the furnishing and delivery of motorized fire equipment for the Dept. of General Services, and providing for the payment thereof, by increasing the total project allocation by $660,000.00 Dollars from $1,302,000.00 to $1,962,000.00.'"

Which was read.

The Chair:

I'd like my remarks brought forward on this bill, please.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, would it be in order to include the statements by Ms. Botsford because I think the public listening to this debate might think that we're acting irresponsibly. I think we're voting, based on information that we had, that it would be the most cost effective way to proceed with the present system. Someone listening would say that we're just doing a give-away and I think it would be incumbent upon us to put the section where she responds to the specific bill into the Minutes. Do you have any objections?

The Chair:

No, not at all. Please bring the Administration's comments forward.

(REMARKS ON FOLLOWING PAGES)

(MR. WAGNER'S COMMENTS ON BILL NO. 229-Wednesday, March 7, 1990)

Mr. Wagner:

Chief, forgive me if I am redundant, but on the issue of buying the equipment, I always bring it up, and I know you communicated to me a couple times in writing on it. I support you totally in regard to the new vehicles, housing the people in the cab. Prior to being the Chief, Council was very supportive of the Administration doing that and making the vehicle safer. But the issue that keeps coming up is the elimination of parking on streets, and the public is being told the reason behind it is that new fire equipment is bigger, needs more space on the streets. And I simply want to be reassured in voting for this legislation that we are not going to eliminate parking on any streets due to the fact that the vehicles are bigger, need more room, need greater turning radius.

So can you simply reassure me again, as you have in the past, that that is not the case?

Mr. Dickinson:

We are taking the brunt, as I said in my correspondence to you, for a lot of problems. Vehicles of all sizes today, because I suppose the Fire Bureau has red lights and we use sirens to do our work, we are very visible. Our apparatus today, Councilman, is no wider than apparatus that has been in this city ten years ago. We do have some smaller apparatus, Councilman, but those are unavailable anymore. I think you are aware of those problems that we have.

Let me make this commitment: Safety is always paramount to us. I am not sure any rational decision can be made in a dialogue across the table when we are dealing with streets that were built in the 1800's with absolutely no one in their wildest imaginations thinking that even cars today would be the size they are, let alone fire apparatus, dump trucks, garbage trucks, Environmental Services, all those different issues.

This, I can guarantee, is the Bureau absolutely does not want to create any hardship on any citizen in this community for parking. We understand that issue, we understand it clearly. We get beat over the head constantly every day over these issues. But I have to guarantee the safety, again, of the community, that we can get access to some of these places. I can only tell you we will do our very, very best in trying to reach resolution of issues over this. I can tell you that it is probably less than one-tenth of 1 percent of problems in our streets. As since I have been the Fire Chief, I have yet to hear we couldn't make it to a fire because of street access. What I do hear, though, is we have tremendous problems in some areas getting there. The bottom line is these apparatus and these specifications are no wider than the existing apparatus that we have on the street. None, as long as I am Fire Chief in the City of Pittsburgh, would be any wider than that. We legally can't go any wider than the newer apparatus that we received and the ones going through the bid specification.

I wish there was a simple answer, because I understand the heartburn of the homeowners and the people who live in this city when it comes to parking issues on the street. I commit to this Council to be very sensitive to those decisions and only make those decisions when it is a difference of being able to get apparatus to the fronts of buildings and not.

Mr. Wagner:

Let me summarize, then. What you are saying to me is the purchase of this apparatus will not eliminate any parking on any of the streets in the City of Pittsburgh?

Mr. Dickinson:

Absolutely not.

(END OF REMARKS)

(Transcribed by Helen L. Kriebel, Stenotype Reporter)

(DAWN BOTSFORD'S COMMENTS ON BILL NO. 229-Wednesday, 3/7/90)

Ms. Botsford:

What I have passed out to Council is a calendar of events of the entire process that we used to do this bid specification, to do the initial bid and then to do the rebid. Nothing went wrong; it worked exactly as it was supposed to work.

Mr. Ferlo:

How is that?

Ms. Botsford:

The Apparatus Committee came up with a specification for a truck that they wanted. When we put that specification out to bid, not one single bidder of the four eligible bidders bid on that truck without exception. Consequently, every bidder took various exceptions, and not all of them took the same exceptions. Based on that, there were over 100 exceptions all total among the bidders. We took those exceptions back to the Apparatus Committee and we said, "Which of these can you live with? Which of these are suitable? Which will we accept on our truck?" They came up with a list of what they would accept. And based on that list there was no way to award to any of the vendors who had bid at that point without being unfair to all the other vendors.

Mr. Ferlo:

What can you give us, Director, between now and the final vote, that indicates to us in writing an analysis of what you just said? What is in writing that you can give us that talks about those bidding exceptions?

Secondly, do you have some reports from the Apparatus Committee that gave some sign off? Is there something in writing that verifies or quantifies what you are saying right now to Council?

Ms. Botsford: I have, I believe, given you this before, which is a memo dated 11-6-89, which is the recommendation from the Chief and from my Superintendent in which they went over all the exceptions, they went over the process, and they recommended to rebid on the fire pumpers based on the recommendations of Apparatus Committee. I have that here in front of me, and I will be happy to give you a copy of that.

Mr. Ferlo:

Is there some report from the Apparatus Committee regarding their observations for the second time around that goes into the recommendations for rebidding that we are going to give them today?

Ms. Botsford:

There is a report. The minutes of that Apparatus Committee meeting, I do have those, also, with each of the exceptions outlined and what the Apparatus Committee's recommendation was.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. Coyne:

Mr. Chairman, I'd like to take a minute to read a letter that I am sending today to the Governor's Office, to Mr. Michael Hershock who is the Secretary of the Budget, and also to bring something to the attention of Council. The letter reads:

"Dear Mr. Hershock:

Governor Casey's capital budget of 1988 provided a $5 million budget item for repairs to Streets Run Stream in the 31st Ward of the City of Pittsburgh. This appropriation offered some hope to the residents in the Pittsburgh neighborhood of Hays who have been so adversely affected by the flooding, litter and traffic problems created by the poor condition of this stream. Unfortunately, the Administrative steps needed to fund this project have yet to be undertaken.

The completion of this project would drastically improve the quality of life for the residents of Hays. The City of Pittsburgh, through the Pittsburgh Water and Sewer Authority, is currently in the process of a source study of this area to make recommendations on limiting further deterioration of the stream. However, this study will not address the degeneration and decay that already exists.

I urge you and Governor Casey to float a bond that is necessary to finance this project and move ahead as quickly as possible."

Now, Mr. Wagner, I know you have been out to visit the Streets Run area and I would request you to set up something maybe within the next week, if possible, for other Councilmembers to go out and observe the situation.

It is something that the people of that area have lived with for many years and the problem has been worsened by the construction of new homes in the Brentwood and Baldwin area which increases the run-off and makes the size of the stream widen and get higher every time there's a major rain. The debris in the stream, the caving in of walls, and just the general lack of maintenance that has been provided by the City, the County and the State is something that I think we all need to look at.

As I said, the City is currently doing a study to make recommendations on how to solve the sewer problems in that area, but I think that in waiting for the study to be done, which in talking to Mr. Consetino this morning, it won't be completed until next fall. What we need to do is at least put some stop gap measures in. There are some areas of the stream that need some guardrail and there are some other minor things which I think the City, either Engineering and Construction or the Department of Public Works could take care of.

So, I would request for you to set up some sort of a tour within the next couple of weeks so that Councilmembers can go out and observe the situation themselves and, hopefully, we can have the Department of Public Works or Engineering and Construction do something at least to alleviate the problem in the short term.

The Chair:

Thank you, Mr. Coyne. Through Mr. Perry's Office we will schedule something in the next couple of weeks, ask the appropriate Department Directors to come along, and I believe even the County is involved in this one.

Mr. Coyne:

Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, two brief issues. First of all, yesterday I filed a formal complaint with the Public Utility Commission in opposition to a rate request being sought by Equitable Gas Company and the City of Pittsburgh. I'm sure many of us pay an Equitable Gas bill ourselves and I would say that 80 or 90 percent of this City does have Equitable Gas. In addition, this company serves about a 7 county area around Western Pennsylvania.

The rate request is, on the average, over ten percent increase on top of an already approved ten percent increase that they got about a year ago. It would raise revenues of over $29 million for the company; however, of that $29.5 million, close to $22 million would come off the backs of the residential ratepayers. In addition, the rate request that is now filed with the PUC also seeks a higher rate for winter usage of natural gas as opposed to the summer and the spring rates, which I find unconscionable.

The Gas Company does not deserve this increase. It is unwarranted. It is callous and disregards the incomes and the livelihood not only of residential customers, but even the business community in the commercial sector who, I think, can ill afford another significant rate increase.

When we look at this rate increase coupled with the significant increase in the light bills on the part of Duquesne Light Company, I think we're really talking about economic havoc on the livelihood of individual residential customers as well as the commercial community.

I think it's important that we, as a municipality, also join forces in opposing this rate request. We have a track record in this City of opposing rate increases successfully in the instance of Duquesne Light Company, and I would encourage, and I've communicated to the Mayor and to Mary Conturo, the Solicitor, for the City as a municipality to also file in this complaint.

I would like to make a motion, however, that we send a communication to the Public Utility Commission asking them to hold either a public hearing or an evidentiary hearing here in the City of Pittsburgh where people are directly affected by the rate hike so that they can hear from citizens first hand. And, obviously, I would like Councilmembers to be supportive in opposition to this rate request which I think is undeserved. I'd like to make that in the form of a motion.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, on another issue very briefly. This is a problem that has been brewing for some time in the Bloomfield community concerning a convenience store, the A-Plus MiniMart in Bloomfield at South Mathilda and Liberty.

The problem basically stems from this store being a 24-hour operation and it is now basically a sore point in the community. The community, through the leadership of the Bloomfield Citizens Council, has pretty much come to the position, having met with the management of this convenience store. Councilman Cohen was at the meeting as well as myself and the leadership of the Block Watches in an around the area. This convenience store is a sore point and the community is demanding that this store close at 11:00 in the evening and remain closed from 11:00 p.m. until 6:00 a.m.

Basically, it's a congregation point, being an all-night store, for criminal element and the community is growing more and more alarmed at the situation and is demanding that the leadership and the management of the A-Plus MiniMart take into consideration the problems in the community and they have launched a boycott campaign against this store. I'm sure residents will shortly see informational picketing and informational leafleting at this store.

We are demanding that Mr. Ron Rossi who is the Division Manager of the A-Plus MiniMart store, which is a division of Atlantic Refinery Company, yield to the concerns and demands of the community and close this store.

I'd like to make a motion that we, on behalf of the Bloomfield Citizen Council, that this Council be supportive of the community and communicate to Mr. Rossi who is the Division Manager of the A-Plus MiniMart store, our concern and our support for the position of the community that the store be closed during the evening and early morning hours.

So, I'd like to make that in the form of a motion, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Cohen seconded the motion.

Mr. Cohen:

Discussion. Mr. President, I was in attendance at that meeting and we met with the representatives from the company that owns this MiniMart on Liberty Avenue and the company is just not being cooperative.

What the community is asking is not a difficult request at all. All they're asking is that a security guard be placed on the premises and that the store close at a reasonable hour and that the criminal elements that are there not be allowed to congregate and cause problems in the Bloomfield community. Bloomfield is a very special and cohesive community and they're not going to let this happen.

So, I very strongly support Councilman Ferlo's motion.

Michelle Madoff:

Same subject. On the surface, it would seem that we ought to support this legislation. But it occurs to me that if we have a criminal element, who is the criminal element and why aren't the police arresting them or dispersing them? Why don't they hire an off-duty policeman?

I don't know that we should throw the baby out with the bath water. I don't know enough about it. I agree that there should not be a criminal element congregating anywhere, whether it's in front of a bar in the North Side problems we've had all over the City, or whether we have youngsters carrying on on Grandview Avenue at the Overlook. We need to address that through our Safety Department.

However, I would just like to know a little bit more from the perspective of where are our police in all this. Could someone address that?

Mr. Ferlo:

I'd like to respond very briefly, Mr. Chairman. First of all, the Police Department does respond. Unfortunately, they respond all too frequently because of the consistent pattern of problems associated with this store being open all night long.

We know, and we can't B.S. the public, we know that the Police Department is understaffed and that there are inadequacies both in police response time as well as the number of available cars in each one of the police zones. Zone 5, which includes Bloomfield, has the largest number of Public Safety incidents in the City. It is probably one of the largest geographical zones, when you take into consideration just the demographics along with the southern zone and the southwest zone.

So, the problem, basically, is that the Police Department cannot be the private security force for this problem store. This store amounts to being the new nuisance bar in Bloomfield. The community has struggled with the previous management which did institute some security, which, since the new management wants to cut costs and increase the profit margin, they have removed that security. So, because of the position, the hard-nosed position of the company, the community is taking the position of getting to the root of the problem and that is the all night hours associated with this convenience store.

The Chair:

If I may ask a question, does the store have security between 11:00 p.m. and 7:00 a.m.?

Mr. Ferlo:

No, it does not.

The Chair:

Why don't we request that also as a possibility?

Mr. Ferlo:

They refused to do that, Mr. Chairman, as stated by Mr. John Steele and on behalf of Mr. Rossi from the A-Plus MiniMart store.

The Chair:

Would either of you be against requesting that also in the letter?

Mr. Ferlo:

Absolutely not. We must certainly should request it.

The Chair:

Is there any other discussion on this?

All those in favor? Opposed?

WHICH MOTION PREVAILED.

Michelle Madoff:

You know, I thought I had heard everything in the years I've been here. There's something that has come to my attention that I have shared with some of my colleagues, not with all of them.

I had a call, as all of us from time to time receive, informing me that the Housing Authority of the City of Pittsburgh which supplied us with a list of employees as we get every year, and this one was dated January 22, 1990, had an employee that was hired, they felt, for the wrong reasons. The issue in my perception is not why the person was hired, because I don't think that really pertains to the concern I have and that Council should have. But I asked for the name of the person and, lo and behold, I check alphabetically in the Housing Authority of the City of Pittsburgh employees list of January 22, 1990 and the person was not here.

I subsequently spoke to the Acting-Director who informed me that, yes, indeed that person did work for the Housing Authority and I'm not sure whether the salary was $24,000 or $29,000. I said, "Why is their name not listed?" They informed me that they weren't listed because they were a temporary employee. I said, "Do you mean they work part-time?" "No, he works 40 plus overtime." "How long has the employee been there?", I said. "Over a year." I said, "Why isn't the name not listed as part of the Housing Authority report to Council on employees?"

Well, it seems that if somebody is on Workers' Comp, their job is preserved for two years. Therefore, anybody working in place of that person is really not in place and that vacancy is considered a temporary employee, and therefore, they're not considered present. They're like a ghost employee. Granted, they're on the payroll, obviously, in the Housing Authority, but we do not receive the names.

I then said, "How many more do you have like this?" And they said, "Twenty-two."

I would like to respectfully request of the Chairman that we write to all the Authorities who, by law, have been giving us a list of all the employees. That would be the Housing Authority, the Water and Sewer Authority, Alcosan, all City Authorities. And I would like to know if they have any employees that are part-time or full-time but because of the policy of Workers' Comp have not provided us with the list of those people. I'd like to know who the people are, what the salaries are, how long have they worked there, and who sponsored them.

My gut is that this business as usual is still business as usual and this is why I had sent a letter out some time ago. I've never served on any Authority or Board and when I was appointed for four months, I think it was to the Leasing Authority, I resigned because that was the time that all the issues were coming up with Alcosan and I think the opportunities for patronage and for putting our two cents worth in as a member of this body is inappropriate.

There's nothing to stop us from going to a meeting. Nothing is stopping me from doing a performance audit on the Water Department last year. I'm doing another one; I'm updating it all the time, and I can go to any meeting I want to go to. I don't need a vote to see whether something is right or wrong. What we need to have good people on those boards. I think that patronage still exists and it's got to stop because we're going to start seeing the kind of things we saw before.

I would like to have, as I said, a list of these people and who sponsored them.

The Chair:

So, the request is from all authorities to provide, in addition to the permanent employees, a list of temporary employees that work for those authorities.

Michelle Madoff:

But not just temps. How long have they been there? Do they work full-time? Salaries and who sponsored them. How were they hired?

We probably won't get answers, but let's ask the question.

The Chair:

I'd like to entertain a motion to approve the Minutes and compliment the City Clerk's Office for devising a method to do this in-house which, Mr. Perry has informed me, will save the City $50,000 per year.

Michelle Madoff moved to approve the Minutes of Tuesday, February 13, 1990; Tuesday, February 20, 1990; and Tuesday, February 27, 1990.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Regan

Council adjourned.

PRESENTATIONS

Mr. Cohen:

Mr. President and Members of Council, if I could have the members of the Earth Day Coalition here, please, not to mention our Boy Scout and Girl Scout. I'm happy to read this resolution on behalf of Earth Day.

Mr. Cohen presents

No. 506 WHEREAS, almost twenty years ago, more than twenty million Americans joined together on Earth Day in a demonstration for the concern for the environment, and their collective actions contributed significantly to the last victories of the Clean Air Act, the Clean Water Act and the creation of the Environmental Protection Agency; and

WHEREAS, in the nearly twenty years since the first Earth Day, despite environmental improvements, the environmental health of the planet is increasingly endangered and threatened; and

WHEREAS, Earth Day 1990 is a national and international call to action for all citizens to join in a global effort to save the planet; and

WHEREAS, Earth Day 1990 activities and events will educate all citizens on the importance of acting in an environmentally sensitive fashion by recycling, conserving energy and water, using efficient transportation, protecting our natural resources and adopting more ecologically sound ways of living; and

WHEREAS, Earth Day 1990 activities will include the Earth Fair at Point State Park, the distribution of environmental activities information to Pittsburgh students, kindergarten through 12th grade, college students conduct environmental audits on their campus, community trash-a-thons, a multi-denominational sunrise service at Point State Park on April 22nd, the planting of over 40,000 trees and a Symposium of Business and Industry to introduce state of the art waste reduction technologies; and

WHEREAS, the City of Pittsburgh must unite with the network of other U.S. cities and cities around the world to share in the environmental concerns, not only of our region such as acid rain, carcinogenic air, strip-mined mountains and acidified streams, but issues that affect our whole planet such as global warming, rain forest devastation, ocean dumping and a growing world population.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh does hereby designate and proclaim April 22, 1990 as Earth Day 1990, and that that day shall be set aside for public activities promoting environmental preservation of the City of Pittsburgh and our entire planet.

Mr. Cohen moved to adopt the resolution.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Cohen:

Thank you, Members of Council. I'd like to introduce a few members here of the Earth Day Coalition; Mr. Tim Barner who is the Chair of Earth Day Coalition of Western Pennsylvania; Ms. Suzanna Downie who is the Secretary Treasurer; and Mr. Randy Walsh who is the Coordinator. We also have with us today a Boy Scout, Phil Artuso and a Girl Scout, Yvonne Smith, who will be handing you little seedlings for each of you to plant in your district. Please do that, as long as they are 500 feet away from a bus stop.

Mr. Barner:

Thank you, Councilman Cohen, Council President Wagner, other Councilmembers. On behalf of the Earth Day '90 Coalition of Western Pennsylvania, we thank you for passage of this City Council resolution which calls the attention of citizens of Pittsburgh to Earth Day 1990 and to the actions which we can all take to create and maintain a quality environment here in Pittsburgh and on our planet.

On April 22nd, Pittsburgh will join with over 2,000 cities and an estimated 100 million people around the world to usher in A Decade of the Environment proclaimed by the United Nations. Your resolution states the goals of the decade well.

In 1990, we understand more closely than in 1970 the connections between today's cost for inefficient energy, tomorrow's solid waste disposal problems, and the clean and green qualities of the local environment which we are borrowing from our children.

Many Pittsburghers are excited by the recent political changes in the Eastern European homelands of their families, but the lifting of secrecy has revealed a forest devastation and poisoned air from an industrial economy without controls. The cost of repair has been placed on the shoulders of the next generations there.

Sharing Pittsburgh's experiences in smoke control and current efforts to produce jobs while retaining environmental quality here may be an important part of our foreign aid to those cities in addition to our dollars.

Meanwhile, here in Pittsburgh, preventing rivers spills, cleaning up toxic waste and buying home products with environmental considerations, are global actions that reduce pollution and conserve resources.

As Executive Director of the World Federalists of Pittsburgh, I'm pleased to work with so many other Earth Day planners who are thinking globally, acting locally, and responding personally.

I hope that living with the environmental integrity described in the Earth Day Green Pledge will also prepare us for a different kind of global dialogue, perhaps an environmental partnership among cities.

In 1992, the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development meeting in Brazil will debate and plan the governing structures for the environment that will carry our earth into the 21st Century. We hope that Western Pennsylvania communities, Pittsburgh and others, through Earth Day participation, will better understand the kind of global village partners that we want to be.

We need your leadership and partnership as our City Council in beginning this decade of the environment today.

On behalf of the Earth Day '90 Coalition, I want to present each of you with a planet poster distributed through the World Federalists, "Our Planet In Every Classroom" project.

Thank you for your consideration.

Mr. Walsh:

Let me start by saying thank you to Council for having us here. My name is Randy Walsh; I'm coordinating activities for Earth Day here in Southwestern Pennsylvania.

I'm going to speak briefly about what is happening locally on Earth Day and also talk a little bit about what we see as a new trend in Pittsburgh, the greening of Pittsburgh.

Start with the local Earth Day Coalition. It's comprised of approximately 50 local organizations. Everything from the traditional environmental groups like Clean Water Action and the Sierra Club to the Association of Pittsburgh Priests to the Carnegie Museum of Natural History. This diversity of representation within the Coalition is very representative of what has been going on with Earth Day and what is going on with the environment here in Pittsburgh.

This has been a refreshing change for those of us who have been working on the environment here in Pittsburgh where usually our challenge is to generate energy for environmental issues. This has been a completely different challenge for us.

Our challenge with Earth Day instead, has been to direct the incredible amount of energy that has been focused on Earth Day. People are literally coming out of the woodwork; more people than we can handle, and I think this is a positive thing and I think it marks change here in Pittsburgh and across the world.

The events that we have planned for Earth Day are designed to involve every segment of the population here in the City of Pittsburgh.

Just a brief list of things that folks should look for and get involved in, throughout the month of April are kindergarten through 12th grade package that was mentioned in the resolution. We'll be going to schools throughout the five county area, including schools here in Pittsburgh, designed to get children involved. It also will include an environmental audit for the kids to take home and go to their household and see what their house is doing to the environment and what sort of changes need to happen at home.

We're doing outreach to the student groups. We've actually put together a coalition of student groups from area campuses that will be doing environmental audits of their schools, making recommendations to the school about what they can do to help the environment.

We're working on the trash-a-thon, getting children in school and church groups involved in cleaning up part of their community so they can take ownership over their environment.

We're doing outreach to the religious community where the team of stewardship is really strong. The Pope's message in January was on the environment, and the religious community is taking up the environment as well.

We're also going to be doing a symposium for individuals on April 21st at Winchester-Thurston School, for those individuals who want to get involved and spend a morning, half a day, learning about what they can do for the environment.

We'll be wrapping that up in May with a symposium for businesses, for what they can do as far as pollution control technologies, to get our area industry ahead of the regulators and making environment a focus for themselves.

Finally, all that will focus on Earth Day, April 22nd, at Point State Park. The City has been very helpful in helping us put on an event that will allow anywhere from 10 to 30,000 Pittsburghers to come down and get hands-on experience with the different environmental groups and environmental products that are available.

Let me just wrap up by saying thank you to City Council for what I have seen in my role as an environmental activist. There's a new activism in City Council. This last year, I really feel that City Council has started to take a lead on these issues, and I think that's great.

I wanted to say, also, that I think that as we move into the '90s, the environmental is going to become a much larger issue and that we're going to have to see City Council and the Mayor's Office and all of our elected officials move out a little bit farther on the environment.

I want to invite you all to come out on April 22nd for Earth Day and let you know that I am available if you have any questions or if we can be of any assistance at the Coalition. Again, thank you.

Ms. Downie:

I will be brief. My name is Suzanna Downie and I am the Secretary Treasurer of the Coalition and Co-Chair of Earth Fair.

When the National Earth Day 1990 Coalition began organizing two years ago for Earth Day, one of the most important components of their plan for the next two years, they called the Global Cities Program. What is a Global City? A Global City is one in which both the citizens and the leadership recognize the global impact of every city. What we do here in Pittsburgh impacts on the atmosphere, the water, the land. Some of those are negative impacts, and, of course, positively every city produces culture. In Pittsburgh we have research institutions and health institutions that are actually global.

I think that by Council making this proclamation for Earth Day and by the fact that the City of Pittsburgh is co-sponsoring Earth-Fair, Pittsburgh has at last taken at least the first step, or perhaps its one step of many steps that it has taken toward becoming a Global City.

We hope, in fact, that all of you will show up on Earth Day because the Earth Fair is not designed just to be one day with a lot of activity. It's designed to launch the decade. And we intend the whole coalition to last throughout the decade and to continue organizing to bring about the kind of change that we know has to happen.

All of you have to change a little bit. The first thing you can do is plant a tree and begin recycling your waste.

But, in any case, please, come to Earth Fair on Earth Day.

Mr. Cohen:

Thank you very much for coming, and please notice that the ribbons on those seedlings are green, not only for the greening of Pittsburgh but also for St. Patrick's Day.

Michelle Madoff:

I'd like to make a comment. I was one of the coordinators and organizers of the first Earth Day and I was a brunette. It's refreshing, 20 years later, to see when I was told, when I started GASP --, "You can't fight City Hall." "You can't take on the big companies." "Nothing is going to happen." -- to be on City Hall. And I would very much like to congratulate all of you and I'll try to be there on April 22nd. Thank you.

The Chair:

Thank you all, very much.

Mr. Cohen presents

No. 507 WHEREAS, the New York Maglev Promotion Council, a consortium of Japanese firms, has joined with the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and a consortium of Pittsburgh firms to fund feasibility studies for the building of the first magnetic levitation railway system in North America and to establish a new source of manufacture in Pittsburgh; and

WHEREAS, the decline of heavy industry in the Pittsburgh area has left available many plants and sites for this new industry, and the Pittsburgh labor force is imbued with a strong and admirable work ethic, a work ethic which is shared by the labor force of Japan; and

WHEREAS, the Maglev project will potentially create thousands of jobs in the local economy and will be the impetus for Pittsburgh to lead the country in Maglev technology and production; and

WHEREAS, a demonstrative Maglev rail line to the new Pittsburgh International Airport has been proposed which will allow the City to better share in the Country's and State's billion dollar investment in western Allegheny County; and

WHEREAS, the Council of the City of Pittsburgh has already endorsed the Maglev project.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh urges members of the Japanese consortium to investigate these investment possibilities in Pittsburgh; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Council welcomes Terashima Jitsuro and the other members of the Japanese consortium to Pittsburgh and extends its ward hand of cooperation in this bold venture.

Mr. Cohen moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Ferlo:

I'd like to ask Dr. Jack Hill to come up, please, from KDK. We also have representatives here from West Penn Hospital.

Mr. Ferlo presents

No. 508 WHEREAS, Dr. Jack Hill graduated from University of Pittsburgh Medical School in 1957; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Jack Hill is an Oncology doctor, and board certified in Internal Medicine; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Jack Hill has been a physician with West Penn Hospital for the past 27 years; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Jack Hill has treated over 20,000 patients during his years of health service to his community; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Jack Hill has continually contributed to community education on health matters by delivering medical reports on KDKA television Mondays and Fridays as part of the Eyewitness News at Noon, and he answers 50 letters per week from viewers; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Jack Hill and 80 other doctors from West Penn Hospital, representing over 30 medical specialties, will be answering callers' questions on Tuesday, March 20, 1990 from 9:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. on KDKA TV Channel 2.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that Tuesday, March 20, 1990 be proclaimed as Dr. Jack Hill Day in the City of Pittsburgh, and that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh salutes Dr. Jack Hill and the doctors of West Penn Hospital for their valiant and continuous service to the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Ferlo moved to adopt the resolution.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Ferlo:

Members of Council, as you know, West Penn Hospital is in my Council District but this service is being provided by KDKA and the physicians of West Penn and will benefit citizens throughout Western Pennsylvania and I encourage all to call in to the KDKA TV number today for assistance on health matters.

As somebody who has spent probably the last 15 years often times battling physicians and physician groups on various pieces of legislation, it's nice to be up here at the podium with a physician who has really exemplified community service and I'm very honored to be presenting this award today to Dr. Hill. To KDKA, a special thank you, and to West Penn Hospital. Dr. Hill, thank you.

Dr. Hill:

Thank you very much, Councilman. I'd like to thank all members of Council for this unexpected and certainly very much appreciated award.

On March 20, 1989, if somebody would have told me that I would have appeared on KDKA for nine months and be receiving an award from City Council on March 20, 1990, I would have laughed.

I think the message there, particularly to young people, is to keep those doors open and if the ring comes by, grab hold. Always accept that challenge and don't be afraid to jump.

It's been a real honor and a real surprise to me and a real privilege to participate with KDKA and help the public. It's very rewarding to see how this has been received. I get stopped on the street by people to thank me for advice I've given them, people I've never seen or heard of before in my life. It's been a real privilege.

I accept this honor on my behalf and on behalf of West Penn Hospital. But I also accept it on behalf of the hundreds of physicians who, like myself, have given service in the City of Pittsburgh and the County of Allegheny for many, many years. I really accept this on their behalf too. Thank you.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Mr. Milliones:

Would Nancy Lee come forward, please?

Mr. Milliones presents

No. 509 WHEREAS, in 1927 Nancy H. Lee launched her career in Pittsburgh as a Family Case Worker for the Pittsburgh Association for the Improvement of the Poor; and

WHEREAS, Nancy H. Lee served from 1929 to 1958 as a Probation Officer for Allegheny County, serving three years as Supervisor of the Intake Section of the Counseling Division for the Domestic Relations Branch of Allegheny County, and serving 11 years as Chief of the Counseling Complaint and Information Office for the Common Pleas Court - Family Division; and

WHEREAS, Nancy H. Lee served as a member and officer of the National Council of Negro Women, as National Secretary for Social Sororities, and as Chairperson of the Women's Division of the United Negro College Fund; and

WHEREAS, Nancy H. Lee served on the Advisory Boards of the Lemington Home for the Aged, the Department of Public Welfare, the Bradley Home for Children and that of the Speech and Hearing; and

WHEREAS, Nancy H. Lee maintains membership in the National Association for Social Workers, the Pennsylvania Association on Probation, Parole and Correction, and has served on the Standing Committee and the Pennsylvania Association for Retarded Children; and

WHEREAS, Nancy H. Lee, as a member of the Warren Methodist Church, served as President of the Wesleyan Service Guild, as Chairperson for the Annual Fellowship Day, as Chairperson of the Commission on Worship and as an active member of the Commission on Education; and

WHEREAS, Nancy H. Lee received national and local recognition for her outstanding service to children and social work contributions from the National Achievement Clubs, Inc. and Ebony Magazine respectively; the Sojourner Truth Meritorious Award from the Pittsburgh Chapter of the business and Professional Womens Club, Inc.; the 10 Year Service Award from the American Red Cross Pittsburgh-Allegheny County Chapter; the Distinguished Alumna Award from the University of Pittsburgh, and is listed in the Who's Who of American Women; and

WHEREAS, since her retirement, Nancy has served as Coordinator of Fundraising for the African Heritage Classroom Committee and is credited with the planning and raising of the $150,000 needed to establish the African Heritage Classroom in the Cathedral of Learning, University of Pittsburgh.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh offers its sincere congratulations to Nancy H. Lee for her time and commitment in the field of social welfare and for her outstanding cultural contributions to our community and particularly the University of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Milllones moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Milllones:

I might add that they started out with a goal in terms of the fundraising for the African Heritage Classroom at Pitt with a goal of $150,000 and they raised $250,000.

And I might add that Nancy H. Lee is 85 years young.

Ms. Lee:

Thank you very much for this honor. I can hardly believe that it's coming to Nancy Lee who, in 1922, left a small farming community in Ohio, population about 300 before the Lee family left, to enter the University of Pittsburgh.

So often I just hardly know how to accept attention like this, but I've been prepared for it in different ways. It's a humbling experience.

I just want to mention what my minister said to the congregation a few Sundays ago. When I entered the Sanctuary, I noticed that his sermon was going to be based upon being chosen. And I wondered just how he was going to develop that, and so, of course, I was prepared to listen intently.

He said that each one of us is born with a legacy and that legacy is to be developed to your own potential, not in relation to what someone else can do, but what can you do. In other words, do your best.

Well, that certainly linked right into what I had been taught by my parents who were farming people and worked from early sun up to sun down to prepare a decent living for a family of ten.

As I have moved along, I feel that the community, friends and all, are just saying thank you for doing your best.

I want to just state briefly that in relation to the establishment of the African Heritage Classroom at the University, that it makes 22 rooms that have been established. And we certainly want everyone to visit all of those rooms and to pay particular attention to what each room means.

In relation to the African Heritage Classroom Committee, I have a more than special interest because I want children to know about what has been given to the world by the African Americans. As we appreciate what our contribution has been and we visit the other rooms, then we know that we're moving towards what is understanding and real peace.

Thank you so very much.

The Chair:

Thank you very much.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

Mr. Milliones presented

Bill No. 500

Report of the Committee on Finance for March 14, 1990 transmitting one ordinance and sundry resolutions to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 315

An Ordinance entitled, "An Ordinance supplementing the Pittsburgh Code, Title Six - Conduct, Article V - Discrimination, Chapter 651 - Findings and Policy, Chapter 653 - Human Relations Commission, Chapter 659, - Unlawful Practices, by prohibiting discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation." ---(SPONSORED BY MR. COYNE, MR. FERLO, MICHELLE MADOFF, MR. COHEN, & MR. MILLIONES)

Which was read.

Mr. Regan:

Mr. President, I'd like to amend that motion and I have passed out the amendments to my fellow colleagues.

I'd like the amendment to read, "Council shall take no final action on this ordinance until it is placed before the qualified voters of the City of Pittsburgh as a referendum question."

Mr. Darkins seconded the motion.

Mr. Regan:

The proponents of the Gay Rights Bill maintain that the majority of Pittsburghers are in favor of this proposal. I challenge the supporters of this bill to offer the residents of our great City the opportunity to cast an aye or nay vote on this issue.

A recent poll conducted on the South Side for Citizens For Pittsburgh revealed that 9 pe9 percent believe that City Council should vote on this issue, 15 percent said that they were undecided, and an overwhelming 76 percent expressed their opinion that the issue should be decided by a referendum.

I continue to maintain the position that this situation is covered by federal and state statutes and other laws which would be redundant. But even though I am unilaterally opposed to this needless legislation, I offer to support the measure if the people of our great City support it. That's how certain I am that the taxpayers would not vote affirmatively to have this bill enacted into law.

This is not a civil rights issue but an issue of sexual preference. Therefore, those who follow this lifestyle have made a choice, and legislation is not necessary.

Thank you very much.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Darkins Mr. Wagner
Mr. Regan (Pres't)

AYES 3 NOES 6

VOTING NO:

Mr. Cohen Michelle Madoff
Mr. Coyne Mr. Millions
Mr. Ferlo Mr. Ricciardi

And there not being a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the motion was defeated.

Mr. Regan:

I'd now like to make a motion to table.

The Chair:

Is there a second on the motion to table?

I'll second the motion to table.

Is there any discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Darkins Mr. Wagner
Mr. Regan (Pres't)

AYES 3 NOES 6

VOTING NO:

Mr. Cohen Michelle Madoff
Mr. Coyne Mr. Millions
Mr. Ferlo Mr. Ricciardi

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the motion was defeated.

Mr. Cohen:

On the bill itself. Mr. President and members of Council, this ordinance has been debated an length and I don't intend to prolong the debate. But I do want to take a few moments, however, to explain why I will be voting for it.

I am voting for this bill not because of pressure from any special interest group, not because of anything that occurred during my campaign for this office, but rather because it is the right thing to do.

This bill would amend the Human Relations Act to prohibit discrimination in housing, employment and public accomodations against people on the basis of sexual orientation, just as you cannot now discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, ancestry, national origin, place of birth, sex, age, handicap, disability, or use of guide dogs. Discrimination, in any form, can't be tolerated, and this ordinance merely allows people who are discriminated against to seek relief from the Human Relations Commission.

To those of you who say that there is no discrimination in Pittsburgh on the basis of sexual orientation, you are wrong. The vast majority of Pittsburghers, I agree, do not discriminate. But there is a significant minority who does.

John Adams once said that facts are stubborn things and try as the opponents of this bill might to ignore it, the fact is that there is discrimination against gays and lesbians.

We only had to witness the four and a half hours of public hearings on March 8th, to see people who courageously came to tell their stories about how they've been victimized.

There was the high school girl who told us how her public school teacher said to the entire class, "All queers should be rounded up and sent to Cuba."

There was the woman who had been physically harassed by her landlord, including having her windows broken.

In fact, one of the speakers at that hearing called to say that he was fired from his job as a manager of a local restaurant last week because he spoke out in favor of this bill.

These people had the courage to speak out in public and to put their jobs on the line. We should at least have the guts to try to help them by passing this bill.

To those who say that these people are already granted protection under the law, I tell you as a lawyer that no such law exists at the federal, state or local level.

The opponents of this bill who have made this argument have yet to point to a single law that protects people on the basis of sexual orientation. Not even the Constitution, the greatest of all public documents, does this because the Supreme Court has never made sexual orientation a suspect classification under Constitutional Law.

There are many other cities, however, that have legislation that is exactly like this, including Philadelphia, Harrisburg, and York in Pennsylvania.

Other arguments have been made against this bill which have less merit, in my opinion.

The people who have made these other arguments have given, not reasons, but rationalizations. No matter how hard public officials may try, as Abraham Lincoln said, "That which is morally wrong cannot be made politically right."

Finally, to those of you who are afraid of this bill, let me say that there is nothing to be afraid of, that this bill does not threaten your deep-seeded and cherished values. It does not endorse any lifestyle. It is merely an equal rights bill and everyone deserves equal rights.

The moral test of government is to wage war against injustice in any form and in all forms. This bill represents, in my view, one small successful skirmish in that endless war.

Thank you.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, I wish I could say today that this bill was not needed, but if anything, this bill is long overdue. This bill does nothing that the opponents of the bill would suggest that it does do.

On the issue of the referendum, even though obviously it was voted down and should have been voted down, I don't think we can have an efficient or properly run government by referendum. We would never have revenues in which to operate government if we had to put every tax question on the ballot.

And I think that's true for here. We're not talking about something that people should vote up or down; we're talking about a set of values guaranteeing equal rights for all people.

I think it's very clear from the testimony a year and a half ago, and certainly the testimony in these Chambers a little over a week ago, that the bill is completely warranted and completely needed. There are many instances of discrimination, especially in employment and housing. This bill does not create any special privileges to any particular group. It extends, if anything, and clarifies the basic tenants of the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. In fact, you could probably put the Bill of Rights and the Constitution on the ballot and there would be some people who would vote against it. But that's no reason why we shouldn't cherish and protect the safeguards that we have actually taken for granted, unfortunately, for 200 years plus.

And even with the Bill of Rights and the Constitution, our whole country for the last 200 years is exemplified by historical struggles of people who were seeking the proper freedoms and the proper safeguards to guarantee their liberties. If the Bill of Rights and the Constitution were so clearly delineated and clearly in place as to safeguard those liberties, we wouldn't have had so many decade-long struggles, legal battles, litigation battles, legislative battles for the passage of major civil rights legislation.

I wish this bill actually were not a local bill because, really, this bill needs to be a national bill. Congressman Coyne is in support of a National Congressional Act and, in passing this bill today, I think we all should reiterate the call to the Federal Congress and to the Executive Branch to pass this bill on the federal level. This should be something that is guaranteed within the territorial confines of the United States, and not left up to hodge-podge communities all across the country to enact.

But recognizing that the federal government is not acting, and recognizing, unfortunately, our neanderthal State Legislators are not acting, it means that municipalities like the City of Pittsburgh need to act because we're at the grass roots level and we have to respond accordingly.

I think it's very clear from the testimony that violence and discrimination against both gays and lesbians, as well as individuals who are even perceived to be a sexual minority, that violence is on the increase.

There's economic violence and there's physical violence. There's economic violence against individuals who rent apartments or who want to protect their employment opportunities, and now we even have an increase in this great City of physical violence against gays and lesbians or people who are perceived to be homosexual or lesbian.

And I think, as I indicated in the testimony at the hearing, that it seems as though every other month in the Pittsburgh Press and the daily newspapers and on the TV and the radio, we here about instances where, very clearly when you look behind the situation, it had directly to do with violence against homosexuals and lesbians. And I think it's about time that this City Council speaks out about this issue. I think it's long overdue that this City Council add this clause, Sexual Orientation, to the safeguards permitted under City law so that we have a mechanism in place, a Human Relations Commission.

If the bill is not needed, then let's have the bill in place, my colleagues who are opposed to it. Let's document. Let's have a system in place for documenting whether or not there is indeed discrimination. Many of us, obviously, on Council, the majority, and certainly many who came to the public hearing feel there's discrimination because we had instance after instance explained to Council and to the media and to the public.

But let's set the system in place. The previous Chairwoman of the Commission, Alma Fox, very articulately clarified to Council that she can't really document the case as far as the Commission because the Commission is not situated legally to even interview individuals who call the Commission with instances of sexual discrimination in employment and housing and in public accommodations.

So, even if I were an opponent of the bill, I'd vote for it just to begin to see whether or not that documentation can be researched and evaluated and stipulated in the coming year.

So, once again, I ask my colleagues, I think this bill should be a unanimous vote and I would ask my colleagues to please reconsider. This bill is long overdue and it's about time we stood up to violence, it's about time we stood up for equal rights, and I think it's important that we support this bill.

Mr. Darkins:

Mr. President, my staff has received calls both for and against this legislation. I have reviewed numerous letters, newspaper articles both for and against this legislation; yet, there are questions that have not been answered.

First of all, as my colleague, Mr. Ferlo, has just stated, the Human Relation Commission, who will have the responsibilities to interpret this ordinance, has not given to me the guidelines or criteria under which they will enforce this ordinance.

Secondly, over 100 people testified at the public hearing before this Council on March 8th, and there was only one Black individual addressing the gay rights legislation. Of course, that individual, as my colleague has said, was Mrs. Alma Fox and she was addressing this legislation representing the Human Relations Commission.

I now have concerns that exist within the gay-lesbian community. It is obvious that there is discrimination among them. Therefore, I am not convinced that the information or the lack of information that I have received enables me to make a just decision.

I continue to be the people's choice. I came to City Council as the people's choice, and I'm going to remain the people's choice, and I will have to abstain from voting for this bill.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President and Members of Council, I do not wish to have what I say perceived as being frivolous because it is not frivolous. I am one of the members of this Council who has lived through two bills that were presented to this Council on the issue of fairness and justice to include sexual orientation into the Human Relations Bill.

But if one were to read the bill, it goes beyond equal rights. There is an error that is an oversight that should have been put into the Human Relations Bill some time before, and I would like to read the bill as it should read:

"The population of the City consists of people of every race, color, religion, ancestry, national origin, place of birth and sex, and sexual orientation, many of whom are discriminated against."

What is missing is fat people. Do you know that this Council voted -- you may not remember this, perhaps the media remembers or the Law Department or maybe Mike Perry recalls -- we had a bill called the fat bill. People were fired from this City because they were fat and they couldn't hold a job and they wouldn't be hired in this City. And this Council, perhaps not the same people, voted for justice, voted for what was correct. And we saw that people who were not in active duty, people in sedentary positions -- I remember one woman who came to this Council who was heavy, and we voted to let her keep her job and supported that.

So, this is not an issue of Black, White, Jewish, Catholic, Homosexual. It's an issue of justice. And if we can vote on this Council to keep people working in the City because they're fat, we certainly can keep people from being discriminated against because they're homosexuals.

I rest my case.

Mr. Regan:

I appreciate my distinguished colleague saying that I, too, could have a job with the City if I wasn't an elected official.

Michelle Madoff:

I didn't think you were too fat.

Mr. Regan:

I would like to say this about my colleague that says that we have no guts for not voting for this bill. I say, it takes a lot more guts to be strong than to be weak. I say, it takes a lot more guts to stand up for what's right for all the citizens, not just a select group. It takes a hell of a lot more guts to stand by the rules that the State Legislature mandated, and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the Federal Government. I don't know that this body should supersede the laws of the government and the State of Pennsylvania.

I have been a District Justice for 20 years. I have never had one case of discrimination against gays or lesbians and I'm sure I would have if there were that many people that were out there beating them up and so forth. We heard four hours of testimony with no names and addresses, no badge numbers of any police officers, no numbers of any judges.

I say this, that that's a lifestyle. Blacks, Whites, Indians and Orientals are here because of what God put them here as. I say that the gays and the lesbians pick their lifestyle. And I say that it should be put on a referendum.

A vote, 76 percent of South Side, said that it should be put on a referendum. 15 percent were undecided, and I say that if we get half of them that's over 80 percent in that one area that say that it should be put on a referendum. You don't have to be a brain surgeon to figure that out. Thank you very much.

Mr. Coyne:

Mr. Chairman, I didn't speak the first time around, but just to challenge a point that my colleague from North Side has made, even if one gives the point that homosexuality is not something you're born with, that it's a choice, then one could logically follow that argument to the extent that religious discrimination should be allowed because we all may be born into a family that has a certain religion, but we choose which religion we're going to practice as we become adults. So, if you're going to use the argument that discrimination on choice should be allowed in this case, then I think that what could be scary down the road is that someone could argue that discrimination based on religion is also appropriate because that's a choice. And I feel that that's an improper attitude to take.

The Chair:

I would just like to state that I know I am not changing anyone's vote on this issue and I'm sure there is no vote to be changed.

I agree with Councilman Cohen in that the vast majority of the people in this City do not discriminate.

Councilwoman Madoff indicated a specific example of a fat person.

I still have not heard of any specific example within the City of Pittsburgh in employment or in housing.

Yes, I have heard people say that they have been discriminated against, and I believe that there are instances of that. But if people are going to state publicly that they have been discriminated against, then I think they should state where the discrimination came from. As of this date, no company, no landlord, no public area has been identified.

I rest my case.

Mr. Cohen:

Call the question, Mr. President.

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

On the Solid Waste Management Program, Bill No. 396, I objected to spending $200,000 for advice on what to do with 7.6 percent of the wastery of the hundreds of thousands of tons of garbage each year. I'm loathed to just allow additional spending and so I'm going to abstain on that because I wasn't here and I don't know enough about it and I don't want to vote in a vacuum.

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

On Bill 413, this must be the windiest city in America. Another $2,328.00 because of high winds putting paint on rented vehicles. How can we let this go on?

I would like to suggest that we put that back into Committee until we have from the appropriate department a list of how many dollars were paid to American Rent A Ride, what the total figure is. What is presented to us is piece-meal. We get a little bill for $2,328 and say, "What can you do? It just happens." Then you get another bill for $1500 then another for $3000 and we don't put it all together.

I think it's important that we look at this as an entire picture and say, how much money has been paid to American Rent A Ride and to other rental facilities for vehicles that have been brutalized and the liability on the taxpayers before we vote on this bill.

So, I'd like to make a motion to put this back until we get a total figure.

The Chair:

If I can interject, I think we can request that information --

Michelle Madoff:

Today is the final vote. I think we have to send a message that we can't allow this to go on indefinitely. This is getting to be obscene.

The Chair:

We can request that information without holding the bill.

Which was read.

Mr. Cohen:

Mr. President, on Bill No. 358, I spoke at some length last Wednesday about it and I just want to say that I'll be voting no on that as a protest vote.

Carnegie Library, of course, is an extremely worth investment but every other local investment in the library system had been shared at approximately a 50/50 split between City and County. This bill is for $175,000 and $175,000 is a lot of money for City taxpayers to pay. And in questioning the Administration, both during the meeting and before and after last Wednesday's meeting, we discovered that the Administration never even attempted to negotiate a contribution from the County. So, given that County residents use the library system in large numbers, the County should be paying for some of this. So, I'm going to vote no on that bill.

Michelle Madoff:

I shall the concerns of my colleague, Mr. Cohen. The day is long past due that the County doesn't pay it's fair share of the expenses.

Unfortunately, I cannot see myself voting no on this bill and I'm glad that you're going to have sort of a protest vote. I want to be sure that it goes through because there's so many children and so many people that need the services of this facility and the motorized equipment that I don't want to penalize the wrong people.

The Chair:

I'd like a motion to hold Bill No. 421.

Mr. Ricciardi:

So moved.

Mr. Regan seconded the motion.

Mr. Ferlo:

Discussion on the motion. Mr. Chairman, the tabling is completely out of order. We've discussed this bill to death.

I have two amendments to offer to the bill which I think will resolve the problem. I've discussed this bill with every Councilmember and six majority members would like to vote in support of it with the amendments.

I'm opposed to the tabling because we can now vote on it, be done with it and get it over with and vote it up or down.

So, I strongly urge the rejection of the tabling so we can approve the amendments and vote them up or down. Please vote no on the tabling.

The Chair:

Quite frankly, in regards to the tabling motion, since I asked for the bill to be tabled, the reason why I am asking is that there is disagreement within this body as to what the final state of this bill should be.

I have asked each and every Councilmember their opinion of the bill. I have tried to get a consensus unanimous support of this legislation. I have been unable to do that. Up until this time, even today, there are two proposed amendments in front of us to be offered.

There was tremendous disagreement on this legislation last Wednesday. I don't think it's in the best interest of this Council for that to continue today.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

VOTING NO:

Mr. Cohen

Michelle Madoff

Mr. Coyne

Mr. Milliones

Mr. Darkins

Mr. Regan

Mr. Ferlo

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the motion was defeated.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, with due respect, I'd like to offer two amendments. I'd like to suggest that we offer them and vote on them separately, or whatever the pleasure of Council is.

The first one is the set of provisions that was originally drafted by my colleague, Mr. Ricciardi, with the modification on the use of rental space from a public and/or publicly supported building. Otherwise, I believe they are intact. They basically would spell out a minimal set of prerequisites regarding the contracting for any property regarding local access on the phone and utilities, limited access of a one-line local telephone, the issue of the availability of public transportation 600 feet near the facility, the street level and/or handicapped access, and the issue of, obviously with I don't think any of us would certainly do, the renting of office property from any interest that we would have in that property.

So, I would like to move as written, as is on the table for you, my proposed amendment to Bill 421.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Mr. Coyne:

Mr. Chairman, I would like to take a second to congratulate Mr. Ricciardi. This was his original amendment and I think that even though I disagree with the concept, that this does put it more in order and it gives more accountability to the taxpayers.

Mr. Ricciardi:

Clarification. Mr. Chairman, is the amendment concerning Section 2, Page 2, part of this discussion?

The Chair:

It will be.

Mr. Ricciardi:

I'd like to thank Mr. Ferlo for resubmitting my amendments. Unfortunately, the first amendment which I consider very important is the publicly owned or publicly subsidized buildings.

I'd also like to point out to my colleagues that inside of my amendments there was a clause stating that if the criteria or the guidelines could not be met, that that colleague could come back to Council with a resolution and I'm sure Council would pass that resolution. It would set up standards.

Again, I thank Mr. Ferlo for resubmitting my amendments. Unfortunately, I'm very disappointed in the first amendment which I considered very important in terms of, number one, possibly saving taxpayers money, and number two, reinvesting in buildings that have already received taxpayers money in order to help them succeed.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I would like to point out to my colleagues that when GASP was formed 20 years ago and the first Earth Day, we were in Eastminster Presbyterian Church. We paid nothing. And I believe that Councilmembers who wish to go into their districts can avail themselves of that issue.

But I really, in principle, support, in case there is no availability in the church, I support the concept and I think it gets to the issue of ethics. And since our Chairman, Mr. Ricciardi, is working on the Ethics, I think credit should go to him and not necessarily Mr. Ferlo, but thank you for introducing it.

Mr. Cohen:

On these amendments --

The Chair:

One amendment. There's one amendment in front of Council.

Mr. Cohen:

I'm using the plural only because this one amendment includes several provisions and I think that these provisions are an appropriate way of making sure that district offices are responsible in that it prohibits anything but local phone calls and makes sure that the district offices aren't any greater than 600 feet from a bus stop. It says that where applicable they should be in Community Development Block Grant areas, that they're handicapped accessible, and that these offices are not rented to or from family members.

These are Councilman Ricciardi's amendments and I think that they are good ones and that a compromise was reached on this. Politics is, after all, the art of compromise and I think that this is a compromise that will protect the public.

So, I will be voting for these amendments -- this amendment that includes several provisions.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeable to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Cohen	Mr. Milliones
Mr. Coyne	Mr. Regan
Mr. Darkins	Mr. Ricciardi
Mr. Ferlo	Mr. Wagner
Michelle Madoff	(Prest)

AYES 9 NOES none

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the motion passed finally.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, the second amendment. "Section 2. Councilmembers who choose not to lease district office facilities may encumber their allocated amount for the use for community projects in their respective Council districts, outside consultants or Council administrative staff, as amended."

Mr. Milliones seconded the motion.

Michelle Madoff:

Discussion. I apologize for not being here to discuss this bill but it was beyond my ability to be here.

First of all, I want to thank the President of Council. When this bill was pointed out, originally drafted, and I thought it was unfair, I went to see the President of Council and pointed out to him that everybody should be treated equally and he responded by saying, "You're right." and put in this newly drafted amendment which treats all of us equally. The original bill was going to provide $5,000 for those people who wanted to open an office in their districts.

My own personal feeling is that everybody is treated equally, every representative is treated equally. Whatever our stipend is, that's our stipend. And what you do with your money and how you service your community is up to you.

The most important thing is that we are not just here to serve our community; we're here to serve the welfare and the good of the whole entire community.

The reason I'm supporting this bill is really very simple. I think there's a misconception out in the public and in the media that we're out to raid the budget, that we're just interested in spending money foolishly.

I'd like to point out a couple little items that people may not be aware of. Before you introduce legislation and before it actually is enacted, it sometimes takes years. It took two years for the garage bill to go through. It took over three years to get my legislation, which I initiated, to charge non-City residents for paramedic service and third-party payees, which generates over $2 million to the City. There is other legislation that I introduced to be able to purchase mint condition, used equipment, which has saved the City hundreds of thousands of dollars already.

I think it's cost effective for Councilmembers to have adequate staff so we can do our jobs. And this little increase of $5,000 is going to permit me to perhaps give one of my staff who gets $10,000 a year, another one who have been with me for 7 years who only gets $16,000 a year, to pay them a decent, really base-living wage.

That is why I'm supporting it. I'm not doing anything underhanded. I'm not saying one thing now and having said something else earlier. At the end of last year as one of the few remaining people, I tried to increase the stipend for offices and I believe that is how we can best serve our community. We're not talking about a great deal of money, but I believe that by being able to help, by being able to pay my staff decent salaries, I will be able to get them to go out to evening meetings, as they do now, and not have a guilty feeling about how am I going to pay these people.

So, I really support and thank you, Mr. President, for your amendment.

Mr. Ricciardi:

Mr. President, first I'd like to say I have a great deal of respect for my colleague, Michelle Madoff, and I know she would never do anything underhanded on this Council. She really has my respect.

I would like to say, however, that I strongly oppose this amendment. The reason is, when I ran for City Council, I knew what my salary was going to be and I knew the amount of money I would have for my allocation for my staff. And they accepted their pay that first day.

I think the previous Council voted to increase property taxes. And what we're doing now is saying, hey, give us an extra $5,000 that we can give to our staff and I think it's just sending a bad message out to the public, especially the people that are on fixed incomes and did not benefit from the tax swap.

I oppose this bill. I just think it's also setting a precedent for next year because receiving the extra $5,000 to our staff is increasing it to $75,000 and where are we going to start next year. It's just not a little bit of money; it's starting to add up. And most important is the message that we're going to be sending to our taxpayers, especially the elderly on fixed incomes. So, I oppose this amendment.

Mr. Regan:

I'd like to say that Mr. Ricciardi got hundreds of thousands of dollars for an ice skating rink in South Side and I've been urging the Administration and my colleagues to get a brand new bridge put on the North Side that's long overdue. I'm sure $5,000 is a very small amount of money to take care of all the people in my community and I'm going to take care of them because there's a lot of poor people that can't get Downtown. There's a lot more poor people that are crippled that you have to go to their homes. There's a lot of people that get disoriented when they come Downtown or that can't afford to park Downtown. That's why I want a district office, to take care of my constituents on the North Side.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Mr. Coyne	Mr. Milliones
Mr. Darkins	Mr. Regan

AYES 8

NOES 1

(MR. RICCIARDI VOTING NO)

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the motion was approved.

Mr. Cohen:

On the bill itself. I just think that on this issue a district office will allow me to serve my constituents better so I can meet with them and discuss their problems in their neighborhoods.

I think that the focus of By District Council should be the neighborhoods and should not be Downtown. That's why I'm voting for this, because many people in my district, particularly the elderly, have a difficult time getting Downtown and, therefore, I will be able to serve my constituents better.

The Chair:

I would like to comment on the bill.

When I ran for election, I did not indicate that I was opening up a district office. However, the majority of my colleagues, all of you, came to me with this legislation and you asked me to submit it. And I did.

In doing so, I have tried to work out an agreement where everyone can vote on this bill in the best interest of their constituents. If it's not opening up a district office, it's more staff to serve your district or it's funding a particular project in your district.

What I just saw in the way of a vote, it was a unanimous vote on the first amendment and it was 8 in favor and 1 against on the second amendment. We are now ready to vote on the bill, as amended. You can't have it both ways on this bill.

I'm prepared to vote for the bill, but I would like each and every Councilmember to vote in favor of this bill. The reason why I'm asking that is because Councilmembers have come to me one day and said they're voting for it, and the next day they say they're not voting for it. You can't have your cake and eat it too. You can't come back with a piece of legislation and say you're going to fund your district when, in fact, you're not supporting this legislation.

The Councilmembers know who I'm referring to. I'm only saying that this piece of legislation can be a very good piece of legislation. It cannot be a good piece of legislation if there are Councilmembers that are going to vote for amendments, not vote for the bill, and come back and want to utilize the $5,000.

Mr. Coyne:

Mr. Wagner, to clarify my position, I voted aye on both amendments as a courtesy to my colleagues. I personally disagree with the $5,000 and I won't appropriate the $5,000 for my district. However, if my colleagues wish to do so, I feel that that's their prerogative and I wouldn't try to fight them on the basis of the amendments. However, when the bill comes up as a whole, I will be voting against it.

The Chair:

In response to that, Mr. Coyne, you are one of the people who said you were going to support it with the amendments. And I will say to you, quite frankly, standing here, don't come back with a piece of legislation --

Mr. Coyne:

Mr. Chairman, I just told you I wouldn't.

The Chair:

Okay. Fine. Don't. This is a piece of legislation that I have attempted to get this Council to support in the best interest of its constituents.

Mr. Ricciardi:

Mr. Chairman, very short comments. Number one, I said that I would support the bill if my package was accepted as a whole. It has not been accepted as a whole; we're missing amendment number one, which is very important to me. I still voted yes on the other amendments, and I thank Mr. Ferlo for resubmitting them.

Number two, I'm just against the second amendment when it comes to increasing our salaries.

So, I will be voting no on the bill. Thank you for your remarks.

Michelle Madoff:

One quick comment. I was not going to say anymore; this has been done to death.

Mr. Ricciardi, what difference does it make whether you spend the money for rent or whether you spend it on staff? You're still serving your community. And I believe you can get your rent free.

Mr. Regan:

I would like to say this to my distinguished colleague who doesn't want his $5,000; we'll be glad to take it over on the North Side because we've been shortchanged for a lot of years, so we'll be glad to take your $5,000.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Michelle Madoff:

I have a very brief item to share with Council. I inadvertently discovered that under the City's Blue Cross/Blue Shield Major Medical Plan, that firefighter applicants are required to undergo pulmonary function tests before they're hired, as are perhaps paramedics and police. That's the only time they have any check-up on their pulmonary functions unless they are in a fire and it is used as a diagnostic tool then they can apply to major medical, if their bills exceed the $250 waiver. The bill is something like $460 and our firefighters do not have pulmonary function test procedures done routinely so that we could head off, through early discovery of any problem, the concept of having greater workers' comp liability.

I would like to have a letter written to the appropriate agency, and I presume that would be Glenn Cannon, Ben Hayllar, the Administration, the Mayor, I think Mr. Turner should get a copy, and the Executive Secretary of the City. And I would like to have a bill before us on Council setting up a procedure whereby our firefighters, on an ongoing basis, particularly firefighters or anybody else they think it would be applicable to, maybe people doing heavy work, we'll have pulmonary function tests so that we can keep the tremendous bill that we have on workers' comp somewhat reduced.

I don't know if anybody else knew that; I just found out by accident.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Mr. Ricciardi:

Mr. Chairman, if I just may correct a statement that was made earlier, the South Side Ice Skating Rink is not receiving one dime from the City of Pittsburgh. All the monies were put together as putting up front by the developer and a loan from the URA. Thank you very much.

Mr. Regan:

Mr. President, if I was in error with that statement, I just would like to apologize. But I would like to say that Council did vote on that ice skating rink.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. President, a couple weeks ago I believe you put together a workshop in the Conference Room to educate Council on the issue of the Airport expansion and we had Mr. Armstrong in who chairs the Commission and Stephen George who is the Executive Director and the Administrator of the Airport Expansion Activity. I learned a lot from the session. And one of the things that we talked about at that meeting was that of the 15 or 20 individuals who make up the County-wide Board of Directors for this Airport Commission, the City, which is really the main cog in the whole wheel, I remind people that the Airport says, "Welcome to Pittsburgh", it doesn't say, "Welcome to Allegheny County", that we are greatly underrepresented on the Commission.

I'd like to make a motion, Mr. Chairman, since you're very active on this, that we send a communication to the County Board of Commissioners asking that yourself, as President of Council, be appointed to the Commission and that Mr. Mistick, who obviously is the Development Executive Secretary for the Mayor, be represented on the Commission at the appropriate levels.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, wasn't that taken care of?

Mr. Ferlo:

If it was, I wasn't aware of it. But I make that in the form of a motion.

Mr. Coyne seconded the motion.

Michelle Madoff:

We did that. We did it at the meeting.

The Chair:

They did make a commitment verbally that they would pursue that at the meeting.

Mr. Ferlo:

I think we should send it formally to whoever heads up the Commission and the County Board of Commissioners.

WHICH MOTION PREVAILED.

And on the motion of Mr. Millones

Council adjourned.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased by 1.5 million (1990–1999) and is projected to increase by a further 1.5 million by 2020 (Office of National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to develop strategies to meet the needs of the ageing population. The Department of Health (2000) has identified the need to develop a new paradigm of care for the ageing population, one that is based on the concept of 'active ageing'. This paradigm is based on the idea that older people should be able to live independently, participate in social and cultural activities, and maintain a high level of physical and mental health. The Department of Health (2000) has identified a number of key areas for action, including: (1) promoting healthy ageing; (2) supporting older people to live independently; (3) providing care and support for older people; and (4) promoting social and cultural participation.

PRESENTATIONS

Mr. Cohen:

I'd like to call up Eric Schaeffer, Bud Harris and Mark Barasch, please. Mr. Schaeffer and Mr. Harris are here representing International Cycling Productions, Inc. and Mark Barasch is program Director from WPXI.

Mr. Cohen presents

No. 551 WHEREAS, International Cycling Productions - Pittsburgh, Inc. and Le Grand Prix Cycliste Des Ameriques are interested in holding a major world class bicycling event in the City of Pittsburgh; and

WHEREAS, a major professional cycling event could attract the world's greatest cyclists to the City of Pittsburgh; and

WHEREAS, such a world class event would provide a great outdoor celebration in the neighborhoods of Pittsburgh while also promoting health awareness in our City; and

WHEREAS, WPXI, the City's local NBC affiliate, has agreed to televise this world class event, which could provide positive publicity for the City of Pittsburgh both in North America and across Europe, and the owners of Station Square have agreed to serve as the official race headquarters for the cyclists; and

WHEREAS, a major professional cycling event would create a major economic impact on the City of Pittsburgh, potentially bringing millions of dollars to the City in business investment and tourism; and

WHEREAS, a world class cycling event would help to change the image of the City of Pittsburgh from an old industrial city to an economically dynamic city which has a strong sense of community and high quality of living.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh supports the creation of a major world class cycling event in Pittsburgh and urges the Administration to make every reasonable effort to establish such an event in Pittsburgh.

Mr. Cohen moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Cohen:

Thank you, Members of Council. I think the best benefit of this event would be an economic benefit, that this would be publicized not only nationally but in Europe as well, hopefully televised in Europe, and that that could stimulate business investment in the City of Pittsburgh which, of course, would provide jobs and increase revenue for our tax base.

I'd like to turn this over first to Eric Schaeffer.

Mr. Schaeffer:

I would like to thank Councilman Cohen and City Council for this resolution.

Pittsburgh has another secret. This is a good town for bicycling. We have all the elements here. We have parks, we have hills, we have great people, and we have a growing interest in a great sport.

Bud Harris and I didn't set out to become bicycling promoters. Every year we would go to Philadelphia for the US Pro Championship and there we would join with 250,000 spectators and watch a great event.

At the same time, we realized that anything that Philadelphia can and usually does do better.

We asked ourselves, why not stage a major race, even an International World Cup Race right here in Pittsburgh. Imagine 100 top racers charging up and across Mount Washington.

We've had an enthusiastic response from the folks we've talked to at WPXI and a number of potential sponsors. The image that we are creating here is one of a vibrant urban center. This is an expensive undertaking and we are out there trying to find sponsors to cover as much as we can. In keeping with that, we have a goal of trying to cover the City's cost as well, as much as we can.

I would like to thank City Council for this resolution expressing support because this is the sort of support we need to make this a great annual event here for the City of Pittsburgh. Thank you.

Mr. Barasch:

Thank you very much.

On November 22nd of last year we had a FAX received at the station from the ICP Company, International Cycling Productions, and it explained about this idea of having a bicycle race in Pittsburgh and the benefits and what it was going to be like and that they've done it in Philadelphia and had a lot of experience, and it was going to come off really well.

Well, it took me about a minute and 35 seconds to make the decision on their offer that yes, we would be interested. Actually, it took me about a minute to make the decision, 35 seconds to read the FAX. It was that easy. It's a no brainer, folks, that this thing was something that Pittsburgh could do very well, and was needed.

As Council President and Regatta Board Chairman, Jack Wagner, knows, we have been the exclusive television station for the Three Rivers Regatta for four years now and the thrill of being part of a world class event like that has really peaked our enthusiasm and interest in taking on another project of this magnitude.

After all, how often do you have an opportunity and a chance to not only be part of a 15 second story in a newscast or maybe a couple of inches on page 18 of the newspaper. This is not what this is about. We're talking about being the lead story when this comes to town. This is the event that will be the news when it comes to town. And you don't have an opportunity often to create that kind of event and that kind of news story.

And if you doubt that, all I ask you to do, please, is to take a look at the coverage the Regatta has gotten over the years and take a look at the coverage the Marathon has gotten and some of the parades get in town. It's usually front page, it's usually lead story. That's the kind of coverage we expect for this kind of an event. An international bike race in Pittsburgh will be the lead story when it gets here.

Now, it's going to be the role of WPXI and the job not only to cover this story but, as exclusive broadcaster of this event, we will make this story, we will help shape it and make it a big one. Many of you know that you need not watch more than 20 minutes during the month of August on WPXI to hear something about the Three Rivers Regatta. That's all it takes. You watch 20 minutes and a spot comes up talking about the Three Rivers Regatta, where it is, what it is and like that. We made it our goal to ensure that every person who owns a television set in our viewing area knows about the Regatta, and we will have a similar goal when it comes to this very important international, world-class bike race.

It is no accident that 500,000 people line the banks of our rivers to watch the Regatta every year, and it will be no accident when people are going outside of their doors and spilling onto the sidewalks of our City when this race comes to town to marvel at the athletic prowess of these bicycle racers and to become involved. The economic benefits, just look at the hotel sold-out ratio when the Regatta is in town. You can't get a room. The restaurants are packed.

It's a similar situation here. We're talking hundreds and thousands of people watching these event.

You've already met some of the dedicated people that are behind this event, and we thank you for your consideration of the resolution and hope that we can count on your support as we strive forward to make this just another major event in Pittsburgh that not only the United States will know about, but the whole world will know about.

Thank you very much.

The Chair:

Thank you all very much. It's a great idea.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Chairman, Bud Harris is practically family. We've known each other for most of our lives. I've known about this and have been very, very supportive. I'm delighted that my colleague introduced this resolution.

And while we talk about all the wonderful things and the coverage that local people will get, in the five county area, I think the most important thing is that we will be on national television dispelling the image of a smoky city - people still think we're a steel town - and showing how beautiful this City is. The shot from Mount Washington overlooking the City would just be something we couldn't -- There would never be enough money to do what you've always had to do, Jack, which is marketing the City. This will be one of the greatest marketing opportunities this City has ever seen and we've got to make it happen.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, obviously this is an excellent opportunity for a world-class event. If the Administration is reviewing this proposal, I would also hope they review our other proposal vis-a-vis our amendment to the City budget last year calling for a study of bike pathways in the City which has sort of gone by the wayside over the years and there would be no greater time to do this study to make it compliment this wonderful activity that we just heard today.

Mr. Regan:

Mr. President, I'm honored enough here today to honor the Greek people. Since they won the first marathon, now they have Cadillacs and even bicycles, maybe we can get a Greek from Greece to come over and maybe participate in your race. I think it's a great thing.

The Chair:

Thank you all.

Mr. Ferlo:

I'd like the union representative and some of the workers to come forward from the Lemington Home for this resolution on behalf of Councilman Darkins and myself.

Mr. Ferlo presents

No. 552 WHEREAS, many thousands of Pittsburgh's older residents who worked hard all their lives to build this City spend the latter portion of their lives residing in nursing homes; and

WHEREAS, repaying our collective debt to these disabled citizens by providing the best care possible in our nursing homes should be one of the highest priorities in our society; and

WHEREAS, the $5.10 per hour average wage for direct care providers in the nursing homes in this state leaves most nursing home workers and their children below the poverty level; and

WHEREAS, many of the care providers in the nursing homes are denied adequate health insurance and most lack any health insurance coverage for their children; and

WHEREAS, pension and retirement benefits are virtually unknown in the nursing home industry; and

WHEREAS, annual employee turnover rates that exceed 140% in many nursing homes have a negative effect on patient care and are a major factor in chronic under-staffing; and

WHEREAS, the current minimum staffing levels set by the State guarantee that our citizens in nursing homes will simply be warehoused, not provided with the quality of life they richly deserve; and

WHEREAS, this state has a method of funding nursing home care that actually encourages nursing home owners to pay poverty level wages and to provide minimal staffing levels; and

WHEREAS, as a direct result of this funding system, unionized nursing home workers, including those at the Lemington Home in this City, are presently faced with the choice between a strike and continued poverty for themselves and their children.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh recognizes the crisis in the nursing homes and calls upon all area State Representatives and Senators to actively support the bills now pending in the State Legislature that would raise the minimum staffing levels and provide for increased wages and benefits for direct care nursing home workers.

Mr. Ferlo moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Coyne seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Ferlo:

Thank you. We have a couple representatives here from the union today, John Englehart and some of the LPNs and rec workers who work at the Lemington Home.

Councilman Darkins and myself took part in a press conference this morning. Obviously, we do not want to see a strike at the Lemington Home; we want to see that labor dispute averted and we certainly do not want to see a strike happen.

I think it's important to note that these workers sacrificed for the last four or five years and waive any increases in their wage and other kinds of benefits package when the nursing home was in trouble. So, they came to the call and they did well.

Part of the problem is broader than just at the Lemington Home and that is, as the proclamation talks about, we need state government to respond to the issue of the wage and benefits available to these home care employees and, more importantly, we need better standards which qualify the number of employees per patient. In other words, the staffing levels need to be increased.

At this time, I'd like to introduce John Englehart from District 1199-P, National Union of Hospital and Health Care Employees, and he can introduce some of the workers.

Mr. Englehart:

I'll be very, very brief. I want to thank you for having passed this resolution that speaks to a building crisis in the nursing home industry. It is a crisis that the workers in the nursing homes and the patients in the nursing homes face every day and almost no one else in this state pays any attention to at all. So, it is a tremendous thing for us to have an elected body such as the Council here in Pittsburgh pay attention to the issue.

You have done something today for, I think, two forgotten constituencies; the elderly in the nursing homes, who I think are forgotten and should not be, and the working poor, who staff those nursing homes. $5.00 an hour translates into about $150 a week in take-home pay. I don't know many people that live well on that kind of wage.

You can do two very, very practical things, I think, to help us in this struggle, and I would point out once again that it's a struggle in every nursing home. It's coming to a head at the Lemington Home, which is in Councilman Darkins' district, and he has been most helpful and we wish to thank him for that help. But there are nursing homes in every district, some of which have unionized workers in them and some of which don't.

I would urge all of you to meet with representatives of the service employees union and to go and work a day as a worker in a nursing home to see what it is really like to work and live in a nursing home. Those elected officials who have done that, I think, have really seen the reality of nursing homes in a way that few other people other than family members, patients and workers see.

I would also ask you to provide the assistance of your lobbyist in Harrisburg to help us lobby to get these three bills passed. The bills basically do three things: they would increase the minimum staffing levels in nursing homes by 10 percent, which would make a huge difference in the level of care provided. In addition to that, also do some work on getting wages higher for all direct care nursing home workers, organized or unorganized. And it would also streamline the system that the State has at present for caring for nursing homes that are in trouble.

Once again, we'd like to thank you. Thanks very much.

Ms. McGee:

I'm a worker at the Lemington Home and I'd like to thank Councilman Darkins and Mr. Ferlo and all City Council for doing this resolution for the Lemington Home.

Also, it's not only a Lemington Home crisis. We belong to 1199 SCIU nursing homes throughout the state. And we really need Council to get behind us and help us. We love what we do or we wouldn't be here.

And one day, I'm hoping not, but who knows, one of you might have to be in those homes and it's time now for you to do something because they deserve, the older people, they deserve all we can do. If it wasn't for them, we wouldn't be here, not only me but you out there too. So, please, help us, and thank you.

The Chair:

Thank you all.

Mr. Regan:

His Great Bishop Maximus, would you please come up? Justice Papadakos and all the people here from the Greek community; Chris Copetas, would you please come up? Tommy Jeanopoulos? Papa, Father Sfanos, would you please come up? Mrs. Kachulis and Mrs. Copetas, come up please. Nicky.

Mr. Regan presents

No. 553 WHEREAS, March 25, 1821, marks the commemoration of the beginning of the Hellenic People's demand for freedom from the oppression of 368 years of Ottoman Turkish rule; and

WHEREAS, this event began a revolution for freedom which led to the restoration of a free and independent Greek state; and

WHEREAS, in the three millennia of their recorded history, the Greek people have always fostered and held dear the basic inalienable human rights of freedom and democracy, and have always fought to protect the integrity of their homeland, country and religious beliefs; and

WHEREAS, the history of the Ancient Greeks has served as a foundation for Western Civilization, inspiring that world to hold dear that self-sacrifice is a noble end to guarantee the preservation of freedom and liberty; and

WHEREAS, the revolutionaries of 1821, whose deeds are commemorated today, willingly engaged in self-sacrifice of their possessions and lives to restore liberty and freedom to the homeland that first established government of and by the people on this earth; and

WHEREAS, the Greeks of our City, be they first, second, third, or fourth generation have become valued members of this community and continue through their involvement in all fields of endeavor to promote and encourage the same love of liberty and freedom taught to them and the world by their forefathers.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the City Council of the City of Pittsburgh send its congratulations to the Greek community of Pittsburgh on the occasion of the 169th commemoration of the Hellenic People's declaration of independence and that this City Council express its awareness of the great contributions of the Greek people to civilization throughout history of which all freedom-loving peoples are heirs and that March 27, 1990 be proclaimed and observed as Greek Independence Day by the entire City of Pittsburgh in honor of the events of March 25, 1821.

Mr. Regan moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Darkins seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Regan:

That's the only time Council has agreed on anything.

His Grace, Bishop Maximus, it is indeed an honor to be able to present this resolution to you and to the Greek people of the City of Pittsburgh. You know, we're Number One in the United States, Pittsburgh, we have the best country in the world, I mean, after today, and we are honored to have you here. I would like you to say something to the people.

Bishop Maximus:

Thank you, Bernard Reganopolous, thank you Chairman, and City Councilmembers. We appreciate this resolution.

I'd like to express to all of you my thanks on behalf of our community, the area, who has gotten all kinds of resolutions since we're celebrating Greek Independence Day, from the Governor, from the President, from the County Commissioners, but we never got a resolution from City Council. This is the first and I would like to express my appreciation to you for including us as we celebrate Greek Independence Day.

It is so beautiful and there is no way I can try to do any better in terms of telling what is celebrated these days. However, let me express my feelings about what is going on in Greece right now. I hope and pray that Greece continues to be worthy of our blood shed by our Greek Freedom Fighters. It is also my prayer that everyone else joins in receiving the blessings of a fight like the Greeks' struggle of 1821. It's heartwarming to see all those countries regaining their freedom. It's heartwarming to see South Africa regain its freedom. And it's my prayer that another place in the world, Lithuania, manages to get its full freedom, and the other countries that are under communist rule and oppression.

It's my prayer that they regain it's freedom. Our people are not free to express themselves to keep 400,000 Greeks there that cannot speak their language, that cannot celebrate their free state, that cannot pray to their God the way they understand they have always done.

It's my prayer that this great country of ours continues to support human rights throughout the world. I'm so glad that Senator Kennedy is in Moscow these days. He's going to go to Lithuania as well to try to be of help so that those people may finally regain their freedom and democracy, the great gift given to man by God himself, the great gift that nobody is entitled to take away from any human being.

I just want to thank you for this beautiful resolution. God Bless You.

Mr. Regan:

And now from the highest court in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Justice Papadakos.

Mr. Papadakos:

Mr. President and Members of Council, do I get the last word?

Mr. Regan:

Anything you want today.

Mr. Papadakos:

A thought occurred to me the other day in a similar type ceremony that perhaps we are entering a new age of reason. Like so many oppressed people, the Greeks of 1821 had to rise in bloody revolt and fight for seven years to gain their independence. It was a handful of people against the Ottoman Empire, like a ten to one situation. Of course, they had the help of the British and the French and other countries in the area.

So many people throughout our history have had to rise in revolt and shed blood. Today, this past year, it's amazing what has been happening in Eastern Europe. The complete turnaround that is starting in South Africa. All over the world. Nicaragua, a peaceful election changing its government which was considered to be by many an authoritarian government. Perhaps we are entering a new age of reason where no longer do people have to gain their freedom by shedding blood.

Maybe like LBJ once said, you young fellows wouldn't remember Lyndon Baines Johnson, "Let us sit down and reason together". Maybe this is what's going on.

This is our fervent prayer. When those of Greek birth or Greek heritage celebrate an independence day, fought by revolution, that no longer do we have to shed blood throughout this world and that we can gain independence for all peoples in a reasonable manner.

Thank you.

Mr. Regan:

I'd like to ask Chris Kopetas, the First Assistant District Attorney of Allegheny County, to please come up.

Mr. Copetas:

Mr. President and Members of Council and friends, thank you for honoring us on this equivalent of the Greek Fourth of July. I had quite a speech lined up, but I think I'm going to cut it quite short.

I'd like my mother to step out if she would, please. I'm not having her stand out because she's my mother only, but also because she typifies the immigrants that came to this country 70 some years ago, the first wave of immigrants, and found a home. They said, "Send us your tired, your poor, your hungry", well, this is it. She raised her family here in this wonderful City of Pittsburgh all these years, 70 some years, and all of us went to Peabody High School, the University of Pittsburgh. In my case, Duquesne Law. So, we've been Pittsburghers all our lives.

God bless America. God bless Pittsburgh. And God bless all of you. And our motherland, Greece. Thank you.

Mr. Regan:

Thank you very much. His Grace, it's indeed an honor to have you down here.

We'd like to thank the Greek community. They've not only fed the whole world, but they were the first ones to fight for freedom. And I apologize for all the restaurants that were closed down this morning in the City. Thank you very much.

The Chair:

Thank you much.

Mr. Ricciardi:

Mr. President, if I could please ask Alice Rich and Virginia Summers to step forward, please. Alice Rich is the President of the Allegheny County League of Women Voters, and Virginia Summers is the Vice-President of the group.

Mr. Ricciardi presents

No. 554 WHEREAS, the Allegheny County League of Women Voters, since its inception 70 years ago, has sought to serve the voters of this community, and has made available non-partisan information about voting procedures, candidates, and issues; and

WHEREAS, the right to vote is fundamental to the American system, and is the very foundation upon which all other democratic processes rest; and

WHEREAS, the Allegheny County League of Women Voters has throughout the years supported a wide variety of worthwhile and humanitarian causes ranging from suffrage for women to voter registration drives and is providing assistance to elderly and handicapped voters; and

WHEREAS, members of the League have long endeavored to strengthen government through their collective and individual efforts.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh does hereby congratulate the officers and members of the Allegheny County League of Women Voters for 70 years of productive service to the public.

Mr. Ricciardi moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Cohen seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Ricciardi:

Thank you, Members of City Council. It is a pleasure and an honor for me to present this resolution today to this fine group for their worthy efforts. Because of their efforts, they've helped voters and residents of Allegheny County to become more informed citizens.

Now I'd like to ask the President of the group, Alice Rich, if she could please step forward and say a few words.

Ma. Rich:

Mr. President, honorable Members of City Council, it is with sincere appreciation that I accept this resolution from Council on behalf of all the members of the Allegheny County League of Women Voters. You have honored us, and we thank you.

The Allegheny County League of Women Voters, and please notice that I stress the words, "Allegheny County" because it's part of our name, is an independent, non-lobbying, educational organization which was founded in Pittsburgh on January 14, 1920 at a meeting in the William Penn Hotel. Its officers and board were elected at that meeting and its name was decided upon. It was called the Allegheny County League of Women Citizens.

By the following May, in five months, it had over 4,000 members. It had a headquarters and a staff.

Upon ratification of the 19th Amendment in August of 1920, the slogan was: "Every woman an intelligent voter" and the idea was to be an association of women who wish not merely to vote but to make their votes count for the public good.

The Allegheny County League of Women Voters has always declared that authoritarianism, regimentation, dictation and package thinking are not for us. We strive, therefore, to provide our members with information that will make them able to make up their own minds about how they want to vote.

Our voters guide, our booklet entitled, "Know Your Elected Officials", our monthly public affairs capsule, our many lecture series, workshops, courses for members and others, our educational work in the high schools, preparing future voters and teaching them how to register and vote and why they should register and vote. All this and more is part of the League's effort to achieve good government at a sound economic climate throughout Allegheny County.

We have had a busy 70 years of serving the citizens of this County and this City. I don't know of many old ladies who want their 70th birthday trumpeted throughout the County, but the Allegheny County League is very proud that this is our 70th birthday and we look forward to at least 70 more years of serving this County and this City.

Thank you again for your recognition of our work.

The Chair:

Thank you all very much. You do an excellent job.

Mr. Wagner:

Director, could you tell me the locations for these various signals?

Mr. Gaetano:

This piece of legislation is not the total signal legislation, but this is for the loop detectors and for the pole foundations that we put in on our $300,000.00 contract.

One of the locations that we will be using this contract for strictly on the foundation portions, and I do the rest, is Brookline Boulevard and Wedgemere.

Mr. Wagner:

It is the location that I requested at budget time a couple times in the past?

Mr. Gaetano:

Yes. This was actually one of the ones you did request at budget time. It is the one location we are going to put in. In fact, it will be the first one in this year.

Mr. Wagner:

I would ask you to move as expeditiously as possible at that location. We have had a couple fatalities, one within the last week, at that intersection with a pedestrian. And this is a critical item that needs to be completed.

(REMARKS ON FOLLOWING PAGES)

(MR. WAGNER'S COMMENTS ON BILL NO. 96 - Wednesday, 3/21/90)

Mr. Wagner:

We had some discussion last week at the hearing about development on this Island and the various changes that Council has made in zoning, the monies we have allocated over the years, which is somewhere around $18 million for infrastructure on the Island. And what we talked about, I think, and I think what the feeling of Council is, that we want to see something happen on the Island. We have all talked about it and the URA has talked about it, and one of the items discussed was to go out to a private concern to market the Island. I know that does not directly tie in with the piece of legislation in front of us, but at the same time it does, because I think there needs to be some commitments, whether they be verbal or whatever, from the URA to do something of that nature so that in the very near future we see something happen, some jobs on the Island, some people living on the Island, and get something back for our investment. I don't know if we have had that commitment yet, and I would like to ask someone from the URA, Evan Stoddard is here, in charge of economic development.

Mr. Stoddard, in regard to this issue, is the URA going to go out and market this Island the way it should be marketed so we can see something happen in 1990 on the island?

Mr. Stoddard:

Absolutely; we think we are doing that now. Mr. Wagner, you may not have gotten the letter that was sent to you just yesterday addressing that subject from George Whitmer. In that letter we have described the marketing efforts that North Side Civic Development Council has undertaken with the help of Dieter Associates, a private marketing firm. We also included with that letter their quarterly report that they submitted to us in December, indicating some of the activities they had undertaken in the last part of last year. Of course, because of the problems that the Island has had, we have had to suspend our marketing efforts for about a year and a half, but we got those back underway last fall, and we are confident that we will be seeing some very substantial activity on the Island in the near future between the sports development and the very, very considerable interest in the marina development that we received as a result of the request for proposals that the URA sent out last year, late last year.

So I think in the very near future we will be bringing to Council some very interesting developments that you will be able to consider.

Mr. Wagner:

Well, I certainly hope it is here, because I think the time has come where we cannot let that Island sit idle anymore.

Mr. Stoddard:

No question about it.

Mr. Wagner:

I believe that the marketing effort must be an aggressive marketing effort, and it is very important to employ true professionals in marketing, rather than the economic development people, that is a different profession.

Mr. Stoddard:

Sure, that is right.

Mr. Wagner:

Marketing is a profession in and of itself, and I really think that this Island is a tremendous location, particularly with all the investment in it so far. And really, before I continue to vote on legislation on this Island, I want to see something happen there.

Mr. Stoddard:

I think we understand that and couldn't agree more with you, that it is time to get going on the Island. We are hopeful that the legislation that you have before you today will help that process get started, because it really will permit some very exciting development on the upper end of the Island that both will add to the public amenities on the Island and create an environment we think will be exciting to private companies.

Also, as Mr. Ferlo mentioned, it provides for the possibility of a very exciting development by a nice company that has a great deal of interest in the Island, but which cannot locate their now as is presently zoned.

Mr. Wagner:

Okay. By passing this legislation we are going to see something happen within months?

Mr. Stoddard:

That is right.

Mr. Wagner:

How many months?

Mr. Stoddard:

Gee, on the park side, the planning for the park is already underway. The construction for the park is scheduled to begin late this year.

On the private development side, I can't make any guarantees, because until the contract is signed, you can't guarantee anything. But the action you are taking today would pave the way for that development to move forward. I am hopeful within the next month we would be coming back to the Council with an item relating to that private development.

Mr. Wagner:

Great. I would like all of you to keep all of us posted. I would like to partake in the ground breaking ceremony for a company, condominiums, boat dock facility and all of that on that Island in 1990.

Mr. Stoddard:

Hope to be there with you.

Mr. Wagner:

I don't think we should be hoping. I think we need to do it. We need to say, "It is going to be done in 1990, and it will be done in 1990." If this marketing firm you are employing is not the firm to do it, let's go get another firm to do it. But we have almost $20 million of taxpayer monies in that Island with no return on investment.

Mr. Stoddard:

That's right.

Mr. Wagner:

We cannot put any more dollars in that Island; it has to start giving us back a return for our investment.

Mr. Stoddard:

I agree with you.

Mr. Wagner:

So let's move aggressively in 1990 to do that.

The facility is to be located on property zoned "I-M" Institutional-Medical District, in the 22nd Ward."

Which was read.

The Chair:

On Bill 449, I'm voting in favor of it, but we talked at great length at the public hearing and in some detail at the meeting last week about marketing Herr's Island. I received a letter from the URA in regard to that issue. I don't think all Councilmembers have received a copy of that letter. Evidently not.

I'm rather disappointed. They're going to a firm in Vermont to market the island. The firm is in the process of relocation to the City of Pittsburgh. That will not happen for one year and I am rather disappointed to read that.

I don't think that's really part of this issue so I'm still voting in the affirmative on the bill, but I really think that we need to push the URA to appropriately market Herr's Island with a local firm.

I would like my remarks brought forward on this bill, please.

(REMARKS ON FOLLOWING PAGE)

(MR. WAGNER'S COMMENTS ON BILL NO. 449 - Wednesday, 3/21/90)

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. Chairman, I know you are right, that issue is not in front of us, and I am also voting in favor of this legislation. But I simply want to state, Director, that there are negotiations going on with this Hospital, not only on this issue, but many other issues relating to city government. I just think it is about time that Allegheny General send a positive signal on the other issue. We are very cooperative and I think they should be, also.

(End of comments)

(Transcribed by Helen L. Kriebel)

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, since you raised the issue, I think you know my view. I think we should sell the island to Donald Trump because he's the only one with enough money to ever put a building up on it.

I would ask, Mr. Chairman, however, that, in the past, you have called for quarterly meetings with the Mayor and the URA on progress to date on various development initiatives, and certainly this being a primary one, and I would urge you to consider re-instituting that in your new role as President of Council.

Secondly, equal to that would be the development and initiative on the J & L technology site.

But I would strongly urge you consider doing that. If we don't stay on top of it, yourself included, as you pointed out at the meeting, it just won't happen.

The Chair:

I think that's an excellent idea. We'll schedule a separate meeting just on progress of major projects with the URA.

Mr. Regan:

Mr. President, I just want to make Councilman Ferlo aware that Henry Hillman from Pittsburgh has more money than Donald Trump. So, if we're going to sell it, I'd like to sell it to a Pittsburgher, even if he is a Republican.

Mr. Ferlo:

I hope he's listening.

I'd like my remarks brought forward on this bill.

(REMARKS ON FOLLOWING PAGE)

(MR. COHEN'S COMMENTS ON BILL NO. 452 - Wednesday 3/21/90)

Mr. Cohen:

Mr. Chairman, let me say that I think these bills represent one of the best things a government can do, which is to help those who really have no where else to turn. All of these are for emergency shelters or emergency money. The city is merely acting as a conduit for federal money, is my understanding.

But I wanted to take one as an example, which is not to say the others aren't equally worthy, but the Women's Center and Shelter, of which I am quite familiar with, protects victims of abuse, victims of domestic violence. Last year alone there were 800 victims of abuse that were turned away from the Women's Center and Shelter because they don't have enough funding or enough shelter space. Domestic violence is an ever increasing problem, both nationwide but also here in Pittsburgh. I think, just as an example, this is one very worthy investment, and I am sure all the others are equally worthy. I think it is a great thing that we are involved in this.

Mr. Perry:

Bill No. 481

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for a Cooperation Agreement or Agreements with the Housing Authority of the City of Pittsburgh for the administration and implementation of the 'Community and Social Service Programs in Public Housing Communities' (HA-89-02) at a cost not to exceed $50,000.00, chargeable to and payable from the 1989 CDBG - Housing Authority (HA-89-02) 'Community and Social Service Programs in Public Housing Communities' Project #4-65-01-0002-89-410-89-65, Index #432401."

Which was read.

Mr. Cohen:

Mr. President, with respect to Bill 481, there was some discussion on bringing social services to the communities and I think Councilman Ferlo expressed positive statements about that last Wednesday. I would just like to say that I think it's a very important bill and one that takes really the first step in getting tenant managements and the fundamental goal in public housing that the residents stand up and boldly take a stake in their future.

We talked about some of the social services that were being provided by this bill. I think those are good, including literacy training which Councilwoman Madoff discussed, but I think also we need job skills training, nutrition education, and social services like that so that we can really take the first step towards getting public housing communities back on the road. So, I'm very strongly in favor of that bill.

Which was read.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. President, on Bill No. 442 regarding the multi-million dollar construction of a River Rescue Safety Center, I just want to clarify my concern. My concern, obviously, is that it's wonderful for us to consider the construction of a new River Rescue Center. There could be no debate as to the fact that we need to provide these services. The concern that I have, very simply put, are that, once again, the County is off the hook. The County is not contributing money to something which basically serves a regional need.

I resent the fact that we continue to expand the bureaucracy of the Department of Public Safety at the expense of foot patrol and police officers available to deal with crime at the community level.

I resent the fact that the Administration is not politically holding the County accountable for contributing to this activity, the River Rescue Center. The only time in the history of the City we've ever gotten County support was the Pirate bond issue, and that was through the Authority to approve the municipalities, the AIM Grant pulling in $26,000. And even that, as Mr. President will remember, I know yourself had to raise that concern each year in September or October because it takes that long for us to even get that money, which we were awarded.

So, I think we should send this back. I would encourage my colleagues to vote no on this. We should go back to the County for an AIM Grant. The County should be kicking in to support the construction of this River Rescue Center. It's not too late. This happens to be a specific bill moving the project ahead. So, I would ask the Administration to please do that; however, tactically, I think we missed the boat. The County is never going to do anything for us if we just go ahead and do it in spite of them and build it without their support. We have to demand and prevail upon them to make a fair share contribution, which they are not doing.

So, again, it has nothing to do with whether or not we would like to have a River Rescue Center. Sure, I'd like to have a lot of things in this City. But it comes down to critical dollars and I think it has come down to that.

When we have Administration that now says they're never going to fill the 1,200 budgeted numbers for police officers, I think it's time for Council to step in and provide some checks and balances. If I had to vote for several millions of dollars for River Rescue Center versus getting a full complement of police officers, I'm voting for police officers. I'm voting to re-open No. 3 Police Station. I'd vote for a lot of things regarding expenditures needed in the Police Bureau before I'd vote for another expansion of the bureaucracy of Public Safety. So, I'm voting no.

(REMARKS ON FOLLOWING PAGES)

Michelle Madoff:

While I understand the frustration of my colleague, having suffered that frustration longer than he has, I don't think that the day is done. I think we must meet with the Commissioners, and I think his point is well taken that we try to get some dollars.

But I think what we're doing here is mixing apples and oranges. It's not a matter of do we want to have more police or will we have a River Rescue. If we're going to expand our rivers, if we want to encourage people to live on the rivers, if we realize that the City is self-insured that any time we have a lawsuit pertaining to problems of rescue on the river, we, the taxpayers, have to pay that liability. We don't have a choice. We must go ahead and re-do the River Rescue Center.

But that doesn't mean that Mr. Ferlo is wrong and it doesn't mean that we shouldn't be following up by perhaps having a post agenda or a private meeting with the Commissioners, and I think it would also be very incumbent upon us to look at the AIM Bond which almost went belly up. That's another subject for another day.

I would like my comments brought forward from the previous meeting. Thank you.

(MICHELLE MADOFF'S COMMENTS ON BILL NO. 442-Wednesday, 3/21/90)

Michelle Madoff:

I am very familiar with it and I support it. I have one quick question. How did you come up with the $3,200.00?

Mr. Ferlo:

As I explained last week, the $3,200.00 is half of the overall cost to repair, renovate and relocate this monument to a more appealing site. The $6,400.00 will do all the work, $3,200.00 has already been raised from a Veteran's Group in the area and the community group is acting as the conduit.

But I would like to make a motion to revert back to the original legislation, which was Code Account 1801 in Parks. There is no money in Code Account 10; it is an empty gesture. I know we had discussions last week with Mr. Wagner's concerns about doing this. I would ask we please support this with 1801. If the Parks Director does not want to execute a contract, that is fine. But at this point, I would like to make a motion that we amend this to read Code Account 1801, Parks.

(Deleted text.)

Michelle Madoff:

I am concerned that we frequently in this Council have been able to find money for things that were important for the community. This is an important item, it goes to the dignity of the people in the community.

When you make a statement, Mr. Ferlo, that, "We will put it in Parks, and if the Director doesn't want to issue a contract, so be it," I am saying this Council can find some money in a code account and let's do this project.

(Deleted text.)

Michelle Madoff:

I believe that what you are doing is very responsible, should be commended and continue doing it. But in the same manner that you had an emergency on a statue and you had to make it safe, here we have a community that has already put up some money, done the research, and I think, based on the cooperation with the various communities, if they are there and ready to go, I think they have to be considered on a priority basis up front.

Another thing, I think we need to have some response when you give us the list, if you are having vandalism of monuments in certain areas, are you considering moving those and what kind of protection will you provide to stop the vandalism? Are you going to have the community adopt the statue and look out for it? It is not unheard of. We adopt animals at the zoo, support them and look out for each other, and block watches. I don't see any purpose into putting money into something that is going to be vandalized again immediately. If it is over a long term, that is one thing; if it is an accident, that is another. But if you are going to repair something and you know there is no point in doing it, I think you have to come back and tell us that and see what this Council can do to help you.

(End of comments)

(Transcribed by Helen L. Kriebel)

Mr. Cohen:

I respectfully disagree with Councilman Ferlo on this issue. He said it's not too late; my view is that it is too late, that $115,000 was already allocated for this project.

What this specific bill does is increases the allocation by another $20,000 in order to accommodate neighborhood groups who had some concerns about how the River Rescue Center was built. That's what this does.

The ship has already sailed on this bill. And with respect to the River Rescue Center itself, from what Glenn Cannon said last Wednesday, it's in a terrible state of disrepair and if we don't vote for this bill, in my view, we're going to have to have a River Rescue Center for our River Rescue Center. So, I'm voting yes.

The Chair:

I would just like to add that I'm not sure if all Councilmembers have been informed that there is a groundbreaking on this project this afternoon at 1:30. All Councilmembers are invited, including Mr. Ferlo.

Michelle Madoff:

And you got it moved, I take it?

The Chair:

Yes, from 10:00 this morning to 1:30.

Michelle Madoff:

Bravo. It's time that we started being included in these things.

Mr. Regan:

I would like to just add my sentiments to the distinguished Councilman from Squirrel Hill, that I think that this has been long overdue and I agree the ship is sailing and we're going to be on it this afternoon.

I disagree with him, though, with Allegheny County. We have two Commissioners over there that are from the City and I think they love the City of Pittsburgh as much as we do. I think they're stretched with their dollars over there, but I think that if we sit down with them I think that we can work a lot of things out. But we have to sit down and talk and negotiate. I think we can do it. And I don't know any better negotiator than Mr. Ferlo; I'd like him to go with me when I go to see them. Thank you.

Mr. Cohen:

Councilman, I'm from Point Breeze but would be happy to be an honorary resident of Squirrel Hill.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Perry, would it be any great difficulty to list on the Minutes who the Stenotypist was and who recorded the Minutes? I would like to have this so I know who to go back to if there's any problems.

Mr. Perry:

Marianne records the Minutes.

Michelle Madoff:

Does it appear on the Minutes?

Mr. Perry:

We do that in-house.

Michelle Madoff:

That's not what I asked you. I'd like their names on each one, who did it that week.

Mr. Perry:

I only have one person that does it every week.

Michelle Madoff:

Only one person doing it now because of the new processors?

Mr. Perry:

It's always been one person.

Michelle Madoff:

There's only one person taking the Minutes?

Mr. Perry:

Yes. She's right there.

Michelle Madoff:

We've had different people taking Minutes on Wednesdays and Mondays and whatever. Okay.

On two other items, one I raised here before. I pointed out to the Councilmembers that we received a list of employees from the Authorities each year. I had a call at my office asking about someone who was working at the Housing Authority. I went to my list and, of course, that person's name didn't appear. And so I called down to the Housing Authority and said, "Do you have a person by the name of -- whatever?" And they said, "Oh, yes." I said, "Why won't he be on the list." He said, "He's only a temp." I said, "What do you mean he's only a temporary? How long has he been working for you?" He said, "A year." I said, "What's his salary?" He said, "$24,000 plus overtime." I said, "What do you mean he's a temporary?" He said, "Well, when we have somebody who is on workers' comp, we hire people and we call them temporaries and we don't list them." Of course they're listed in the payroll of Housing, don't misunderstand. I don't believe it's a ghost employee. But we have not been given the privilege of knowing who those people are with the other lists that we receive.

From my limited research, that is the only agency that is doing that. The only agency.

So, I asked how many more there were like this person and they said about 22. The list finally arrived and if you look at the list, there were 49.

I don't know whether I'm correct or not, but my gut tells me that patronage is alive and well and living in the Housing Authority.

I think it would be a good idea to meet with Reggie Young or a note be sent to Reggie to see what he's going to do about changing the process. I've respectfully asked Reggie Young and David Washington to change the process whereby you have temporary employees who are part-time, and temporary full-time who are interim employees. Change the term to interim. But those names must be on the list that come to us.

And for anybody who is interested, you might want to take a look down the list and see if you recognize anyone. I do not but there may be some people that are recognizable.

Mr. Darkins:

What is the point? What are we making here?

Michelle Madoff:

The point is that we get a list every year of all the employees and we didn't get these names on our list. 49 people were missing from the list. They've been working full-time and they're missing from the list.

The Chair:

It's a valid point that Councilwoman Madoff is bringing up. Other Authorities are providing us lists and we're finding out that a far majority does not have those lists.

Michelle Madoff:

The City rebids the job. This is nonsense. It's misleading and we want to get the correct information.

On a much more serious matter. It has come to my attention, and you know that this Council has had an on-going battle with the problems at the Westgate Housing Development. Thanks to the efforts of this Council, and I guess in part to my own, we were able to curtail the rampant shootings, the threats to the community that were going on in Westgate. As a matter of fact, it has become a rather docile, quite community. I'm happy to report that things are not as bad as they were on the obvious. I'm sure that the drug sales are going on, business as usual, but at least children aren't being shot at.

Part of this is due to the fact that, because of the pressure of this Council and the media and my efforts, Mr. Pugatch, who is the absentee landlord, and I call him a slum landlord from Baltimore, hired a security firm. The security firm is headed by a Mr. Lynn Wright who has a good reputation, I believe, in that he is the Executive Director working for the Housing Authority for the County.

Now, for some personal reason be-knownst best to Mr. Pugatch and his privilege, he has gone out presumably to seek RFPs from other possible security contractors to run the Westgate operation, and that's his privilege.

The way it came to light, from my perspective, was that the Fire Station in 4, which is in my district, had notices up on the bulletin board saying that they were looking for off-duty police officers who would be willing to work at Westgate and, if they were interested, to please contact these persons to say that they wish to take the job.

I have spoken to Glenn Cannon about this. I spoke to him as recently as last Friday about this problem. My concerns were, and I talked to the Law Department, what happens to a police officer who is working for a private security firm not of the magnitude of a Giant Eagle, not of the magnitude of a Sears, not of the magnitude of, perhaps, the Civic Arena or Stadium where we do some subcontracting, and that person is injured. Who picks up the workers' comp? Who picks up the disability and is that person covered? I have some great concerns.

So, I'm waiting for an answer on that. It's a very garbled, indistinct decision. We have not really had a definite answer.

Now, on March 23, last week, a notice appeared at Station 2 in the Hill District. And on Xeroxed paper that is Pittsburgh Department of Public Safety, implying that the Public Safety Department is sponsoring this request, with a magic marker, it says, "Westgate Village detail will start on April 2, 1990. Call Earl Stewart" - he's the warrant officer and it gives his office number for the City - "7251 - if you'd like to work."

My understanding is that this is illegal, that a police officer in uniform who works for the City cannot go out and start his own private security firm.

And number two, the greater concern, is that our liability for workers' comp is so horrendous, and if we're going to put these people out, are they going to have working powers? Are they going to have permission from the City Police Department? I understand that they do not.

So, I would respectfully request that as soon as possible, like yesterday, tomorrow, we have a post agenda to discuss this problem with Chief Pampena, Glenn Cannon, Lou DiNardo, and anyone else. I'd like to have Mr. Earl Stewart here. And if you read the attached letter which I've distributed that came to my attention from Mr. Lynn Wright, I don't know who Earl Johnson is but they formed a corporation called E & E Consultants. I'd like to know what their insurance liabilities are, whether they paid their premiums. I'd like to have the contract. I want to see the contract that provides for police protection in the event of disability. And I would hope that my colleagues would also like to see that. I spoke just briefly to Mr. Darkins and I think he supports me on this. I hope.

Can we make that official for tomorrow?
Do we need a motion on that?

The Chair:

The request is being made and Mr. Perry will forward it.

Mr. Perry:

As soon as possible.

Mr. Coyne:

Mr. Chairman, I'd like to thank you for setting up the tour last week of Streets Run Stream in the Hays District of the 31st Ward. And the other Councilmembers who attended, I appreciate your attention to what I consider a serious issue.

Each of you saw the utter disrepair that the stream is in near the streets of Calera, Baldwin Road in the City of Pittsburgh, and I would hope that we could call immediate attention to this to the Department of Public Works. Unfortunately, the Director from the City wasn't there last week and neither was the County. But I think it's something that we need to bring to the County's attention also and also the State. The condition that the people are living in over there, as everyone was witness to, is very dreadful. In fact, it's dangerous. A car could go over the embankment at any time.

So, I would like to take suggestions from other Councilmembers as to what we could possibly do to expedite at least the installation of guardrails and possibly cleaning out that stream. I'm requesting any assistance you may be able to give my office in getting the Department of Public Works to get out there and start working on the situation sooner.

Mr. Darkins:

Mr. Chairman, I also want to bring to your attention, not because I'm a Minister and I visited that Catholic Church over there, it's just a shame because when the waters rise, the water goes into the basement of that Church and also that school. I think something should be done about it because the House of God must be safe at all times.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. President, I appreciate the opportunity that Councilman Coyne provided in arranging that tour. I was a little bit shocked, this Calera Street, the roadway, as you pointed out, Mr. Wagner when we were out there, it's about to fall into the stream. And while the City is justified to some extent in its concern about the County and/or State government contributing for other parts of the terrain, there can be no doubt as to whose liability it is to deal with Calera Street.

I think when we have these tours, and I think Councilman Coyne is requesting that we go out again with Director Sciulli from E & C and Director Gaetano from Public Works, I think it's important that we go back out there. But there needs to be emergency measures taken immediately by Public Works in relation to Calera Street. I don't know if that's the jersey barriers or the metal barriers but, whatever it is, something has to happen immediately. That should happen this week, like yesterday.

In the meantime, I hope that we can arrange for another meeting and I would hope that we could prevail, Mr. President, as you pointed out at the tour, that we need to call on the State Representatives from that area, the State Senator from that area, to get involved and not pass the buck to the City.

So, I would hope that in the second meeting, when we go out there we can bring the media, we can bring our State Representatives and State Senator and the appropriate department directors.

Mr. Regan:

I'd like to thank Councilman Coyne for taking us out there to view this scene. I feel it's an emergency situation and I think that we have to take immediate action. I'd say next week, if we could get the Senator and Legislator from that district, plus the different bodies that are involved with financing the roads out there because it's a sad situation out there. I think it's an emergency situation and I think it should be dealt with immediately.

The Chair:

I agree with my colleagues, particularly Mr. Coyne. Unfortunately, the State reconstructed a portion of Streets Run Road which becomes Baldwin Road, and they stopped right at the City line. In other words, they were concerned about the municipality south of the City, but as soon as they hit the City line they stopped their project.

I really think the most significant portion of that project belongs to the State in terms of responsibility for a retaining wall and guardrail, particularly where that wall exists. But I also agree with all of you that Calera Street, from Baldwin Road to Corley Street, needs a guardrail immediately and that should be done by the City Public Works Department.

In addition to that, we should be cleaning the stream with whatever resources we have available to at least remove debris from the stream.

So, I would appreciate if the City Clerk would inform the Public Works Department of those two tasks; cleaning of the stream and also some type of a barrier on Calera Street between Baldwin Road and Corley Street.

Also, I think a formal notification should be made to the appropriate State Department that a retaining wall and a guardrail needs to be constructed along Baldwin Road, which is a State road, and that the appropriate elected officials, State elected officials, be notified also.

Mr. Coyne moved to approve the Minutes of Tuesday, March 6, 1990.

Mr. Cohen seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Ricciardi

Council adjourned.

MICHELLE MADOFF	(Pres't)

The Meeting was opened by the recitation of the pledge of allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

PRESENTATIONS

Mr. Cohen:

Good morning. Could I please have the members from the Students Against Racism come up here, please? I'm very happy to read the following resolution.

Mr. Cohen presents

No. 577 WHEREAS, Students Against Racism, known as ST.A.R., was founded with a meeting of a few concerned students at the University of Pittsburgh on January 1, 1990, and already has grown to a membership of almost sixty members; and

WHEREAS, the main goal of Students Against Racism is to end as much racial prejudice and tension between races as possible, and to educate the community to the causes and effects of racism; and

WHEREAS, ST.A.R. has begun a project to erase racism and ethnic graffiti and is presently organizing a symposium on the causes, effects and solutions to racial insensitivity at the University of Pittsburgh; and

WHEREAS, ST.A.R. understands that a tolerant and enlightened environment begins with education at a young age, and is currently working with area public schools to challenge students to examine their attitudes and perceptions, and to help them to recognize the great virtues of a tolerant and culturally diverse community.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh commends Students Against Racism on their commitment to combating bigotry and promoting an environment of understanding in our schools and the City of Pittsburgh. They give us hope for the future.

Mr. Cohen moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Cohen:

Thank you, President and members of Council. I'd like to introduce four members of the Students Against Racism, Matt Sipple who is the President and Founder; Luigi Giovanni who is the Chair of the Planning Sub-Committee; Lara Cook who is the Chair of Public Relations; and Rome Fuqua who is the Chair of Advertising.

Mr. Sipple:

Thank you. I'd like to just share with you a couple of occurrences which I witnessed this fall in Pittsburgh.

A blind man sits on the corner of Forbes and Atwood with a cup in his hand and a radio on his lap. He rises to leave and accidentally bumps into a woman dressed in a business suit, sending his radio smashed onto the pavement.

"Why don't you watch where you're going, nigger?" she yells.

He grabs her arm and asks desperately, "Where is my radio? Is it broken?"

She kicks him hard in the shins sending him to the ground with a cry of pain. "Don't you touch me."

Just then an officer appears and quickly hoists the man up on his feet. "Alright, sir, let's take a walk. Ma'am, do you wish to file any charges?"

"Um, no Officer. I'm just glad you got here when you did."

Another instance:

It's about 12:30 on a Saturday night when a small group of friends walks south on Forbes Avenue on their way back from a party. Another group of friends walk north on Forbes. As the two groups approach each other, a silence settles in each group. They keep walking towards each other, neither stepping aside, until finally they collide in a loud frenzy.

They start to yell racial obscenities at each other while at the same time punch, kick and wrestle. Some go to the ground to carry out their battle while others prefer to stand. One or two do all the fighting they're going to do as they fall unconscious to the pavement. One looks as if he would like to fall, but he can't for he is being held up by one foe as another beats his stomach and face repeatedly.

Why do these groups fight? What makes them act so violently without even exchanging so much as a word?

Why does a White woman who bumps into a Black man assume that he is trying to harm her or steal her purse? Why does she not admit that she is wrong upon realizing her mistake, the man's situation and his innocent intentions?

These are only a few out of the many questions which I wish I knew the answers to. These are only two of hundreds of racially based incidents which occur in Pittsburgh and all over the country every year. And these two incidents are considered just "minor ones" in the eyes of many.

I founded ST.A.R. in the hopes that it would eventually become a group that can make a difference, a group that can help to educate people about the ignorance of racism, a group that can bring people of different races and cultures together in a better understanding of each other. We, as a school, we as a City, and we as a Country, have so many important issues to deal with and problems to solve today, yet we cannot even treat each other as equal human beings. How are we going to solve problems such as homelessness and the many ecological difficulties that we face when we cannot even communicate with one another because of our biases.

ST.A.R. wants to show people our similarities and differences and help them to discern what is important and what is not. We want to help them see how stupid and useless it is to hate because of color, physical differences, and foreign beliefs. We want to show people and make them realize that this only holds back our society. We would like to bring people together to learn more about our similarities and to dismiss their fears about one another. By doing these things, we hope to achieve our goal to keep racism in check, to educate people about racism, and to end it wherever we can. Thank you.

Mr. Giovanni:

A university can be evaluated from several standpoints; academic curriculum, the quality of the faculty, the social infra-structure including all services. Still, if a school is unable to create cohesion, unity among its students, then a central component of education is lacking.

University graduates create the basis for a large part of the leadership of the future. University graduates will not only apply their knowledge to the field they will eventually be involved in, they will also, out of necessity, influence the community with the values, whatever they may be.

If a student, while growing intellectually, does not develop an understanding of the differences between cultures, ethnic groups and races within the community, she will probably not develop an understanding of segregation later on the working place.

Segregation and racism are among the most compelling and complex problems in our society. They are the result of historical developments, social attitudes, and to great extent, social economic disparities between the differences in the population.

At ST.A.R., we acknowledge the complexity of the problem and we realize that no individual group alone can help to eliminate segregation or racism. Nevertheless, as a group of very committed students, we can make a difference. We can influence University policy. We can influence the community.

As Chairman of the Planning Committee and Coordinator of the upcoming symposium on racism and segregation, I take pride in that commitment and hope that our efforts will be beneficial to all.

Ms. Cook:

Contrary to popular belief, racism exists and it exists everywhere. It even exists in this community which, I feel, is very race and color conscious.

I came here nine years ago from France and what I see around me appalls me. I never thought I'd see anything like this in this country. However, it is here and it is on the rise.

I have a personal problem understanding the racial tensions and segregation which are a fact of life in our university, this community and this country. There must be a way to fight racism and it starts with the children.

As a member of ST.A.R., I want to do my best to help develop ways of educating the community to fight racism.

As head of ST.A.R.'s Public Relations Committee, I urge those individuals and organizations with similar concerns to contact us and work with us to develop successful anti-racist programs in our community. One of our greatest hopes is to gain the support and recognition from the many organizations at Pitt, the University's governing body, students, professors, as well as the community at large.

We are reaching out to you to help us in our fight against racism. Please help us.

Mr. Fuqua:

The reason I decided to become involved with ST.A.R. is one that is totally on personal experiences. Being affiliated with ST.A.R., I get the opportunity to communicate with other nationalities verbally, mentally emotionally, and sometimes physically, but not physical as a belligerent act of violence.

Being the head of Advertising, I get the opportunity to display my skills and artistic ability for the purpose of educating others about the ignorance of racism.

I'm not going to go into the feelings of a Black man living in an unbalanced society. We are more educated than that. That's not what God had in mind when he created this world. He gave it to us, the people. Us as one, not as individuals, not to one race.

Being a senior at the University of Pittsburgh, I accomplish a lot in my life. But there has been many obstacles in my past which have kept me from achieving some of the goals that I wish I had. This obstacle has great strength.

People say this obstacle's strength has diminished a great deal; I must agree that it has. But no matter how small this obstacle gets, as long as it is still standing, it's a menace. It's called racism.

I've had many bouts with this menace in life, and I probably will for the rest of my life. But if I can educate myself more and help others in struggling to rid this ignorance, that's exactly the problem which is ignoring racial issues.

Saying that racism doesn't exist any more - I fear this attitude amongst the people that follow this way of living. The fear is racism not being visible. I'd rather see it, hear it and deal with it than people who are racist and do not display it.

There's nothing I can do about what happened in the past with racial incidents. I'm a part of ST.A.R. to deal with the racial issues of tomorrow. I'm an individual who refuses to dwell on yesterday, the past. I'm living for tomorrow, the future.

I am one who will fight for equality for all nationalities. I am one who will try to help others who wish to know more about racism.

I understand that I am learning about racism myself and I know there is much I don't know. I'm in this organization to educate and to be educated, first. Then I will be there for those who wish to be a part of the goal to rid racism.

Being a part of ST.A.R. I feel good knowing that there are people out there who do care about tomorrow, our future. Thank you.

The Chair:

Thank you all very much.

Mr. Cohen:

I have one other resolution to read today. If I could have Celeste Barron and Barbara Ackerman from Friends Indeed come up, please.

Mr. Cohen presents

No. 578 WHEREAS, the Friends Indeed Volunteer Project was established in 1975 to help Allegheny County girls leaving the Waynesburg Youth Development Center make a successful transition from institutional to community life; and

Mr. Cohen moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Cohen:

Thank you, Members of Council. I know that there are other members of Council, particularly Jim Ferlo, who have worked with Friends Indeed, and I want to introduce Barbara Ackerman and Celeste Barron. It's a pleasure to have them here. They are both leaders of the community.

Ms. Ackerman:

I'd like to thank you very much. I want to thank Dan Cohen and City Council for recognizing Friends Indeed today, and I want to thank the National Council of Jewish Women for sponsoring this agency which does give a very much needed service to troubled youth in the Pittsburgh Community.

We offer our services to children who come to us through the Juvenile Court and other agencies and we are happy to be here today so that you'll know more about us.

If anyone is interested in being a volunteer for our agency, you may call Friends Indeed at 421-1840.

Thank you very much.

The Chair:

Thank you all.

Mr. Darkins presents

No. 579 WHEREAS, the United States Congress created Fair Housing as part of this nation's Civil Rights Law twenty-two years ago; and

WHEREAS, the Commission on Human Relations of the City of Pittsburgh had established the Fair Housing Program as an integral part of the Commission long before passage by the U.S. Congress; and

WHEREAS, the excellence of the fruition of the Fair Housing Program of the City of Pittsburgh can be easily recognized for the purpose for which it was created; and

WHEREAS, we salute former Director John Gabriel, Chairperson Pinkie Reed and the entire Commission for maintaining and preserving the principles of Fair Housing Laws.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh hereby proclaims the month of April as "Fair Housing Month" in the City of Pittsburgh to commemorate the 22nd Anniversary of National Fair Housing Legislation enacted by the U.S. Congress.

Mr. Darkins moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Milliones seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Ms. Reed:

Mr. Wagner, President of City Council, Bishop Duane Darkins, sponsor of the resolution, esteemed Members of City Council, good morning.

The Fair Housing Ordinance was passed in December, 1958 and the effective date of enforcement was June 1, 1959.

Every citizen in Pittsburgh comes under at least one of the protective classes covered in the City Code. Anyone alledging discrimination in housing may file a complaint with the Commission.

Within the last year we have taken complaints from a Black woman and her daughter who were denied the opportunity to rent a luxury apartment in the Oakland/Shadyside area.

Another case involved a White woman who was subjected to an eviction because she was married to a Black man.

We have also taken complaints and resolved them involving handicapped persons on the North Side and a man of Hispanic descent living Downtown.

As you can see, our Code is enforceable in every section of the City. We ask you to join with us and support us in our enforcement laws which prohibit discrimination in housing in the City of Pittsburgh.

Thank you.

Mr. Parker:

Good morning. This is the 22nd anniversary of fair housing laws on the national level, but I think as Pittsburghers we should be proud of the fact that we recognized the need for fair housing some ten years before that. I think as elected officials you can be proud of the fact that you adhere to a policy of zero tolerance when it comes to racial bigotry and prejudice in this City.

On behalf of the staff and Acting Director LaVerne Wheeler, we thank you and we ask your continued support in this effort.

Thank you very much.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Mr. Ferlo:

I'd like the representatives of the Vintage Grand Prix to come forward, John Walko and Don Brown and others, the representatives here from the Autism Society and the Allegheny Valley School.

Mr. Ferlo presents

No. 580 WHEREAS, the first Pittsburgh Vintage Grand Prix was held in Schenley Park in 1983 as a one-day event; and

WHEREAS, since 1983, the Pittsburgh Vintage Grand Prix has grown to a full week of vintage related activities beginning with a Kick-Off Rally, and continuing with pre-race gatherings and local displays, all of which build up to the main event, the vintage car races on Race Day; and

WHEREAS, the Pittsburgh Vintage Grand Prix has attracted the largest crowds to attend a vintage event anywhere in the country with the 1989 Grand Prix attracting more than 60,000 spectators to Schenley Park; and

WHEREAS, the Pittsburgh Vintage Grand Prix is co-sponsored and produced by the City of Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, and the all-volunteer Pittsburgh Vintage Grand Prix Association which can boast of more than 1,000 volunteers; and

WHEREAS, the Pittsburgh Vintage Grand Prix would not be possible without the voluntary contributions of Allegheny County Sheriff Eugene L. Coon, Allegheny County Director of Special Services and Maintenance Operations, Joseph P. Moses, and Joseph B. Natoli,

Director of Parks, Recreation and Conservation, Allegheny County; and

WHEREAS, from its inception, the Pittsburgh Vintage Grand Prix has been a fundraiser for two outstanding local charities, the Allegheny Valley School, a residential care facility for physically and mentally handicapped of all ages, and the Autism Society of Pittsburgh, serving Autistic children and their families in Southwestern Pennsylvania; and

WHEREAS, in 1989, the Pittsburgh Vintage Grand Prix contributed $75,000 to these charities with each receiving $37,500 to continue their important charitable work; and

WHEREAS, the 1990 Pittsburgh Vintage Grand Prix will kick-off on July 15th, and the vintage activities will continue through the week and culminate with Race Day on July 22nd.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh hereby declares the week of July 16, 1990 as Pittsburgh Vintage Grand Prix Week in the City in honor of the Pittsburgh Vintage Grand Prix which serves as a model for voluntary, private sponsorship of events for the primary benefit of charitable endeavors; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh salutes the Vintage Grand Prix Association, the City of Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, the volunteers and the sponsors of the event, for the production of one of the most successful events in our City, and their generous contributions to two important local charities.

Mr. Ferlo moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Darkins seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Ferlo:

Thank you. I think with all the controversy of late on the issue of the recovery costs, I think it's important that we try to bring home the central issue here, and that is how important and tremendous this event is and bring back the human element to this event. And I hope that that will guide any negotiations and discussions over the next few weeks.

This organization, unlike some of the other mega-events that are held, specifically is volunteer in nature and raises a tremendous amount of money for two very, very important organizations who are in dire need of this financial assistance. So, I think today we're recognizing that important contribution.

At this time, I'd like to ask John Walko who is the spokesperson for the Vintage Grand Prix to speak, say a few words, and introduce some of the other representatives from the school, from the Autism Society, and some of the other important volunteers.

Mr. Walko:

Thank you very much, Councilman Ferlo. On behalf of the Pittsburgh Vintage Grand Prix Association and the 1,100 volunteers that help produce this event, I'd like to address President of Council, Mr. Wagner, and the esteemed Councilpeople here.

I, myself, am here for my own personal reasons that stem from the fact that I have three children that are blessed with all of their faculties. I get up in the morning myself; I'm able to do so on my own. I get to do things with my own free will as far as going through the motions of managing my work and my involvement here with the Pittsburgh Vintage Grand Prix.

There are people around us that were not so blessed, and it's because of that I feel it's a worthwhile thing that we do with our event to try to make the lives of those people somewhat easier.

The parents of people that are less fortunate than ourselves, and I'm talking about people like Todd here, and Andrea over here, and the Eddie Toriskys of the world, that parents have crosses to bear that some of us can only imagine what are like.

As we sit here again, esteemed Councilpeople that you are, you've been honored by the voters who elected you to be here. You're in a privileged position. I'm glad to be able to address you and I hope you're as glad to be able to be sitting here being addressed.

With that, I'd like to recognize people that have worked and are part of our event starting with Micky Coleman from Allegheny Valley School. Micky, would you come up please?

Ms. Coleman:

Allegheny Valley School is in its 30th year of operation with our original facility, the Patricia Hillman Miller Campus being located in the 28th Ward of the City of Pittsburgh.

Allegheny Valley School has been a part of the Pittsburgh Vintage Grand Prix since its inception in 1983. It has been an exciting and beneficial event that our parents, staff and residents have participated in.

With regard to the direct benefit to the Allegheny Valley School, we specifically have used monies from the Pittsburgh Vintage Grand Prix to purchase some specialized equipment that our residents need. Some specific examples are the purchase and maintenance of over 250 motorized and manual wheelchairs, shower chairs for our adaptive aquatic program, electronic communication devices and tilt tables. This only cites a few examples.

It is our responsibility as a provider to find the money to purchase this equipment and the Pittsburgh Vintage Grand Prix has been a significant avenue to enable us to do so. Thank you.

Mr. Walko:

The programs at Allegheny Valley School has embarked on and done so successfully has been recognized by the people in Harrisburg and, as we speak, the Administrators of the school here have taken over a similar facility in Philadelphia that is intended to flounder. So, we must recognize the staff, people like Micky and Clare Weaver here, for the excellent job they're doing.

Dan Torisky from the Autism Society of Pittsburgh will say a few words.

Mr. Torisky:

I'm one of those people that wouldn't be here today if it wasn't for my handicapped son, Eddie, who is 33. He's at Western Center in Cannonsburg. He's home on weekends and he has a job in a print shop.

As you know from the movie "Rain Man", Eddie is one of those. His skills are in machinery, with sewing machings and things like that. He's non-communicative in a lot of ways. I have a different life because of him.

As "Rain Man" focused autism nationwide, the Pittsburgh Vintage Grand Prix has focused autism in Pittsburgh where we people who have autistic kids come to lick our wounds and then go out and do battle with the various people we have to fight with all over this corner of the State.

Our Autism Society is all volunteer and I have a list of some of the things that we've used the money from the Grand Prix for, where you all in the City of Pittsburgh, all of us in the Greater Pittsburgh area, get a big bang for the buck. Because of the $180,000 over the last 7 years total accumulated that has come to our Society, we've been able to establish the first and only in the Commonwealth teacher training program for teachers of autistic and severely communications disordered individuals at Duquesne University. We provide liaison with all the universities with library packets of information on this disabling disorder. We've been able to rehabilitate some people to the point where their living skills enable them to live in group homes.

We've founded group homes and we've provided the first battle on the "Just Say No To Drugs", not the kind of drugs that are cocaine and things like that, but the kind of drugs that are given to our kids by lazy professionals who would rather have them zombies rather than give them the care they need. Pittsburgh has been in the forefront of trying to fight this "Just Say No" battle, this legal drug abuse.

We've also established a library at the University of Pittsburgh with the Grand Prix money.

We provide babysitting. Many of us parents don't go out for maybe 20 years, but what we've been able to do with Grand Prix money is set up grants for a couple local organizations that provide monitored bonded babysitters from the universities to enable parents to get a break to go to a movie or a weekend.

We publish a journal and newsletter. We send packets out regularly to the local universities and we, above all, advocate for autistic people.

ple, no matter where they are, in an institution, in a group home, from birth to death.

Last but not least, I have to say after hearing the racial discussions earlier, that we are an unfortunate minority too, and we don't have a color. Our kids can't talk unless we put the signs in their hands, and that's why we're here. And I bless the fact that I'm among these people from the Pittsburgh Vintage Grand Prix; they're the best people I know in this town. Thank you.

Mr. Walko:

Of the many people that support our programs and help make this possible, Allegheny County is an entity that sometimes is not recognized as made up of people much like ourselves. Representing Sheriff Gene Coon and the Sheriff's Department, Jim Rizzo.

Mr. Rizzo:

Good morning, City Council. On behalf of Sheriff Gene Coon and Chief John McNamara, the Allegheny County Sheriff's Office, along with the Sheriff's Auxilliary Reserve, want you to know that the main cause behind this event makes it that much more special. The Vintage Grand Prix just reinforces the fact that Pittsburgh is truly a Number One City to live in. Thank you very much.

Mr. Walko:

The Secretary of our organization and, coincidentally, one of the originators of this very idea is Mary Beth Gmitter. Would you please come up?

Ms. Gmitter:

A little over eight years ago, I, along with a friend of mine, originated the Pittsburgh Vintage Grand Prix. We approached Director

Brown, told her of our idea to host a Vintage Grand Prix in the park. After her initial reaction was a little bit of shock at what we wanted to do in the park, she did agree that this might be a thing that was good, not only for our charities but also for the City.

With the backing of Richard Caliguiri, we were able to put this race on in 1983. Since then, we have had a race every year. We are going into our eighth year. We have increased our donation to the charities each year.

We are, as John said, all volunteers. I have a job for which I get paid, otherwise my children would not be able to be going to school right now.

The Grand Prix has meant a lot to me because of our tie-in with the charities. It is such a good feeling at the end of the year when we present those checks to the charities and we know of what benefit it can be to them, that words can't even tell you how good you feel inside.

Not only has it been good for the charities, but it has also been good for the City. It has become a recognizable event in this City all around the country. I do go to races around the country and people at other races talk about Pittsburgh. It has been a big boom to our City around the country to other people who think that this is really something great that the City of Pittsburgh does for charity. They do that along with us. We are co-producers of this event.

I thank the City for allowing us to have this event, to host this event, and to be able to raise money for charity. I hope that we can continue to do it and to continue to increase the donation that we make to the Allegheny Valley School and the Autism Society each year. Thank you.

Mr. Walko:

As the event has developed, some people became interested as volunteers and got to appreciate some of the things that we're working for. To take it a level beyond, some of them have also gone and encouraged some sponsorships.

I'd like to recognize John Gloniger. John, would you please come up and let the people know who you're with and why you're with the event.

Mr. Gloniger:

Good morning. I've not only been a volunteer for the last seven years of the Vintage Grand Prix but I've talked my company into becoming a full sponsor. They've been so happy with that that they've committed to do it every year from now on in. They feel it's a very important event, a very fun event for that matter, and the company, All Metro Cellular, is very happy to be involved with this. Thank you.

Mr. Walko:

Mr. Don Brown, Executive Sales Representative for Patrick Media. Don Brown happens to be our official starter. He's the guy that waves the flag to tell the cars when to go.

Mr. Brown:

I want to thank City Council, I want to thank the City of Pittsburgh and Allegheny County, for allowing us to play in their park and having a great time. We're looking for a great eighth year. Thank you again.

Mr. Walko:

Todd, would you like to add something to this?

Todd:

Without the Vintage Grand Prix I would not be able to have my electric wheelchair that I have now and be able to get around just like you. That's all I would like to say.

Mr. Walko:

Thanks, Todd.

Mr. Ferlo:

Thank you, Members of Council. Again, I point out that today is the day for recognition of the contributions and the voluntary efforts. It's not a day to debate the public policy that will be debated through the legislation I'll be submitting next week. I'll only ask that as we think about this issue and we prepare for that discussion, we walk a mile in their shoes. Thank you.

The Chair:

Thank you all.

Michelle Madoff:

Kerry Stoner, Brad Gardner, it gives me great pleasure to, once again, have a resolution that I think is very important in light of the young man that is dying in the hospital right now, a hemophiliac who was denied the right to go to school. We might want to touch on that.

Michelle Madoff presents

No. 581 WHEREAS, the Pittsburgh AIDS Task Force, which celebrates its fifth anniversary this March, is an organization of effective and compassionate volunteers and staff who provide social, practical and emotional support to people living with AIDS and HIV infection and work to educate the community and to prevent the further spread of HIV infection;

and

WHEREAS, on April 4, 1990, the Pittsburgh Public Theater will present this year's performance "Burn This", starring Pittsburgh's own Helena Ruoti, for the benefit of the Pittsburgh AIDS Task Force as a means of obtaining much needed funds, increasing awareness of the agency and raising consciousness about this disease awaiting a cure; and

WHEREAS, this year marks the fourth consecutive year that the Pittsburgh Public Theater has conducted an event benefiting the Pittsburgh AIDS Task Force; and

WHEREAS, this event serves to reinforce the goals of the Pittsburgh AIDS Task Force and will help to keep alive the hope and unwavering determination of its volunteers who provide vital AIDS-related services and education programs to the City of Pittsburgh.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh does hereby proclaim the week of April 1 through April 7, 1990 as Aids Awareness Week in the City of Pittsburgh and expresses its sincere gratitude to the Pittsburgh Public Theater, its Producing Director William Gardner and the Pittsburgh AIDS Task Force for this extremely important event.

Michelle Madoff moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Stoner:

Thank you, Mr. President and Members of City Council, and Councilwoman Madoff. I want to thank you. This is the fourth year that

I've had the privilege and the opportunity of coming to accept a resolution in conjunction with what has now become an annual fundraiser and our most important fundraiser throughout the course of our year.

We are a non-profit human service agency and five years ago we were simply 18 volunteers who have built an organization through the steps of grass roots organizing, bringing the message and information about this disease, HIV disease and AIDS to the City of Pittsburgh, to the residents of Pittsburgh who are at risk for AIDS, to residents and families living with people with AIDS and to the corporate and educational and scientific community.

Today, we have moved from 18 volunteers to over 541 volunteers. Last year in Pittsburgh we provided support service to over 300 people living with AIDS and HIV disease in metropolitan Pittsburgh. Within a few months, metropolitan Pittsburgh will record its 500th case of diagnosed AIDS in the Greater Pittsburgh area. In addition, there are currently thousands of people living with HIV disease that can lead to AIDS.

Our work will go on, unfortunately, long into the next decade. A cure is still quite some time away.

I'm very proud of the Pittsburgh AIDS Task Force and our volunteers because we've also been able to change and respond to this changing epidemic. In addition to providing support to the first group of people diagnosed with AIDS in Pittsburgh, namely gay men, we have also continued to involve our services and now provide support to women, to adolescents.

Through expanded support and contracts with the State Department of Health, through Harrisburg, we have now just launched a program to deal with substance abuse and HIV infection in 11 counties of Southwestern Pennsylvania and to target our kids who are at highest risk, kids who are in the juvenile justice system, runaway kids who are already troubled and experimenting with drugs and sexually active.

So, I'm pleased that our work has been able to move forward and expand.

I'm also very grateful for the support of the Pittsburgh Public Theater and Bill Gardner and all of his staff who every year give us this performance as a zero budget benefit for the Pittsburgh AIDS Task Force and for the people of this City, including this City's corporate and foundation community which this year will provide substantial support through this benefit and underwriting of contributions.

I've asked one of our volunteers to come with me today, Brad Gardner has been a volunteer on our Speakers' Bureau. As such, Brad is an educator on the issue of AIDS. Brad speaks to a variety of audiences whether they're in a church setting or a corporate setting like yesterday morning for employees at Alcoa.

Brad brings a special message to people in that his words cannot be challenged when he shares with the people his experience as a person living with AIDS, as an active volunteer and a member of the City who continues, in spite of his illness, to give back to the residents of the City of Pittsburgh, to his Church and to his family and to all of us.

I'd like to introduce Brad Gardner.

Mr. Gardner:

Good morning. I'm Brad Gardner and I am a person living with AIDS. I have had the disease actively since February of 1988.

I'd like to thank Michelle Madoff and the City Council for adopting this resolution today. It gives me great hope and I certainly speak on behalf of all the other people living with AIDS in this community, their families, their friends, and their supporters, that Pittsburgh will continue to provide compassionate and loving care to those of us who are afflicted with this insidious disease.

Thank you very much.

The Chair:

Thank you all.

Mr. Milliones:

Would Molly Rush come forward, please?

Mr. Milliones presents

No. 582 WHEREAS, Molly Rush, a Pittsburgh mother of six, grandmother of five, co-founder of the Thomas Merton Center since 1973, is recognized as one of the pioneers and heroes of our modern age who denied part of her own culture, in order to oppose nuclear war; and

WHEREAS, Molly Rush set aside considerations of her own personal safety and comfort, the immediate needs of her family, in order to service the higher needs of humanity as a whole; and

WHEREAS, Molly Rush has not harmed anybody, constitutes no threat to anybody, for clearly her actions were symbolic rather than substantive; and

WHEREAS, Molly Rush and her friends, commonly known as the Plowshares Eight, were arrested and later convicted; and

WHEREAS, Molly Rush and her friends return to court for re-sentencing after nine years of appealing to the courts to act as protector of the life of the community.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh recognizes Molly Rush as a true hero of our time, resisting nonviolently the onslaught of nuclearism, accepting prison as an expression of love for her children and her country, and the Council of the City of Pittsburgh also calls upon the judicial system to decide that further punishment of Molly Rush for her acts of conscience and commitment would serve no constructive purpose.

Mr. Milliones moved to adopt the resolution.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Milliones:

I certainly am pleased to be able to read this resolution today and I thank my fellow Councilmembers for supporting it.

Molly Rush is certainly a hero of mine. She stands for commitment to civil rights, peace and justice. I'm sure that not only is she a role model for me but for many young people and other not so young people throughout this City.

Ms. Rush:

I very much appreciate this, not only on my own behalf but on behalf of the thousands of people in the area who work in a quiet, on-going way for peace and justice, who very frequently, because the work is peace work, don't find themselves being recognized or given this kind of appreciation. So, I can only accept it on their behalf.

I also just wanted to mention that today it was very moving to sit here and listen to all the people who got Council's recognition this morning, people whose work on behalf of fighting racism and promoting fair housing, dealing with the problems of youth and of AIDS and of the handicapped, all of these being part of the struggle, I think, to say that the direction our country has taken has been to put greater and greater pressures on the volunteer communities to really meet the pressing needs of our cities that have been denied by the fact of our federal priorities. It's very hard sometimes to look at federal priorities and talk about hundreds of billions of dollars.

I was sort of thinking in contrast to the fire storm that has been created about the City district offices for $5,000 for an office. That maybe comes to about 15 cents per person if you think about $45,000 for 300,000 residents. That's sort of a rough estimate.

I just wanted to give every Councilmember a copy of a report that has been done called "Bankrupting America". It's based on the 1987 federal budget and it points out that Pennsylvania residents paid out a total of $14 billion in 1987 to the Pentagon, of which only less than $6.5 billion came back into the state in the form of federal contracts. A real balanced deficit of $7 billion plus.

This breaks down by Congressional district in this study and I want Councilpeople to particularly note page 8 of this study which looks at the local Congressional districts and it puts it in terms of what families are paying which I think makes very clear what I'm talking about.

In the Congressional district which Representative Coyne represents, in 1987 that means that every family suffered a net loss of $1,894 in Congressional federal spending for the military that did not come back to Pennsylvania.

It averages out in Walgren's Congressional district of $2,637 and in Representative Gaydo's district of $2,393 per family.

So, I think it's very important that as we look at the federal budget efforts that are happening this year, in a year when our supposed enemy has pretty much faded away, in a year in which we're continuing to be asked to spend almost $150 billion to defend Europe against an enemy that is pretty much not there, and in a year in which President Bush has asked for an increase in the military of $6 billion and a cut in domestic programs of $30 billion, I think it's incumbent upon City Council to take an active role, both in lobbying for a shift in those priorities, something on the order of what the Congressional Black Caucus has proposed.

Also, I think you're in a position to mobilize public support, to say that we need a shift in priorities, we need that money here in our community, we need a peace dividend in Pittsburgh.

So, I'm very happy that Jake has given me the opportunity to present these books to you and to let you look at this information and to apply it to our City life here and say, "We have to do something about it."

Thank you.

Michelle Madoff:

You've been on my mind the last couple of days a great deal. Did you have any role in Mobay not selling the chemicals so that we don't have chemical warfare? I figured you got to somebody there. Good show.

Ms. Rush:

I can't take any personal credit for that. It's the kind of thing we've been urging Westinghouse to do in terms of taking an initiative to refuse federal contracts on dangerous weaponry and to try to get contracts that will be more meaningful to our community. So, we do support that statement and action by Mobay.

Mr. Ferlo:

I've known Molly for about 20 years. I've been working with her for a long time and I'm very honored that she's here today to be honored.

I think what she's saying is very clear and very poignant and that is that many of us for 20 years have been talking about shifting the priorities and a peace dividend, but we've never been politically in the position that we are today in terms of the major shift and international relations. Nowhere can this be a more crucial issue than local government. Now is the time for local government, especially the City of Pittsburgh, to be speaking to members of the Congress and to the President on the issue of the peace dividend. We only need to look at our crumbling infrastructure and the need to build a peacetime economy for productive jobs. I think we need to do that now. We've been given the opportunity given the events throughout the world.

So, I really applaud Molly for being here today, for her work, and I hope that we'll send a copy of this proclamation to the State judge. I don't want to see Molly in jail. I want her out here working for the kinds of agenda that I think we all care about.

The Chair:

Thank you.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

The Chair:

At this time I'd like to entertain a motion to re-appoint Michael Perry to the position of City Clerk and Linda Johnson-Wasler to the position of Assistant City Clerk.

Michelle Madoff:

So moved.

Mr. Darkins seconded the motion.

The Chair:

Prior to the vote, I simply want to state that I think both Michael and Linda have done a very good job, especially during the transitional period of Council from at large elections to district elections and accommodating all Councilmembers with all the re-arrangement of offices, etc., plus running the business of Council and City Clerk.

Mr. Darkins:

Mr. President, I would like to add to your words that you have given to Council and to those in the media today to state that I feel that Mr. Michael Perry and Linda Johnson is an asset to City Council. Without them I don't think that our records could be well kept. We're so glad that they're here.

WHICH MOTION PREVAILED.

The Chair presents

No. 571 Communication from Mayor Masloff returning along with her veto Council Bill No. 421 entitled, "Resolution providing for a lease or leases for the use of certain property for City Council District Office facilities in the aggregate amount not to exceed $45,000."

(MAYOR'S VETO LETTER)

April 2, 1990

Honorable President and Members
Pittsburgh City Council
City of Pittsburgh

Dear President and Members:

I am returning herewith Bill No. 421, which Bill I hereby veto for the following reasons.

I understand fully the desire of Councilmembers to be responsive to the needs of citizens in their respective districts. Nevertheless, I believe that there are a number of public facilities available to members for the purpose of holding neighborhood meetings. In addition to various City facilities, the Board of Education has in the past from time to time made available various school buildings for meetings involving a public purpose.

You have my assurance that I will work with any member of Council to make sure adequate meeting space is available for the purposes of community or constituent meetings in your districts.

Very truly yours,

Sophie Masloff

(END OF LETTER)

Mr. Ferlo moved to override the veto.

Mr. Regan seconded the motion.

Mr. Ricciardi:

Mr. President, first I'd like to congratulate Mayor Masloff for her demonstration of leadership in vetoing this appropriation.

I also thank her for siding with Councilman Coyne and myself in her concern that district offices not be located in public buildings, public subsidized buildings. I think that was a very important amendment to the bill and with that amendment I'm sure Council could have supported the bill.

After being on Council for 12 weeks, I see how important it is to send the right message to the public. In sending the right message, I think we should also look towards dollars and how we can save monies and, hopefully, how next year we can cut the property tax.

So, I welcome this veto and I will be supporting Mayor Masloff. Thank you.

Mr. Regan:

Mr. President, I would like to commend Mayor Masloff. I think she has done a tremendous job and I admire her. She's a fine lady and I love her dearly.

I think she made a mistake here, though, because there's a lot of poor people in my community, a lot of handicapped people, and a lot of people that need help, senior citizens that have a problem, a big problem, getting to Downtown Pittsburgh. Some can't afford the parking. Some have a lot of problems that they can't bring to the City of Pittsburgh, that they have to bring into the neighborhoods.

I feel that the Mayor has a right to veto, and I respect that. But I think it was a cheap shot to Council to take a vote over the telephone and I want to make my feelings known.

Mr. Milliones:

I'd certainly like to say, Mr. President, that Mayor Masloff is due congratulations. I, however, think that the issue at a certain point was not the issue as to whether or not we would have district offices but rather an issue as to the will of this Council. I think Council needs to give some consideration to that and I do not think this City can be run by referendum and by poll votes.

Michelle Madoff:

As the oldest living member of this Council, I think it's important that we put this into perspective with a little historic perspective.

For those of you who may not remember, I remember when, after four years of not getting any raises, this Council at a budget time voted itself a $10,000 and the furor that was raised in this City, the same kind of poll-taking, the same kind of nonsense blowing it entirely out of perspective took place. At the same time, Mayor Caliguiri gave his department heads across the board a $10,000 raise. Subsequently, Mayor Masloff gave department heads last year across the board approximately a $10,000 raise. I think it's only fair and just --

Why didn't we put that to a referendum with the public? I'd like to know how many of the public would have voted for a $20,000 raise to department heads. I don't think many people.

And this $5,000, $45,000 lump sum, has been blown entirely out of proportion. The fact remains that for example today I introduced what I believe is the most important piece of legislation that I've ever introduced in my 12 years on this Council which will save the City, if it passes, millions of dollars.

I think it's incumbent on the public to understand that perhaps that $5,000 would help me in having staff that can prepare meaningful legislation.

However, as you know, from day one, I said I would not open a district office but that I would support my colleagues, at that point, in being able to live up to the commitments under which they ran. But, fortunately, my administrative assistant, who is underpaid, Sarah Meeks, came up with the idea, and I relayed that information to the Administration, why don't we do it in the fire station? Why don't we do it in one of the public buildings? Let's be honest; you're not going to open an office for $5,000. It isn't going to pay your rent. It isn't going to pay your utilities.

The Mayor's veto is very interesting because it says, "I'm returning with Bill No. 421 which I veto for the following reasons". The "following" is not her reasons for vetoing. Her reasons were, and they're valid, that when you go into a community, the liability for someone who doesn't like the way Mr. Ricciardi voted, perhaps, on the gay rights bill, somebody comes in and damages the building. And who is responsible for that? The City.

The issue has not boiled down to really district office. The issue has boiled down to $5,000 for each member of Council. And I thought it was important to talk about the $20,000 raises for department heads over the last four or five years. Maybe the people who are hearing this for the first time would like to call in and express their opinion on $20,000 increases to department heads.

Now, I would hope that the public would finally get the message. If you don't like Councilmembers, vote us out of office. But if you want good people, people don't stay in government unless they get paid adequately. You don't attract the best and the brightest and we're losing the best and the brightest. We lost Dan Pellegrini who subsequently ran for Judge who would have left government because he just couldn't afford to have children on the salary and the pensions. In case anybody is interested, after 12 years my pension would be something like $6,000 a year. And when I go to Social Security, which is imminent, I lose half of that. Who is going to go into government for $3,000 pensions? I think we ought to think about paying our people well, attracting the best and the brightest, because we take care of them.

This has been on my chest and I'm on my soapbox but I felt I needed to express that opinion.

The Chair:

Are you suggesting that we vote to override the veto or not?

Michelle Madoff:

I am going to sustain the veto because I want for the district elections but I wanted to put this in perspective.

Mr. Coyne:

Mr. President, as you know, I voted against the issue originally, and I wasn't going to comment today but I just don't find the logic behind Councilwoman Madoff's statements. We want good directors in the City so I don't think we should be calling attention to the fact that we have to pay them something that would be competitive on a private sector scale. I'm not sure where your rationale comes.

Michelle Madoff:

My rationale, if I may respond, is the fact that Council got a $10,000 after four years and we were put through the ringer. This is nothing compared to what we were put through at that time and we didn't get the raise.

I'm just saying, if you want good people, be it department heads, and I don't care if you give department heads $100,000 if they're going to earn their money, but we should also honor elected officials by paying them certainly what a department head gets. $5,000 is lunacy. We don't get that money anyway; it goes to our staff.

Mr. Cohen:

Mr. President and Members of Council, as you know, I originally supported this bill because I wanted a place in my district to meet with my constituents. Constituent service is such an important part of this job. But since this bill passed, the City has agreed to provide all of us with space and public facilities to meet with constituents.

For my district, I have obtained a commitment to have four such places in the district and will meet with constituents there on a regular basis.

I think because this accomplishes our original purpose, I don't see the need to override the Mayor's veto. If we can do this for free, then it's something that should be done.

On the other hand, I have very strong sympathy. I do not think that government should be reduced to an MTV college show. It should be run in a more responsible way.

But in the last several days, I have personally talked to many people in my district, many community leaders, who have made it clear to me that they don't believe that this expenditure, however minimal, is worth the benefits. So, I will respect that point of view and will vote to sustain the veto.

The Chair:

Members of Council, I just want to make a brief statement myself. I'm not sure if there's votes here to override the veto or not. I don't know if there's five votes or six votes. The votes have literally changed, I guess, on a daily basis or an hourly basis.

I was not an original proponent of this bill or this idea. However, the majority of Council requested that I support it in that they wanted to open up a district office under the new district system. I personally did not intend to open an office and will not, even if this bill is overridden. And I know several other Councilmembers have indicated the same.

However, I felt, under the new district system, that Council should be given a little bit of flexibility. Councilmembers in districts, if they felt that was the best way to serve their constituents, they should be given the opportunity to do that. Several other Councilmembers said that maybe their best way was simply to add a little staff to their office. And that was a better way of doing it.

So, this issue has been discussed at great length. I'm sure it could be debated indefinitely, forever, on both sides, pro and con. I'm voting to override the veto because I said I was going to support this bill originally. I did it because the majority of this body indicated that that was the best way to serve their constituents.

I am also slightly disappointed in the manner in which the veto evolved over to Council. If the Mayor and the Mayor's Office simply would have said they're against it or vetoing it, fine. But the phone call idea really disappointed me. There was another bill over there, the gay rights bill. If that would have been a phone call also, I can tell you we'd be sitting here with a veto also. So, what's good for one bill is good for another bill as far as I'm concerned anyway.

I'm voting to override it. There may be some additional comments. Let's have one last comment on the bill.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, I wasn't going to speak because I thought most Councilmembers were resolute in their opinion, even though some people have flip-flopped on the issue, some for a good reason.

Let me just make one last-ditch appeal to my colleague, Mr. Cohen, who appears to be a swing vote possibly. There are five votes; if we have one more either from my colleague, Michelle, or my colleague, Mr. Cohen, we would have the six necessary votes to override.

I say, rather than make this a KQV phone vote issue, why not make it an election issue? I'm making an appeal to these two colleagues to vote to override this bill, okay, and if you're not interested in using the money, which is allowable either for the office or the staff, then I would encourage you not to use the money. And those of us that will and want to, will use it. I would use up to $3,200 to maintain an office that I've maintained at my own expense for the last two years. And I say that I am willing to run on this issue in Council District 7. I am willing to take this to the voters next spring, both at the endorsement level as well as at the level of the voters, and talk about this issue. So, I'm asking you to give me the privilege to put this issue to rest once and for all and let's make it a plebiscite. Let the voters decide on this issue.

I'm asking you and appealing to you to come to your senses on the issue in terms of the issue of fairness. The issue of fairness would dictate that you individually, if you did not want to use the money, if you think that most of your constituents do not support you having a district office, then I encourage you not to use the money and do not allow that expenditure to take place in your name. However, those of us who would like to avail ourselves of those resources to maintain a district office, give us that privilege to do it.

I think the voters can respect that and I would say, one step further. Let's make this a campaign issue. I'm perfectly prepared to make this an issue next spring when I have to run again for Councilmember of Council District 7.

I think people in my Council district appreciate the office that I've maintained. It's been a place of services. It's been a meeting place for parents who have grouped together in the Lawrenceville community on the re-opening of the McCleary School. It's been used by Little League Teams for planning recreational activities with the Parks Department. The list is endless regarding the services that have been rendered at the district office that I operate with one of the three staff people that I have on the payroll.

So, I would ask a personal appeal to you to please consider voting to override. First of all, I would vote to override just on the issue of the grandstanding and politics that have taken place for the last week. God forbid we should have put the Mayor's property tax swap to a KQV phone bill in December. We'd be in a hell of a mess today and we would not have the kind of tax package, the tax policy, that I think we wanted. I think even though I disagree with the issue on the gay rights ordinance from my colleague, Mr. Wagner and Mr. Regan, I think their point is very well taken.

And if for no other reason than the substantive issue of separation of powers, I would vote to override. Why would you even allow yourself to be a whipping boy to the Administration?

But in any event, I would ask you to let me do one thing. Let me take this to the voters. Let me take this issue to the voters in District 7. If they don't support Jim Ferlo, he's not doing a good job, they don't support me having an office at the expense of $3,200 to $5,000, then they should not vote for Jim Ferlo. And what better way than to let the voters decide next spring when five of us have to run? So, I would ask for a personal appeal to both of you.

Michelle Madoff:

You know, I think the issue has gotten bogged down in a lot of periphery. The fact remains that if you want to have, Mr. Ferlo, an office in your district, you have $70,000. You could take part of it to have a secretary here and you could shift your operation out to the community. But it's your responsibility to pay for your rent to open your office, get a free space in a church, or get somebody who would contribute a location to you, or the fire station. Whatever way you want to do it. You could spend your allocation of dollars in any way you choose. I've said that from day one.

I got involved in this originally, as Mr. Wagner will attest to, the legislation was introduced that $5,000 would be given to those members who wish to open an office in their district. And the rest of us who may not wish to would forfeit that $5,000. My feelings were, and still are, that constitutionally we're all given the same stipend and I was not going to be discriminated against. So, I supported having that extra money for my office.

But, basically, if you or any other member of this Council wishes to open a district office, go open it. You've got $70,000. Hopefully, it could be $75,000 or $80,000 because I think we could pay our staffs a living wage. $10,000 to one of my staff members is not a living wage.

Now, I think it is also imperative at this point that we clarify the issue. And to clarify it, Mr. Wagner, as you know, and I was not aware until it was brought to my attention by the Administration when I was talking to a reporter on a three-way telephone call, that the issue of the money has already been approved. If anybody is listening, that's been approved, it's been voted on, and the Mayor is not vetoing the money. The $5,000. The issue of having district offices, and the Mayor didn't state succinctly, is that they're afraid it will grow like topseed and it will become a liability on the City and I can relate to that.

However, remember there are two separate issues. We already have the money. If you want $75,000 instead of $70,000, the money is there and you can take your $70,000 or $75,000 or whatever and open your district office. I would have liked to have the $5,000 to be able to pay a living wage to some of my people.

But this has been so blown out of proportion that I wouldn't even take the money because no matter what you do, it's a lose-lose situation and I'll struggle through this year and next year at budget time I'll go in and do what I did last year. I asked for $80,000 for staff people because I believe that we give better service, we save the City hundreds of thousands, millions of dollars, by having good legislation that saves the City money. And I have done that personally and I'm not alone on this; I'm sure my colleagues have done that.

But I think it's imperative that everybody understands that while it has deteriorated to the issue of $5,000, it's not an issue of district offices. The public says, "Don't spend the money. Don't spend the money to save us millions of dollars. Don't be cost effective."

I think that's foolhardy, penny-wise and pound-foolish, but I think it has been so blown out of proportion that I just want to walk away from it.

Mr. Regan:

Mr. Wagner, I would like to commend you as being a person that stands by your word because when certain people came to you, including myself, about district offices, you said that you weren't going to open up a district office. But you made a commitment and I just want you to know that I respect you and I feel that you didn't bend for any other reason, that you made a commitment and you were going to live by your commitment and I'd like to commend you for that.

I also admire you for what you said about the gay rights. There wouldn't be enough telephones in the City County Building to take those calls if the same plea was put out for this issue.

I'm going to open up an office because I feel it's in the best interest of the people and if we would vote to get the $5,000, I'm going to donate the $5,000 to the charities involved in Council and to pay for my office at my own expense. But I still think it's in the best interest of the people.

The Chair:

Thank you, Mr. Regan.

Mr. Milliones:

Call the question, Mr. President.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion to override the veto?

And on the question, Shall the motion pass finally?"

Mr. Cohen:

Mr. President, with respect to Bills 497 and 498, dealing with day care and child care facilities, I would like to move to recommit those bills.

Even after our discussion on Wednesday and my studying of the bill and this BOCA Code, many question remain. For example, on Wednesday, we were told that this bill would not apply to the private homes where working mothers drop off their child at a friend's house to be taken care of, and yet my reading of the bill says that at least parts of that could apply to a day care facility with even one child.

Moreover, one of the main components of this bill is to change, the definition of day care and child care, and this was really never discussed on Wednesday. I spoke about this with the Director of the Bureau of Building Inspection, Dom Cimino, and he would be happy to come back tomorrow to explain it to members of Council.

So, I'd like to recommit these two bills.

Mr. Regan seconded the motion.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

The Chair:

I'd like to entertain a few motions. Number one, next Tuesday is Passover and I would like to entertain a motion to reschedule next Tuesday's meeting to Monday at 2:00 p.m.

Mr. Milliones:

So moved.

Mr. Darkins seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

The Chair:

The Mayor has asked all Councilmembers to join her in her Conference Room for a briefing on the water problem at noon today. We were just informed of that. That's a point of information.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm really surprised that we're going to be briefed and I'm delighted that the Mayor is going to take the time to bring us up to date.

I think what we need to be thinking about, Members of Council, is that we do not have a Director of the Water Department. It is fortunate that Alex Sciulli who was the former Director was able to, from an engineering point of view, be available.

I will tell you that I was there in full regalia on Friday night in my formal on my way to a March of Dimes fundraiser, and we must commend the City, the County, the State and DER for the efficient way in which it sprung into operation and the procedures were in place.

However, that does not permit us to continue without a Director of the Water Department. I want to share with Council the three top notch people who were interviewed, the City wanted to hire them, and none of them took the job. They all said they would and at the last minute dropped out because the salary wasn't high enough.

Now, that brings to mind the fact that the County Commissioners hired a Director of the Airport at more money than their salary. So, if we need a Director and we have to up the ante, I would like your support when we meet with the Mayor today in saying that's important.

I'd also like to point out that what is not a very well known issue is that we've had one of our reservoirs out of operation for three years and we've been very creative in how we bypass and how the water pressure is handled to the City. It was really the kind of thing that was walking a tightrope. A very dangerous situation and we've been lucky.

Three years later, that reservoir is still not operational. I understand there's been a leak and there's been problems. If we're going to be briefed, I want to be briefed on why that reservoir is still not operational.

I would like to request, respectfully, a post agenda at the earliest moment from Engineering and Construction. I don't know that Alex Sciulli can give us anything except history but I want it fast, why it has been that way and how fast we are going to move. And I'd like to request that we have Joe Mistick or the Mayor here to tell us what we're going to do about getting a Director of Water.

This does not go to the issue of collections, which are bizarre. It goes to the issue of engineering which, I believe, has been handled in an efficient manner, but I think we need to know what is happening. We're very lucky that we have the connection we made during the last bill with the American Water System which was known as West Penn Water previously, that we're going to be able to exchange water back and forth.

So, I'll look forward to having that post agenda, being briefed, and moving expeditiously to get a Director of the Water Department. There isn't one.

Oh, and I might mention that I was down there on Friday night and my questions were, "Are we preparing and activated carbon slurring?" and, of course, the Administration people who are administrators but who are not familiar with water problems said, "Wow." I said, "Do we have the booms in place?" And they said, "Wow." I said, "What's the water flow?" They said, "Wow."

I just want to assure you that I do have some knowledge because of my environmental activities and resource people, a cadre of people who have been beneficial in helping and that I have been on top of it. In case people say, "She hasn't been visible in the media." I've been there; I don't need to be visible in the media. Thank you.

The Chair:

Thank you.

There is a public hearing today at 2:00 on the Crawford Roberts Project in the Hill District.

I would like to ask the City Clerk to schedule a post agenda tomorrow at 11:30 pertaining to the Grand Prix issue and invite Mr. John Walko who was here today, Director Louise Brown, and a representative from the Mayor's Office.

Mr. Regan:

Could we also include the Pittsburgh Marathon?

The Chair:

I think we should do it one at a time, Mr. Regan, and I would be in full support of doing others. But this item has received so much media attention and is getting blown out of proportion to such a degree, I think it's time for Council to intervene.

Mr. Regan:

Mr. Chairman, I will abide by your wishes, but I think that this problem has to be settled because I feel that the City of Pittsburgh is getting a lot of negative publicity out of this. Some people now are asking if they're going to have the Marathon or aren't they? Are they going to have the Regatta or are they not? Are they going to have the Grand Prix --

Mr. Cohen:

Bike race.

Mr. Regan:

So we can sit down with all these people and try to iron this out so we can have a positive flow coming from the media for this great City of ours and for these great events.

The Chair:

I appreciate your suggestion. However, in requesting the post agenda, I think each individual event is particular in its own nature, the funding that is raised, what happens to the funding, the amount of City dollars that go into it. And for some reason, the Grand Prix, and I sit on the Regatta Board of Directors, has been the one that has gotten blown out of proportion and I just believe that Council needs to sit down and try to intervene. And we could follow up on the others at a later time.

Mr. Regan:

Thank you, Mr. President.

Mr. Cohen:

I agree, as I know Councilman Regan does, that what you are doing in calling a post agenda is bringing a level head to this issue, and that's what we need right now. So, I agree.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Chairman, I respectfully disagree. It seems to me the issue is not the Regatta. The issue is not the bike race. The issue is not the Grand Prix. The issue is, how are we going to raise money to pay for the necessary City expenses for which the suburbanites come in and take advantage of these wonderful events. And when they go out of town they say, "Where do you live?". They don't say, "Mount Lebanon" and they don't say "Fox Chapel". They say, "Pittsburgh".

We need to sit down with the Administration and perhaps the Allegheny Conference and maybe the Chamber of Commerce and the Commissioners and say what kind of money can we raise to pay for City expenses for the benefit of all these events. I think it is a mistake to single in on one event and say, "They're different. They've brought the children here that were handicapped." I'm sure that the event that I worked for on Saturday night for the March of Dimes has just as heartrendering children.

Let us not get into the issue of this group or that group or the other group. Let's address the issue; what are we going to do to provide City services and who is going to pay for it. I respectfully ask you to reconsider that.

The Chair:

In my opinion, that is not the issue. We have a budget and we deal with $300 million. And as far as I can see, communication has broken down between the Administration and the people in the Grand Prix. Mr. Regan may be right; it may have happened in other areas also, but it's become more obvious with that particular event.

And I think Mr. Ferlo's resolution here today, somehow indirectly he was trying to bring attention to the event. And I commend him for it. But I do not want to continually read in the paper, daily, about the verbal disagreements between the Grand Prix and the Administration. I think it is not in the best interest of this City and I would like to resolve that issue first. And if we can, then we can move on to the other issues.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Chairman, in response to what you just said. The issue is policy. The issue is not the Grand Prix. Whatever the policy is, it will apply to everybody across the board. You're not going to say to the Grand Prix, "You don't have to pay for police, paramedic and fire. But you do, Mr. Connelly." We need to find a source of funding. It is a policy issue and how do we resolve that policy, where do we find the money? It should apply equally to everyone. I think it's a mistake because I think we're putting fuel on the fire by saying, we're taking up the issue of the Grand Prix and we're going to address that. It only does exactly what you don't want to do, have more adverse publicity on the subject.

I urge you to think it over.

The Chair:

There is no communication and communication in a positive vein is positive. That's what I want to see happen here. And I am going to end discussion.

Mr. Coyne:

I want to comment on the Grand Prix issue. I think in principle I agree with Councilwoman Madoff, but I think you have a very legitimate point. The Marathon and Regatta both have indicated that they're willing to talk to the City and negotiate as to what fees they could pay and what they're able to pay; whereas, the Grand Prix, from what I've picked up, hasn't been willing to negotiate at all.

And I think that even though I have a problem with the event, I think it's a good idea to bring them in here and deal with them separately. And then bring maybe the Marathon and the Regatta in separately also, and then one joint measure. But if you get all three of them together at one time, you're not going to be able to directly address any of the problems.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Michelle Madoff moved to approve the Minutes of Tuesday, March 13, 1990 and Tuesday, March 20, 1990.

Mr. Coyne seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Coyne

PRESENT:

MR. COHEN	MR. MILLIONES
MR. COYNE	MR. REGAN
MR. DARKINS	MR. RICCIARDI
MR. FERLO	MR. WAGNER
MICHELLE MADOFF	(Pres't)

The Meeting was opened by the recitation of the pledge of allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

PRESENTATIONS

Mr. Cohen:

Could I have Nick Lane and Mr. and Mrs. Kurtysch come up, please? I'm very happy,

Members of Council, to read the following resolution.

Mr. Cohen presents

No. 614 WHEREAS, more than 100,000 Soviet Jews are expected to arrive in Israel this year, supported and assisted by the United Jewish Appeal's Operation Exodus Campaign; and

WHEREAS, anti-Semitic incidents are growing with increasing frequency in the Soviet Union; and

WHEREAS, the emigration of Soviet Jews is still curtailed due to the refusal of the Soviet Union to permit direct flights to Israel; and

WHEREAS, through the advocacy efforts of the Pittsburgh Conference on Soviet Jewry, approximately 200 Soviet Jews have arrived in Pittsburgh in the last year, most of whom to be united with family members.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh hereby calls upon the President of the United States and the Secretary of State to urge the Soviet government to immediately permit direct flights from the Soviet Union to Israel; to strictly enforce Soviet laws and the constitution protecting minorities and prohibiting racism and hatred; and to permit those Jews remaining in the Soviet Union to freely practice their religion and the study of their culture and history.

Mr. Cohen moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Cohen:

Thank you, President and Members of Council.

I think it's fitting that we have passed this resolution today because tonight marks the first night of Passover which is a Jewish holiday commemorating the freedom and exodus of Jews from ancient Egypt. And what we're really commemorating here today is the freedom and exodus of modern Jews from the Soviet Union.

So, I am very pleased to introduce Mr. Nick Lane who is Chairman of the Community Relations Committee of the United Jewish Federation. We also have with us today, Mr. and Mrs. Kurtysh, Giles and Lena Kurtysh, who are from the Soviet Union and who emigrated here and have been in Pittsburgh for the last four months. So, it's a real pleasure and I'd first like to introduce Nick Lane.

Mr. Lane:

Mr. President, Members of Council, thank you very much, indeed, for passing this resolution today. It is, as Councilman Cohen said, a particularly appropriate day on which to do it since today marks the commemoration of the exodus from Egypt and the passing of the Jewish people so many years ago from servitude to freedom.

As many peoples in Eastern Europe seek their freedom mostly within the confines of their own country, for those like the Jews who have no national homeland in Eastern Europe, there is only one solution to the problems that they face, and that is to emigrate, to emigrate to Israel or to emigrate to the United States, both countries bastions of freedom in this world of individual and personal freedoms.

It is of great significance and great concern to us that the Soviet Union has gone back on its pledges of providing direct flights. As a consequence of that, people with permission to leave the country now have to wait for more than a year in order to find a ticket, to find a flight, to find a way of getting themselves out of the country. It is with the support of elected officials, with the support of politicians and statesmen and people of good will in the United States that we hope that this situation can be changed and that pressure can be brought to bear on the Soviet Union to move.

We should remember at this time that although the exodus from Egypt took only a few days, the people of Israel wandered for 40 years before they returned to their homeland. Let's hope that we can reduce that length of time this time around. Thank you very much indeed.

Mr. Kurtysh:

Thank you everybody who came to this meeting to approve this resolution. I left the Soviet Union in 1989 and I receive now many letters from my friends who want to leave the Soviet Union and they couldn't do it as soon as they want because there are not direct flights from Moscow to Tel Aviv and they have to stay in the long lines to receive tickets, even if they have permission to leave the Soviet Union.

I am very happy to hear from you that you will send this resolution to the President of the United States and I'd like to say thank you very much everyone who helped the Soviet Jews leave their country to Israel and the United States. Thank you very much.

Mr. Cohen presents

No. 615 WHEREAS, on April 10, 1990, NASA astronaut, Lt. Colonel Charles F. Bolden, Jr. is scheduled to pilot the Space Shuttle Discovery on a special mission for the United States of America to put the Hubble Telescope into orbit; and

WHEREAS, in May, 1980, Lt. Colonel Bolden became the first Black Marine Corps pilot admitted to the NASA Space Shuttle Program; and

WHEREAS, Gladys C. Harper, a Pittsburgh resident and the widow of the late Judge Thomas A. Harper, is the cousin of Lt. Colonel Bolden and a nationally recognized family historian who has tracked her family heritage back to the year 1830.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh recognizes the achievements of NASA astronaut Lt. Colonel Charles F. Bolden, Jr. and congratulates Gladys C. Harper for her work with the community in preserving her family heritage.

Mr. Cohen moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Milliones seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Cohen:

Thank you, Members of Council. I'd like to introduce Gladys Harper who is not only a community leader and somebody who has tracked her family heritage for a long time, but is also a constituent.

Ms. Harper:

Mr. Cohen, President Wagner, and Members of Council. I am not only humbled by the action this august body has taken on the eve of a historic event, the launching of the Shuttle Discovery, and the placing in orbit of the Hubble Telescope, but I'm also grateful for its recognition of one of the pilots, Colonel Charles Franklin Bolden, Jr., whose dual Pittsburgh connection results from the fact that we are related and I am the family historian.

To be a leader, Charles says, you must know your people. As district leaders, you understand the significance of this statement.

The three major networks, as well as CNN, and the nation's leading newspapers, have reported on Colonel Bolden's outstanding career, as well as the research I've done in the preparation for a family history volume. Today, you further that effort by enabling me to include this tribute alongside an item Charles is taking it to space tomorrow for inclusion in the publication. In fact, I'm planning a chapter which elaborates a story line that begins, "On the eve of the event anchored in space was Pittsburgh City Council."

I am grateful. Thank you.

Mr. Darkins:

Mr. President, I would like to declare tomorrow as Lt. Colonel Charles F. Bolden, Jr. Day along with Gladys Harper.

Mr. Regan seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Ferlo presents

No. 616 WHEREAS, the week of April

7-14, 1990 has been designated as National Community Development Week in the City of Pittsburgh which is a participant in the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Program that helps support a myriad of social service, economic development and housing programs in the City of Pittsburgh; and

WHEREAS, in the City of Pittsburgh and in cities throughout the nation, sixteen years of Community Development Block Grant Program funding has helped develop a strong working network of relationships with its residents of Community Development target neighborhoods and the many non-profit agencies that provide services and help make our commitment to those neighborhoods possible; and

WHEREAS, the City of Pittsburgh recognizes that the Community Development Block Grant Program is a partnership of Federal, local government, non-profit and community efforts, and that the services funded by the Federal CDBG Program, administered by the local government and often delivered by local non-profit organizations, relies heavily on the dedication and goodwill of our combined efforts.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that during National Community Development Week 1990, the City of Pittsburgh gives special thanks and recognition to all participants whose hard work and devotion to the neighborhoods and their low and moderate income residents help insure the quality and effectiveness of the Community Development Block Grant Program; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the City of Pittsburgh, on behalf of its residents, hereby petitions the U.S. Congress and Administration to recognize the outstanding work being done locally and nationally by the Community Development Block Grant Program, its vital importance to the community and to the people who live in its neighborhoods; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that copies of this resolution be conveyed to the appropriate elected and appointed officials in the Federal government and that the City of Pittsburgh's name be added to the roll of those committed to the preservation and full funding of the Community Development Block Grant Program and maintenance of its essential features over the course of the next Congress.

Mr. Ricciardi:

I'd like to ask the following individuals to please step forward: Director Louise Brown, Parks and Maintenance Supervisor Tony Richards, and our three courageous men, Arthur Ferraro, James "Butch" Williams, and Mario Santamaria.

Mr. Ricciardi presents

No. 617 WHEREAS, on Wednesday morning, April 4, 1990, Citiparks maintenance employees Arthur Ferraro and James "Butch" Williams helped save two people from a fire, and Mario Santamaria helped by using his truck radio to report the fire; and

WHEREAS, Arthur Ferraro and James "Butch" Williams rushed to the aid of Michael Redman and his daughter, Samantha, who were trapped inside of their burning home; and

WHEREAS, Arthur Ferraro and James "Butch" Williams broke down the door of the burning house, without heed to the danger to themselves, and enabled Michael and Samantha Redman to escape.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh hereby commends Arthur Ferraro and James "Butch" Williams for their valiant efforts in rescuing Michael and Samantha Redman from their burning home and also commends Mario Santamaria for his calm demeanor in his immediate professional response of reporting the fire.

Mr. Ricciardi moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Ricciardi:

Thank you, colleagues. It's a privilege of mine today and an honor to present this resolution to three courageous men. They've shown all of us what it means to be a public servant, not just to put those eight hours in but to go beyond that. These three guys have done it.

I'd like to ask first Director Louise Brown if she could say a few words and then Arthur Ferraro.

Director Brown:

Of course, we in the Administration in Citiparks are so pleased and proud of such dedicated employees. What they did was above and beyond what anyone else or many other people would do. They are truly examples of excellent public servants who not only saved potentially the lives of two people, but many of you may not know, immediately thereafter went right back to work to do their job.

We are very proud of you. You are wonderful examples of all of our employees, and we thank you so much on behalf of all of us.

Mr. Ferraro:

This is really a surprise. I'd like to thank my boss, John Smoskey, Dom Stratiff, my Supervisor, my Dad for bringing me up right, and my family.

I'm just glad I got the people out safe. And my buddy, Butch, assisted me. Thank you very much.

Mr. Williams:

It was like a natural reaction. We were in the right place at the right time.

I'm proud to be an employee of the City of Pittsburgh and being here before you, well, words can't explain it. Thank you.

Mr. Santamaria:

As my friend, Butch, just stated, I will say just about the same words. But, in the meantime, when I saw the house burning, I just couldn't go any further. I had to stop and let these two here do whatever they did. Thank you.

The Chair:

Thank you all very much.

The Chair:

I'd like my remarks brought forward on this bill, please.

(REMARKS ON FOLLOWING PAGE)

(MR. WAGNER'S COMMENTS ON BILL NO. 526-Wednesday, 4/4/90)

Mr. Wagner:

Discussion. Mr. Chairman, I would like to ask Mr. Ricciardi, on the previous resolutions of this type that Council has passed, have checks been issued yet by the Controller's Office?

Mr. Ricciardi:

No. The checks have not been issued, but I was informed yesterday by the Controller's Office that one of the checks will be issued today.

There was a little miscommunication between what would be necessary, and we are still going through the steps, so I will be able to report back to Council these checks will be issued.

I would like to tell my fellow colleagues, though, for those who will be using consultants, that the policy has changed in the City Controller's Office of what must be submitted. I know Michelle Madoff and Jack Wagner have used consultants in the past. They require more documentation on the type of work the consultants are performing and if they will be doing future work.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. Perry, I would just like to follow-up. According to this Council there have been no changes in any procedures. Consequently, unless this Council is formally notified by that office, we expect the checks that are approved by this Council to be cut and forward to the appropriate parties. I expect that with previous resolutions of this type. And until this Council is notified and until there are some formally adopted procedures, as far as I am concerned, and I believe the entire body, the procedure is still the same.

Mr. Cohen:

I have some of the same concerns about displacement of current residents and also about tenant management, but I found your answers to be satisfactory.

Let me just say that I think the Crawford Roberts development project is a very positive step for the Hill that is long overdue. I want to commend the Hill PAC and the Hill community, URA, you, Director Whitmer, and also Councilman Milliones who has worked on this for years. When you come back for the disposition agreement, we will talk about the specifics with regard to some of the issues raised by Councilman Ferlo and Councilwoman Madoff, but I think this is a great development.

Which was read.

Mr. Ferlo:

I'd like my comments brought forward on Bill 539.

Michelle Madoff:

I would also like my comments brought forward on Bill 539. I don't think it's a well thought out plan. I don't think it's a crisis. I think there are other alternatives. I think it's money that's going to be spent and that could be put to better use in the same area doing something different and I oppose the project.

Mr. Cohen:

I would like my comments brought forward on the same bill and I respectfully disagree with Councilwoman Madoff. I think that from the answers that we received from Authority Director Young that this is going to be a project that will increase the number of parking spaces by about 95 spaces there and it's an area which is extremely congested and I think they're going to do it in a way that will be aesthetically pleasing. And hopefully, though, it will be a short term solution and will move quickly on the longer term solution of a larger parking garage.

Mr. Darkins:

Mr. President, I feel that in doing what is going to happen here will save the City of Pittsburgh money. I think it will also bring money to the City of Pittsburgh. I think it will also enhance that entire area the safety of the damages and things that have been done in the past to most of the people that park in that area.

(REMARKS ON FOLLOWING PAGES)

(MR. COHEN'S COMMENTS ON BILL NO. 539 - Wednesday 4/4/90)

Mr. Cohen:

I hope to feel comfortable with the bill after a few questions. Good morning. Could you explain what the specifics are, then I have some specific questions.

Mr. Young:

Yes. We are here today to ask approval of this lease so that the Parking Authority can take control of a facility and take a 203 space metered lot facility right now that is presently owned by the city in the Schenley Park area and convert it into an attendant parking facility which would be able to park approximately 300 cars. I am sure that a number of you already are familiar with the Schenley Plaza area. We presently park somewhere around 1100 or 1200 cars a day out there, in turnover of those approximately 279 meters, if you count the meters in front of Carnegie Library and Music Hall and those over in front of Hillman.

What we would like to do is turn this into an attendant parking facility so that we can park more cars. Our studies have indicated that this is a short-term lot, and, in fact, 58 percent of the cars that go there park less than two hours, and that total of 87 percent of the cars park less than four hours. So it is a short-term turnover lot. What we would like to do is increase the number of short-term turnover cars that are there.

What I would like to do, if I could, is to pass out some information. You have to sort of bear with this photo and try to focus in on it. I do have a color original that you can pass around. As you can see in the front of that photo, it shows the Cathedral of Learning right in the middle and Forbes Avenue and then the Schenley Plaza parking area. The Schenley Plaza parking area has been there for quite some time. In the center of the Plaza area is a grassy area, and then, of course, the access into the parking meter stalls is done by cars queuing as they go around that area and trying to look for a space on the internal area.

What we would do is to take that particular squared area, remove the grassy area, remove the existing asphalt curbing that is in there and turn it into an attendant parking facility. We would provide shrubbery and landscaping on the exterior portion. We would have a primary entrance and exit off of Roberto Clemente Way, we have another entrance off of the Forbes Avenue side as an alternate. This would permit parkers to at least know when they come up to the entrance, if the lot were full, then they would not have to stand and sort of queue waiting for cars to try to pull out.

We feel that we can beautify the area, make it look alot better, improve the traffic conditions, provide security and lighting in the evening for evening parkers, and overall, make this a much more efficient parking area in a part of town that this a much more efficient parking area in a part of town that really needs more short-term parking. We are doing this with the understanding that it is a short-term lease that we are asking for. We have been in discussions with the Parks Department, Planning Department, University of Pittsburgh, Carnegie-Mellon, Oakland Planning and Development Organization. And it is certainly our firm intention to continue to work with those groups on some long-term solution, which would probably call for a collector garage, perhaps, at this facility.

Mr. Cohen:

Underground or above ground?

Mr. Young:

It would be a below ground garage. But at the present time we don't see that in very near future. As you probably know, the University of Pittsburgh is involved in 1000 car parking garage facility that is under construction right now at Soldiers and Sailors, Presbyterian Hospital has just completed an 1100 car facility up in back of Trees Hall. Our feeling is that we should go in and do some demand studies, recognizing the kind of development that is going to be going on in Oakland really over the next 10 to 15 years and start to plan for some collector garages. And yes, this would possibly be one of the locations. But in the short term, we are looking at this as just being a surface line.

Mr. Cohen:

I am glad to see we are moving on this. This is a parking nightmare over there; any time of the day or night it is impossible to find a parking space there. So I am glad to see we are increasing parking spaces. It looks like this will create about 97 more spaces if we do it through attendant lots.

Will this entire area be attendant, the entire parking area under this program?

Mr. Young:

There will still be meters along Bigelow. If you turn to the second sheet, that is a very rough, early schematic, but it indicates that the parking along Bigelow Boulevard in front of Hillman Library would still remain metered, along Roberto Clemente Drive we would remove the parking there, queuing going into the lot, along the Carnegie Library and Museum side, we would remove the diagonal parking in front of the library, and prevent and provide a through movement from Schenley Drive to Forbes. But we would also encroach a little bit further over. We would have still two lanes coming up, but we would take the diagonal parking out in front of the library. In place of that, what we would do is we would probably install more short-term meters up along Schenley Drive for people who wanted to return books to the library. Right now they are half hour meters, we would probably increase the number.

Mr. Cohen:

What would the attendant hours be?

Mr. Young:

Presently we are looking at the attendant hours being from approximately 7:00 o'clock in the morning until 11:00 o'clock at night. That could certainly vary, depending on the use, for example, if the Carnegie were to have events that would be later in the evening to accommodate patrons that will go.

Mr. Cohen:

Have you determined what the charges would be, parking charges?

Mr. Young:

If you look on the third sheet, you see rate structure presently, and that gives both the existing rates and the proposed new rates. What we would be proposing to do is in the first hour increase it from 50 cents to $1.00. However, the second hour would go up to $1.50, third hour would go up 50 cents more, four hours it will go up 50 cents more, and then in the fifth hour it will jump another 50 cents, really to $1.00, from $2.50 to $3.50, because we really do want to try to reduce the number of long-term parkers there. As I said, 89 percent of the parkers that go there are under the four hour period of time.

Mr. Cohen:

You are calling over four hours long term?

Mr. Young:

Yes.

Mr. Cohen:

I would think that you might even be able to reduce that more by encouraging short-term maybe of under two hours, but that, I am sure, is reflected in your study. That is not my expertise.

My main concern here is traffic flow, how this will change traffic flow, because right now you can really go from Forbes and travel around to Phipp's to Carnegie Library and back over to Bigelow. Will the traffic flow be changed considerably at all?

Mr. Young:

No, it will not. All those roads you see there will remain open with the same flow of traffic. You will be able to come in Bigelow, come around from over Schenley Drive, go from Schenley Drive back up to Forbes, and you will also be able to come up Schenley Drive, because there is a big movement of traffic that comes from Squirrel Hill up Schenley Drive and makes a left turn to come back up to Bigelow, up parallelling Forbes, going back that way to go back up Bigelow. Those movements would all continue.

Mr. Cohen:

Okay. Where will the attendant booths be? This goes to my concern that there will be traffic backed up either onto Forbes Avenue or onto Schenley Drive.

Mr. Young:

The primary entrance and exit to this facility will be off Roberto Clemente Drive. It would be our intention really to have another exit so when we have a lot of traffic in there and people want to get out, say you come out of the Carnegie and a lot of people want to exit quickly, what we would do is have two exit booths there so people can come out to go back up Bigelow or come out on Roberto Clemente Drive.

Mr. Cohen:

But the only entrance at the moment would be only Roberto Clemente Drive?

Mr. Young:

We always like to have primary entrance and exit and an alternate entrance and exit, because if something were to happen at the one we could then fall back to the other one.

Mr. Cohen:

You don't see a serious backup problem onto either Forbes or Schenley?

Mr. Young:

No. Again, the reason that we want the traffic primarily coming in off of the entrance off Roberto Clemente Drive, is there is some diagonal parking there on Roberto Clemente Drive. What we are proposing is those ten stalls be taken off, and the queuing of cars coming into the facility would be done right along there, thus taking any queuing off the Forbes Avenue side.

What you get now coming in is queuing of cars coming in off Roberto Clemente and right directly across from Carnegie Library. That is what we really would like to try to avoid.

Mr. Cohen:

Last question. This is a five year lease. My concern is that even though this is going to improve the parking situation -- I am going to vote for it, it seems like a good thing -- it is only going to improve it by 95 spaces or so. Can we start moving now and have we started moving on the long-term solutions you mentioned before?

Mr. Young:

Yes, we have. It increases the number of spaces by 95. The spaces out there, though, turn over about four times for each space, so it is our expectation, rather than having 1200 cars per day, we'll have something like 1400 or 1500 cars per day that will be able to utilize those 300 spaces. So we will be increasing the number of people able to come in and out.

To answer the second part of your question, we have been in discussions with the University of Pittsburgh, the Planning Department, the Carnegie, the Parks Department about parking needed. As I mentioned before, we are starting to take a very hard look at collector garages, primarily that is the direction we are going in, to try to put collector garages on the peripheral area of Oakland to try to reduce the number of cars going into and through Oakland.

Mr. Cohen:

Are we looking to the University of Pittsburgh and the County, not only for their ideas, but also for their monetary contributions to this long-term solution?

Mr. Young:

We are certainly looking to have a cooperation with the institutions, and I am going to say that in a very general, broad sense, because they are in a sense the generators of the traffic, and we recognize that a portion of that traffic is the responsibility of the Public Parking Authority. So we are going to be looking to the University of Pittsburgh, the hospitals, the medical center complex out there, the Carnegie, to all the participants, because we are all in a real big problem.

Mr. Cohen:

I would encourage that for all of those institutions, including the county, because Carnegie Library is very much involved here, to contribute to the capital cost of that long-term project.

I will save my question about why valet parking works here and doesn't work in Shadyside for another time.

(MR. FERLO'S COMMENTS ON BILL NO. 539 - Wednesday, 4/4/90)

Mr. Ferlo:

Director, first of all, I wholeheartedly support this initiative as long as it is a transitional plan, because I really believe strongly, long range a large facility is needed underground.

I would like to discuss a couple issues. One is the issue of the timetable. Mr. Cohen raised the question of what the construction timetable would be relative to some of the major sports events that go on in Oakland and the timing of the school year. What is the scenario for the timetable?

Mr. Young:

The Parking Authority Board took an action in anticipation of an approval to hire an architectural firm to start work. Really, the Authority staff has been working on this project for more than a year. We have met with the University, the Carnegie, the Planning Department, Parks Department and the Oakland community generally to tell them about the conceptual idea. It is our anticipation that we would be able to get this work started sometime around June or July of this year, so that we would have 50 percent of the surface area completed by September, so that when students come back in September they could start using it. And again, our expectation there would be once we at least got a portion of a facility opened, then the contractor could then take the rest of the year, obviously, depending on the weather, to try to finish off the shrubbery and things like that.

Mr. Ferlo:

How do the fees relate to the cost for the construction and design? How big of an item are we talking about? I assume this is Authority bond funds?

Mr. Young:

Yes. We have not yet put together a financial plan in terms of how we would pay for it. We could use Authority bonds, we could get a short-term loan. We are looking at an approximate estimated construction cost of somewhere around $500,000.00. I know that may sound expensive, but essentially what we are going to be doing is taking up the asphalt, the curbing, the center island that is out there, fixing the base, redoing some of the drainage patterns, putting in a reasonable low cost, new curbing, whether it is poured curbing or prefab curbing or whatever we can, but certainly recognizing the sensitivity of the area in terms of who the neighbors are around there, putting in some very nice shrubbery, trees and things like that to make it look aesthetically pleasing.

Mr. Ferlo:

I would ask that you please meet with Director Gaetano on the issue of purchasing asphalt from our plant.

Mr. Young:

I have been in touch with Director Gaetano, and that is certainly one of the things we will be doing.

Mr. Ferlo:

On the long-range issue, I had envisioned and have even had discussions with National Development just talking out ideas out loud on the issue of this facility, and I wasn't aware that there were covenants on this land in relationship to Schenley Park. My vision for this parcel had to do with not only an underground garage, but a Mellon Square kind of top with some type of commercial activity, I use the phrase "bistros", but some type of a commercial activity in and around a Mellon Square kind of top. I thought with the demise of so much of the commercial available space along Forbes Avenue, everything is either a hot dog shop, a Rax, or McDonalds, that there really is no longer any smaller square footage commercial retail space. That was my dream for the area.

Are we clear that legally certain things cannot happen?

Ms. Brown:

Yes.

Mr. Ferlo:

How are we clear, Director?

Ms. Brown:

We are clear. We have the will of Mary Schenley, and that is part of the original land that was donated by Mary Schenley. It says it cannot be used for private purposes.

Mr. Ferlo:

But recognizing that so much has changed in relation to this parcel as it relates to the major corridor along Forbes, it is so distinct from the bulk of Schenley Park, which is across the bridge, is there precedent for going to court and re-interpreting?

Ms. Brown:

Well, I think there are avenues to do that, legal avenues, to do that.

(Deleted text.)

Mr. Ferlo:

But my concern is longer range, I hope we are not limited by the covenants in relation to what is the best and highest use for this property, not only in terms of parking, but in terms of development of a business plan that is going to make it swing and pay for itself. I don't think it should just be limited to parking. I think we can talk about a number of other concerns that Oakland has as a community relative to this land. I hope that if we have to have some kind of preliminary discussions with the Court, or whatever you would refer to it as, I hope that our planning is as broad as possible and as creative as possible, not limited by whatever narrow constraints might exist relative to this land.

If this were in the bulk of Schenley Park, I would not be suggesting that or anything of the sort, but this piece of parcel of the park itself is distinct and separate from the greenway of the main bulk of the park. I think we need to look at that; I hope you will in your planning discussions.

(END OF COMMENTS)

(Transcribed by Helen L. Kriebel)

(MICHELLE MADOFF'S COMMENTS ON BILL NO. 539 - Wednesday 4/4/90)

Michelle Madoff:

I hate to be the only voice of dissension, but I am looking at your design and I presume it is very, very, very preliminary, because there aren't any more cars on this thing than there are here; as a matter of fact, they are taking cars away. If you look at the comparisons, you're taking peripheral parking away on the outside roads where people park. I am through that area day, night, morning, afternoon, I am there all the time. I have never, in the years I have lived here, had to back up, wait for any length of time. And it is not an eye sore the way it is physically set up now. I am concerned that we are going to turn this into what we did in both the Shadyside and Squirrel Hill lot, and the one in Squirrel Hill didn't work so you took it back and changed it back to a metered lot.

Now, when we are giving you permission to go out for a five year contract, we are looking into five years of disaster if it doesn't work out. I am concerned about that. I think you are going to create an eye sore. It is not offensive the way it is right now. I think you could turn it into something offensive and I don't think you're gaining the spaces you say you are gaining.

Furthermore, even if you use the design you have here, there are so many spaces you could be using that you are not using.

Third, why do you need an attendant? If you create the parking spaces with an ingress and egress, all you do is go in and park in the space that is available and you have a meter and you don't need an attendant. I don't know what is going on.

Fifth, or whatever I am up to, whatever the costs are, Mr. Ferlo, the parking makes up for the cost within a reasonable period of time, it pays back to the Parking Authority whatever the costs are.

There is no reason on earth we couldn't turn the top into, once we go into an underground parking lot, into some kind of facility that the University would operate, some kind of bistro that would be attractive and make money and make it into something charming, if you have to go around the statute that says the way it was decided. It was decided to the University.

Ms. Brown:

This is our property, not University property. Schenley Park it is our property.

Michelle Madoff:

I see. Then the alternative is to go into Court and talk about the costs and availability, what have you. But I wouldn't change what you have there. I don't know why you are doing it. Go under ground. I don't think you have that kind of problem. If the University needs more space, let them build it.

What I am also concerned about is the long-term parkers are going to come in here and leave their cars all day, which is what they are doing now. The students can't get their parking at all, they are not having any availability at parking. We are talking reality here.

Until I see better plans, I am not going to vote for this.

(END OF COMMENTS)

(Transcribed by Helen L. Kriebel)

Michelle Madoff:

I have watched two specific areas of Shadyside and the Squirrel Hill area where meter parking was removed and valet parking was put in. It became an absolute disaster. It's congested. It's crowded.

We're not going to gain that many spaces. As a matter of fact, in my observation, we're going to lose some or it will be a wash because they're removing spaces on the outside.

I think the long term solution should be addressed, not an interim solution. It's not that I'm opposed to solving the problem; I'm opposed to the way it's being solved.

(REMARKS ON FOLLOWING PAGES)

(BEGINNING - MR. COHEN'S COMMENTS ON BILL NOS. 497 AND 498, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 4, 1990)

Mr. Cohen:

I believe Fire Chief Harpur and Dom Cimino are here.

I want to thank you both for coming back. The reason I moved to recommit this bill was because there were still outstanding questions in my mind about it. It's quite confusing. I have both volumes of the BOCA Code here.

I won't take too much of your time but this is such an important area of day care and of course the regulation of day care is important but we have to do it in a responsible way.

I think it might be best to start with the second bill which is 498. And what it appears to me to do is, in the first two sections there 304.1 and 307.3, is to re-define a day care facility and a child care facility with respect to the number of children involved. One under a Group "E" category for educational and one for a Group "I-2" category for institutional. Is that what is happening here and if so why, why is being re-defined?

Mr. Cimino:

Again, I may not have explained it thoroughly at the last meeting.

If this legislation was not submitted, it would not change the Code as it exists at all. All this legislation is doing is to try and clarify the language of the Building Code. By that I mean, first of all, language of the Code you must classify the use group. The use groups are day care and child care. You do not fit into one of those categories until you have six or more children. If you have five children, the Building Code does not regulate any of these uses. Now the language that we're trying to clarify in the Code is stating if you have children under two and one-half years of age, we're saying if you mix them together with one child under two and one-half years of age with children over two and one-years of age, we're clearing it up to state that it then becomes an "I-2" under the use group. The Code already says that but you need an interpretation to read that in.

Mr. Cohen:

Okay, so when it goes into an "I-2" classification, how does that change the regulations for that facility?

Mr. Cimino:

It makes the restriction under the Code more stringent because an "I-2" requires that that facility be sprinkled. That is the only difference.

Mr. Cohen:

It would be a sprinkler system for an "I-2" but not for an "E" classification.

Chf. Harpur:

I might say that "I" is institutional.

Mr. Cohen:

And "E" is educational. So it's saying when there's a larger group of children both over and under two and one-half years of age, it's an institutional use requiring a sprinkler system and if it's a smaller group -- in this case I guess five --

Mr. Cimino:

-- not so much a smaller group. Both of them include six or more children.

Mr. Cohen:

But if it's a mix of over two and one-half years of age and under two and one-half years of age it becomes an institutional use?

Mr. Cimino:

"I-2" as classified under the Code.

Mr. Cohen:

And that would not apply to currently existing day care centers; is that right?

Mr. Cimino:

None of this legislation is retroactive to existing facilities that are legal occupancies.

Mr. Cohen:

One of the concerns that was expressed that I share is whether or not this would apply to private homes to the common situation where a working mother would drop her child off on the way to work in the morning say at a friend's house or a neighbor and maybe they even enter into a financial agreement for that friend or neighbor to take care of the child while the working mother is at work, would this apply to that situation?

Mr. Cimino:

Again, without the legislation the Code would then trigger compliance if it was a six or more children. If you have five children in any facility, the Building Code would not apply.

Mr. Cohen:

The only reason that there is a question in my mind with respect to that is because under the last section of Bill No. 498, it does use the phrase one or more children. It says, "every room or space in a day care or a child care facility which accommodates one or more children". It seems to me to be inconsistent with the definition section which says five or more children.

Mr. Cimino:

The reason that that is there is first of all you must classify the use of the structure of the use to be permitted there, so if it is a day care or a child care facility then we're saying it's six or more so it does not affect the way it's worded.

Mr. Cohen:

My concern is that after you and I are gone either from city government or from this world, this one or more children is going to still be there and somebody may want to apply it to a private home which they could.

Mr. Cimino:

The reason that's in there if I could give you an example such as Council Chambers and Mike Perry's office, we wanted to use this as a day care center and you had six or more children, we would classify it one of these uses. If in Mike's offices they wanted to have children there in cribs, we're saying that every room or space in this facility must have emergency lighting but only if it's a classification of six or more children.

Mr. Cohen:

Would it impair the legislation if we take that phrase out?

Mr. Cimino:

No, it wouldn't.

Mr. Cohen:

Why don't we do that? I would move to amend this legislation Mr. Chairman to take out the phrase which accommodates one or more children in Section 824.5.

Mr. Ferlo: Second.

The Chair: We're voting on the amendment to delete the "one child" part.

Those in favor of the amendment indicate by saying aye?
Opposed? The ayes have it. Now may we vote on the bill please?

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President and Members of Council, there are two issues that I would like to address. Sometimes people take things out of context and they don't hear what's really being said and pain is caused to some people. I would never want to do that intentionally and if an apology is in order I'd like to make that publicly in that when I discussed the issue of having a Director and the need to have a Director for the Water Department, there are several people who listen to cable who thought that I was, in some way, demeaning or not appreciating the work that had been done by all the people who work to preserve our water supply and the heroic efforts the did, actually going out on boats. They could have been incinerated if there had been a spark.

That was not my intention in any way, shape or form. What I was saying was, in the same way, that a person who would head a Water Department, an engineer, would not be expected to crowd control in a riot or to undertake solving a crime or being involved in that kind of activity in the same way I wouldn't expect the technology to be part of the knowledge of somebody in the Safety Department or somebody in the Water Department who does the financial aspects to understand the slurry operations, the activated carbons, and to understand a lot of the things that were going on.

I was just making the point, and I want to make it again, that the Administration must move expeditiously to get us a head of the Water Department. What would have happened if Alex Sciulli had been out of town? What would have happened if we weren't blessed with somebody like Mr. Bruecken who has been here forever who really understands the process? Or Stanley States who is over at the Water Department who are geared and know how to take care of keeping our water the Champagne of Waters?

So, again, if anybody was offended or misunderstood, I apologize. And next Tuesday I'd like my colleagues to join me in a universal joint resolution to honor those people who really worked to preserve the water. There is a resolution that's being prepared; I didn't do it today because of the holiday. I didn't know we were going to meet today, I thought it was tomorrow and I wouldn't have been here. Again, I thank you for that.

On another subject. All of us read and heard with dismay the statement that we are competing with New York in the crime rate.

I would like to respectfully request that we have a meeting and briefing with our Police Department, Safety Department, and ask Mr. Cannon whether he wants it as a post, whether he wants to meet with us to brief us.

I'd like to know how that is happening and what this Council can do to help alleviate that situation. If it's more police, so be it. If the facts are distorted, I'd like to know. If it looks worse than it really is, I think we should know that and the public should know that. And if, indeed, it's fact, I think we have to face up to it and see what we can do to solve the problem.

The Chair:

Prior to the meeting, I would like them to send a copy of the report that everyone is talking about. Council hasn't received it.

Michelle Madoff:

I don't know where the report came from; I only know what I read in the paper. I don't know who compiled it and what the basis is. I think that's what Mr. Wagner is saying. On what premise? Was it purse snatching or was it rape? Was it murder? I'd like to get a little better feeling for it and I think that's a good idea.

But I think we should give Glenn Cannon an opportunity to explain that he and the others are doing everything in their power to make it the safest City. I thought that things were pretty good.

I would like to know, again, what we on Council can do to help Glenn. This is not a criticism. Don't misunderstand it, anybody. That's not what I'm saying. I'm saying, let's be informed.

The Chair:

Mr. Perry, could we set up a meeting within the next two weeks and ask for a copy of that report to all Councilmembers prior to the meeting. Thank you.

Mr. Cohen:

On that issue, I just want to say that I agree and that I think we all knew that crime was rising in Pittsburgh and what this report has done is put hard figures on it. And if those figures in that report gives us an opportunity to have a productive discussion with the head of Public Safety to look into how we're enforcing crime and what can be done to better enforce it, then I think it's a good thing.

Mr. Ricciardi:

Mr. President, this Wednesday, April 11, at 1:00 in Council Chambers, I scheduled a post agenda hearing on the Urban Planning Design of 21st Street in the South Side of Pittsburgh. I have invited several South Side community based organizations, the South Side Planning Forum, the South Side Community Council, and our local development company along with City department directors, Planning, Engineering and Construction, and Public Works.

So, I'd like to invite my colleagues to attend, if they will, and also for the public to send in any comments to my office.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Mr. Milliones:

Mr. President, may I request that a post agenda be scheduled to deal with what I perceive to be a real problem in terms of the number of minorities that are hired in the EMS Program since we were just talking about the Public Safety Department.

I perceive it to be a problem, the small percentage of Blacks that are employed by EMS given particularly the historical significance that this was a program that was taken over by the City from Freedom House.

So, I really would like to attempt to address this problem given the small number of minorities that are employed in that program.

The Chair:

Would you like that post this Wednesday or next Wednesday?

Mr. Milliones:

We can do it whenever is convenient for all.

The Chair:

Mr. Perry will arrange it.

Mr. Darkins:

I would like to join Dr. Milliones in what he is asking to be done because I think it's necessary. We do have some statistics already and I think it should be brought forth to the City of Pittsburgh as well as to City Council so that we can deal with it accordingly.

Michelle Madoff:

I was going to ask the question whether, it's such an important issue and I certainly support your concern, did you want to do it as a separate post agenda or did you want to do it when Glenn and everybody is here to talk about the overall crime situation?

Mr. Milliones:

I see no reason to co-mingle it with the crime issue.

Michelle Madoff:

I was confused. I thought you meant it separately. I just wanted it clarified.

Mr. Regan:

Mr. President, I would like to wish a happy holiday to my two colleagues. I'm sure if they didn't make it, they wouldn't have been here today. So I'd like to wish happy holidays to Michelle Madoff and my pal, Dan Cohen.

Mr. Cohen:

Thank you, Councilman. I appreciate it.

And on the motion of Mr. Ferlo

Council adjourned.

PRESENTATIONS

Mr. Cohen:

Could we have Bob Longo and Todd Roulon-Miller of NeXT come up here please?

Mr. Cohen presents

No. 631 WHEREAS, NeXT Incorporated, a manufacturer of computers designed for users in education, business and government, was founded in 1985 by Steven Jobs, who also founded Apple Computer; and

WHEREAS, NeXT chose to open its first regional sales office in the country, the Eastern Regional headquarters, in Pittsburgh in 1988 and Mr. Jobs is visiting Pittsburgh on April 17 to officially open the headquarters; and

WHEREAS, key factors in NeXT's decision to locate in Pittsburgh were Pittsburgh's quality of life, its central location to eastern markets, the low cost of building an operation here compared to other major cities, the strong local business community, the easy access to a strong transportation hub, the presence of two major universities, and the aggressive desire among many Pittsburghers to bring NeXT to Pittsburgh; and

WHEREAS, many public organizations were involved in the effort to attract NeXT to Pittsburgh, including the Mayor's Office, the Governor's Response Team, Penn Southwest, and the Pittsburgh High Technology Council; and

WHEREAS, this teamwork is an example of the type of marketing effort that is required to attract vibrant new enterprises to Pittsburgh in the increasingly competitive globaleconomy.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh welcomes Steven Jobs to the City and wishes the newly opened Eastern Regional headquarters much success, and hopes that it expands in the future.

Mr. Cohen moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Cohen:

Thank you, President and Members of Council. Steve Jobs is not with us today, but we do have Bob Longo and Todd Roulon-Miller of NeXT and I'm very happy to have them here today.

I think that in conjunction with the announcement that is occurring right now that the Sony plant is going to locate in this area bringing another 2,000 jobs, that this is really a great day for economic development in Pittsburgh, and I'd like to invite Mr. Roulon-Miller to say a few words.

Mr. Roulon-Miller:

Thank you, Dan. This is a particularly exciting time for us and we really appreciate the formal recognition from you all.

It was about two years ago when we first hired Bob Longo and my first call to our eastern headquarters in Pittsburgh was to Bob Longo's living room and his four year old son, Ben, answered the phone. I think we've taken a step up in the last two years to the point of now formally dedicating an office, which we did last night, and having Steve Jobs in town today to talk more about that with the local constituencies.

We're very excited to be here on a few accounts. First of all, a very close technical relationship with Carnegie Mellon University which is a great asset to this City locally.

Second, the fact that we believe we can hire and attract the best people for an eastern operations working for NeXT out of Pittsburgh says a lot about the constituency here and how we can work with you all.

Third, and really a contributing factor of this was the quality of life issue. Very possibly it could have been Boston or New York where we placed our office, but frankly, the setting of Pittsburgh both in terms of home and lifestyle and economics locally was very attractive to us.

Finally, the recognition of Pittsburgh as a major business center, not only nationally but certainly in this regional area was really critical to us.

So, we absolutely appreciate all your support and the welcome you've given us today. Thank you.

The Chair:

Thank you, gentlemen.

Mr. Cohen:

I have one more resolution this morning. Would the members of the Center For Victims of Violent Crime and Mary Anne McClain who is the President of MADD, Mothers Against Drunk Drivers, come up here please.

Mr. Cohen presents

No. 632 WHEREAS, the fifteenth annual commemoration of National Victims' Rights Week is April 22 to April 28, 1990; and

WHEREAS, some 35 million Americans become crime victims each year, and victims of crime and their loved ones in the City of Pittsburgh often face severe financial, physical and psychological losses; and

WHEREAS, violent crime seems to be increasingly brutal due to the increase in drug-related criminal activity and the aftermath of criminal violence may cause additional losses to victims due to inappropriate treatment by social or government institutions; and

WHEREAS, certain groups - such as the surviving loved ones of homicide victims - are often undeserved in many of our communities, as are the poor, the young, the elderly, the chronically mentally ill, the homeless, and the differently-abled; and

WHEREAS, there are still too few services for victims and too little attention to establishing their rights, but fortunately, thousands of our fellow citizens in their work and their volunteer activities are seeking to provide needed help to victims of crime and crisis; and

WHEREAS, many victims and survivors of crime have demonstrated extraordinary courage and strength as they have sought to help themselves and others, and such victims, survivors and victim advocates should be supported in their work to ensure a better life for us all.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh hereby proclaims the week of April 22 through April 28, 1990 as Victims' Rights Week and urges all citizens and institutions in the City of Pittsburgh, both public and private, to support the establishment and enforcements of victim rights and services through participation in local and state activities commemorating those rights.

Mr. Cohen moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferio seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Cohen:

It's really an honor to have you all down here because there are too few people who are really fighting on behalf of victims and I commend you all.

I would like to ask Mary Alice Gorman, Executive Director for the Center For Victims of Violent Crime, to say a few words.

Ms. Gorman:

Thank you for the proclamation today and thank you for the support and cooperation and the unique situation that exists in Pittsburgh with regard to cooperation with the entire criminal justice system and those in service to victims.

Actually, this isn't our whole office. Although this may be hard to believe, there are 140 professionals employed in Allegheny County alone serving victims, and there are nearly 400 volunteers. The services that the Center provides every day and every year are actually more in the field.

Since this is a proclamation for Victims' Rights Week, I thought I'd try to give you some sort of a feeling for what it is that happens in a week's time that the Center does. Most of our work is out in the hospital emergency room, in the court room, in the Magistrate's courtroom. Mr. Regan has seen advocates and, actually, he was one of the original starting forces 15 years ago in the founding of the Center.

I think that to get some sense of what happens there, every week in criminal court in Allegheny County there are 320 cases that are scheduled. Our advocates can only provide assistance in some of those cases. In the Magistrate's courtroom, there are over 250 preliminary hearings every single week in Allegheny County. In those 250 preliminary hearings, psychologists have documented that victims, the first time confronting the person who victimized them, go through the highest point of stress, the highest point of trauma, next to the attack itself.

In a week's time, we see 12 people who file victim compensation claims with the State of Pennsylvania. Pittsburgh's Public Safety Department actually has a program that is unique in this country. The Records Department in the Pittsburgh Public Safety Department sends out information about crime victim compensation to every person who files an incident report. Those people are referred directly to our office and we, since the very end of 1986 when we started up the full-time program until a month ago, we brought back $1 million in cash, reimbursements for out-of-pocket losses that people incurred being victims of crime. We thought that was pretty great. About 65 percent of that is only City of Pittsburgh residents.

This gives you some sort of an idea, but I think it never strikes home because everybody in this room is looking around thinking, well, gee, I'm really glad somebody is doing something about this. I hope it doesn't happen to me or anybody I know.

In a week's time in the City of Pittsburgh there will be over 70 violent crimes committed. That's everybody in this room, if it gives you some sort of impression about what can happen. But what can happen in terms of people recovering from the aftermath is the work that MADD and the Center For Victims and many other victim advocates do. It's helping people to get back with their lives again. We're often doing proclamations, we're often doing presentations, because the victims have recovered and they're back to work and they're back with their lives. Every person who sees us can become better, can improve.

The logo that we have which is this shattered glass disk, tells the whole story. When a person is victimized, the world falls apart. With the help of a victim advocate, piece by piece, it can be glued back together again. When you look at a shattered disk, you can tell it broke, but it's still a circle again.

That gives you some impression of the work that the Center does and every victim advocate in Allegheny County. Thank you very much.

The Chair:

Thank you all very much for coming.

Mr. Darkins:

I'd like Ms. Wanda Vierthaler and Mr. Guy Read and Faith McCoy to come forward, please.

Mr. Darkins presents

No. 633 WHEREAS, African Americans are diagnosed with cancer and die from this disease more often than any other population group in the United States; and

WHEREAS, the National Cancer Institute is supporting National Minority Cancer Awareness Week from April 15th to the 21st to encourage African Americans age 40 and over to have life saving cancer detection tests and take preventive measures against cancer; and

WHEREAS, cigarette smoking is the reason for almost all lung cancer; and

WHEREAS, lung cancer is the leading type of cancer in African Americans and smoking also causes other heart and lung problems; and

WHEREAS, in 1988 the Health Education Center organized the Homewood-Brushton Clean Lung Project to encourage both young and older African Americans in the City's 13th and 14th Wards to stop using tobacco products; and

WHEREAS, effective April 18, 1990, the Community College of Allegheny County's Homewood-Brushton Branch will become a smoke free environment; and

WHEREAS, many businesses in the community have a no-smoking policy; and

WHEREAS, the American Cancer Society Inc., Pittsburgh branch, actively supports the Homewood-Brushton Clean Lung Project by participating in community events and making cancer prevention materials available to the community; and

WHEREAS, the works of the Health Education Center, Homewood-Brushton Clean Lung Project and the American Cancer Society Inc., are efforts that will advance the health and longevity of African Americans.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh supports the week of April 15th as National Minority Cancer Awareness Week in the City of Pittsburgh and recognizes the Health Education Center and the American Cancer Society Inc. as major organizations striving to combat cancer in the City of Pittsburgh and across the country.

Mr. Darkins moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Cohen seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Darkins:

We have the Director of this organization here today and also a representative from the American Cancer Society and I'd like them to say a few words.

Ms. Vierthaler:

Thank you, Reverend Darkins and Members of Council. I appreciate being here very much and for your endorsement of this National Minority Cancer Awareness Week. We are appreciative of your recognizing the fact that minorities, in fact, do, in many cases, disproportionately suffer from cancer better than others and this is an opportunity for us to make the City of Pittsburgh more aware of that reality.

I also want to thank the State of Pennsylvania for helping us support the work we do in Homewood-Brushton and soon we expect to expand for the next year for the whole City of Pittsburgh.

I appreciate your thought and concern. Thank you.

Mr. Read:

On behalf of the Board of Directors of the American Cancer Society's Greater Pittsburgh Unit, I would like to commend Councilman Darkins for all of his efforts towards the Homewood-Brushton Clean Lung Project which was designed to eliminate tobacco use in minorities through education and public awareness of the dangers of tobacco.

Unfortunately, for all of us, cancer is an equal opportunity disease. It is the same disease, the same uncontrolled spread and growth of abnormal cells in all ethnic groups. But if there is a similarity in the spread of cancer in minorities, it is that they have a higher impact from cancer because of lack of information and sometimes resources which lead to late diagnosis and insufficient access to quality medical care.

The American Cancer Society stands ready to help in this work. We will continue to educate the public of the dangers of smoking with programs such as "Tobacco Free Young America" which will be distributed to all licensed physicians in Allegheny County, particularly those in the 13th and 14th Wards.

Again, I commend Councilman Darkins for all his efforts and wish him the best in his continued worthwhile project.

The Chair:

Thank you all.

Mr. Darkins:

I'd like to ask Mrs. Alice Childs to come forward, please.

Being quite young some years ago at 14 years old, I was united with this organization and when found at the convention and they called upon me, I found it an honor not only to read this resolution but that this organization should be honored because its well established and has been here for some years.

Mr. Darkins presents

No. 634 WHEREAS, under the leadership of Brother Jesse B. Green, the Greater Pittsburgh Gospel Choral Union was organized in Pittsburgh on January 28, 1949 at Macedonia Baptist Church; and

WHEREAS, the Greater Pittsburgh Gospel Choral is part of the National Convention of Gospel Choirs, Inc.; and

WHEREAS, during the week of April 16th through April 20th, the Greater Pittsburgh Gospel Choir Union will host the 57th Annual Board Meeting of the National Convention of Gospel Choirs and Choruses, Inc. at the Hyatt-Pittsburgh Hotel; and

WHEREAS, over 1,000 guests will attend the Convention and will spend thousands of dollars at hotels, restaurants and businesses throughout the City of Pittsburgh, making a significant contribution to the City's economic growth.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh graciously welcomes the National Convention of Gospel Choirs and Chorus, Inc. to the great City of Pittsburgh; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, on behalf of the residents of this City, extend to the conventioners hospitality, kindness and an invitation to hold future conventions in the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Darkins moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Coyne seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Ms. Childs:

On behalf of the Greater Pittsburgh Gospel Choral Union, our officers, members and boardmembers, and the Reverend Willie

Moore who is our President, we accept this proclamation with a heart full of thanks.

We thank you and may God bless each one of you.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Michelle Madoff:

This is a joint resolution of all of Council. Just because the Water Department is my committee, I'm not the only one that takes great pride. I think we all take great pride in what was accomplished during the major spill.

Would everyone please come up? I do want to tell the media that there are 167 more people that will be receiving recognition and they will be receiving their resolutions at a later date simply because a lot of them had to work today and couldn't come and we couldn't accommodate everybody here today.

Members of Council present

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh commends these individuals, as well as all other governmental workers involved in this recent episode, for their untiring efforts to insure a sufficient quantity of water during this crisis to preserve the safety, health and welfare of a large number of citizens.

Michelle Madoff moved to adopt the resolution.

Which motion prevailed.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh hereby salutes Bob Smizik, a native son, for his unconditional dedication and contribution as a columnist and writer in the City of Pittsburgh; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh proclaims this day, Tuesday, April 17, 1990 as Bob Smizik Day in the City of Pittsburgh. "IT COULD ONLY HAPPEN IN AMERICA!"

Mr. Regan moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Smizik:

Growing up on Chislett Street in the East End and Hawthorne Street in Stanton Heights, I never would have dreamed that such an honor would be bestowed upon me.

I'm deeply appreciative. Thank you very much.

Mrs. Smizik:

This has been quite an experience for all of us. Thank you.

Mr. Regan:

We have to hear from his big brother, Frank, the Principal at Minadeo School. Frank, we're going to give you one to hang on your wall, too.

Mr. Smizik:

I want to thank Councilman Regan and the other Councilmen for this honor that you bestowed upon my brother. The entire family is deeply appreciative. It's nice to see so many familiar faces on Council, people that I've dealt with in education, Dr. Milliones and Reverend Darkins. A couple of athletes; Mr. Coyne used to be one of the great runners in Schenley Park.

Just quickly about my brother, Bob. I'm now the Principal at Minadeo Elementary School and Bob taught there many years before I did. Bob was a teacher in the Pittsburgh Public School System and his contributions in the recreation program in Stanton Heights, coaching baseball and other things in that program, and also his contributions at Belmar Elementary School where he taught, and also Minadeo, have helped the City of Pittsburgh and the children greatly.

We are, indeed, very proud of this proclamation and we thank you very much.

The Chair:

Thank you all.

Which was read and referred to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. Regan presented

No. 626 Resolution providing for a Contract or Contracts or the use of existing Contract or Contracts to purchase refill bag valves for the Bureau of Emergency Medical Services at a cost not to exceed $10,700.00, chargeable to and payable from Code Account 1423, Bureau of Emergency Medical Services, Department of Public Safety.

I'd like my remarks on this bill brought forward, please.

(REMARKS ON FOLLOWING PAGES)

BEGINNING - MR. COHEN'S COMMENTS ON BILL NO. 570, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 11, 1990)

Mr. Cohen:

Discussion. Ben Hayllar, please.

I'm putting together a dictionary of words that when I see them I'm going to have doubts about and one of them is "clarifying". What this bill apparently does is clarify language. Could we take a few minutes and decide how this language is clarified?

My understanding is that the present language is the Code says that "all owners of real property or their agents have to file tenant registration forms at the same time that real estate tax statements are mailed to the owner of the real estate". Now what this does is, it limits it to certain owners at certain times, right?

Dir. Hayllar:

Right.

Mr. Cohen:

My question is, why do we need to do this and who has the discretion as to which owners and which times are chosen?

Dir. Hayllar:

This law was passed some years ago and it's a Council-initiated ordinance. Council at that time felt correctly that there were some folks who rented apartments in the city maintained fictitious addresses or fraudulent residences with their parents or an old address outside the city to avoid the earned income tax but they were residents of the city. Council felt that it would be a good idea if the landlords had to supply to the City on an annual basis the names and Social Security numbers of all their tenants and that way the City could find people who were living in the city but were not really claiming residency and were avoiding the necessary taxes. The problem was the volume of paperwork was so large that the good intent of the law was rendered ineffective because nobody could process and follow up on all of those names. Many landlords as a matter of fact only provide partial information. What this provides would be that we could concentrate on certain areas of the city -- it does not have to be done annually but could be done every few years, the fact of the matter is that it hasn't been done annually I think since the first or the second year of the law's existence.

In certain areas of the city, Oakland, Squirrel Hill, Shadyside and certain others, there's a high transient population and those are the areas that I think this would be most effective. In many other areas of the city, the South Hills, single-family resident areas, I don't think this law would be terribly fruitful so what this would give the department the right to look at certain wards where we know there's high incidences of transient people that have come in and rent and don't live there a long time, we could find those people and the intent of the law could be fulfilled without having this administrative problem of trying to deal with this problem city wide.

Mr. Cohen:

Is there compliance right now?

Dir. Hayllar:

No.

Mr. Cohen:

I assume that it was the problem. If there were complete compliance the Finance Department would never be able to handle it anyway, would they?

Dir. Hayllar:

In the instances where these requests were sent out and the landlords dutifully return the forms, there was no way to go through the returns as accurately and carefully as you would want them to do.

Mr. Cohen:

I think this makes sense in that it gives the Director the opportunity to target certain rental properties where we have suspicion that they may not be paying taxes. What's the policy for determining which properties to target?

Dir. Hayllar:

It would not be properties specifically, it would be ward or neighborhood specific. Very stable neighborhoods you are not going to need to do this. But there are obviously some that there are multiple tenants move in and share an apartment and these are the neighborhoods that this would be effective.

Mr. Cohen:

I agree that the neighborhoods that you mentioned are ones, they have a high turnover rates especially in North Oakland.

Would this be cross checked with Business Privilege Tax collection?

Dir. Hayllar:

Yes. Most landlords have to pay Business Privilege and we would make certain that the landlord is doing that. Normally that's done, I don't think that's a real problem.

Mr. Cohen:

One concern of mine is absentee landlords. There's such a terrible absentee landlord problem in the city as a whole but specifically in Oakland. My worry is that if we're not requiring landlords any more to submit these forms, is this going to impair our ability to at least identify absentee landlords?

Dir. Hayllar:

No. Because they are the owners of the property, we have a of probably 30 landlords who have multiple properties, we know who they are and we have about 30 of them but this year we are concentrating on because they have a practice of maintain multiple tax delinquencies on their property, then they try to get off with partial payment. We are concentrating on them now as part of the Treasurer's Sale that they would be become fully paid up.

Mr. Cohen:

I'd like to talk to you later about absentee landlords but this does touch on that issue and I want to make sure that we're not doing anything that will impair our ability to go after absentee landlords but I think that this legislation -- I guess what it is, is realistic. I mean, realistically, there's not going to be full compliance with this law or the ability even to supervise compliance in your department so I think this bill makes sense?

Thank you.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President and Members of Council, nine months ago this Council heard from the people in the Westgate Broadhead Manor a very moving, impassioned plea for help from this community, and to be treated as other housing projects are being treated and other communities are being treated, not to be short-changed. Fortunately, my office taped that session for any member of Council who wasn't present who would like to hear what happened that day. I think it is very urgent that you review that tape if you're willing to do that.

The bottom line, this is a community that is so disenfranchised on the fringes of our City, people don't even know they're there, who have been afflicted with a terrible drug problem which I think is on the way to being a lot better than perhaps any other place. They now have stopped the shooting at their children. Mothers are no longer having to grab their children and take them under cars when the shooting is going on. The drugs during the daytime on corners is not as prevalent or as dangerous to the community. People are not having bullets in their houses but they have another problem.

The people who have a very moderate income cannot buy a bottle of milk without taking a jitney. They can't go out and buy pampers for their children. There's no way they can get the bare necessities of life without having to spend -- Can you imagine any of us spending $10 for a bottle of milk? It's bizarre.

We made a commitment. Everybody on Council agreed that we would move to see this community receive a mere $75,000. And a say "mere" because compared to other communities, it's a pittance. And that money would be used to rehabilitate one of the buildings out there so they could turn it into some kind of facility to serve the community on their bare necessities and services.

Nine months later, through the machinations of government, and I believe that Jane Downing, Louise Brown and George Whitmer must get together and resolve the problem. That money was approved by this Council, unanimously approved. The Administration was supportive. All that is just rhetoric and verbiage. The people haven't had the services and they're still suffering from this problem. Those three must get together and resolve the problem. Everybody is saying, "It isn't my problem; it's your problem."

The money was appropriated through some manipulation that I don't quite understand into URA's bond money. Now they're being told that this bond money cannot be used.

Now, if people of good will cared to put their efforts where their money is, where their mouths are, and we made this commitment, we have got to see that in the next two weeks that commitment is adhered to because the people in Westgate and Broadhead have got to the limit of their frustration. They have told me that they are about to hire buses to come and sit in front of our office and the Administration's office with their children, day and night, to make the point, a point that they are justified in making. And I must tell you, should they decide to do that, I'll sit with them.

So, I am asking this Council, through the President of this Council, to move immediately to live up to our commitment. We made that commitment. Let's be people of our word.

I would like to have, if it's appropriate, I'll leave it with you, Mr. President, I would like to have a show of hands or a voice vote that we support whatever it takes to get this commitment that we made nine months ago. May I do that, or is it inappropriate?

The Chair:

The previous Council in the budget process made that commitment and this Council has shown great faith living with that budget. We asked the URA to allocate $75,000 in services and assistance and monies to Westgate. We fully hope that they move forward in doing that.

Michelle Madoff:

Do we have a commitment from this Council to do something about it? Just saying we hope they're going to do it when we made a commitment -- If they're not going to do it, we've got to find the money and do it. We don't have any choice.

I'm just suggesting that we have some kind of a meeting with the Administration, URA, whatever is necessary to make this happen. It isn't just enough to say we hope, we think. We made a commitment; they're going to do it. We said that for nine months. Meanwhile, these people are paying $10 for a bottle of milk. What are we going to do to make it happen?

I'm going to encourage them to come in with their buses if we don't have a commitment in the next two weeks.

Mr. Ferlo:

I think the previous Council, and I would hope certainly this Council, is fully supportive of the efforts by the Community Development Corporation in that community to transform a rec center into a commercial area with basically the convenience stores that Michelle talked about, a banking center of some sort, and a laundromat. I think they were the three main businesses that were being sought.

I think the issue is, what is the status of the development and I think we need a report from Director Whitmer from the URA. Michelle is correct in pointing out the $75,000 commitment and I think we need a report from Director Downing.

The last obstacle that I heard that I know that we did overcome was getting Parks and Recreation out of the rec center and relocated. That's going to happen utilizing other facilities in the community. So that was the last obstacle that I was aware of, but I think we need a report from Director Whitmer and Director Downing as to progress that's being made on the commercial center that's being worked on by the Community Development Corporation.

Michelle Madoff:

I spoke to George Whitmer twice yesterday. George really wants to help. He says that the money isn't bond money and under law he's not allowed to release that money. Bond money cannot be used for this purpose. Therefore, if that is the case, we've got to find money somewhere else. We can't just say, let's just have a report. The report is, they cannot use this money.

Jane Downing said that that was an appropriate way to go. That's what we understood. This Council checked at that time; this was an appropriate way to go. If it that isn't the appropriate way, it's up to the Administration. Jane Downing in Planning. Louise Brown as of yesterday moved to make a commitment to remove the parks material from that building. And now we're ready to go and we're being told by George Whitmer that it's not in his power to use the money in this manner.

Mr. Ferlo:

Just to clarify, Mr. Chairman. The issue really is not the $75,000 bond monies from the URA. There are any number of economic development loan funds that are available at the URA including the minority business and/or women business investment fund, including the neighborhood development investment fund, and including about five other funds. The issue really is not the $75,000 issue; the issue is what is happening with the center and why isn't it happening.

I think we need a report from the Administration and all the people that are responsible in some way to explain to Council why this isn't open yet.

The Chair:

Mr. Perry, could we please have a letter directed to Planning, URA and the Mayor's Office asking what actions are being taken to assist Westgate Village as was the intent of this Council --

Mr. Ferlo:

And what are the obstacles, Mr. Chairman. If there are some obstacles, we should know about it.

Michelle Madoff:

And what are the alternatives?

The Chair:

What are the obstacles, the alternatives, and how can Council be of further assistance? Thank you.

Mr. Darkins:

Mr. President, I'd like to comment on that a little bit. That's a nice way to do it, but I think as a representative from my own district, the Ninth District, I think I would be a little more forceful about that. I think that Michelle, being that she represents that district down there, she has to have a roll call. I think these people have to be called in and answer to that. It's nice to have reports and words put on paper, but with no action there's still nothing done.

The Chair:

Councilwoman Madoff can call a special meeting in that regard.

Mr. Regan:

I would just like to comment. You know, we have here mothers with dependent children and I think it's an absolute shame in this great country of ours, because of a lack of transportation and so forth, that these people would have to spend $10 for a quart of milk. I think this needs immediate attention. I was not on Council at that time, but I will do anything in my power to help anybody on Council who would want to do anything immediately to help these poor people.

The Chair:

I think the way to start is immediate correspondence and Councilwoman Madoff can arrange a meeting as a result of that correspondence to get to the bottom of the issue.

Michelle Madoff:

We have two weeks before they're coming in with busloads. I've already spoken to the Administration and I'm hoping that there will be some positive response.

But I would ask that the President of this Council, and the Finance Chairman, that perhaps both of you would meet with the Administration, and I would be happy to join you. I've done everything possible but I just think that we have to be emphatic. And I think that the leadership of this Council -- We elected you, and you should then represent us. I think that's one of the roles that you must undertake.

The Chair:

I don't want anyone to think that a number of Councilmembers have not been involved in this issue. I think everyone that was on Council last year has been involved personally in the issue and several new Councilmembers have been involved in it. So, there have been numerous discussions with the Administration and with the people of Westgate. And I think it's time for the Administration to tell us what they're doing, and we're initiating that today.

Mr. Ricciardi:

I just want to say that I commend Michelle Madoff for keeping this in the forefront and for raising the issue.

I also recommend, in order to better educate myself, if Michelle Madoff would agree to maybe calling a post agenda hearing and inviting the appropriate people.

Michelle Madoff:

I'll give you the tape. You'll see exactly what happened. Everybody that could speak spoke at that. Put it in your television and you'll see what happened that day. It is a very moving experience.

Mr. Ricciardi:

Thank you and I commend you for raising the issue.

Mr. Ferlo:

On another matter. It concerns Duquesne Light Company, one of my favorite companies.

I was led to believe by one of the stockholders that their annual meeting is going to be in Tampa, Florida instead of here in the City of Pittsburgh where they traditionally have been held.

I'd like to make a motion that we send a letter to Duquesne Light Company requesting that in the future they hold the meetings here in the City of Pittsburgh, least of which is for the economic benefit of having a major stockholders meeting here in the City, but equally important, all of the ratepayers obviously are here in Pittsburgh and Western Pennsylvania, not to mention the majority of their stockholders. And I think they should set an example for the region. I think they should hold their stockholders annual meeting here in the City of Pittsburgh and not in Tampa, Florida.

I'd like to make a motion that we send a cordial letter requesting that in the future they have such a meeting here in the City.

Mr. Coyne seconded the motion.

Mr. Cohen:

Mr. President, I agree with Councilman Ferlo that if it were my decision I would have the Duquesne Light Stockholders Meeting in Pittsburgh. But it isn't my decision, I don't think it's government's decision, and frankly, I don't think that we are in a position to be telling any company where they should have their shareholders meeting.

The Chair:

If I'm not mistaken, the wording of the letter, as Mr. Ferlo is suggesting, is suggesting that they have the meeting here. We cannot mandate in any way.

Mr. Cohen:

Even suggesting.

The Chair:

Is there any other discussion on the motion?

All those in favor? Opposed?

Mr. Cohen:

Opposed.

WHICH MOTION PREVAILED.

Mr. Coyne:

Mr. Wagner, as you remember, a few weeks ago Council went out to the area of Streets Run and looked at the condition along the banks of the stream in the 31st Ward.

Matt Walsh from the Department of Public Works has been very helpful in getting new signage put up and doing a lot of the minor repairs. However, the most dangerous areas where the walls have fallen into the stream and one area, as you pointed out, looks like a telephone pole may be falling into the stream, still haven't been addressed by the Department of Public Works. We've sent them a letter and I've tried to contact Director Gaetano and he assured me that they're looking at it, but we're still not seeing anything done.

As was suggested when we went out there last time, is if Council maybe can go back out there and this time, Mr. Perry, if you could make sure that the Director is there himself so that we can look at the problem first hand and hear from him right there on the spot as to what he plans to do with the area, I would greatly appreciate it.

The Chair:

We will set up an additional meeting to go out there with the appropriate director.

Mr. Coyne:

Thank you, Mr. Wagner.

Michelle Madoff:

I have waived Rule 8 so that the issue will come up tomorrow because it's a crisis. Those members of Council who have been here a long time will recall that the original Mayor's Commission on Women was not one of my favorite entities because when I asked, "What did you do for your $75,000 a year?" at that point they said, "Well, we did an essay in the schools." And I said, "Ah, an essay in the schools." So, I was not a very strong proponent.

However, it has come to my attention, and I sent letters to all Members of Council, the letter from JoAnne Ross Wilder.

Mr. Coyne:

Point of Order, Mr. Chairman. Aren't we going to discuss this issue tomorrow at the meeting?

The Chair:

Yes, we are.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm not going to read the letter. Can I just tell you why I'm talking about it?

Mr. Coyne:

This discussion is going to be taking place tomorrow, if I'm not mistaken.

Michelle Madoff:

I will be brief, if you will indulge me.

I want to mention that I sent the letter to all Members of Council. I urge you to please read the letter. I spoke to Councilmembers today and said, "Did you read the letter?" They had not.

This is a very important issue. When we get into Council tomorrow I don't want to have to start reiterating. It would be very helpful if you would read the information.

The reason I'm mentioning it today is, should you have any questions, and if you wish me to have JoAnne Ross Wilder here tomorrow, I will do so. If you wish to call her yourself, she's very, very difficult to reach because she has a very busy practice. And the reason I'm mentioning it again is that should there be any questions, I don't want this delayed because there are unanswered questions when we hit tomorrow.

I'm asking the Administration, I've already spoken to them, for some help.

In light of the fact that in the year of our Lord, 1990, we have a female Mayor, I would not like to see the former Mayor's Commission on Women go out of business because they have not had sufficient time to go out into the private sector.

What they're doing, their programs with young women having children, staying in school, and all the other things we'll discuss tomorrow, are so vital.

The reason I'm mentioning it today, please, if you have questions, call JoAnne Ross Wilder. Get to me; I'll try to get answers from other people. And if you wish to have her here tomorrow, I will ask her to come providing she be allowed to come to the table and speak, and providing she's not in court. I don't want to have anybody here saying, "Well, one Member of Council says she can't speak." May I have her come tomorrow? Is that the wish? Or somebody from the Women's Commission?

Mr. Coyne:

I will object to someone who is not a Director coming to the table.

Michelle Madoff:

So there you are.

The Chair:

We will address that tomorrow.

Michelle Madoff:

There's no point in my inviting her if somebody is not going to let her come to the table.

The Chair:

It's the will of any individual Councilmember not to permit a person to come to the table, and that can only be determined tomorrow.

Michelle Madoff:

We've already had an objection.

Mr. Ferlo:

On another issue. Back to my other favorite utility, Equitable Gas Company. I think Council is aware that the Equitable Gas Company has once again asked for a significant rate increase of 10.4 percent, $29.5 million rate hike on top of a 10.7 percent rate hike that they got just last year and was implemented this January.

There are a number of individuals who have filed legal complaints challenging the rate case, including myself, and the first arguments are to be made before the Pennsylvania Public Utilities Commission this Thursday in Harrisburg.

I think it's important to point out the unfair manner in which Equitable Gas Company is dealing not only with its consumers through an outrageous rate hike, but also one of the unions that is currently trying to bargain in good faith, and that's the USWA Local 12050.

I think it's important to point out to Council a letter that was sent to Mayor Masloff, and I'll just read one sentence, this is from Milantoni, the President of Equitable Gas. He's writing to Mayor Masloff, dated February 22. In one sentence he refers to a strike which supposedly commenced at 12:01, back in February. No such strike ever commenced. The union is bargaining in good faith with this company.

He even further states, in his words, that "This strike may result in picketing, mob violence and attempted destruction of property." First of all, I think it's an outrageous statement coming from the President of Equitable Gas Company. It's no way to be bargaining in good faith with union workers at the company, a union which is asking for a minimal cost of living increase, and a company which is basically saying that they will no longer provide health care benefits.

I agree that Council should not go out of its way to involve itself in labor negotiations, and I'm not suggesting that we do that. However, I find it outrageous that a company president would send a letter of this type to the Mayor asking for public support and Public Safety police support. I don't think it's appropriate. I think its outrageous and we should speak against it.

Secondly, I suggest to the President of Equitable Gas that he sit down at the bargaining table and deal in good faith, not only with his workers but with the customers. It's something that they haven't done up until now.

I think it's very important that people get mobilized to oppose this rate hike. There are petitions being circulated. We've asked the Public Utility Commission to conduct a formal public hearing here in the City of Pittsburgh at which I hope people will come out and speak to protest the rate hike which is not justified.

I think its important also to point out, and this is something that Michelle spoke on at least ten years ago, was the number of gas leaks in this company. There are over 4,000 fairly significant gas leaks on the part of this company that are not being dealt with and I think its a matter that the Public Utility Commission should look into. This is a company that buys all of its pipe products from Taiwan and Thailand instead of buying American-made products.

Again, how this company can suggest that they need a rate hike when they're dealing with their workforce in this manner is beyond my comprehension. I think we should speak out against it and I hope that Councilmembers will speak at the public hearing before the Commission when it is schedule here in the City of Pittsburgh.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Mr. Ricciardi:

Mr. President, this Wednesday at 1:00 in City Council Chambers, I have scheduled a post agenda hearing on the re-opening of 30th Street located in the hollow neighborhood of the South Side. I've invited the appropriate department directors of Public Works, Planning, Engineering and Construction, and community-based organizations.

I believe it's important for Council to provide a second passage in and out of the hollow neighborhood, not just for convenience but also because of safety. If something would happen to that one-way in, we're talking about our EMS, Fire and Police not able to enter the neighborhood.

So, that post agenda will be this Wednesday. Thank you.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, two last motions. One is to televise the public hearing on the prevailing rate which is on Tuesday, April 24th.

Mr. Coyne seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Ferlo:

Secondly, a little more controversial motion. I move to televise and conduct and evening meeting on the public hearing on hunger and access to food.

Mr. Cohen seconded the motion.

The Chair:

I cannot accept the motion because we have not set a hearing yet.

Mr. Ferlo:

I'm making a motion to refer to the President to set the public hearing and also in that motion making the motion that the meeting be held in the evening, Mr. President.

The Chair:

You have two items in one motion.

Mr. Ferlo:

There's nothing in Robert's Rules of Order that suggests that you can't have multiple items in the motion.

The Chair:

I'm not accepting the motion because we have not set the hearing yet and I must talk with Michael Perry to determine what is feasible and what is not feasible.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, with all due respect, the point of the motion is to have it in the evening. If you're going to set a hearing, you're going to set it most likely based on past Presidents and practices and you're going to set it in the day, the afternoon.

The Chair:

It is the prerogative of the President of Council to determine when hearings are set.

Mr. Ferlo:

I don't dispute that. My motion only suggests a particular time that we encourage the President to set the hearing.

The Chair:

That is not part of a motion process in Council. That jurisdiction lies in the hands of the President, as to whether it's an evening hearing or an afternoon hearing.

You can have a motion to televise that hearing--

Mr. Ferlo:

I move to televise the hearing.

Mr. Coyne seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, I would like a motion, however, to express the will of Council on the issue of holding at the request of the advocacy groups the public hearing, encouraging my motion therein is to encourage the Council President, Mr. Wagner, to yield and respond to the request of the advocacy group, Just Harvest, to conduct the public hearing in the evening. That's my motion.

Mr. Coyne seconded the motion.

The Chair:

I just want to inform Council that this motion does not mandate an evening public hearing.

Mr. Ferlo:

I didn't imply that, Mr. President.

The Chair:

There's a whole lot of other factors involved in doing that.

Mr. Ferlo:

I know that there are.

The Chair:

And I would suggest that we do not pass the motion or do not even entertain the motion. But since it is on the floor and you want the motion to be voted on, we'll vote on the motion.

Mr. Ferlo:

Roll call vote, Mr. Chairman.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Cohen
Mr. Coyne

Mr. Ferlo
Michelle Madoff

AYES 4

NOES 4

VOTING NO:

Mr. Darkins
Mr. Regan

Mr. Ricciardi
Mr. Wagner
(Pres't)

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the motion was defeated.

Michelle Madoff moved to approve the Minutes of Tuesday, March 27, 1990 and Tuesday, April 3, 1990.

Mr. Coyne seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Cohen

Council adjourned.

No. 658 WHEREAS, the First Hungarian Reformed Church of Pittsburgh was organized in 1890 becoming the first Hungarian Reformed Congregation in America, as well as in the world, outside of Hungary; and,

WHEREAS, the First Hungarian Reformed Church was built and dedicated in 1892 on Bates Street in Pittsburgh; and,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh does hereby congratulate the congregation of the First Hungarian Reformed Church on the celebration of their Centennial Anniversary.

Mr. Coyne moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Cohen seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Coyne:

As I said, we have Mr. Earl Jones with us today who is a member of the Church and I would like him to say a few words.

Mr. Jones:

I'm honored to be here today in Council to accept this resolution for the members of the Hungarian Reform Church, the present members and the past members also.

In the future, I run for four campaigns for political office, and this is my fifth. This campaign is for God.

I would like to thank all the elected officials that sent these wonderful letters recognizing our churches and all the churches of different denominations and faith.

We have a time capsule in our church which all these documents are going into for the next century which will be sealed behind our cornerstone. Also, all of this literature will go to Hungary. I think what they've tried to do 100 years ago, you've proved they've succeeded today.

I would like to say God bless all of the people in this country and the countries all around the world.

I'd like to add with this documentation one little documentation of my own. My son is a Chief Elder of the Hungarian Reform Church. His name is Jones. 100 years later, that's Welsh, and I'm proud to have him a Chief Elder of that Church.

I'd like to add this, to the people of Hungary, congratulations on a job well done. Postage paid by the City of Pittsburgh Mayor Sophie Masloff. Thank you very much.

Mr. Darkins presents

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff presents

- rededicating ourselves to improving safety and health in every American workplace.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh hereby proclaims April 28, 1990 as Workers Memorial Day in recognition of workers killed, injured and disabled on the job.

Michelle Madoff moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

My first association with Steel Workers was very gratifying in that the leadership of the unions were the first people to support the environmental movement. Their feelings were not that we just need jobs and we don't care if the fathers and the husbands die of cancer. We want both and we want it all and we can have it all and people can have jobs. I thank you for all your years of support.

Mr. Falkowski:

Thank you very much for passing this resolution.

Workers Memorial Day was first established in 1989 to remember the men and women who died on the job and as a result of occupational diseases.

With me today I have Dave Glavin, representing the Labor Council of Greater Pittsburgh affiliated to all of the unions in the Pittsburgh area.

On behalf of organized labor in the Pittsburgh area, and on behalf of the survivors of the people who died in the workplace, this unnecessary loss of human life, we thank the Council of Pittsburgh for declaring April 28 as Workers Memorial Day which will be from now on an annual event. Thank you very, very kindly.

Mr. Glavin:

Dave Glavin is my name and I'm representing the Allegheny County Labor Council and it's a pleasure to be here, of course, and I do want to thank the Council for this resolution. But I'm mostly here to remember those families and people that have sacrificed their lives on the jobs.

Many times we take these things in stride. We have these terrible tragedies that happen to us individually in the family, but collectively, people tend to forget where these things happen. Right on the front line. Right in your job sites. Working under terrible conditions sometimes, even today, where they should not be able, or not have to work under these conditions.

So, we do thank you and everyone, I know that some of you will be there on Saturday to take part in the ceremonies which will be done all over the country at the same time between 1:00 and 3:00. And we'll have a tolling of the bells at 2:00 all over the United States of America. And if you can't be there, please remember in your prayers those people that have given their lives to keep America working. Thank you.

Mr. Regan:

I'd like to have Lieutenant McNamara, President of the Fraternal Order of Police, come up here with the retired policemen we're going to be honoring tomorrow evening.

Mr. Regan presents

No. 662 WHEREAS, on Wednesday, the 25th of April 1990, the Pittsburgh City Police Department will honor sixty-one (61) individuals who will retire from the City Police Force; and,

WHEREAS, these men and women have served bravely throughout their careers by maintaining the safety of our City, by recognizing that the life and liberty of its citizens is the primary area of responsibility; and,

WHEREAS, although the crime rate and service call rate has been steadily increasing, their work load was challenging and each and every officer performed ably and well, protecting our property and the security of our lives; and,

WHEREAS, the City of Pittsburgh is a City that draws many visitors into our City each year, for our many social and cultural events, and our City Police Officers are called upon to maintain the peace and dignity at these events, so we also recognize these fine men and women as Goodwill Ambassadors.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh joins with the citizens of Pittsburgh in recognizing and saluting each and every one of the sixty-one men and women honored here today for their distinguished and sincere dedication.

Mr. Regan moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Regan:

We can never thank the police officers of this great City of ours and we were named a few years ago as the Number One City in the United States. We were named the Number One City in the United States because of the performance of our police officers and all the other City employees and people that live in this great City of ours.

Lieutenant McNamara:

Mr. President, Councilpersons and Councilman Regan, I thank you for the opportunity today to honor the 61 police officers that we'll be honoring tomorrow night at the Syria Mosque in Oakland for their many years of service.

In receiving this resolution this morning, I have asked that four officers come with us who will be honored also. I want to give you a little background. Three of the officers, Officer J.R. Williams, was forced off along with Sergeant Harold Freeman and Lieutenant Tom Joyce because they're 65 years of age. The three of them have better than 34 years of service in this police department they've given to the citizens of our great City.

In addition to that, Sergeant Harold Freeman, I can remember back in the '70s, he too a bullet in the stomach in the line of duty and is with us today and survived that close call. It's certainly great to know he's one of the retirees we'll be honoring tomorrow night.

With us is Officer Williams, Sergeant Freeman, Lieutenant Tom Joyce and Police Officer Bob Lang, and present retiree, Connie Knox. I'll have them each say a few words, if they wish. They're a little shy, they didn't want to leave, but they're here today and I think they deserve a nice hand for representing the other 61 officers.

Officer Williams:

It was a pleasure serving the City of Pittsburgh. Thank you.

Sergeant Freeman:

Thank you. This was a surprise; I didn't hear about it until 7:00 this morning. Thank you.

Lieutenant Joyce:

I would like to thank all the Members for this welcome and I'd like to say also that the years on the Police Department was very enlightening and I enjoyed every one of them.

Officer Lang:

On behalf of the other retirees, I put in over 35 years and I thought I might as well get off while the timing is good. Thank you.

Lieutenant McNamara:

Certainly I'm not going to have him say a few words, Brother Connie Knox. He's been retired and he's teaching them how to handle it now, so we're in good shape.

Thank you very much for your appreciation.

Mr. Regan:

The only thing they won't own up to is how many babies they delivered in their days as police officers.

The Chair:

Thank you all.

Mr. Regan:

I have another honor here today to honor the Slovak people. Mike Lako, would you come up here with all your people, please? Mike is the President of District 1 for the Slovak Fraternal Union.

Come on, Mrs. Lako. You know, a beautiful lady like this that's in the family way, there is no way that I'm not going to get her up here. Let's give her a nice hand.

Mr. Regan presents

No. 663 WHEREAS, throughout history, the Slovak people have stood strong for social justice and charity. It was necessary in their development that they have group consciousness, group pride, group activities, and communities. This further enhanced and represented their consciousness as Slovak-Americans. The First Slovak Union then came into being; and

WHEREAS, the purpose of this Fraternal Union was to offer support to the sick and disabled; to help orphans and widows; to raise the orphans to become good members of their society; to remain faithful to the church and strengthen in their holy faith and to become citizens of the United States; to promote the Slovak language and culture; and to preserve it for the coming generations; and,

WHEREAS, the first Catholic Slovak Union was officially founded by Reverend Stephen Furdek on September 4, 1890. The motto of the society is "For God and Country" "Za Boha, a naru"; and,

WHEREAS, the membership of this organization has at all times been devoted to and inspired by the principles and statement of the unalienable fundamental rights and freedoms of man set forth in the Declaration of Independence and confirmed in The United States Constitution; and,

WHEREAS, in Allegheny County there are approximately twenty-five Slovak Parishes and 3/4 million Slovak people; and,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh is hereby helping celebrate the 100 years since the birth of their society. But, we are not only celebrating the birth of the society, but also the wisdom, the determination, courage and foresight of their Slovak leaders to whom so much is owed. When Father Furdek came to America, he saw the needs of his people. He gave of himself to the Slovak people who responded by giving themselves to him. This is what the celebration is all about.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh proclaims this day, Tuesday, April 24, 1990 as Slovak Day in the City of Pittsburgh. "IT COULD ONLY HAPPEN IN AMERICA!"

Mr. Regan moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Lako:

We are the other half of Czechoslovakia.

With the recent changes that are taking place and the ethnic feelings of the people in Slovakia, it is very fitting that we of Slovak origin in the United States here, have our 100th anniversary and in some way help our Slovak people.

The First Catholic Slovak Union is not only an organization to help people in America, throughout the years the First Catholic Slovak Union has been helping the people, their relatives, ancestors, in Europe. It's to these people who came to America in 1880, 1890, it's to these people that we owe what we are and who we are. And it's to these people that we offer our thanks. It's to these people that we offer our congratulations.

We would also like to thank Councilman Regan. We would also like to thank Councilman Wagner and we'd like to thank all of you.

Mr. Ricciardi presents

No. 664 WHEREAS, Chester Jakoski, a former South Side businessman, has broadcast his ideals of ethnic culture and heritage to both young and old; and,

WHEREAS, Chester Jakoski has earned the title of "Dean of Polish Broadcasters" as well as maintaining active involvement in organizations such as the Lions Club, the American Association of Retired Persons, and various polish organizations; and,

WHEREAS, Chester Jakoski has had a distinctive career in business sales, printing, music and broadcasting as well as forming his own band "The Polish Aristocrats", and providing entertainment to many Americans of polish descent.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh congratulates Chester Jakoski for his long time dedication to the ideals of his ethnic culture and heritage.

Mr. Ricciardi moved to adopt the resolution.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Ricciardi:

It's an honor and a privilege today to present this resolution to Chester Jakoski. Because of him, our heritage, many heritages, especially the Polish heritage in the South Side, was able to be passed on to many, especially the young.

Mr. Jakoski, you're no stranger to a microphone, so show me how to do a good job up here.

Mr. Jakoski:

Council President, Members of Council, thank you very much for this resolution.

As a former resident of the South Side and also a businessman, I had pretty close contact with the various ethnic groups of our area. Naturally, being Polish, I was closer to the Polish parishes because we have two of them over there. But we have other nationality parishes.

Right after the war, World War II, 1949 or so, I was approached by several organizations to provide aid for the needy of Eastern European countries, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, the Ukraine, and yes, even Russia. I opened up an agency where we had money sent to them over there and even commodities such as cows, horses, plows, tractors, food, farm equipment and what not. Particularly the medicines; Streptomycin and Penicillin were very much in need and we had all that going through our agency.

When I moved to Carson Street, right next to Isaly's at 1717 Carson Street, I had a deluxe card and record store. We devoted the entire mezzanine to nationality cards. Downstairs we had LPs and 78 records, and then later 45s, of all the different nationalities in our particular area. The slogan was, "If you can't get it at Chester's, don't look anywhere else."

The mezzanine had 21 different nationality cards for all occasions. We had from the Polish, Slovak, Russian, Ukrainian, German. You name it, we had it. Even titles to their families like to aunt and uncle, to parents. Particularly at Christmastime we had all kinds of cards, even for the priests and nuns, for relatives overseas.

So, you see, my tie-in with the South Side went a long way, not only among the ethnic groups but I was on the committee where we were the first in that particular area to have Christmas lights along Carson Street. We were the first. I was on that Committee soliciting for the Christmas Parade.

So, I did a lot for the community over there, not only for the Polish people but for all the ethnics in our particular area on the South Side.

I want to thank Councilman Gene Ricciardi for presenting this resolution to me today and it will be in my memoirs of the work that I have done not only for the South Side but for the City of Pittsburgh and also Allegheny County. Thank you very much.

Mr. Ricciardi:

If I may say, Mr. President, we've just witnessed a great man and alongside all great men is a fantastic woman. His wife is Philomena and she's with us today also.

The Chair:

Thank you all.

Mr. Ricciardi:

I'd like to ask Mr. Robert Croneberger, the Director at the Carnegie Library, if he would please step forward along with Charmaine Spaniel who is the Branch Manager in the South Side, Mary Jane Schmalstieg, the President of the South Side Friends of the Library, and also the members of the Friends of the South Side Library.

Mr. Ricciardi presents

No. 665 WHEREAS, the South Side Branch of The Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh continues its work as a vital information and resource center to the community it serves, meeting the many needs of its unique neighborhood; and,

WHEREAS, the South Side Branch Library provides storytimes for toddlers and preschoolers, and reading clubs, craft classes, movies, puppet shows and other programs for children and families; and,

WHEREAS, the South Side Branch Library provides book collections and story programs to day care centers, head start groups and schools in the South Side area and surrounding communities; and,

WHEREAS, the South Side Branch Library participates in Beginning with Books and other literacy projects to tutor students of all ages; and,

WHEREAS, the South Side Branch Library has provided outreach programming to the senior citizens' residences, computer literacy training courses for adults and children, community programs for holidays and Polish history to celebrate Polish Heritage Month, workshops by Neighborhood Legal Services and the Mediation Center of Pittsburgh, and poetry readings by local published poets; and,

WHEREAS, in November of 1989, the Friends of the South Side Branch Library received the community service award from the South Side Chamber of Commerce.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh commends the efforts of the South Side Branch Library and urges Pittsburghers to recognize the invaluable contribution of The Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Ricciardi moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Ricciardi:

I'd like to ask Mr. Robert Croneberger, the Director of The Carnegie Library of the City of Pittsburgh if he would say a few words today, please.

Mr. Croneberger:

Thank you, Councilman Ricciardi, Council President, Members of Council.

On behalf of the Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh, I'm delighted to receive this resolution. This is National Library Week, as most of you know, and we're looking forward to the celebration tomorrow called, "Night of 1,000 Stars".

I particularly want to thank all the Members of Council for their support for reading and families and literacy and libraries. We're looking forward to seeing you all tomorrow afternoon and tomorrow evening, along with the Mayor.

This is a resolution specifically for the South Side Branch Library and Charmaine Spaniel, the Branch Librarian, and Mary Jane Schmalstieg and the Friends Group are no strangers to receiving resolutions and awards.

Mr. Ricciardi:

Before Charmaine says something, I'd like to say not only is she the Manager of the South Side Branch, but she's become a dear friend of the South Side residents. We feel very close to her and we'd like to thank her for everything she's done in our community.

Ms. Spaniel:

Thank you, Gene. President and Members of Council, it is my pleasure to accept this resolution on behalf of the South Side Branch Library.

I'm so proud to be part of the South Side community and the excellent work that we do there. Thank you very much.

Also, tonight at the South Side Library, we're having our own little celebration of National Library Week. Gene Ricciardi will be there tonight reading aloud to children and families because that's what we're all about, celebrating books and the family. Thank you.

Mr. Ricciardi:

If you've never heard "Pop Goes The Dragon", that's one of the books I'll be reading today.

Mr. Ferlo:

We're reading "Green Eggs and Ham".

Mr. Cohen:

May I just say one word about Director

Croneberger. I had the privilege of witnessing Director Croneberger allay the fears of the Squirrel community about the Squirrel Hill branch of the Carnegie Library, and if he can handle Carnegie Library the way he handled that meeting, then I think we're all in good shape.

Mr. Ricciardi:

Our next speaker is Mary Jane Schmalstieg who is the President of the Friends of the South Side Library. As everyone knows, we've been very successful on the South Side because of one reason, and those are the members that are standing before you today. They're solid members of the Library and many of them are very dear friends. We thank them and Mary Jane, if you could speak to the group, please.

Ms. Schmalstieg:

Friends of the South Side Library is a group of women and men, only they're not here today, of 20 people. We're in our tenth year of working to promote the library.

We receive no grants. All of it is done with our own fundraising ideas. But that's not saying that we won't take any grants, so I wish Council would keep that in mind.

On behalf of the Friends of the South Side Library, I want to thank Gene for recognizing us.

I would like to ask City Council to join our Friends groups and Pittsburghers to support one of the most important institutions in our neighborhood, The Carnegie Library. Thank you.

Mr. Cohen presents

No. 666 WHEREAS, FreeWheelers is a program designed to bring wheelchair-using elderly and disabled adult residents of nursing and personal care homes on "Day on the Town" outings; and,

Mr. Cohen:

Members of Council, I am happy to give this honor to Joyce Galpren, the Director of FreeWheelers, and to Ann Shuman, the Chairman of Chair of the Volunteer Committee.

I think that it's fantastic that people take the time and initiative out of their busy lives to help the needy. Ann Shuman has a few words.

Ms. Shuman:

Thank you, Councilman, and thank you, Councilmembers and Council President for this recognition.

As he mentioned, we are about to celebrate our first birthday. We feel very good about the work we've done and we know there are a lot we haven't reached yet. We look towards you and citizens of Pittsburgh for support.

We all know that the population of Allegheny County is increasingly elderly and, even though many of these residents in the homes for the aged have relatives in the community who are very faithful about visiting them and perhaps wheeling them out into the sunshine for the picnic or something, it is because of our specially equipped bus, which I hope you'll watch for in the streets of Pittsburgh, a big, white and orange bus, equipped for 12 wheelchairs. Because of this, we're able to take them to places that perhaps they've never been, or haven't been for many years.

So, watch for us. You'll recognize the bus and you'll see the smiling faces. Thank you.

Mr. Ricciardi and Mr. Coyne present

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President and Members of Council, I think everybody here, my colleagues, are people of good will and I believe that they really believe that their votes are voting their conscience and they have reasons, my colleagues that have voted against this resolution, believe that their reasons essentially are that there are other groups that are worthy and therefore, since there are other groups that are worthy and in their estimation perhaps more worthy, that therefore they should not support what I believe was an error, and correct an error in the budget.

I subsequently took the liberty of asking the Budget Office to prepare for my colleagues several pages, a precedent, that shows that we have repeatedly opened the budget to make grants and award monies to needy groups.

And while I concur that there are many, many very worthy needy groups, we can't, any of us who have either been a member of this Council or read the paper or just kept abreast of what is going on in the world, know that there have been hundreds of thousands of dollars, millions and millions of dollars that have been spent in this City on frivolous items that are not certainly as worthy as the Women's Commission and on bizarre things where money should not have been spent.

Let me give you one that happened yesterday. I was walking down the street, coming out of the Grant Building, and saw the men working out there on Grant Street and said, "When will this be done? When will Grant Street be done?" They said, "July." I said, "What's the problem?" They said, "Oh, we ran into another problem. Something wrong with the curb." I said, "Didn't you check before? Wasn't there a check? Wasn't there some drilling done to find out whether we were going to have a problem?" He just looked at me blankly because he knew what I was talking about.

The long and short of it, I said, "We've had a million dollar overrun on Phase II, a million dollar overrun on Phase IV. How much is this overrun going to be?" They said, "Probably a million dollars."

We're talking about a three million over-run on Grant Street. One million on the Bloomfield Bridge. We could go on and on forever.

Look at the list that we have here: artificial turf for Dean Field. After much debate and much soul searching and twisting of arms and rejection of this bill for years, we finally decided this was a worthy effort and we voted for this turf. Can you tell me that 50 percent of the population, one of the umbrella groups of this community that represents women, is certainly not as important as having the artificial turf for Dean Field?

I cannot believe that we're going to take the position as a Council and say, "Well, there are other groups that are needy too." You have to determine needy and needy. I'm sure all of us could come up with 100 groups that should be funded for more dollars, but sometimes and umbrella group, in the long term, by letting them survive, can do more for all the groups that we want to fund and can't fund, particularly in the issue of women's problems.

I believe it was Mr. Darkins who asked the group to justify some of the concerns that he had and I think he was absolutely right in doing so. And the Women's Commission supplied all of Council with a litany of what is happening with the money, the dollars. And as you know, one of the things that changed my mind about the Women's Commission was the fact that, for example, they are working with unmarried children who are getting pregnant and encouraging them to stay in school and that there are other alternatives for them. If for no other reason, we ought to be supporting this group.

On the issue of the other needy groups, I think we need to look at cleaning up our act in the City and I think the legislation to stop the giveaways that is pending before Council will provide us with some other monies that hopefully we can direct to the groups that come to us and ask for additional funding when it is imperative that we do that.

But, you know, it's the old story about if you give a man a fish, he eats for one day. If you give him a fishing line, he learns how to fish and eats forever.

I think by funding the Women's Commission, The Greater Pittsburgh Commission For Women, what we're doing is providing help to groups for a very long time, not just a one shot deal.

Just to wind this up, I want to give just a little bit of history. The Greater Pittsburgh Commission For Women are not asking for a handout, they're asking for a hand. They're asking just to get through the rest of this year so that they can go to the private sector and raise dollars. Anybody that can be involved in any group knows that you don't get your money by just going out and asking for it. You make your proposals, you submit your proposals, you have to wait until they have their board meeting, sometimes in November, and the money is not forthcoming for some time.

I don't think we should cut off the legs of the Women's Commission by saying, "We made a mistake. You asked for seventy-five, we cut you back to twenty-five and we're not going to make you whole to get you through to the point where you can begin to stand on your own two feet."

I plead with you. This is 50 percent of the population, women. And while we give monies to very worthy women's issue oriented organizations, I think an umbrella group of this nature is imminently important and I urge you very strongly to rethink your vote and to please vote for this legislation.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, I voted in December as part of the budget proceedings to allocate I believe $25,000 to this group and it had nothing to do with some of the issues Michelle talked about. It rather had to do with the issue of performance and what I thought the mission of this important Commission should be.

I've been critical of the Commission for the last couple of years upon coming to elective office because I felt that this Commission, so named Commission on Women, should be far more vocal and far more strident as an advocacy group for women on women's issues.

My vote in December had nothing to do with the availability of funds or what exactly the budgetary constraints were for the group and/or City government. It rather had to do with how important I felt this group was meeting the kind of advocacy agenda that needs to be done in this City.

I'm willing to reconsider my vote, and I'm going to do that today, but it's going to be with the understanding that this group is going to be far more vocal and that when I attend a conference, it can't be a conference of all white, upper-income women discussing child care. It has to be a group that's going to be far more vocal and strident and advocacy oriented on a whole broad range of issue.

And I hope that none of the issues are direct service. I don't see this group providing direct services, involved in social service activity. I think the Commission on Family, as well as a host of other direct service providers, are more capable of doing that. I think this group's work is very much needed in the City, but it has to be a challenge where it has to challenge major institutions in this City, including City government, including the State Legislature, on a whole range of issues which time does not permit me to talk about today, least of which are some of the child care agendas, the pay equity issue, equal pay for equal work. And that means not being a group of very nice people; that means being a group of individuals who have an advocacy agenda who can take on in whatever fashion is appropriate in terms of use of tactics and strategy, to take on major institutions, challenge major institutions, including City government, to do what it should be doing.

If the group is going to do that, I'm going to reconsider my vote. And hopefully this discussion will come up again at the end of the year and we can evaluate the group's performance.

Mr. Darkins:

Mr. President, I was not here last December when we were voting on this particular issue and money to be allocated for the Greater Pittsburgh Commission For Women. I had raised a point last week in Council because I was concerned about the minorities that participated with the minority group. And after seeing some of our great women in the City of Pittsburgh such as Judge Cynthia Baldwin, Gwen Elliott, Lynn Hays-Freeland, Tammy Neil Taylor and Dorse Carson Williams. I'm convinced that we have the proper setting there to be of great help to all women that are concerned.

I also take into consideration what Councilman Ferlo has said, that sometimes it does take some time for things to get off the ground. And in getting it off the ground, there's a lot of organization structure that has to be depended upon.

I feel that this is a great commission and I feel that the women of the City of Pittsburgh shouldn't be slighted because they are a great forerunner in our community affairs and City government.

With this in mind, I'm ready to vote today.

Mr. Coyne:

Mr. President, last Wednesday at the preliminary vote I voted against this and I will be voting against it today.

It's not that I'm questioning the work this organization does. In fact, in the two budget hearings that I have had a role in in my term on Council so far, I voted in support of this organization and I'm sure next year at budget time I would vote in support of the organization again.

My main problem lies with the precedent that would be set. This is a group that came in at budget time and was given X amount of dollars, and now is coming back to try to seek the original amount they requested.

Regardless of what we're saying that they will have to go out and solicit private funds or they didn't know this was coming, the information I'm receiving is that the original agreement with this group was that in '87, '88 and '89 they would receive $75,000 a year and they knew full well that in 1990 it would be reduced to $25,000. That's the information I received.

That's only a smaller point, I believe, because of all the groups who did come in and receive money, they still did pretty well. We have groups, the Clean Water Action, and with the problems we've had with our water supply in the river, we know how important that is. They've requested $15,000 and received nothing.

People's Oakland which deals with mental ill people who could be roaming the streets, living in the streets, to try to help these people get their lives back in order, they requested $10,000 and received nothing.

The Vietnam Leadership Program requested $20,000 and got $8,000.

The Neighborhood Legal Services which provide desperately needed services for people who can't afford it themselves, requested $17,000 and they received $10,000.

The Women's Center and Shelter requested $50,000 and they received $30,000.

The Tri-State Conference On Steel which is doing an excellent job in trying to get our local economy back on its feet with the electric furnaces in South Side, requested $30,000 and received $15,000.

And if you add up all these numbers and you look at the groups, you'll see that all these groups are needed services in the community. They all are having financially serious problems, and they do not receive what they requested. And if we attempt to fund all the groups, and this is what I'm afraid of, the precedent that we may be setting if we let this group come in and receive the original amount they requested, we're looking at possibly $470,000, additional, if every one of these other groups came in who didn't receive their funds which we would have to be giving out.

I think it's very foolish in the middle of the year to be playing with these kinds of numbers.

As was mentioned, the City is facing extra expenditures with the Police settlement. And everyone got a good press and talked about the wage tax cut and everything at budget time, and to provide this money we're talking about a possible increase in the wage tax for next year.

I don't think it's a very smart policy for the City to take. I think it's establishing a bad precedent and I would urge my colleagues to vote against it.

Mr. Cohen:

Mr. President, as I mentioned on Wednesday, I think this is a tough issue and Councilman Coyne raises a very good point.

I think, though, that this case is distinguishable for two reasons. The first is that this organization contains the stamp of the City, that it was created three years ago by Mayor Caliguiri and for that reason has the stamp of the City on it. It was created to look into issues affecting women, like pay equity that we discussed earlier. Women make 67 cents to every man in the workforce, and that's an important issue. Child care, with more and more women entering the workforce, that has become an increasingly important issue. And assisting women in establishing their own businesses. So, it really contains the stamp of the City on it for these worthy causes.

The other is that I'm afraid that if we don't provide money for this group, that it may have to shut its doors. And that's what really distinguishes this, I think, from many of the other groups that come before Council.

It is true that this group should have done a better job in raising money in the private sector, and I hope that they will try harder as they continue. But that doesn't mean that we should allow this group to die and that's why I'll be voting to support this bill.

Michelle Madoff:

I appreciate the comments made by my colleagues. One of the issues that was raised is that we ought to be dealing in the studies on pay equity. I believe that the Women's Commission did indeed meet with Mr. Ferlo and with myself and I'm sure talked to other members of Council. And that study alone, if it were done like all our other consulting jobs, we're talking about a $75,000 funding.

We need to keep them in business so that the kind of efforts and interests that pertain to the well being of this community, which I repeat, better than 50 percent are women, must be addressed.

I would like to just, on a note of levity, point out that we spent so much money on consulting projects that never go anywhere. For the benefit of my colleague, Mr. Ricciardi, I recall a study that was done, I don't know if the new members would know about it, on the issue of police protection in the City, the need for police. A map was laid out and the consultant said, what we need is a police officer who can cover Carson Street and Grandview at the same time. He looked at a map and he forgot that there's a little minor item of a mountain there. You'd need a Buck Rogers belt. Well, they paid for that study.

We paid $300,000 for artificial turf for Dean Field. I think that's necessary. It took us a long time to see the light on that and do it.

The bottom line of all this, if we spend our energies and time reviewing the areas in which we can conserve dollars in the operation of the City and advising and consulting with the Administration, there would be enough money for all these other groups.

But, as my colleague, Mr. Cohen, said, this is an issue where they haven't had enough time to go out to the private sector as yet and raise the money, as well they should. You can't put an umbrella group such as this out of business on the basis of there being other needy groups. If we want to help other needy groups, we have to come up with some creative, innovative ideas. One of the ideas was to give C-TAC

$40,000 to help the groups and C-TAC wouldn't take it. You know what I'm talking about, Jack. Every year I try to stop the funding for that group.

There are so many things that we do that are foolish. This is not a foolish issue. This is something we should have funded initially. Again, I say it was an error and I think we should be courageous enough to correct our own error, give them the money, let them get through the year, and then worry about next year.

(MR. WAGNER'S COMMENTS ON BILL NO. 587 - WEDNESDAY, 4/18/90)

Mr. Wagner:

I have one question. Director, does this include the bus ways?

Ms. Downing:

No. That study is being done independently by the Port Authority. We are actually going to use these funds for two transportation studies. One is a longer range study of different transportation alternatives, which will include looking at mass transit and rapid transit, but it doesn't specifically address this bus way issue right now, bus lane.

Mr. Wagner:

If that is the case, I would simply request that the study include the potential for a mass transit linkage between Oakland, the Technology Center and Downtown, and that has been discussed in the past in terms of alternative ways, whether it be light rail, bus way or whatever. But those linkages are very important in the future from all three points. So you are saying it will include that?

Ms. Downing:

Yes, because we are trying to look long range and we are looking at alternative transportation modes. So that will be one phase of that study.

(MR. WAGNER'S COMMENTS ON BILL NO. 622 - WEDNESDAY, 4/18/90)

Mr. Wagner:

Director, I will be brief. I would just like to make a comment on the record that I have discussed briefly with you and your Assistant Director, Mr. Farmer.

I am very much in support and I know Council is of this project to enhance pedestrian access to Three Rivers Stadium and also to Downtown. My concern is that the access points on the Downtown side are not convenient enough to generate the pedestrian traffic that we hope to generate between the two points.

I am simply asking you as part of these monies, the application and the design work, to do everything humanly possible to get your design people to try to find a more direct route to Fort Duquesne Boulevard, rather than people having to go into the park under the archway, across the bridge and the other length of the park to get to Downtown. If we are going to effectively utilize these pedestrian accesses and get people to park in Downtown, utilize Downtown restaurants, to go to the Stadium, we need to do everything humanly possible to make sure the access points are convenient. If they are not convenient, we are not going to get a whole lot of people to utilize them.

So, if that means possibly looking at the other side of the bridge as, say, pedestrian walkway rather than the side we now have to get through the maze of ramps or somehow jumping under the bridge, whatever it may be, I am asking you to look at every potential alternative.

Ms. Downing:

Okay. We have made that commitment. We will study those alternatives.

(MR. WAGNER'S COMMENTS ON BILL NOS. 584 AND 585 - WEDNESDAY, 4/18/90)

Mr. Wagner:

Director, in regard to this, has there been any communication with the Port Authority on the roadway work to be done here?

Mr. Sciulli:

Councilman, in every project we have, we meet with every utility and agency, they are all contacted prior to the design. They are invited to participate during the design process. I am sure they have been contacted.

Mr. Wagner:

I am sorry if I missed it. This project would actually be done, when, in '92?

Mr. Sciulli:

Construction will begin in '91. The first bill, 584, is to get a consultant to do the design. We anticipate the design to be completed by the end of the year, construction to start in the spring of '91.

Mr. Wagner:

All right. The reason I asked about the Port Authority, as you are aware, I am sure, they are talking about -- hopefully not talking, it will happen -- a bus way, Corliss bus way, which will come across the old Wabash Piers and dump into Downtown. One of the alternatives of roadways coming into Downtown is on First Avenue or Stanwix Street area. And the only reason I mentioned it is the Port Authority has yet to determine how they will bring their roadways into Downtown Pittsburgh with that project. And obviously, the First Avenue area could be a critical area.

Mr. Sciulli:

We wouldn't be using First Avenue as the through-way for that, but you are right, there may be some ingress or egress at the corner of First and Stanwix. Our staff has been in touch with the Port Authority on this.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. Coyne:

Mr. President, last weekend I had the opportunity to go to the Frick Nature Center for the dedication of a handicapped accessible nature trail. It's the first one of its type in the area. During the ceremonies and discussions that took place afterwards, I had the opportunity to talk to many people who are involved with the handicapped community of our area and one of the concerns which was brought up to me, and something that my office is currently working on, is the enactment of building inspection of carrying out the regulations which City Planning has put upon new buildings for handicapped accessibility. That's something that I'm working on right now to make sure that it's being done.

But one thing of concern that we may be able to deal with right now which was brought to my attention was the new Phar-mor Store which is located on the corner of Shady Avenue and Forbes Avenue in the 14th Ward. It seems that when this store was designed, it was made handicapped accessible; however, the problem is that the handicapped parking spaces are at the bottom end of the lot. And if you're in a wheelchair, what you need to do is go out of the lot, down Forbes Avenue, up Shady Avenue, and enter the store from the side.

The folks that I spoke with on Saturday felt it would be more appropriate if the handicapped parking spaces were located at the top of the lot, right next to the store. And if the store could, put a small ramp in so that a handicapped person who wanted to use that facility would just need to get out of the car and take the ramp in.

I was hoping that maybe Council could send a letter to the owners of Phar-mor, not ordering them or anything, but ask them to look at the situation and maybe correct it so that it would be more accessible to the handicapped population of the City.

The Chair:

Mr. Perry, would you please proceed to do that?

Mr. Perry:

Yes.

Mr. Coyne:

Thank you.

Michelle Madoff:

I'd like to make a request for a post agenda, I guess Mike would schedule it, for West End-Elliott's Community Center and I'd like to have all the principals who would be involved present, Louise Brown, Planning, URA, and we'll give you a list of all the people. The first opening that you have. And I'd like my colleagues to be here to see a community that has been cheated.

Mr. Coyne moved to approve the Minutes of Monday, April 9, 1990 and Tuesday, April 17, 1990.

Mr. Darkins seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Coyne

Council adjourned.

PRESENTATIONS

Mr. Coyne:

Mr. President and Members of Council, today I have with me members from the Pittsburgh Mediation Center. We have Mike Nash, Bob Gersch and Nancy Artz.

Mr. Coyne presents

No. 684 WHEREAS, the Pittsburgh Mediation Center provides mediation services as an alternative to settling disputes in both interpersonal and multi-party situations; and

WHEREAS, the Pittsburgh Mediation Center in partnership with the Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh has established neighborhood mediation sites at the East Liberty Branch Library, the Hazelwood Branch Library, the Hill District Branch Library, the Homewood Branch Library and the West End Branch Library; and

WHEREAS, the Pittsburgh Mediation Center has provided mediation services to the youth of our City by coordinating mediation programs through the Schenley High School Student Mediation Service and the East Hills Elementary School Conflict Management Committee; and

WHEREAS, the Pittsburgh Mediation Center provided agencies and organizations with training and technical assistance including conflict management training, negotiating skills building and community skills building; and

WHEREAS, during the month of May, 1990, the Pittsburgh Mediation Center, along with the Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh, the Better Business Bureau, the Family Mediation Council of Western Pennsylvania, the Pennsylvania Council of Mediators, the Schenley High School Student Mediation Service, the East Hills Elementary School Conflict Management Committee, the Brashear Association, the South Oakland Citizens Council and the Northside Tenants Reorganization will participate in various activities aimed at promoting mediation in Pittsburgh.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh does hereby proclaim the month of May, 1990 as "Mediation Month" in the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Coyne moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Cohen seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Coyne:

Thank you, Members of Council. Nancy Artz would like to say a few words for the Mediation Center.

Ms. Artz:

Good morning. My name is Nancy Artz and I volunteer as the Program Manager of the Keys to Peaceful Conflict Resolution Program at East Hills Elementary School. I'm also a volunteer community mediator with the Pittsburgh Mediation Center and a member of the Mediation Center's Board of Directors.

I'm here this morning along with other members of the staff and the board of the Mediation Center to thank the Council, particularly Councilman Coyne, for your support of the resolution proclaiming May as Mediation Month in the City of Pittsburgh.

You are to be commended for recognizing the vital service the Pittsburgh Mediation Center provides to the City.

Since 1981, it has compiled an impressive 92 percent success rate in helping neighbors, landlords and tenants, businesses and customers, rival youth groups, community groups and relatives to reach lasting and mutually agreeable solutions to their disputes. It is crucial to give mediation this kind of public recognition so that increasing numbers of people will be encouraged to choose it as a peaceful conflict resolution alternative.

The Mediation Center also illustrates a noteworthy model of community agency partnership since it joined with the Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh in 1987. In this partnership, the Library is able to extend the kind of community service it makes available to its patrons and the Mediation Center benefits from comfortable neutral and convenient locations for its mediation sessions.

The Mediation Center has its administrative office in the Homewood Branch of the Carnegie and offers its services in seven other branches.

In addition to direct mediation services, the Mediation Center's mission also includes education and training in mediation, negotiation, conflict management and communication skills. It provides workshops, seminars, and other kinds of classes tailored to the specific needs of groups or institutions.

A significant portion of the Center's work focuses on youth training. Working with parents, administrators and teachers, it helped to design and implement the Student Mediation Program at Schenley High School in which a segment of the student population has been trained as mediators to help fellow students peacefully resolve disputes.

A second model is in place at East Hills in which all students and teachers have been trained to use a peaceful conflict resolution process.

The central administration of the Pittsburgh Public Schools now recognizes the importance of empowering the children in its care with this lifetime skill of peaceful conflict resolution and will be working with the Pittsburgh Mediation Center to expand school based programs.

As a result of the success of the Pittsburgh Mediation Center, the annual conference of the Pennsylvania Council of Mediators will be held here in 1991. It will be a wonderful opportunity to showcase the unique relationship between the Mediation Center, the Carnegie Library, the neighborhoods and the City of Pittsburgh.

To celebrate Mediation Month, the Mediation Center has scheduled an array of interesting workshops and training sessions. A packet will be made available to each of you describing these activities. I invite you to attend some of these events and encourage you to encourage your constituents to also take advantage of them.

Again, thank you so much for your recognition and support of the Pittsburgh Mediation Center.

Mr. Darkins presents

No. 685 WHEREAS, The Third Episcopal District 1990 Mid-Year Convocation Services of the African Methodist Episcopal Church will hold their mid-year convocation services in Pittsburgh under the leadership of Reverend Samson M. Cooper and presiding Bishop, Reverend Richard Allen Hildebrand;

and

WHEREAS, these services will commence April 26, 1990 with a pre-convocation Lay Banquet at the Hyatt Hotel; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Yvonne Walker Taylor, past President of Wilberforce University and the only female President in Wilberforce's 134-year history, is the guest speaker for the banquet; and

WHEREAS, on April 27th, the Reverend Mickarl Thomas of the "historic" Charles Street A.M.E. Church of Boston, Massachusetts, will be the morning guest speaker at Bethel A.M.E. Church; and

WHEREAS, also on April 27th, the Reverend Dr. Benjamin L. Hooks, Executive Director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, will be the evening guest speaker; and

WHEREAS, the Convocation will conclude on April 28th at Bethel A.M.E. Church with a "Working Breakfast" sponsored by the A.M.E. Church Women's Missionary Society; and

WHEREAS, over 700 guests will attend the Convocation from West Virginia, Ohio and Western Pennsylvania, spending thousands of dollars at restaurants, hotels and other businesses in the City of Pittsburgh, making a significant contribution to the City's economic growth.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh graciously welcomes the Third Episcopal District 1990 Mid-Year Convocation Services to the great City of Pittsburgh; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, on behalf of the residents of the City, extend to the Convocation membership hospitality, kindness and an invitation to hold future Convocations in the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Darkins moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Ferlo:

I'd like Carrie Brunett to come forward and Rick Flannagan.

Mr. Ferlo presents

No. 686 WHEREAS, Carrie and Patrick Brunett came to Pittsburgh from Riverside, California in September 1987; and

WHEREAS, Pat was attending medical school at the University of Pittsburgh and Carrie was operating a retail business on Penn Avenue; and

WHEREAS, Carrie saw a need to provide organized, after-school activities for youth in the Garfield and Bloomfield communities that would help them with their reading and general homework; and

WHEREAS, Carrie approached the Bloomfield-Garfield Corporation with an idea to sponsor such a project; and

WHEREAS, in April 1989, the Bloomfield-Garfield Reading Center opened to the public at 5108 Penn Avenue, due in large measure to the efforts of Carrie Brunett; and

WHEREAS, Carrie and Pat will be departing for California in June to live there permanently.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh does hereby recognize the important contributions which Pat and Carrie Brunett have made to the lives of school children in the Bloomfield and Garfield communities through the opening of a neighborhood reading center, and wishes them the best of success in all of their future endeavors.

Mr. Ferlo moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Milllones seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Ferlo:

The previous City Council was very supportive with some allocation of dollars, Community Development Block Grant, to assist the BGC in opening the reading center. It's very successful, it's very well-attended by children in the community, and it certainly has generated a lot of volunteers who work in the community.

Carrie and her husband, Pat, Dr. Pat who I assume is not able to be here today, unfortunately -- I don't like to pass proclamations when people leave the City, but recognizing that they have made such an important contribution I thought is very important and they were honored this past Saturday at a special event at the community group office, and I just wanted to take the time to show all of our appreciation for your hard work.

Ms. Brunett:

I would like to thank Jim Ferlo and the rest of City Council for this honor on behalf of a very large group of people in our neighborhood that have pulled together to make this Reading

Center work.

I would also like to commend the Bloomfield-Garfield Corporation for shouldering the financial burden of the Bloomfield-Garfield Reading Center. This library has made a tremendous difference in upgrading the quality of life in this neighborhood.

For folks who didn't know it, the Bloomfield-Garfield Reading Center in partnership with the Pittsburgh Literacy Council offers adult tutoring for improving reading skills. Children of all ages may get help with their homework due to the tireless efforts of our wonderful volunteers. And everyone may take advantage of the many on-going cultural programs the Reading Center offers such as story hours for children, poetry readings, films for everyone, and lectures.

This Reading Center really is a group effort that truly demonstrates the principal that many hands make for light work.

So, I hope that other Reading Centers in the City have the good luck that we have had and I hope that this Reading Center will serve as a model for other communities in the United States.

I love Pittsburgh and it's been a pleasure to live here. Thank you very much.

Ms. Fortson:

It's an honor to be here. I'm a volunteer with the Bloomfield-Garfield Neighborhood Reading Center primarily because of the professional volunteering recruitment of Carrie Brunett. Because of her I volunteered my services there in poetry and other lectures.

Thank you for the opportunity.

Mr. Regan:

I'd like to have my friends from Poland come up here, please.

The Chair:

Mr. Frank Eckle and Mr. Don Brennan, representing Fe. International.

Mr. Regan:

And Christopher DeMontfort from Katowice, Poland.

Mr. Regan and Mr. Wagner present

No. 687 WHEREAS, the rapidly changing state of affairs in Europe is presenting opportunities never before realized; and

WHEREAS, the Poland - U.S.A. Society in Katowice, Poland has expressed its readiness to enter into an abiding cooperation with the City of Pittsburgh based on the "Sister Cities" formula; and

WHEREAS, no other City in Poland may prove to be a better match with Pittsburgh under the Sister Cities formula, than Katowice, the largest industrial center in Poland, with a population of 1/2 million; and

WHEREAS, a Sister Cities Agreement between Pittsburgh and Katowice would open the door for wide cooperation and exchange between the two cities in the spheres of: economy, culture, art, science, tourism and ecology.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, hereby urges the Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh to expeditiously take the proper steps in establishing a Sister Cities relationship between Pittsburgh and Katowice, Poland which will create lasting ties and friendly relationships between the two cities.

Mr. Regan moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Regan:

Normally I get to go ahead, but since the President of Council is involved in this, I have to step back and let him take over from here. I hope you gentlemen understand that.

The Chair:

Mr. Regan, I would still like you to introduce these gentlemen, but I'd like to say a word or two first, and present these resolutions to them.

This resolution is actually a two-step process urging the Administration to join the Sister City Organization and to make Katowice the Sister City in Poland.

In addition, we are introducing a resolution today allocating $600 to join the International Sister City Organization urged by these gentlemen as being the right and proper thing to do to enhance the City of Pittsburgh and that city in Poland. It will create tremendous economic opportunities and ties which we have not had in the past.

We welcome all of you here today and I'd like Frank Eckle and Don Brennan to please say a few words.

Mr. Brennan:

The passage of this resolution further exemplifies the support of democracy and the democratic institutions in Eastern Europe. The Eastern Europeans are going through turmoil right now and the extent of the need for democratic principles in the form of municipal government leadership and ties with democratic cities such as the City of Pittsburgh and other cities throughout the United States and the need of Sister City International to establish not only technological and commercial and cultural ties is very evident to the Poles.

We all want to see Eastern Europe established as a bastion of democratic institutions. Without the support of individuals such as yourself and without the support of the United States, Eastern Europe is going to fail in its attempts to revert to a democratic system.

So, we'd like to thank you for your interest and for your commitment and your support on behalf of Sister Cities International and on behalf of the City of Pittsburgh and we at Duquesne University and also with Fe. International. Thank you.

Mr. Eckle:

This is very important to us, not only for our interest in the political changes that are taking over there, but it opens up a realm of business opportunities for us to help Eastern Europe and, like everything else, expand the business opportunities in our part of Pennsylvania. We wish to do this through helping joint ventures arise where products finished from this area can be exported and then shipped to other areas over there.

Through the efforts of Jan Sajkiewicz and Christopher DeMontfort, we're able to do these things and we want to work with the other bureaus who do nationwide or international business. We just want to be the focal point for the Polish entity and then from there into other East Bloc countries. Thank you very much.

Mr. Christopher DeMontfort:

As a friend adopted by Pittsburgh Citizens of Poland, I would like to say thank you for your interest because Polish people really wait for support from American people. And you know traditional old ties are very important to be upkept. People in Poland interested in American democratic traditions, they only want a piece of action. And I think this step on the side of City Council in Pittsburgh is very helpful for our Polish people to develop their democratic system. Thank you very much for this.

Dr. Jan Napolan Sajkiewicz:

Myself being in Pittsburgh and from Katowice, I would like to express my gratefulness to the Council and to the people of Pittsburgh for their willingness. Sister City was my city of origin. Thank you very much. It's a great moment in my life.

Mr. Regan:

Maybe we can all get together in December and say, "Silent Night and Holy Night". (translation)

Good luck to you and we're honored to be able to help you in City Council here today. Thank you.

The Chair:

I'd like to thank my colleague, Mr. Regan, because we talked about this several weeks ago and the gentlemen that were here urging us that we do this and do it expeditiously.

There's one final step left also that this resolution go over to the Mayor's Office immediately today and we ask the Mayor's Office to complete the formal actions that are necessary because Pittsburgh is in competition with other cities in America to become the Sister City for Katowice. Thank you.

Mr. Ricciardi:

I'd like to ask Julia Fortunato, Executive Director of Elder-Ado and Philip Cheswick, Member of the Board of Directors of Elder-Ado to please step forward.

Mr. Ricciardi presents

No. 688 WHEREAS, Elder-Ado, Inc. has been named as the 1990 Grand Champion Winner of the Pennsylvania Hall of Fame of Champions of Older Workers; and

WHEREAS, Elder-Ado, Inc. has senior centers in Knoxville, Carrick and Beltzhoover serving our older adults; and

WHEREAS, Elder-Ado, Inc. has been selected from more than 100 nominations statewide; and

WHEREAS, Elder-Ado, Inc. was nominated for this honor by the Allegheny County Department of Aging; and

WHEREAS, the Hall of Fame includes employers from around the state who have made exemplary efforts to hire our older adults in their workforce.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh congratulates Elder-Ado, Inc. for its commendable efforts on behalf of our older citizens.

Mr. Ricciardi moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Cohen seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Ricciardi:

Over the past year I have had an opportunity to visit two centers in Knoxville and Beltzhoover and I was very impressed with the management and the dedication and programming of these centers.

After much discussion with Council President Jack Wagner, who has not only visited all the centers including the Carrick center, we decided to give this resolution today.

I'll ask Julia who is the Executive Director if she would please say a few words.

Ms. Fortunato:

Thank you, Gene, Jack and Council.

On behalf of the Elder-Ado Board of Directors, staff and members, we're very honored to receive this award and we feel as though hiring older people has been an advantage to us and not only stabilized the community, they stabilized our agency. We're very proud of this honor and I thank you very much for extending it.

Mr. Cheswick:

Thank you, Council. We feel, at the Board of Elder-Ado, that this is a testimonial to the personal efforts of Julia Fortunato. She has done magnificent work with very minimal funds. The services provided in that area of the City of Pittsburgh I believe speak for themselves. And hopefully, 50 years from now, we'll be back here to accept another award. Thank you very much.

Mr. Ricciardi:

I would like to ask Michael Senko, Program Director of Special Populations, and Cheryl Brown, Center Director at Northview Heights, to please step forward.

I'd like to also ask Bishop Darkins and Councilman Ferlo if they would bring up our 100 year old nominees today.

I must say, when I came out to the audience looking for the two people that are 100 years old, I passed them by. I had to ask Mr. Senko where they were, but we have found them.

We have 35 resolutions today, and Michael Senko will take each one to one of our senior centers throughout the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Ricciardi presents

No. 689 WHEREAS, the month of May is an ideal time to honor Pittsburgh's senior citizens because with the spring season comes the celebration of brighter days and the promise of a full life; and

WHEREAS, the theme of this month-long tribute is "In Praise of Aging" in recognition of senior adults as a vital part of the Pittsburgh community; and

WHEREAS, Citiparks' senior centers facilitate the social, emotional and physical well-being of older adults and promote the older person's confidence in his or her ability to lead an independent life; and

Mr. Ricciardi:

Mr. President and Members of Council, it is only fitting today that we honor our older adults for all the time and energy that they've given us in the past. I'd like to ask Ms. Brown to please say a few words.

Ms. Brown:

On behalf of both David and Gemma, they'd like to express their appreciation for this award as well as the many other seniors throughout the City of Pittsburgh that have reached the ripe age of 90 or above.

At this time, I'd like to also extend an invitation to all of you to come and celebrate Older Americans Month with us starting next Monday here at the City County Building downstairs. There will be a number of various activities in which the seniors themselves are taking part in, namely one, a fashion show which Gemma modeled for the Gala but, unfortunately, for Older Americans Month she declined. She said she's hanging up here modeling shoes. She's going to hand them down to someone else.

So, again, we'd like to thank you on behalf of both David and Gemma and the other seniors from the other centers. Thank you.

Mr. Ricciardi:

I would like to ask Mr. Christian and Gemma to say something.

Mr. Christian:

I feel fine and happy to be here. I enjoy this.

Mr. Ricciardi:

When is your next birthday, Mr. Christian?

Mr. Christian:

June 10th. I will be 101.

Mr. Ricciardi:

Gemma, would you like to say a few words, please?

Ms. Ommogrosso:

Thank you for everything. My birthday is October 24th. I was born in 1890 and I will be 100 years old.

Mr. Ricciardi:

Congratulations. Thank you very much.

The Chair:

Thank you, Mr. Ricciardi, for two excellent resolutions. The previous one, Elder-Aldo, also pertains to senior citizens and disadvantaged people and they're very appropriate today.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm going to change my vote to no and I'd like my comments brought forward also.

(REMARKS ON FOLLOWING PAGES)

(BEGINNING - MR. COHEN'S AND MICHELLE MADOFF'S COMMENTS ON BILL NO. 618, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 25, 1990)

Michelle Madoff:

Discussion. Fred Reginella, please.

Fred, is this because of the suggestions that were made by Councilman Wagner to try and change some things or is this already something else that was on the books? What specifically are we increasing the dollars for?

Mr. Reginella:

Let me provide you with -- first of all, let me say that this project, for the benefit of those members of Council that may not be aware of the nature of the project, the conditions under which it was instituted, let me provide you with a letter that we received from The Carnegie at the onset of the project stipulating the projected cost of the project.

As you can see at the bottom of Page 1, the cost of the project was to have been $1.35 million. I will also give you the current projected cost which is $1.4 million. For an increase of essentially $50,000.00. The increases are due to three basic things.

The original cost was supposed to have been $1.35 million, the current cost which is more or less the projected final cost is $1.4 million, so we have an increase of about $50,000.00.

In increases were brought about by some extra work that we requested of the electrical contract which had to do with our increasing some signage along the relocated roadway to conform with PennDOT's requirements. That increase, as you can see if you compare the respective line items, is about $17,000.00.

Also if you recall, a few weeks back we were here in Council requesting an increase of $10,000.00 for some trees and that has already been approved. That increase is $10,000.00 for the planting of some trees. Additionally, we found it necessary to retain the services of a consultant during construction for an additional cost of about $47,000.00 and that actually comes to about $77,000.00. Obviously some things during the execution of work decreased to make the net increase approximately $50,000.00.

Now the reason for the $160,000.00 is simply this. The City entered into an agreement with The Carnegie for $1.25 million back in 1987, considerably well in advance of the time that the real project costs were known. That figure, $1.25 million, was based on the availability of funds not so much the actual cost of the project. I think the City was saying to The Carnegie that we will give you $1.25 million toward the construction of this roadway and if the costs of that construction exceeded the $1.25 million, then The Carnegie would have to be responsible for the increases however, the political reality of the situation has dictated otherwise. The costs were indeed $1.35 million to begin with and are now $1.4 million so the City has agreed to provide The Carnegie with the additional funding hence the reason for $160,000.00.

Michelle Madoff:

Additional dollars?

Mr. Reginella:

Let me also say this. The original commitment of the City to this project was $750,000.00 and we have not changed that figure for the simple reason that in the interim the Department applied for a grant from the state and received a grant of $600,000.00 from the state so were not really increasing our participation with having to provide additional dollars, we're merely --

Michelle Madoff:

-- what of percentage is this?

Mr. Reginella:

-- this was a grant. This had nothing to do with the standard federal/state contribution.

So that as I said, the original commitment on the part of the City of $750,000.00 remains unchanged because of the contribution from the state.

Michelle Madoff:

If I look at what you have given me here, how did you determine those numbers?

Mr. Reginella:

Those numbers were for the the costs of construction.

Michelle Madoff:

Is this all done now?

Mr. Reginella:

Right.

Michelle Madoff:

So they bid.

Mr. Reginella:

Not to the City but to The Carnegie because The Carnegie constructed this project and designed it and managed it.

Michelle Madoff:

How much money put into the whole thing?

Mr. Reginella:

As far as road relocation, none.

Michelle Madoff:

Let me tell you what my concern is and you know what it is. How did we come up -- who actually cost out all of these items so we know that these are realistic costs of doing business? Your family is in the business of construction and you've been in it all your life and you exactly what I'm talking about. Did someone price the brick, the metal, the cement, was it actually priced out? What cost estimator did all of this?

Mr. Reginella:

The costing was performed by the consultant on behalf of The Carnegie which is Michael Baker. They did the cost estimating.

Michelle Madoff:

On what basis? Did they do it on materials? You have seen it, you initialed it, you checked to see that they priced everything?

Mr. Reginella:

Their cost estimate was submitted to the Department for review.

Michelle Madoff:

And you picked up the phone and called the suppliers and doublechecked to see if those prices were right.

Mr. Reginella:

No, none of that. I don't think that's quite the way to do a cost estimate. That's an issue for another day.

Michelle Madoff:

But it is the issue for today because your former boss sat here at the table and said "We can't do that, we don't have time for that". Well, that's costing the City a lot of money so we could be spending money in other directions. I don't know, it may be a fair figure but based on everything I've seen over the years I don't think it is but I have no way of proving that.

Mr. Reginella:

The estimate has no bearing on the ultimate cost of the project. These were prices that were bid. These are the result of a competitive bidding process so the cost of the project is determined by whatever the contractors are willing to do it for.

Michelle Madoff:

On the RFP that went out to the construction people and the bidding process, was there anywhere, any number that indicated anywhere how much money we had to spend on the project?

Mr. Reginella:

The RFP does not go -- the scope of work does not in any way shape or form state what the cost of the project will be or is or what we think it is.

We put out a set of bid documents consisting of drawings and specifications and there is no prices quoteed on those documents in any way, shape or form.

Michelle Madoff:

And we did not say we want to build this road.

Mr. Reginella:

No. As a matter of fact, because the project was bid by The Carnegie, we did not go through the usual bidding process whereby we advertise for bids it was all handled by The Carnegie. We simply committed $1.25 million toward that construction by virtue of an agreement between the City and The Carnegie.

Michelle Madoff:

Who is Bruce and Merrill?

Mr. Reginella:

They are the electrical contractor. They did the lighting, the roadway signals and all of the other related wiring.

Michelle Madoff:

Who was next highest bidder? Is there a lower bidder?

Mr. Reginella:

Not a lower bidder, no. I don't know who that other firm is.

Michelle Madoff:

Is there additional work that's going to be done?

Mr. Reginella:

No. As far as we're concerned the City has no further obligations beyond the participation and the construction and the relocation of the roadway.

Michelle Madoff:

I have some real concerns, they're universal concerns and this was circumvented because you didn't actually do bidding, it was done by Carnegie and hopefully that is a realistic price and I have no way of finding that out.

Mr. Cohen:

Mr. Reginella, let's focus on the numbers for a moment. We had discussed this earlier and it's very confusing. This was originally a $1.25 million project and then we moved from --

Mr. Reginella:

-- no, it wasn't. Originally the URA and the City combined to provide funding for this project to the tune of $1.75 million. It's $1 million coming from URA and $750,000.00 coming from the City. Of that amount $500,000.00 was earmarked for Rockland acquisition and the remaining $1.25 million were then assigned to the actual construction of the roadway and that is the reason why the City entered into an agreement with The Carnegie for $1.25 million because that was all that was available and at that point in time the cost of construction wasn't really realistically known so it was just a matter of City agreeing with The Carnegie that we will provide $1.25 million toward the construction of the roadway.

Mr. Cohen:

But originally it was a $1.25 million project.

Mr. Reginella:

That's correct.

Mr. Cohen:

This chart that you gave us just now shows $1.35 million. Tell me how we got from $1.25 million to $1.35 million?

Mr. Reginella:

As I stated earlier, the figure $1.25 million wasn't predicated on actual costs, it was predicated on the availability of monies. That was all that was available so it was agreed that that's what we would provide.

Mr. Cohen:

That was supposed to be all that we're going to give to The Carnegie.

Mr. Reginella:

That's correct, that was our understanding at the time.

When the bids were taken it developed that the actual costs would $1.35 million, so technically we were $100,000.00 short at that point in time.

Mr. Cohen:

Was there discussions with The Carnegie at that time when the actual costs came in?

Mr. Reginella:

I have not been privy to those discussions but I would have to presume that the Department had discussions with The Carnegie and with the blessing of the Administration and it must have been agreed that the additional funding will be provided.

Mr. Cohen:

And how did we get from $1.35 million to the $1.42 million?

Mr. Reginella:

That is the extra work that I discussed earlier with Michelle.

Mr. Cohen:

I counted those numbers and they do not add up.

Mr. Reginella:

There was $17,000.00 for electrical work and about $47,000.00 for additional consulting services.

Mr. Cohen:

That The Carnegie decided they needed. What were those consulting services for?

Mr. Reginella:

I was hoping you wouldn't ask that question.

Mr. Cohen:

You knew somebody would.

Mr. Reginella:

I say this reluctantly because of the sensitive nature of the services.

During construction we ran into some contaminated soil at which point we had to bring in an expert to investigate the nature of the contamination and those services amounted to $47,000.00. The consultant did the study it was contaminated and therefore the material earth had to be removed from the site, it had to be farmed -- that's the term that is used to describe the particular method that was used for treating the area at the site and they will be excavating it and turning it over several times and allowing it to dry thereby allowing the contaminants to evaporate into the atmosphere.

After that process was completed the material was removed from the site to a licensed dumping site.

Mr. Cohen:

Who actually did the work for this?

Mr. Reginella:

The consultant that was responsible for doing the investigation was the consultant listed in the letter.

Mr. Cohen:

But it was done through The Carnegie.

Mr. Reginella:

Yes. All contractual obligations all the contractual responsibilities were carried out by The Carnegie. The consultant that did the soils investigation was the Earth Science Consultants at a cost of $47,000.00.

Mr. Cohen:

Was that the work for transporting these contaminated materials and also testing them?

Mr. Reginella:

I believe that that involved all of the efforts on the part of the consultant for determining the nature of the contamination to begin with for recommending the appropriate treatment procedures. The actual hauling of the material was performed by the general contractor, Dan Construction.

Mr. Cohen:

Has that problem been rectified?

Mr. Reginella:

Yes and the site is clear.

Mr. Cohen:

Well, this is I guess the second time that we have had additions to this project and this is for another $60,000 or so. How much more money is Engineering and Construction going to ask us for this project?

Mr. Reginella:

This is it. The job is completed but there are some remaining punch list items that electrical contractor has to perform. As far as the general construction is concerned it is totally completed and we have had final inspection and the project is completed so there are no additional costs involved.

Not all invoices have been submitted so there is a slight cushion in our request of about $20,000.00 because we don't know what the final invoices will be. That is the why the total figure reads $1.24 million as opposed to $1.4 million.

Mr. Cohen:

Other than anything that is on the books now there won't be any additional requests for money.

Mr. Reginella:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

If you thought that was a question you didn't want to hear I'm going to ask you another one. Twice today you said for the political reasons we came up with the money, would you explain that please?

Mr. Reginella:

I guess what I meant was the relationship between The Carnegie and City made it compelling upon the City to provide the additional funding. Perhaps it was a poor choice of words on my part.

Michelle Madoff:

Was that on in this Council to increase the money?

Mr. Reginella:

You are doing it now.

Michelle Madoff:

You mean it's already been spent and it's already done and you're coming to Council.

Mr. Reginella:

It's not spent because if we fail to pass this legislation we will not be able to amend the agreement with The Carnegie and therefore we will not be able to pay them. We're not committed to the contractor.

Michelle Madoff:

I am not attacking you. Has this work already been done?

Mr. Reginella:

The work has been performed, yes.

Michelle Madoff:

Who ordered the additional work?

Mr. Reginella:

The Carnegie.

Michelle Madoff:

Who decided the City was going to pay the difference?
Mr. Reginella:

That I can't answer but it seems to me that a commitment was made by the former Director prior to his departure with the blessing of the Administration.

Michelle Madoff:

Did this Council vote on it?

Mr. Reginella:

You are voting on it now.

Michelle Madoff:

After the work was done. What do you mean we're voting on it now?

Mr. Reginella:

Please understand that we are not under contract with the contractor. That is, he is not under contract with the City so we don't deal with the contractor. These are merely the results of negotiations between the City and The Carnegie.

Michelle Madoff:

Again, get the chip off your shoulder. Honestly, I'm not attacking you right now.

Mr. Reginella:

I believe you have the right to ask all of the questions regarding this legislation.

Michelle Madoff:

My question is that somewhere along the line there was some additional monies needed for whatever reason. Whether they wanted some trees or whether we ran into a hazardous material problem or whether we wanted to make the road better, there was some electrical other work. We made a commitment of $1.2 million or $1.3 million to this project from the City initially and that dollar amount has grown and the department director, Mr. McDermott, made a decision that he was going to pay for these additional things. He checked with the Administration and they said yes we're going to do it and the procedure should normally be that we come back to Council and say we have a problem. We think we ought to help this project. Now you may have come back to Council, I don't know but my question is, did you come back to Council?

Mr. Reginella:

No, but maybe I have an explanation for that question also.

The monies that were spent by the URA for property acquisition amounted to $400,000.00 instead of the $500,000.00 that they had originally requested so $100,000.00 did come back from the URA which made it available we thought for use toward the construction costs. However, when the money came back from URA, it went back into the trust fund and we are not able to tap that money until we have Councilmatic approval. The perception on the part of the Director was that he could use the $100,000.00 that was being returned from URA to the City without having to come back to Council, that was his misunderstanding on that score.

Michelle Madoff:

I think it's up to the Finance Chairman and Members of Council to address the issue of, he thought, he was misunderstanding -- there is a procedure. The public elects a City Council to overview the budget money and in this case and in other cases nobody came back for our approval and now that the work is done we told to voted for it so we can pay for it.

Mr. Reginella:

Council did authorize the creation of a trust fund for an amount of $1.75 million and the feeling was that as long as we could not exceed that amount we would not have to come back to Council but that isn't the case however because as I said, the money going back into the trust fund we can't use it. In essence what we are doing is amending the agreement between the City and The Carnegie. That is the reason for coming back to Council.

Michelle Madoff:

And the $1.75 million that is in the trust fund, was that assigned for this project alone?

Mr. Reginella:

Yes, and then of course that has to be supplemented by the $600,000.00 we got from the state.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm only saying there is a procedure and why Council was created and if we're supposed to be doing the approving of monies it shouldn't be after the fact, it should be before the fact.

Mr. Reginella:

This particular case was different because we are not the people authorizing the actual construction.

Michelle Madoff:

We also do not have to give them the money either.

The Chair:

Are we prepared to vote? Those in favor of the motion indicate by saying aye? Opposed?

Michelle Madoff:

Abstain.

(END OF COMMENTS)
PREPARED BY: MARY ANNE HRUSKA
STENOTYPE REPORTER

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Cohen	Mr. Millions
Mr. Coyne	Mr. Regan
Mr. Darkins	Mr. Ricciardi
Mr. Ferlo	Mr. Wagner (Pres't)

AYES 8 NOES 1

(MICHELLE MADOFF VOTING NO)

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bill passed finally.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, very briefly. It's been known by Equitable Gas ratepayers and anybody who pays an Equitable Gas bill has known for some time that the company is seeking yet another significant rate hike of 10.7 percent. That would amount to about a $29.5 million rate hike.

That petition by Equitable Gas is now before the Public Utility Commission. It has been under review for the last couple of months. This is on top of a 10.4 percent rate hike that Equitable Gas Company received just a year ago.

A number of parties across Pennsylvania, on behalf of the consumers, have filed formal complaints in attempt to challenge and to block this rate hike. I've also joined on behalf of ratepayers to challenge this rate hike. The Pennsylvania Consumer Advocate has joined and as of just a few days ago, congratulations and thank you to our new City Solicitor, Ms. Conturo, who also has filed, on behalf of the City of Pittsburgh, to challenge this rate hike.

I want to thank her publicly for following up and following through on a commitment and a pledge that she made during her inauguration proceedings where she talked about being an advocate in the position of City Solicitor, and I want to publicly thank her.

What is important, however, is that after a meeting in Harrisburg, we have requested, along with about 1,000 other people in the form of letters to the Commission, we have asked for a formal public hearing to be held by the Public Utility Commission here within the City of Pittsburgh, within the territory of the Equitable Gas customers. And as part of the elaborate proceedings before the PUC, they will hold a formal public hearing before the Commission. In fact, it will be here in these Chambers, at my request, on Thursday, May 17, 1990 at 6:30 p.m. in the evening.

I'm going to be communicating to our great Mayor and hope that she will be able to testify to the Commission on the impact of this rate hike. I hope that the small business community will show up and turn out and speak about the rate hike. I hope that individual consumers will show up and speak about the impact of yet another significant rate hike on the backs of individuals who I think are already paying their fair share for natural gas and certainly winter heat.

So, I just want to reiterate that we need a good attendance at this public hearing before the Commission. It's right here in Council Chambers on the evening of Thursday, May 17th. You don't have to sign up in advance to speak. You can appear that evening and address members of the Commission. It's my hope that Mr. Rhodes and other members of the Commission will be present also.

So, I just want to close by thanking the Solicitor, once again, for filing on behalf of our great City. And secondly, to remind Equitable Gas customers that we can work successfully in challenging this rate hike. We need participation that evening on Thursday, May 17th. Thank you.

Michelle Madoff:

Some time ago, I requested from this Council that we look into the resolution prior to this new Council for having some security available on this floor or in the building. It was decided by my colleagues to turn it over to the Safety Department and that they were to get back to us very shortly and give us some response. I have heard nothing. Has anyone else heard anything?

Just recently we've had some problems. Only this morning my staff arrived to find out that our door was open, the lights on, the door stop opening the door. Someone came up to deliver an envelope to me yesterday and was followed, claims that somebody had a weapon on them.

I believe that we have to address this issue and address it now before there's a reason to say, "Why didn't we do it?" after the fact. May I request that the President of Council check to find out why we haven't had an answer yet?

The Chair:

Mr. Perry, when was that letter sent?

Mr. Perry:

That was sent around two months ago. The Department of Public Safety did send an inspector up here to check out the locations in place up here but we didn't get a report on it yet. But he was up here.

Mr. Regan:

I met with them last week and we looked over it and we're going to put a full security system in there, with Council's approval, and a buzzer system on the door where you can't get back there unless the lady there buzzes you through. It will be glass, not all the way up but up a portion so that they'll be protected back there and nobody can get back there without being buzzed back by an electrical system. I just met with them last week and it will be very shortly until they have it all laid out for us. And, Councilwoman, I'll be glad to show it to you before we do anything.

Michelle Madoff:

Thank you. I accept that you'll do the right thing. I don't need to see it.

The Chair:

If I'm not mistaken, and I don't want to get into any lengthy discussion on this, but the original request from Council was to look at security in general in the building. As far as I'm concerned, that's what our request was and not - I mean, every area of the building is important and no area is more important than the other area, the way I look at it. And consequently, I am still looking for a report back from the appropriate departments telling us how we can enhance security in general in the building and not specifically the Fifth Floor.

Mr. Regan:

We've had a couple incidents recently and that's why we've been working on the Fifth Floor. If you give us any particular places that you'd like them to look at, I'll be glad to go with them and take a look at it.

Mr. Darkins:

Mr. Chairman, we don't want to belabor this subject but I think, as you said, as soon as we can get the report or letter back from Public Safety, then I think we can move with some further actions.

The Chair:

I agree.

Michelle Madoff:

Just a point of clarification. Mr. Perry, I would appreciate it if you would tell your staff persons that when somebody comes to see any member of Council, while they're not allowed back, they certainly can call our offices and see if we're here. I've had three instances where they have not called.

Mr. Perry:

What happens, Michelle, is that back door is left open and people come from the back into your office.

Michelle Madoff:

No, no, they didn't come to my office. They came to the desk to deliver something and I was there and I wanted to talk to them. I didn't know they were there. Just buzz the office.

Mr. Ferlo:

I'd like money for my district office as opposed to security. So, please remove one-ninth of that cost and give it to me.

The Chair:

Mr. Ferlo, you're out of order.

While we're talking about the building, I'd like to bring up a subject I know I've discussed with several Councilmembers. I'd like a letter to go from the City Clerk which is enhancing the looks of the building from the outside exterior approaching it. Cleaning up the steps, the walkway approaching the building. We have planters out front that should have flowers or plants in them that have nothing in them. I know Council allocated monies for those planters.

And twice this Council has requested that the American flag and the City flag and the County flag be flown in front of the building and, quite frankly, it's the last time I'm requesting it. I'll go out and put it up myself if the Administration doesn't do it.

Mr. Regan:

I'll help.

Mr. Darkins:

I'll join with you.

The Chair:

Thank you. But I would like a letter to go to the appropriate City departments to enhance the outside exterior. We've put millions of dollars into Grant Street and we need to enhance the looks of the building as you're walking into the building.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. Chairman, on this point because we've raised it many times, not only the American flag and the State flag issue. Since right now the holes that are supposed to have the flags are now collecting garbage from Grant Street, which have never been cleaned.

The outside of this building, the front and the back, especially the back, is filthy. It's disgusting, it's gross. It's got everything from spit to cigarette butts to pizza to anything imaginable on the ground.

I don't know why the building can't be steam cleaned at least a half story up to clean the entranceway. I've been addressing this issue with the Director of General Services for the last two years. Nothing is being done. Mr. President, I ask you, with full support of your comments, to please move on this. If need be, let's go out ourselves with some Lysol and clean this building up.

The Chair:

I agree.

Michelle Madoff:

Same subject. You know, I think that some of the comments that are being made here today should make us think and reflect on what has happened. Here we have Earth Day 20 years later. I was part of the first Earth Day 20 years ago.

I've been somewhat disenchanted and I've been reading the articles by our national columnists and they're disenchanted because what is happening is that we are getting out 20 years later and saying, let's go get the spit and the garbage off the streets, instead of passing laws that say if you drop cigarette butts out of your car and if you throw cigarettes on the street you're going to be arrested, and you're going to have to get down on your knees with Lysol and clean it up.

Until leadership starts to take a role in seeing that this is not acceptable behavior, nothing is going to change, whether it's on corporate cleaning up or whether dirt on the streets. The laws without enforcement are an exercise in futility.

And on the motion of Mr. Darkins

Council adjourned.

PRESENTATIONS

Mr. Regan:

We have a great honor here this morning to honor a young lady from Portugal who smiled for 26 miles as she ran. And you know, when you're a runner and you smile and wave to people, you really lose your train of thought. But she was so happy to be here and we were so happy to have her here. She waved and smiled for 26 miles and still won the race.

I would like this young lady to come up here. The other young lady came in fifth in the race. I'd like all you people to come up here. Mr. Kuzmanko, the head of the Pittsburgh Marathon. Mrs. Schmeiser.

I would like to read this resolution and I hope I don't offend anybody by my poor pronunciation, but I'll do the best I can. For the son of an Irish immigrant, these are a little bit tough to read.

Mr. Regan presents

No. 719 WHEREAS, Conceicao Ferreira is a 28 year old female elite athlete from Braga, Portugal. Conceicao is well known internationally for her accomplishments in marathon and cross country running; and

WHEREAS, Conceicao Ferreira placed third in 1989 in the Tokyo Marathon, and second place in the Paris Marathon. She has run cross country in sporting events in Europe for the last nine years, and has won numerous awards; and

WHEREAS, Conceicao Ferreira was an invited runner in the Sixth Annual Pittsburgh Marthon. Conceicao ran her personal best of her career in this race, 2:30:34; and

WHEREAS, she was awarded $26,385 for her first place victory in the women's division and won a $2,000 bonus for leading at the midway point.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, on behalf of the Citizens of Pittsburgh, hereby recognize and salute Conceicao Ferreira for her first place win.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh proclaims Tuesday, May 8, 1990 as "Conceicao Ferreira Day" in the City of Pittsburgh. "IT COULD ONLY HAPPEN IN AMERICA!"

Mr. Regan moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Regan:

We would like their interpreter, Jaclyn LeBarton, we would like the winner to come up here and say hello to the people of the City of Pittsburgh and Jaclyn will interpret.

Ms. Ferreira: (translation)

I am so happy. I was absolutely thrilled to be invited and cannot say enough about the hospitality that I have received from the City of Pittsburgh. I am very anxious to come back next year. Thank you so much.

Mr. Regan:

And now Manuela Machado.

Ms. LeBarton:

Manuela Machado came in fifth in the race. She ran her personal best, the fastest she has ever run in her career.

Ms. Machado: (translation)

This was the first time that I have ever been in Pittsburgh. I was very happy to be invited and I look forward to coming back next year. Thank you so much for your hospitality.

Mr. Regan:

I would like to commend Larry Kuzmanko for doing such a great job. I'd like him to say a few words and Mrs. Ethyl Schmieser who was involved in creating this great race for the City of Pittsburgh, and they will introduce this man who is internationally famous.

Mr. Aleksander Mineyko:

It is my pleasure to be here. It is my second time in Pittsburgh. Thank you very much, everybody, the organizers, everybody who waved their hands, everybody who smiled and the people who also prayed for us. Thank you.

Mr. Kuzmanko:

On behalf of the Marathon, we would just like to thank the people in the neighborhoods of Pittsburgh for making this event such a success because that's from where the enthusiasm and vigor emanates and that's the reason why we're able to have people here from 46 states and 27 countries this year. Thank you very much, Council.

Mr. Regan:

We're going to take a little hair off of Larry and put it on me and I'm going to run for a higher office.

Mrs. Schmeiser:

I don't know if Larry remembers the early days when we put this race together, but it fills me with enormous pride to see the Pittsburgh Marathon now one of the top marathons in the world.

I'm delighted to be here and I thank these lovely Portuguese girls for doing so well. Thank you.

Mr. Regan:

Now they want to present an autographed marathon poster to each of the Councilpeople.

We have one more little function before the ladies leave. Since the Mayor of the great City of Pittsburgh is out of town today, we have the distinct honor, Council as a group, to present the check to the winner. The check is in the hands of our illustrious President, Mr. Jack Wagner.

The Chair:

It's a great honor, Ms. Ferreira, on behalf of the City of Pittsburgh, the Mayor and all of City Council, and the Pittsburgh Marathon and all the sponsors of that Marathon, particularly USX Corporation, to present a minor item. We didn't want you to leave the country and forget this. It's a check for $28,385.

Ms. Ferreira: (translation)

Thank you very much.

Mr. Regan:

I'd like Ms. Sanchez and all her people to come up here. Carol McCants, come up please.

It is indeed an honor to honor this great educator. I would like to read this resolution into the history of the City of Pittsburgh for a lady who has dedicated her life to teaching children and young people. We never pay enough tribute to the educators because they're the ones that make America the great country that it is.

Mr. Regan and Mr. Darkins present

No. 720 WHEREAS, from 1957 to 1986, Dolores Sanchez worked for the Pittsburgh Board of Public Education as a teacher and counselor and also provided counseling service to students with drug and alcohol problems to assist in their rehabilitation; and

WHEREAS, Dolores Sanchez was born, raised and educated in the City of Pittsburgh. She was educated at the Lincoln Elementary and Westinghouse High School and received her Masters of Education at the University of Pittsburgh in May, 1967; and

WHEREAS, Dolores Sanchez served as a member of the committee charged with the preparation of the Official Pittsburgh School Counselors Guidebook; and

WHEREAS, Dolores volunteers for UNICEF, NEED, World Vision and the local food banks, and is a member of the Pennsylvania Counselors Association, the Pittsburgh Counselors Association, the Pittsburgh Education Association, the Pittsburgh Federation of Teachers and is a member of the AARP.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RE-

SOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh hereby salutes Dolores Sanchez for her unconditional dedication and contribution as a teacher and counselor in the City of Pittsburgh; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh proclaims Wednesday, May 16, 1990 as "Dolores Sanchez Day" in the City of Pittsburgh. "IT COULD ONLY HAPPEN IN AMERICA!"

Mr. Regan moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Darkins seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Regan:

Ms. Sanchez, you can't believe what an honor it is to be able to read this resolution. My name wasn't big enough to put on there so they had to put another one on there, the Honorable Councilman Duane A. Darkins.

We want you to know that as citizens and residents of the City of Pittsburgh, we're very, very proud of you and I haven't seen a hat that nice down here in a long time.

Mr. Darkins:

And that isn't all, Ms. Sanchez. Because I attended Lincoln Elementary School and I'm a graduate from Westinghouse High School and look at your entire career, roses for you today.

Ms. Sanchez:

Mr. President, the Honorable Regan and the Honorable Councilman and Members and Lady. For the first time I think in my life I'm speechless. A teacher is usually never speechless but I am so honored and overwhelmed and I will not cry because I get very ugly then, but this was unexpected. I'm so happy and I'm so happy that you chose to honor and educator because we don't ask for thank yous. When we look around and see our students, our ex-students, the young lady to my left I had in my first year of teaching, and Carol McCants. And for all the teachers and all of the educators I say thank you from the bottom of my heart. We don't expect it but I'm certainly enjoying it. Thank you.

Mr. Regan:

To honor an educator you need a driving force behind the people that are here to honor her. Carol McCants was one of her students and I'd like Carol to come up.

Ms. McCants:

Thank you, City Council and President of Council. I just did what I think more people should do, especially in the City of Pittsburgh or anywhere.

Mrs. Sanchez, I remembered her all my life. She was not only in the classroom but she was always in the hallway to make sure that we behaved not only in class properly but also in the hall.

She's always been in my heart, she always will be, and I thank you all for helping me to present and give Mrs. Sanchez the day that she deserves. Thank you very much.

Mr. Darkins:

I'd like to ask that Mr. Stagno and the President and the Secretary of the Cadillac LaSalle Club come forth.

You know, to follow Councilman Baldy Regan is a hard act to follow, but he is a great Councilman from the North Side. And, as he always says, it can only happen in America.

Mr. Darkins presents

No. 721 WHEREAS, the Pittsburgh Region Cadillac LaSalle Club was founded in May, 1983; and

WHEREAS, the Club's purpose is for the development, publication and exchange of information pertaining to recognized Cadillacs and LaSalle's and to encourage the maintenance, preservation and restoration of these classic cars and to promote social fellowship among club members; and

WHEREAS, the Club dedicates their service and vehicles to many Pittsburgh functions and has displayed their vehicles at Schenley Park's 100th Anniversary, the Pennsylvania Turnpike's 50th Anniversary and at various ethnic day celebrations throughout the area; and

WHEREAS, the Club participates in parades to publicize and promote crime prevention and non-drug usage; and

WHEREAS, members attend local and national auto shows donating registration fees to various charitable organizations.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh recognizes the Pittsburgh Region Cadillac LaSalle Club as an organization devoted to the preservation and commitment of keeping the Cadillac LaSalle car part of vehicular history.

Mr. Darkins moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Darkins

I have Mr. Stagno and the President of this organization and the Secretary here today and I'm going to call on them for some remarks.

Mr. Stagno:

Thank you, Councilman Darkins, and thank your staff for the preparation of this resolution.

Council President Wagner and Members of the City Council of Pittsburgh, I think the resolution states clearly our purpose and goals that we hope to achieve. I think that this recognition today that we receive from you will encourage our members to continue to participate in the various meets and events that we do throughout the year.

Our program this year will begin on May 20th. We will have a show at the historic Tarentum Station Restaurant from noon to 4:00 p.m. and there will be no admission, it is open to the public. And on that day, at that time, we will display well over $1 million worth of Cadillac LaSalle vehicles that have been restored. You are all invited to attend, whoever can attend.

I'd like to introduce our Club President, Mr. Lee Hevermann, and Secretary-Treasurer Mr. George Blissmann.

Mr. Hevermann:

I'd like to thank Council for making this day possible for us. We kind of work in preserving the old cars but it gets a lot more involved in that, the camaraderie and we just feel that we do some good for the City of Pittsburgh. As I resident of the City, I think it's a great place. Thank you very much.

Mr. Blissmann:

I'd like to take this opportunity to thank the City of Pittsburgh and Council for recognizing our club as such. What we're really dealing with here is preservation of history. I know the City has been involved in a lot of projects the last while back and preserving historical sights and so forth.

I'd like to take this opportunity on behalf of the Cadillac LaSalle Club to say to the City that if there's any way we can help in any of their activities regarding the preservation of the older automobiles, we're certainly willing to cooperate with them and work along with them, and help them in any way we can.

We'd love to see some of you people show up at our show on May 20th, and we take this opportunity to thank you from the bottom of our hearts for the recognition you have given to us today. Thank you very much.

Mr. Stagno:

In closing, we would like to present to the Members of Council a token of our appreciation.

Mr. Ferlo:

One of the Cadillacs?

Mr. Stagno:

Yes, it is. And I would love to see the media tomorrow when they learn that Council was presented with Cadillacs. But these are Cadillac Convertibles, 1950 Vintage, and we hope that you enjoy them and accept them with our --

Mr. Ferlo:

As long as they're not over $200.

Mr. Stagno:

No, they're not over $200. We made sure of that. Thank you again. Thank you for everything.

The Chair:

Thank you all.

Michelle Madoff:

May I please have Mr. Robert Pipkin, the Principal of Prospect Middle School come forward? I believe Dr. Stanley Denton is with him. Why don't you come forward with your students? Everybody join us. And I'm going to have Mr. Robert Pipkin introduce who is here as soon as we read the resolution.

This is a very, very special resolution. As you know, I don't introduce too many of them and when I do I think they're very, very special. This is the jewel of District 2.

Michelle Madoff presents

No. 722 WHEREAS, Prospect Middle School Center for Multiracial, Multiethnic, Multicultural education is located in the Mt. Washington neighborhood and serves students from the Allentown, Beltzhoover, Hill District, Mt. Washington, and South Side communities; and

WHEREAS, as one of its most ethnically diverse middle schools, The Pittsburgh School District has chosen Prospect Three M Center, for its model Multiracial, Multiethnic, and Multicultural middle school, the first of its kind in the Country; and

WHEREAS, the objectives of this program are:

- To provide students with an understanding and appreciation of various cultures, racial groups, and global interdependence;

- To enhance students' self-concept and appreciation for their heritage;

- To develop a systematic and comprehensive multiracial and multicultural curriculum;

- To develop instructional strategies which accommodate the various learning styles and behavioral patterns inherent in the student population;

- To build a model of effective collaboration between the school, home and community;

- To promote positive interactions between the various racial, cultural and ethnic groups at Prospect.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh supports the creation of the model Multiracial, Multiethnic and Multicultural middle school and wishes the Pittsburgh School District success in the aim of the program: to infuse district-wide those strategies, curricula and training programs which foster mutual understanding and improved relations among the diverse groups within the Pittsburgh Public Schools.

Michelle Madoff moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Ricciardi, part of your community is involved as well.

Mr. Ricciardi:

Yes, I realize that, Councilwoman.

Michelle Madoff:

It is my great pleasure to introduce Mr. Robert Pipkin, the Principal. I have attended some of the meetings in the school and it really is a phenomenal project and I hope it will spread throughout the Country.

Mr. Pipkin:

Thank you, Michelle, President Wagner and Council. This is an honor for the Three M Center. Also, I'd like to thank Dr. Milliones who served on the School Board and supported this particular project.

Michelle talked about some things I don't think a lot of us realize. Our goal is to improve race relations, culture diversity, parental involvement. If we look at the year 2000, what the population is going to look like, people of color, Asian-Americans, African-Americans, Hispanic-Americans, and we have to develop a program that will hopefully meet the needs of all citizens. We're trying to do that at Prospect.

Before I go on, I'd like to introduce some of the individuals with me. Dr. Cynthia Peterson-Handley, Coordinator; Ms. Rosemary Breen; Mr. Jerry Lynch; Ms. Adrienne Butler; Ms. Darlene Brackett; Ms. Tomenika Howze who is a parent; Ms. Vivian Kowalski who is another parent. And some of our lovely students: Debbie Carter; Emmett Fears; Jada Grandy; Brian Iwanonkiw; Abigail Leacock; Warner Macklin; Zane Maddox; Valerie Marabito; Clarence Newsome; Ron White; Eric Wilson; Charles Wise; Kristy Zentkovich.

Thank you very much.

At this time, I would like to introduce Mrs. Brennen who has supported this program and is my boss, Mrs. Louise Brennan who is the Associate Superintendent for the Department of Middle Schools and Elementary.

Mrs. Brennen:

Thank you, Mr. Pipkin, President Jack Wagner, Councilwoman Michelle Madoff, Members of the City Council.

On behalf of the members of the Pittsburgh Board of Education, the Superintendent of Schools, I want to extend thanks and appreciation for this honor which you have bestowed upon the Prospect Center.

Let me tell you that the success of the program is due in great measure to the very hard work and the deep commitment of the principal and the staff and the parents and the community and the students enrolled at the Prospect Center.

The Prospect Center is a celebration of Pittsburgh because it represents the wide diversity of racial and ethnic groups in our great City who have made the contributions to make Pittsburgh someplace special. We hope as a school district to disseminate into all of our schools in the Pittsburgh School District much of what we are doing at the Prospect Center so that throughout the City our young people will understand and appreciate their own heritages and respect the cultures of all people, not just here in Pittsburgh but nationally and internationally. Thank you so much.

Mr. Pipkin:

I'd like to have a student, Mr. Charles Wise, say something about it.

Mr. Wise:

I would like to say that I'm in eighth grade now and I live in the Mt. Washington district and every night, Dr. Denton is probably tired of me going up to his office every night but sometimes I don't even get home until 4:30 or 5:00.

The one thing I would like to say is, even though I'm an eighth grader and I will be leaving this great school and this great program, I will always be fully devoted to this program, and I thank you for honoring me. Thank you.

The Chair:

That young man gave a heck of a speech.

Dr. Denton, on behalf of the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, we want to formally present this to you and thank you for all your hard work. Thank you.

Report of the Committee on Finance for May 2, 1990 transmitting two ordinances and sundry resolutions to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 361

An Ordinance entitled, "An Ordinance supplementing the Pittsburgh Code, Title One, 'Administrative', Article VII, 'Procedures', Chapter 161, 'Contracts'." (AS AMENDED IN COMMITTEE)

---(SPONSORED BY MR. FERLO)

Which was read.

Mr. Milliones:

I would like my comments brought forward on Bill 361. I still have a problem as to why some affirmative action enforcement could not have been placed in this bill. It seems to me that our record in terms of the enforcement of affirmative action policies that are already on the book is, as I understand, 15 percent minority and 2 percent women. Certainly that record is a dismal one and I will not vote for this bill because of the lack of any enforcement of affirmative action in that regard.

(BEGINNING - MR. MILLIONES' REMARKS ON BILL NO. 361 - WEDNESDAY, 5/2/90)

Mr. Milliones:

My feelings, I still have several really grave concerns about this bill that I don't think the Solicitor can answer; someone, I think, more from the political implications of this bill from the Administration.

I have two concerns. One is, I think it will arbitrarily drive up the cost of construction in this City at a time when we are trying to generate revenues, at a time to keep costs down; in fact, this will drive costs up.

Secondly, I really think the question of monitoring really can be a burdensome task: Who is going to monitor contractors on-site? And I see somewhat of a nightmare, another bureaucracy, perhaps, being created in an attempt to do this.

Thirdly, as I have indicated, that the building trades have traditionally not hired blacks and women, they are still lacking in that regard, and I think this bill would effectively serve, one, to shut out small contractors, minority contractors, and I obviously would have some concerns about that.

So for those reasons, I have questions apart from the legality of the bill that I would certainly like answered.

(END OF REMARKS)

Michelle Madoff:

I believe that my colleague has scheduled a hearing later this month on this subject and I would hope that my colleague, Mr. Ferlo, would consider amending this bill after it passes to include the minority stipulation. I think we need to strengthen that bill and amend this bill later to include it but we should not hold up on one good bill waiting for another good bill.

Mr. Millions:

I have not scheduled it.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm just making a point. That's where I'm coming from.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

The Chair presents

Mr. Darkins moved to receive and file these appointments.

Mr. Cohen seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Also,

Also,

No. 727 Resolution appointing Deborah Miskovich, 1322 N. Highland Avenue, Pittsburgh, PA 15206, as a City Magistrate for a term effective immediately and to expire January, 1991.

Also,

No. 728 Resolution appointing John A. Zottola, 6129 Jackson Street, Pittsburgh, PA 15206, to the City Planning Commission for a term effective immediately and to expire January, 1994. John Zottola will replace Deborah Miskovich.

Also,

No. 729 Resolution appointing John A. Zottola, 6129 Jackson Street, Pittsburgh, PA 15206, to the Board of Adjustment for a term effective immediately and to expire January, 1991. John A. Zottola will replace Deborah Miskovich.

Also,

No. 730 Resolution appointing Linda

Brown, 223 Schenley Manor Drive, Pittsburgh, PA 15201, to the Board of Water Assessors of the City of Pittsburgh. Linda Brown will replace Robert Ravenstahl.

Also,

No. 731 Resolution appointing Barbara Danko, 1140 Lancaster Avenue, Pittsburgh, PA 15218, to the Board of Water Assessors of the City of Pittsburgh. Barbara Danko will replace Carolyn Marks.

Also,

No. 732 Resolution appointing Laverne Wheeler, 4355 Andover Terrace, Pittsburgh, PA 15213, to the Minority and Women Business Enterprise Review Committee for a term effective immediately and to expire April, 1992.

Also,

No. 733 Resolution appointing Rich Bellasario, 1232 Wareman Avenue, Pittsburgh, PA 15226, to the Minority and Women Business Enterprise Review Committee for a term effective immediately and to expire April, 1992.

The Chair:

If it is the wish of Council, all of those appointments need formal Councilmatic approval, I would recommend that we vote on Mr. Ricciardi today for the Water and Sewer Authority and try to get as many of those people in tomorrow and whichever ones we can't get in tomorrow, have them in next week.

Michelle Madoff:

Question. The first two that were read, were they not subject to approval by Council?

The Chair:

Correct.

Michelle Madoff:

Why did we vote? Just to accept?

The Chair:

Simply to receive and file and to make part of the Record.

Michelle Madoff:

Okay. And these will be subject to Council's approval?

The Chair:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

Did we not suggest through this Council that all persons being appointed during any Administration would sign a waiver that should the Mayor, whoever is in office at that time, have the right to remove them, they would be willing to do so? That way we won't run into what we've been running into in the past year or so. I would like to make that contingent on our voting, that we ask the Mayor to prepare a statement for everybody that will be sworn in. I will ask them at the table, it will be on record, that should the Mayor wish to have them removed from office, they would do so willingly.

The Chair:

We cannot mandate that.

Michelle Madoff:

I understand that but people could sign that willingly as a waiver.

The Chair:

That would have to be something that the Administration would initiate.

Michelle Madoff:

Is it not true that I could ask anybody who is being interviewed by us for our vote, my vote would be contingent on that, would they be willing? And if they say no, I'm not going to vote for them and I hope nobody else on Council would.

The Chair:

That's fine. They will be in front of Council.

I would like a motion to approve Mr. Ricciardi to the Water and Sewer Authority.

Mr. Darkins:

So moved.

Mr. Cohen seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Ricciardi:

Thank you, Members of Council and Mr. President.

The Chair:

Mr. Perry, if we could please see if we could get as many of those people here tomorrow for our Wednesday meeting. As many as possible.

Mr. Ferlo:

Mr. President, in scheduling these individuals, I have a lot of questions for Ms. Miskovich and Mr. Zottola, so please be conscious of whatever the agenda will allow.

The Chair:

Okay.

Mr. Milliones:

Mr. President, I would respectfully ask that Council join me in supporting or recommending to the Senate of the great State of Pennsylvania, that they indeed confirm Mr. Joseph Rhodes as a reappointment to the Public Utilities Commission. As I understand the reports that have appeared in recent publications, although one surely cannot believe everything one reads in the papers, but it would appear that there is a great deal of sentiment arising against his reappointment. I certainly feel that he has done a very commendable job in being probably the most pro-consumer member of that board and I would certainly urge that the Senate reappoint Mr. Rhodes.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

The Chair:

Okay, the letter will be sent to the Pennsylvania Senate recommending the appointment.

Mr. Cohen:

Mr. President and Members of Council, there have been a series of crimes, burglaries and muggings in the North Oakland area, especially along Centre Avenue. I think crime appears to be rising everywhere in the City and it's very frustrating, very disturbing, but because of this recent rash of crimes in the North Oakland area, especially Centre Avenue, I have called for a post agenda meeting on Wednesday, May 23, at 1:00 and invite anybody who wishes to come. The people I've especially invited are the Chief of Police, Chief Pampena, and Commander Horace McDaniel of Zone 6, along with the community leaders of the North Oakland area and the residents who have been victimized. I think it will be a productive session and I invite everybody to attend.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Mr. Ferlo:

Several very brief points. Just a reminder to my colleagues that the Public Utility Commission will be conducting a formal public hearing here, using our Chambers, on May 17 at 6:30 in the evening. This is on the Equitable Gas increase request of close to $30 million.

I'm hoping that the Mayor will participate and I'd like to extend an invitation to each one of my colleagues to possibly appear, very briefly, to speak to the Commission about the impact of the rate increase.

Secondly, Mr. President, it's been some time since Council has been briefed on any progress to date on the whole recycling issue and the implementation of Act 101. Without getting into a long debate at this point about my feelings on the recycling issue, I would only ask that we communicate to the Administration and maybe through you, Mr. President, that we can be briefed on what is the progress to date on the recycling and our obligations under the State mandate which is to take effect in September which, at this point, no way is that going to happen.

Thirdly, Mr. President, there was a very tiny little article a couple weeks ago in the paper regarding progress on the Department of Public Safety Building. There was an imprint that said that the Mayor had already selected and hired an architect for this building. Needless to say, I was a little bit shocked. I was not aware that the Administration was going to engage an architect without any kind of competitive or some type of bid specifications going out.

I also have major concerns and questions about the architect they've chosen in regards to the firm's capabilities in this area.

I would only ask that the Administration communicate to Council some justification regarding an update on the Public Safety Building, how and by what authority they've already contracted with an architectural firm, and by what standards or bid specifications did that architectural meet regarding whatever the agenda is of the Administration on the Public Safety Building.

The Chair:

On the second item, Mr. Perry, I would ask that we communicate a letter to Mary Beth Salley-Rizzuto, and a copy to the Mayor's Office, asking for an update. I believe they are late in terms of getting us an update or a report on the recycling issue.

And another letter in regards to the Public Safety Building issue.

Mr. Ferlo:

The other thing, Mr. Chairman, on the Public Safety Building. When we met privately with the Mayor, we received a general synopsis. At that time, I asked for a copy of whatever formal agreement was signed between the Mayor and the County. We have not received that agreement to date and I would like to review that regarding what our obligations are.

Secondly, I hope we're not going to get led down the primrose path. In the past, the history of the Public Safety Department has gotten involved in expenditures only to change their mind later. Council has not actually ever really formally voted, or even decided, necessarily, that that particular site is the best site. We should be involved right from the beginning on whatever decision is going to be made, including this architectural business. I think we need to be closely involved in this process and so far I don't feel that we have been involved.

The Chair:

We need a status report, that's for sure.

Michelle Madoff:

On another matter. I know that a number of Councilmembers have met with the gentleman, brilliant gentleman, who is spearheading the promotional development because of the airport, Mr. Stanley Marshall. It was very disturbing to me in my meeting with him to learn that all the communities surrounding the airport are all gearing up with plans to try to obtain buildings, employment, and what we're going to see if we don't have a plan for the City--

The point he made was that the City has no firm plan at this point. If we don't get one into motion very quickly, what we're liable to end up with is Pittsburgh as a hub with a lot of satellites and our vacant properties may stay just the way they are. We will not attract a great deal of people back to this area if we don't come up with a plan that is competitive with the communities surrounding the airport who are looking, as I said, to develop job opportunities, etc., because of their proximity to the airport.

The most key issue of that program that we have to develop is not that we have a lot of land in the City to attract people to build, but we have all these vacant buildings, office space, number one. But we need to develop some mass transit form, not wait for Maglev which is very important which I support 1000 percent, but have something on the proprietary right-of-way, a dedicated line. There are a number of railroads that are now giving up their lines in addition to the Buncher right-of-way. We need more than one; we need two or three, and we need them now.

It would seem to me that we ought to be meeting in some kind of a hearing or some kind of post agenda meeting with the Administration immediately because the time to get money from the State, and I believe that's the stumbling block, the bottleneck, is going to be between the primary and the general election, not wait until after the election to ask Governor Casey to come up with the kind of dollars that we need to make this happen right now. We need to get him enthusiastic enough before the election to make that a campaign issue that he will commit the dollars that we need to save Pittsburgh to be competitive with the communities around the airport.

I would like to ask the President to immediately schedule a post agenda meeting with the Administration, all parties, SPRPC. I don't know whether it would be appropriate to have Jay Aldridge from Penn Southwest because, of course, their rules say they just bring business to Western Pennsylvania. They are not allowed to channel it to one particular community.

But if we don't start worrying about Pittsburgh, who is? I think we need to have the Golden Triangle, the Chamber of Commerce, BOMA, and have a real working session as quickly as possible to see what we can do to come up with a program to be competitive with the other communities that already have their ducks in a row. I want to do that very quickly.

I know you've met with Mr. Marshall. I know Dan Cohen, and I heard Mr. Ferlo did. And I'm sure that all the other members -- Well, we need to do something about that now or we will not have employment opportunities tied to the airport.

The Chair:

Councilwoman Madoff, there are a series of meetings going on and this Council requested formally that myself and Mr. Mistick be on the advisory board, and the first meeting is this week.

Michelle Madoff:

I understand that. That is part of the development of the airport. But I'm talking about a competitive plan design just for Pittsburgh. While your being on, and Joe, and I was one of the people who recommended that, Joe Mistick being on that board, it's going to give us some insight into what we need to do. We just can't wait.

We better come up with some kind of pressure and plan, making sure that the State meets its commitment to the people of this City. We can't wait. There's an election coming up this week, the general election is in November. This is the time to strike while the iron is hot. We want the Governor to make a commitment, and that's the bottleneck now, to making sure that we can have these transit opportunities that lead to the airport.

Will you schedule that?

The Chair:

Are you requesting a post agenda?

Michelle Madoff:

That is correct.

The Chair:

Okay. Councilwoman Madoff is requesting a post agenda.

Michelle Madoff:

Either a post or a hearing. What would you prefer?

The Chair:

It's your request.

Michelle Madoff:

Why don't we do it as a first working session with the people that I've mentioned; BOMA, Chambers, Golden Triangle. See if we can get Jacques Kahn to help coordinate this. I'd like to get Carol Brown from the Cultural because these are the amenities that we offer everybody and what kind of plan are we going to put together to urge the Governor? If he wants my vote, he better give us some money for that plan.

Mr. Ferlo:

This is a very important point that Michelle has raised. If a meeting is to take place, I would hope that the Port Authority -- We should be requesting now the Port Authority to develop a plan in relation to transportation. I've raised this issue at the Housing Authority Board, the idea being that we begin to develop some type of transportation linkage between some of the public housing communities and potential jobs that may be available, hopefully, in and around the airport development.

I think, though, really, the public agency that we should hold accountable is the Port Authority Transit. And, Mr. Wagner, I'm sure you've raised this issue in the past. I think we should ask them for a specific plan. You know, a year from now, are we going to have public transportation that goes from Wylie Avenue or the East Liberty Mall or South Side, Carson Street, and the other neighborhoods, North Side, out to the airport? Something that's reasonable and something that runs throughout the evening that would permit people, especially given some of the income levels of some of the jobs that are available out there. I think if we're going to do anything, let's hold the Port Authority accountable for developing this plan.

Something that I've always resented is, it's the inner-city buslines that support the Port Authority Transit. They would not have a bus system without the 61s and the 70s and all the inner-city buses. It's about time we got something back in return.

The Chair:

I've met with the Port Authority and I will introduce a resolution requesting that they make that their number one priority item.

Michelle Madoff:

PennDOT should be invited. I would like to have Mr. Yerusalem, Henry Nutbrown, the local representative, and all the key people at SPRPC.

Mr. Cohen:

On the same issue, Mr. President, not to belabor the point at all, and I'm very happy that you and Joe Mistick were appointed to the Airport Commission, but I think that it's a concern that we're not going to have any public transportation that coincides with the opening of the airport. Maglev is a great idea but it's just not going to happen quickly enough.

In my meeting with Stanley Marshall, I discovered that the Airport Commission has six sub-committees that are very active. You know what they are, marketing sub-committee, transportation sub-committee, and we do not have any City-designated representatives on most of those sub-committees, as is my understanding. I think one of the issues that should be brought up at that time is to put City representatives on those because, otherwise, Pittsburgh is going to be left in the dust.

I just wanted to follow up real briefly on Councilman Ferlo's point on this election of an architect for the Public Safety Building.

One thing that the City of Chicago recently did was they had what they called a designed build competition, and this was for the Harold Washington Library Center where they invited architects to participate and not just present eye in the sky architectural plans, but to coordinate with a construction company and actually submit plans and cost estimates together for the architecture of, in that case, the Harold Washington Library Center.

It seems to me, and I just want to agree with Councilman Ferlo, that we need to have a process by which we choose an architect for these important buildings, like the jail and the like the Public Safety Building. I don't know the architect that was selected for the jail or the architect that appears to be in the process of being selected for the Public Safety Building. I don't know how good they are or not, but that's not the point. The point is that there should be a process by which we select it and I think a design build competition like they had in Chicago would be the way to go.

The Chair:

Mr. Perry, you could make that in the form of a recommendation in the letter where we are requesting information, that they give us the status of how they're selecting the architect.

On the airport issue, just to summarize, I want everyone to know that there are many City residents on all those committees. As a matter of fact, the people chairing, Mr. Marshall and Mr. Joyce, are both City residents. The one is a former Executive Director of the URA. So, we do have City representation on the Airport Committee. We don't have formal Administration people on certain committees, that's correct. But there are a lot of City people involved on those various committees.

Mr. Cohen:

Mr. President, I'm glad to hear that; that's good. My only concern is that there isn't really, and correct me if I'm wrong, a designated representative to really look out for just the interests of Pittsburgh. Mr. Marshall is doing a great job but he's really looking out for the marketing of the whole airport expansion.

I think what we need, on many of those committees at least, is designated representatives who are looking out for the interests of the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Darkins:

Mr. President, I think what has to be done, and we can appreciate these City residents, but I think they should be looking towards Council because when it's all over, we're the ones that have to approve. And I think that some of our colleagues, as it has been already, that you and Mr. Mistick are serving in advisory capacity, that the Administration should take a serious look here on City Council and some of our colleagues from Council should be involved with that because the bottom line is, again, we're the ones that have to approve it. I am concerned, but what I'm trying to point out is, it's nice to have City residents, I know Steven George, I know Mr. Marshall, but my concern is that I think that they should include some of these other people from Council on some of these planning commissions or whatever it might be. That's my concern.

The Chair:

Anyone requesting to serve on a committee, please let me know.

Mr. Darkins:

I'm available.

The Chair:

And we will forward your names to the appropriate people.

Mr. Darkins:

I'm available.

Mr. Cohen:

I recommend Councilman Darkins.

Michelle Madoff:

Same issue. I think that something is getting lost here and it's so important that I just don't think I can let it pass.

Mr. Marshall told me personally that while he is a resident of the City and he would love to see something happen City-wide, his concern is that his job, as it was stated by Mr. Cohen, is not to promote Pittsburgh in this issue. His job, and it's a volunteer one, is to promote the airport, which means a whole community. And his concern is, and this is from the horse's mouth, his concern is that we don't have a plan. Other communities have a plan in place. We don't have one. And I think that the Administration needs to immediately go back to the concept, Jack, that you and I put money in the budget last year and the year before you came up with the need to promote the City.

It's all the same ball of wax. We have to be very chauvinistic. We're going to be competing with the communities around the airport, other towns, townships, boroughs, and we better immediately get a plan in place that encompasses bringing people into the City to live, to take some of our vacant space of which it is plentiful, and our office buildings. And again, I repeat, the involvement of people like BOMA, Golden Triangle, the Cultural Facility, and let's have that meeting yesterday. And let's start coming up with a committee that will create a plan. Of course, the Administration should be invited. They should be the first to speak to tell us what they want to do and what they have perhaps in the works already.

So again, as Mr. Darkins said, share it with Council. We have to vote and we should know if there's something in the works already and enhance what is happening if not create a commission.

Mr. Regan:

I was at a seminar last year at Allegheny Community College and they already had put in place transportation between some of the big malls out near the airport and residents of the City of Pittsburgh. I think that we should inquire a little bit more on how far they've come with that because I think that's a very, very serious situation to have jobs available and City residents not being able to get to the jobs.

So, I would be glad to work with my honorable colleague, Mr. Ferlo, in pursuing that matter to see what has been done and what can be done, since he's a lot more knowledgeable than I am.

The Chair:

We will set up a post agenda. I will ask Mr. Perry to screen every Councilmember as to what date and time is convenient prior to setting it up because we're going to ask a whole lot of people to be here that day and I think we all should be here for that meeting.

Mr. Ferlo:

Will we focus in on this transportation issue?

The Chair:

Well, we'll focus on that next week with a resolution.

Michelle Madoff:

Jack, do you recall an invitation that you and I had from Michael Zamigas who has a shopping center to attend a training seminar, I believe it's in Butler, where they take people from the community and train them in job opportunities? We were to be invited to that and I think we need to follow through and have all of Council go to one of those sessions.

The Chair:

Fine.

Mr. Milllones moved to approve the Minutes of Tuesday, April 24, 1990 and Tuesday, May 1, 1990.

Mr. Cohen seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Milllones:

Mr. President, I move that we change next Tuesday's regular meeting to Monday, May 14, 1990 at 2:00 p.m. and Wednesday's meeting from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

Mr. Cohen seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Milllones

Council adjourned.

Mr. Ferlo moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Coyne seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Ricciardi:

I'd like to ask Mr. David Oster, Co-Chair of the South Side Traffic Study Committee, to please come forward.

Mr. Ricciardi presents

No. 779 WHEREAS, the South Side Planning Forum has commissioned the Traffic Safety Committee to set forth and implement a pedestrian traffic safety program for all citizens of the South Side; and

WHEREAS, the volunteers of the South Side Traffic Safety Committee have created an educational program to be disseminated to all South Side residents, senior citizens and children; and

WHEREAS, the educational programs will be given during the week of May 12 to May 19 by the volunteers of the South Side.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh hereby declares the week of May 12 through May 19, 1990 as "South Side Pedestrian Safety Week".

Mr. Ricciardi moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Ferlo seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Ricciardi:

As everyone knows, South Side has become a very attractive and popular place to visit and we welcome our residents from the other neighborhoods and also from the suburbs. However, with this attractiveness comes sort of a negative impact, and that's in terms of vehicle traffic. As a matter of fact, on the weekends the population of South Side doubles.

So, because of that, and because of our concern for our older adults and pre-school children, we formed this Traffic Safety Committee, one in which David Oster has done a fabulous job. I'd like David to talk about that for a few minutes.

Mr. Oster:

First of all, I would like to thank Councilman Gene Ricciardi for presenting this proclamation of the South Side Pedestrian Traffic Week, the week of May 12-19.

The Traffic Safety Week stems from the Traffic Safety Committee which is an ad hoc committee of the South Side Planning Forum. This is our second project that we've worked on, the first being a traffic safety study for East Carson Street.

Let me tell you about this project. Basically, early in our studies concerning pedestrian traffic safety on East Carson Street, we found out that one of the main problems is traffic education for senior citizens and for children, as well as the general populous. So, initially, the primary target of the Committee was to write this Traffic Safety Report which dealt with traffic lights and crossing signals.

But we also continued our mission to help educate the seniors and the children of the South Side, including the general population, as to how to properly cross the streets and just generally to take good traffic pedestrian safety measures. And that's what this week is all about.

We hope during this week to personally contact 2,000 to 3,000 senior citizens as well as children in the South Side area, distribute to them various packets and presenting to them games that they can play which will help them learn good traffic pedestrian safety procedures.

For that, I'd like to again thank Councilman Gene Ricciardi for assisting not only with this proclamation but also assisting in the process of the South Side Planning Forum and the South Side Traffic Safety Committee. Thank you.

Mr. Ricciardi presents

No. 780 WHEREAS, during National Volunteer Week we would like to take this opportunity to thank the many volunteers for their dedication and service to the community; and

WHEREAS, the volunteers in the community are the people who keep all the service organizations running smoothly; and
